A Fish Story.

[Newburyport Herald.]

A sportsman of this city went over to Seabrook last week trouting. He had very good luck, catching a dozen nice ones. He set his basket down on the depot platform, lit a cigar, and walked up and down, waiting for the cars. An M. D. of our city, who had been out to kill somebody, was also waiting for the train. M. D. told the station agent in a subdued tone that he was going to hook those trout, as the fisherman was a friend of his and he thought it would be a good joke. Our friend the fisherman overheard the remark and watching his chance when the doctor's back was turned, took the fish out of the basket, and filled it up with chips. The train came along, Doc grabbed the basket, rolled it up in his overcoat, and jumped aboard. Arriving in this city, he hurried home with his prize, rushed into the parlor, where his wife had half a dozen callers, and, splitting with laughter, recounted his feat, at the same time opening the basket to display the stolen trout, when lo!—chips. The next day the fisherman met the doctor and told him that he thought he had played a rather scaly trick on him, as he got those trout on purpose for his sick mother. The doctor took off his hat, scratched his head, and turned on his heel with never a word.

—"Do you believe, sir, that the dead ever walk after death?" "No doubt of it, madam; I have heard the dead march."

Health Regulations.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH of the City of Portsmouth call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10 of the City Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in the City to aid them in the execution of their duty.

CHAPTER 10.

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low-water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners or occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten day from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low-water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 8. The health officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other things deemed by them, on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said health officers may by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause the said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 19. The owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure shall be liable to pay the expense of the removal or destruction of any such nuisance or other thing, as aforesaid, including fees of the health officers who order or cause the same to be removed; and the same may be recovered by action to be brought in the name of the city.

SEC. 20. No person shall use or occupy any building in the compact part of the city for a slaughter-house, or for trying tallow, or for currying leather, or for the deposit of green pelts or skins, unless under such restrictions and regulations as the health officers may impose.

SEC. 22. Any person or persons who shall violate any rule or regulation, or commit any act forbidden in any section of this ordinance, to which no special penalty is annexed, shall forfeit and pay a sum not less than one dollar nor more than twenty dollars, to be recovered by complaint before the police court of this city.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick with the Small Pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the Small Pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

Ayer's Hair Vigor.

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair re-grows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resumes its original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

Pulmocine Cordial.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, &c.

—USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON.
Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them in early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges. HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN

HAIR RENEWER!

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color.

It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp, by its use, becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties, it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing, nothing has been found so effectual or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

FOR THE WHISKERS.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being in one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color, which will neither rub nor wash off.

LAST CHANCE

FOR

A postponement of the Fifth Concert of the Public Library of Kentucky has been so generally anticipated, and is so manifestly in the interest of all concerned, that it must meet the approval of all. The day is now absolutely fixed and there will be no variation from the programme now announced. A sufficient number of tickets have been sold to have enabled us to have had a large drawing on the 30th July, but a short postponement was considered preferable to a partial drawing. Let it be borne in mind that

IRON IN THE BLOOD.

DYSPEPSIA DEBILITY DROPSY AND RUMORS.

PERUVIAN SYRUP

Makes The Weak Strong.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an ailment, as easily digested and assimilated with mankind as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills" simply by Toning up Invigorating and Vitalizing the system. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building upon an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

Living Alone.

[Elmira Gazette.]

It may be all very fine to be an angel, and with the angels stand, but this being a hermit and living alone, is not quite so fine. At the present writing we don't know much about the angel business, but as to living alone "we know how it is ourself." For two long, dreary weeks we have tried it. For two long, dreary weeks we have been the only soul in the house. We have had no one to love us—none to ca-hug." All alone we went to bed, not to us a word was said. We got up in the morning just as quietly as we retired at night. There wasn't much housework to do, and the barn chores didn't consume much time. For the first few days we studied economy and boarded ourself. We soon got tired of eating the outside slice of bread at every meal, and threw the loaf away, and bought crackers. Remembering the difficulty that Brother Beecher had with his dishcloth a few years ago—an account of which he gave in his miscellany at the time—we resolved not to wash any dishes, but just put the dirty ones to soak and use the clean ones. As long as the dishes hold out we shall get along with that part of housekeeping all right, but they won't last always, as the pile of clean ones is daily growing smaller, and the pile of dirty ones larger. The crisis in this particular is approaching, and unless "the folks" come home pretty soon, we shall have to borrow some dishes. For the first few days we made the bed up very nicely every morning; for the next few days we regularly put it off till night, and for the last few days we haven't made it at all. We were charged particularly to water the house plants, and take care of the bird. The plants have caused us a good deal of trouble, but we left the door of the cage open about the first time we carried that animal off, and he hasn't troubled us much since. Of course we'll "catch it" when the folks come home, but that is a good deal easier than it is to catch the bird. On the whole we are free to say that we don't like housekeeping, and if ever we should be "born again"—and according to very good authority we have all got to undergo that operation,—we earnestly hope we shan't be born a woman, and especially a housekeeping one. We would rather be an angel.

—Several hundred persons attended the funeral of a tame bear near Boston a few days ago. An invitation to be present was sent to the Autocrat of the Breakfast Table, who responded as follows: "Dear Sir—Many thanks for your polite invitation to attend the obsequies of the lamented plantigrade. I am sorry that it will not be in my power to be present upon the melancholy occasion. I have a great respect for bears since those two female ones taught the little children of Bethel and of Belial that they must not be rude to elderly persons. I think a loose bear or two might be of service in our community, and I regret much the loss of an animal who might have done so much as a moral teacher for the young of this city and its suburbs. I am, dear sir, yours very truly, O. W. Holmes."

MONDAY, AUGUST 24, 1874.

Mr. Moulton's Statement.

To the Public: I became a party almost accidentally in the unhappy controversy between Mr. Beecher and Mr. Tilton. I had been a friend of Mr. Tilton since my boyhood, and for Mr. Beecher I had always entertained the warmest admiration. In 1870 I learned for the first time that Mr. Beecher had given Mr. Tilton so grave a cause of offence that, if the truth should be made public, a great national calamity would ensue. I believed that the scandal would tend to undermine the very foundations of social order, to lay low a beneficent power for good in our country, and blast the prospects and blight the family of one of the most brilliant and promising of the rising men of the generation. This disaster—as I deemed it and still regard it—I determined to try and avert. For nearly four years I have labored most assiduously to save both of these men from the consequences of their acts, whether of unwisdom or passion—acts which have already seriously involved them in a needless and disastrous quarrel, which is made the pretext of pouring on the community a flood of impurity and scandal deeply affecting their own families, and threatening like a whirlpool, if not stilled, to draw into its vortex the peace of mind and repute of a host of others. More than all, I saw that, because of the "transgression of another," innocent children would be burdened with a load of obloquy which would weigh most heavily and cruelly on their young lives.

All these considerations determined me to take an active part in the transactions which have since become so notorious. This decision involved me in great anxiety and labor, for which the hope of saving these interests could be my only compensation. Even that reward has now failed me, and instead of it, an attempt is made to throw on me a part of the shame and disgrace which belongs to the actors alone. One of them, whom I have zealously endeavored to serve, has seen fit, with all the power of his vast influence and matchless art as a writer, to visit on me the penalties of his own wrong-doing, at the same time publicly appealing to me to make known the truth, as if it would justify his attack on me! I feel that the failure of my exertions has not been owing to any fault of mine. I worked faithfully and sincerely, under the almost daily advice and direction of Mr. Beecher, with his fullest approbation, confidence and beaming gratitude, until, as I think, in an evil hour for him, he took other advisers. I have failed; and now, strangely enough, he seems to desire to punish me for the sad consequences of the folly, insincerity and wickedness of his present counsellors. Mr. Beecher, in his statement, testifies that he brought on this investigation without my knowledge or advice. Even while mourning what seemed to me the utter unwisdom of this proceeding, I have done all I could honorably do to avert the catastrophe. I have kept silent, although I saw with sorrow that this silence was deeply injuring the friend of my boyhood.

Prompted by a sense of duty—not to one only but to all the parties involved—I denied the united and public appeals made to me by Mr. Beecher and Mr. Tilton to produce the evidence in my possession; partly because I felt that the injury thereby done to Mr. Tilton was far less calamitous than the destruction which must come on all the interests I had for years tried to conserve, and especially on Mr. Beecher himself, if I should comply with this request. But I stated clearly that in one emergency I should speak—namely, in defence of my own integrity of action, if it should be wantonly assailed. I left Mr. Beecher untrammelled by the facts in my hands to defend himself, without the necessity of attacking me. By the published accusations of Mr. Beecher attacking my character, my own self-respect, the advice of friends, and public justice make it imperative that "the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth" should now be fully declared.

I give to the public, therefore, the statement I had prepared to bring before the committee, without the alteration or addition of a sentence and scarcely a word—certainly without the change of single syllable—since I read Mr. Beecher's statement and evidence, or because of it. This paper I withheld from the committee when before it, in a last despairing effort for peace, at the earnest solicitation of some of Mr. Beecher's friends and with the approval also of some of the most valued of my own. I do not now give it to the committee but to the public, because its production concerns myself rather than the principals in the strife. It is made for my own protection against public accusations, and not to aid either party to the controversy. For the needless and cruel necessity that now so imperatively compels its production, I have the most profound grief—for which there is but a single alleviation; namely, that the disclosure of the facts at this time can scarcely work more harm to him whom I at first tried to befriend by withholding them from the public, than they would have caused him in January 1871, when, but for my interference, the public most assuredly would have been put in possession of the whole truth. This publication, to which Mr. Beecher forces me, renders fruitless four years of constant and sincere efforts to save him. It leaves him and Mrs. Tilton in almost the same position in which I found them, excepting in so far as their own late disingenuous untruthfulness in their solemn statement may lower them in the estimation of the world. I reserve to myself the right hereafter to review the statements of Mr. Beecher in contrast with the facts as shown by the documents herewith subjoined and others which I have at my hand,—the production of which did not seem to be necessary until some portion of the published evidence of Mr. Beecher demanded contradiction.

FRANCIS D. MOULTON.

The statement made originally for the committee begins by saying that 'Henry C. Bowen first aroused Tilton's suspicions. It was at Bowen's solicitation that Tilton sent the note to Beecher demanding that he cease his ministry and quit Brooklyn. Bowen took the letter and was to deliver it to Mr. Beecher. In a day or two after Bowen called on Tilton in great anger, and told him if he should say to Beecher what he, Bowen, had told him concerning his (Beecher's) adulteries, he would dismiss him from the Independent and the Union. Tilton told him that he had never been influenced by threats, and he would not be in the present case, and he subsequently received Bowen's letter of dismissal. What those charges were and the account of the interview appear in the following letter, addressed to Bowen by Tilton, bearing date the 1st of January, 1871, which also gives in substance and more in detail what Tilton had said in the two conversations mentioned:

Mr. Henry C. Bowen;

Sir,—I received last evening your sudden notices breaking my two contracts—one with the Independent, the other with the Brooklyn Union.

With reference to this act of yours, I will make a plain statement of facts.

It was during the early part of the rebellion (if I recollect aright) when you first intimated to me that the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher had committed acts of adultery for which, if you should expose him, he would be driven from his pulpit. From that time onward your references to this subject were frequent, and always accompanied with the exhibition of a deep-seated injury to your heart.

In a letter which you addressed to me from Woodstock, June 16, 1863, referring to this subject, you said: "I sometimes feel that I must break silence, that I must no longer suffer as a dumb man, and be made to bear a load of grief most unjustly. One word from me would make a revolution throughout Christendom, I had almost said—and you know it. You have just a little of the evidence from the great volume in my possession. I am not pursuing a phantom, but solemnly 'brooding over an awful reality."

The underscorings in this extract are your own. Subsequently to the date of this letter, and at frequent intervals from then till now, you have repeated the statement that you could at any moment expel Henry Ward Beecher from Brooklyn. You have reiterated the same thing, not only to me but to others.

Moreover, during the year just closed your allusions to the subject were uttered with more feeling than heretofore, and were not unfrequently coupled with your emphatic declaration that Mr. Beecher ought not to be allowed to occupy a public position as a Christian preacher and teacher.

On the 26th of December, 1870, at an interview in your house, at which Mr. Oliver Johnson and I were present, you spoke freely and indignantly against Mr. Beecher as an unsafe visitor among the families of his congregation. You alluded by name to a woman, now a widow, whose husband's death you had no doubt was hastened by his knowledge that Mr. Beecher had maintained with her an improper intimacy. You avowed your knowledge of several other cases of Mr. Beecher's adulteries. Moreover, as if to leave no doubt on the mind of either Mr. Johnson or myself, you informed us that Mr. Beecher had made to you a confession of his guilt, and had with tears implored your forgiveness. After Mr. Johnson retired from this interview, you related to me the case of a woman whom you said (as nearly as I can recall your words) that * * During your recital of the tale you were full of anger towards Mr. Beecher. You said, with terrible emphasis that he ought not to remain a week longer in his pulpit. You immediately suggested that a demand should be made upon him to quit his sacred office. You volunteered to bear to him such a demand in the form of an open letter, which you would present to him with your own hand; and you pledged yourself to sustain the demand which this letter should make—namely, that he should, for reasons which he explicitly knew, immediately cease from his ministry of Plymouth church and retire from Brooklyn.

The first draft of the letter did not contain the phrase "for reasons which he explicitly knew," and these words (or words to this effect) were incorporated in a second, at your motion. You urged furthermore (and very emphatically) that the letter should demand not only Mr. Beecher's abdication of his pulpit, but cessation of his writing for the Christian Union, a point on which you were overruled. This letter you presented to Mr. Beecher at Mr. Freeland's house. Shortly after its presentation you sought an interview with me in the editorial office of the Brooklyn Union during which, with unaccountable emotion in your manner, your face livid with rage, you threatened with a loud voice that if I ever should inform Mr. Beecher of the statements which you made concerning his adultery, or should compel you to adduce the evidence on which you agreed to sustain the demand for Mr. Beecher's withdrawal from Brooklyn, you would immediately deprive me of my engagement to write for the Independent and to edit the Brooklyn Union, and that in case I should ever attempt to enter the offices of those journals you would have me ejected by force. I told you that I should inform Mr. Beecher or anybody else, according to the dictate of my judgment, uninfluenced by any threat from my employer. You then excitedly retired from my presence. Hardly had your violent words ceased ringing in my ears, when I received your summary notices breaking my contracts with the Independent and the Brooklyn Union. To the foregoing narrative of facts I have only to add my surprise and regret at the sudden interruption, by your own act, of what has been, on my part towards you, a faithful friendship of fifteen years. Yours truly,

THEODORE TILTON.

Mr. Moulton says: "In this letter I have omitted the sentence quoted as the words of Mr. Bowen, after the words, 'as nearly as I can recall your words, that'—simply desiring to say that it contained a charge of a rape, or something very nearly like ravishment, of a woman other than Mrs. Tilton, told in words that are unfit to be spread upon the record, but, if desired, the original is for the inspection of the committee."

After obtaining from Mrs. Tilton a recantation of her confession Beecher kept the matter to himself until Mrs. Tilton told her husband. Tilton made threats against Beecher, and Moulton went to the latter and said: "Mr. Beecher, you have had criminal intercourse with Mrs. Tilton; you have done great injury to Tilton otherwise. Now when you are confronted with it you ask permission of the man to again visit his house, and you get from that woman, who has confessed you have ruined her, a recantation and retraction of the truth for your mere personal safety. That won't save you." At that interview he admitted with grief and sorrow the fact of his sexual relations with Mrs. Tilton, expressed some indignation that she had not told him that she had told her husband, and that in consequence of being in ignorance of that fact he had been walking upon a volcano.

Of the letter dictated to Moulton by Beecher and afterward signed by him, Moulton says:

This was entrusted to me in confidence, to be shown only to Tilton, which I did. It had reference to no other fact or act than the confession of sexual intercourse between Beecher and Mrs. Tilton, which he at that interview confessed, and denied not, but confessed. He also at other interviews subsequently held between us, in relation to this unfortunate affair unqualifiedly confessed that he had been guilty of adultery with Mrs. Tilton, and always in a spirit of grief and sorrow at the enormity of the crime he had committed against Mr. Tilton's family. At such times he would speak with much feeling of the relation he had sustained toward them as pastor, spiritual adviser and trusted friend. His self-condemnation at the ruin he had wrought under such circumstances was full and complete, and at times he was so bowed down with grief in consequence of the wrong he had done that he threatened to put an end to his life.

Mr. Moulton produces a very strange letter of great length from Mrs. Isabella Hooker to her brother, Henry Ward Beecher, dated Nov. 1, 1872, in which she asks him to confess the truth, and to which he denies the charges made. So convinced is Mrs. Hooker of his evading the truth, that she writes on the 3d of the same month to Rev. Thos. K. Beecher, another brother:

Now, Tom, so far as I can see, it is he (Henry) who has dragged the dear child into the slough and left her there, and who is now sending another woman to prison who is innocent of all crime but a fanaticism for the truth as revealed to her, and I, by my silence, am consenting unto her death. Oh, my dear brother, I fear the awful struggle to live according to law has wrought an absolute demoralization as to truthfulness, and so he can talk about "spangles on a garment of falsehood," when the garment is truth and the specks are the falsehood.

With this letter she enclosed one from Henry, one sentence of which read: "Living or dead, my dear sister Belle, love me." This, she wrote, caused her to think he intended suicide.

"Tom's" answer is decidedly unique.:

ELMIRA, November 5, 1872.

Dear Belle:—To allow the devil himself to be crushed for speaking the truth is unspeakably cowardly and contemptible. * * He has drifted, and I have hardened like a crystal till I am sharp-cornered and exacting. I cannot help him except by prayer. In my judgment Henry is following his slippery doctrines of expediency, and, in his cry of progress and the nobleness of human nature, has sacrificed clear, exact, ideal integrity. Hands off until he is down, and then my pulpit, my home, my church, and my purse and heart are at his service. Of the two, Woodhull is my hero, and Henry my coward, as at present advised. But I protest against the whole batch and all its belongings. I was not anti-slavery; I am not anti-family. But, as I wrote years ago, whenever I assault slavery because of its abominations, I shall assail the church, the State, the family, and all other institutions of selfish usage. Don't write to me. Follow the truth, and when you need me cry out. Yours, lovingly, TOM.

P. S. I unseal my letter to add: You have no proof as yet of any offence on Henry's part. Your testimony would be allowed in no court. Tilton, wife, Moulton and Co. are witnesses. Even Mrs. Stanton can only declare hearsay. So if you move, remember that you are standing on uncertain information, and we shall not probably ever get the facts, and I'm glad of it. If Mr. and Mrs. Tilton are brought into court nothing will be revealed. Perjury for good reason is with advanced thinkers no sin.

Mr. Moulton says that a young girl living with Mr. and Mrs. Tilton overheard the latter confessing her intimacy with Mr. Beecher, and having told it to several neighbors was sent West to a boarding school, Mr. Beecher offering to pay all expenses, which he afterward did through Mr. Moulton. * *

Mr. Moulton continues: "Beecher placed in my hands an unsigned letter from Mrs. Tilton, in her handwriting, undated, but marked in her handwriting, 'Received March 8, 1871.'

WEDNESDAY.

My Dear Friend: Does your heart bound towards all as it used? So does mine! I am myself again. I did not dare to tell you till I was sure; but the bird has sung in my heart these four weeks, and he has covenanted with me never again to leave. 'Spring has come.' Because I thought it would gladden you to know this, and not to trouble or embarrass you in any way, I now write. Of course I should like to share with you my joy, but can wait for the beyond!

When dear Frank says I may once again go to Plymouth, I will thank the dear father.

On the 3d of May Mr. Beecher handed me still another letter, unsigned, but in Mrs. Tilton's handwriting of that date.

BROOKLYN, May 3, 1871.

Mr. Beecher:—My future either for life or death would be happier could I but feel that you forgave while you forget me. In all the sad complications of the past year, my endeavor was to entirely keep from you all suffering; to bear myself alone, leaving you forever ignorant of it. My weapons were love, a large, untiring generosity and nest-hiding! That I failed utterly we both know. But now I ask forgiveness.

The contents of this letter were so remarkable that I queried within my own mind whether I ought not to show it to Tilton; but I was assured by Beecher, and verily believed, and now believe, that they were unanswered by him; I thought it best to retain it in my own possession, as I have done until now. But from the hour of its reception what remained of faith in Mrs. Tilton's character for truth or propriety of conduct was wholly lost, and from that time forth I had no thought or care for her reputation only so far as it affected that of her children."

Mr. Moulton says that in repeated conversations with him Mrs. Tilton freely admitted her own sexual intercourse with Beecher. A letter is also included in which Mrs. Tilton acknowledges telling Mr. Moulton two falsehoods.

In a letter written in the spring of 1871 by Tilton the following occurs, Mrs. Beecher being the "sullen neighbor" sitting near him in the cars as he writes:

I am unusually heavy-hearted this morning. My sullen neighbor keeps the dark and lurid past vividly before my mind. If she actually knew the conduct which her priestly husband has been guilty of, I believe she would shed his blood—or perhaps, saving him, she would wreak her wrath upon his victims. There is a look of desperation in her eye to-day, as if she were competent to anything bitter or revengeful. But perhaps I misjudge her mind. I hope I do.

Mr. Moulton makes the important assertion that Beecher of his own motion insisted in aiding Tilton in establishing the Golden Age, "for which purpose he gave me the sum of five thousand dollars, which I was to expend in such manner as I thought judicious to keep the enterprise along, and if Tilton was at any time in need personally, to aid him. It was understood between myself and Beecher that this money should go to Tilton as if it came from my own voluntary contributions for his benefit, and that he should not know—and he does not know until he reads this statement, for I do not believe he has derived it from any other source—that this money came from Beecher, or thinks that he is in any way indebted to him for it. I think proper to add further that Tilton more than once said to me that he could and would receive nothing from Beecher, in the way of pecuniary assistance. I remember one special instance in which the subject was discussed between us. Beecher had told me that he was willing to furnish money to pay the expenses of Tilton and his family in traveling abroad, in order that Tilton might be saved from the constant state of irritation which arose from the rumors he was daily hearing. I rather hinted at than informed Tilton of this fact, and he repelled even the intimation of such a thing with the utmost indignation and anger. Therefore, I only undertook the disbursement of this sum at the most earnest and voluntary request of Beecher."

General Thom has $50,000 allowed him for improvement in Portland harbor.

Theodore Tilton has brought a suit in the New York courts for $100,000 damages against Henry Ward Beecher. He will sue the Brooklyn Eagle, New York Tribune and New York World for libel in the sum of $50,000 each.

On Saturday or Sunday the trout tanks of Messrs. The thieves took nearly all the breeding stock Messrs. R. & J. had, and the loss is one they are illy able to bear.

Foster's Democrat of Dover, says: "We understand that some dissatisfaction is expressed at the verdict of the coroner's jury in the case of Mr. Lucy, at Nottingham. Some further evidence has come to light since that verdict was rendered, which it is said puts a different face on the affair, and it is reported that one of the jury has said that he should have gone for a different verdict had he known all the facts. It is now said that a brother of the drowned man Lucy proposes to open the investigation anew. Probably he intends to see what the Grand Inquest of the County will have to say about it.'"

Some days ago Rev. Mr. Pidge and Prof. Rice of Lawrence went to Lake Winnipisaukee on a canoe voyage. They intended to return by the Merrimack river and had got near to Franklin when they came upon rapids as difficult to navigate, perhaps, as any in the river. Attempting to run them, the boat was capsized and sunk. The men were thrown into the water. Both managed to seize a log caught among the rocks, and Mr. Rice being upon the upper side easily reached shore; Mr. Pidge was less fortunate, being upon the lower side, and the force of the current was such that he was utterly unable to extricate himself, and could not long have even held his position, when Mr. Rice, seeing his peril, crept out upon the log and pulled his nearly exhausted companion thereon. The gentlemen went home by rail, having lost coats, hats and other effects, but considered themselves fortunate in escaping drowning.

Roads and Bridges.

The Rockingham County Commissioners, it is reported, have decided to order the laying out of the new highway petitioned for in Rye, by Hardison Foss and others between the residences of Eben W. Lang on Portsmouth road, and John O. Foss on the Beach road.

The Commissioners it is understood have also granted the petition of the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad, to be exempted from complying with the order of the City Councils of Portsmouth, to construct an overhead bridge at the crossing of the highway at Freeman's Point, and have ordered a change in the highway there and the removal of a portion of the bank south of the railroad to promote the public safety.

Laconics.

A horse attached to a haycart, belonging to L. L. de Rochement, was thrown on his haunches, Saturday afternoon, the reins with which he was hitched to a tree near the custom-house not having been drawn out of the martingales. The frightened horse sprang to his feet, broke loose and started for the sidewalk opposite, breaking the shafts of the cart and an awning post.

On Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Campbell, of "The Wentworth," were the recipients of an elegant set of silver ware, consisting of seven pieces. The "boys" kept Mr. Campbell busy walking about the piazza looking at the moon, and Mrs. Campbell had work enough to do to keep her busy any way, until the presentation came off. Neat and appropriate address followed the affair, and then the "Help" had the hall, and the dance, led off by Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, was kept up until the "wee sma' hours."

We are prepared to believe the statement going the rounds of the papers that "three solid bushels of dirt were recently taken from the organ of the Unitarian church at Portsmouth—the accumulation of years;" but when a Rhode Island paper drops the first letter from the last word, we rise in the majesty of our entire indignation and boldly asseverate our disbelief in the monstrous misstatement.

Dr. Benjamin Colby, Agent employed by the State Temperance Society, gave an address in Raymond town hall on Sabbath evening, Aug. 16. Mr. B. F. Thorndike of this city, Chairman of the State Committee, was present and made a few introductory remarks. Dr. Colby has lectured considerably in Maine, and appears calculated to do good. His appeals to young men to avoid the course that leads to drunkenness, were very earnest and forcible.

"W. M. T.," writing to the Boston Post of the 20th, says: Although all the hotels in this region about Portsmouth are doing a thriving business this season, it is a noticeable and significant fact that there is a growing demand for cheap accommodations. Even people of great wealth seek quiet boarding-houses, where they can live at rates varying from $7 to $12 per week. The demand is greater than the supply. If the number of summer visitors to this favored region continues to increase during the next decade as it has in the last, the coast on each side of this city will be literally covered with boarding-houses. Four of the larger hotels have been destroyed by fire during the last two years, but others are being erected. People make a hasty trip through the mountains, the lakes, to Saratoga and Niagara, but they come here to stay and find rest.

On the day of the yacht race a Newburyport gentleman lost a finger by carelessly putting his hand on the rail, between U. S. Speedwell and a steam tug.

Odd Fellows will find an advertisement of interest to them in another column.

Just after the yacht race, Thursday, a little girl named Bray, about ten years of age, fell off the landing at Appledore island into the water. Mr. Julius Ingelbredsen, who was standing near, jumped after her and brought her safely to land, for which heroic act a purse of $107 was quickly raised for him.

The new regulations by which actual expenses only are allowed to officers of the army and navy ordered from one post of duty to another, have been in force long enough to show a great saving to the government. Formerly mileage was allowed at ten cents per mile. The new system makes a saving of nearly thirty per cent.

Quarterly Meeting.

The Rockingham Quarterly Meeting (Free Baptist,) commenced a session at Kittery Point, Aug. 19th. Rev. G. J. Abbott of Hampton delivered the first discourse. The reports from the churches indicated some prosperity. The evening was devoted to the enterprise of Foreign Mission, Rev. C. O. Libby, Corresponding Secretary of the Society, occupied about half an hour and was followed by Rev. H. Quimby D. D., who was identified with the Foreign Mission Society in its early stages about forty years ago. Rev. Mr. Kenny made a few remarks. Then as a crowning interest to the meeting, two ladies, Miss Libby of Dover and Miss French of Salem, Mass., elected to go to India as missionary teachers, made short addresses as to their exercises in feeling called to go far away to help those in heathenish darkness. A collection of $26.54 was taken up for the benefit of these missionaries, and with great effect the hymn was sung which commences with, "Yes, my native land, I love thee," Great subjects, like the one considered on this occasion, elevate the mind, and interest it in what is worthy of attention. Mischief in the Air.

We cannot analyze the aerial poisons that produce epidemic and endemic diseases; but the valuable discoveries which have been made in vegetable pharmacy enables us to counteract their malific influence. The most powerful known antidote to every species of miasma is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a pure botanical medicine, in which the finest antiseptics, tonics, alteratives and stimulants of the vegetable kingdom are skilfully and effectively combined. At seasons of the year when the atmosphere is surcharged with miasma, and whenever the specific virus of any infectious disease is supposed to be present in the air, this famous corrective should be taken regularly as a protective. All who choose to observe this precaution may bid defiance to intermittent and remittent fevers, and in fact to all disorders generated by foul exhalations of impure water.

For Moth Patches, Freckles and Tan

Ask your Druggist for Perry's Moth and Freckle Lotion, which is harmless and in every case infallible. Or for his Improved COMPOUND and PIMPLE REMEDY, the great SKIN MEDICINE for Pimples, Black Heads or Flesh Worms. Or consult B. C. PERRY, the noted Skin Doctor, 49 Bond St., New York.

At thirty-five the Average American discovers that he has an "Infernal Stomach," and goes into the hands of the doctors for the remnant of his life. Prevention is better than cure, but DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS will both cure and prevent dyspepsia, diseases of the skin, liver, kidneys, and bladder, and all disorders arising from an "infernal Stomach."

GILBERT'S LIVER LOZENGES.

WHAT THE PEOPLE SAY ABOUT THEM.

CAMBLOTTESVILLE, DED., April 23, 1874.

S. GILBERT: A box of your Liver Lozenges have almost cured me of the Dyspepsia of 20 years standing. I have recommended them in many cases, and they have never failed to my knowledge of giving relief, and I have heard several say they were the best remedy they had ever used. A. H. ALLISON,

Didn't Kiss Her.

[San Antonio Herald.]

A gentleman who has been recently traveling in the lower counties tells us the following story: He was stopping over night at a house where the partition walls were particularly thin. The adjoining room was occupied by a mother and her daughter. After retiring the mother began to rebuke the daughter for an alleged partiality to somebody named John, which soft impeachment the daughter denied vigorously:

"But," said the mother, "I saw him kissing you at the cow-pen, yesterday morning, Amanda."

"No, ma, he wasn't kissing me at all."

"Why did you have your head so close up to his for, you deceivin' critter?"

"Well, you see, ma, I had been eating pitallas (the fruit of a species of cactus), and you see, ma, I got some of the prickles in my lips—and—and—"

"And what, you wicked, wicked critter."

"And I couldn't get them out myself, you know, and John pulled them out with his teeth—but he didn't kiss me nary time."

—"The living link"—Dog.

—Francis De Pau Moulton is his whole name.

—A Milwaukee parrot cries "Stop thief!" and the Sentinel says it takes four policemen to keep the sidewalk clear, as every native feels he has a personal invitation to tarry.

Health Regulations.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH of the City of Portsmouth call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10 of the City Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in the City to aid them in the execution of their duty.

CHAPTER 10.

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low-water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners or occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten day from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low-water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 8. The health officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other things deemed by them, on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said health officers may by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause the said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 19. The owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure shall be liable to pay the expense of the removal or destruction of any such nuisance or other thing, as aforesaid, including fees of the health officers who order or cause the same to be removed; and the same may be recovered by action to be brought in the name of the city.

SEC. 20. No person shall use or occupy any building in the compact part of the city for a slaughter-house, or for trying tallow, or for currying leather, or for the deposit of green pelts or skins, unless under such restrictions and regulations as the health officers may impose.

SEC. 22. Any person or persons who shall violate any rule or regulation, or commit any act forbidden in any section of this ordinance, to which no special penalty is annexed, shall forfeit and pay a sum not less than one dollar nor more than twenty dollars, to be recovered by complaint before the police court of this city.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick with the Small Pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the Small Pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city. m25 d3m

Ayer's Hair Vigor.

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair re-grows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resumes its original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cares dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

Pulmocine Cordial.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves a nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity for a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER!

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever. It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp, by its use, becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties, it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing, nothing has been found so effectual or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

FOR THE WHISKERS.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being in one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color, which will neither rub nor wash off.

A postponement of the Fifth Concert of the Public Library of Kentucky has been so generally anticipated, and is so manifestly in the interest of all concerned, that it must meet the approval of all. The day is now absolutely fixed and there will be no variation from the programme now announced. A sufficient number of tickets have been sold to have enabled us to have had a large drawing on the 31st July, but a short postponement was considered preferable to a partial drawing. IRON IN THE BLOOD.

DYSPEPSIA DEBILITY DROPSY AND HUMORS

PERUVIAN SYRUP

Makes The Weak Strong.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an ailment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damaged and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building upon an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this quietly, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

A Monkey in Trouble.

[Virginia (Nev.) Enterprise.]

Sam Wilcoxen, of the Eagle Brewery, has a small menagerie of monkeys, badgers, foxes, coyotes, and the like. He also has a large Newfoundland dog, on whose back he sometimes places one of his pet monkeys when he is going for a walk about the town, the monkey fastened to the collar of the dog by a string. As a general thing the monkey enjoys the ride, but we saw him a day or two since when he would willingly have traded himself off for some less privileged specimen of his species. His canine steed, being allowed to roam the streets at will, saw another dog that he thought he could whip, and forthwith went for him like a hairy hurricane. In a moment both dogs were on their hind legs and going for each other like two sausage machines. This made times very lively for the monkey, as the stranger dog evidently considered him as part and parcel of his antagonist. Such wails of despair as that monkey uttered, and such hideous faces as he made we never heard or saw. He would climb down the side of the dog he bestrode opposite to where the war was going on, and thence peep over occasionally, his jaws quivering, visage distorted, and his eyes starting from their sockets with terror. As the dogs were constantly changing sides, it made times awfully lively with the monkey. When he jumped to the ground the string held him, and he found himself trampled under the feet of both friend and foe, he was glad to get again upon the back of his steed and face the battle. The poor monkey was in a worse fix than the boy who stood on the burning deck, and had not the dogs been separated he must soon have been rendered a fit subject for the Stockton Insane Asylum. As it was, he did not get over examining the end of his tail for wounds for four hours after the battle; perhaps he had fears of hydrophobia!

Temperature of the Heavens.

John Wise, the veteran balloonist, who has made between three and four hundred ascensions, has always reported that the air became colder as he ascended. Such also has been the experience of all aërial navigators. On the 1st instant Wise made an ascension with a large balloon in Philadelphia, expecting to reach an altitude of four miles, and to make tests at different altitudes of the amount of ozone in the atmosphere, and make observations with the thermometer and barometer. The meteorological section of the Franklin Institute, of Philadelphia, of which Professor Wise is secretary, made an appropriation some time ago toward paying for these experiments. He landed at Vineland, N. J., and, after leaving a passenger there, again ascended and made a "sunset ascension" in the most successful manner. After remaining up long enough to take some special observations he again descended, in the vicinity of Millville, some miles below Vineland. He says as one result of his trip that he found the law of temperature reversed, the air growing warmer as a greater altitude was attained, until at a height of 6,000 feet it reached 90 degrees Farenheit. The whole party were considerably scorched by the intense heat and force of the sun's rays. Now, why was the law of temperature reversed on this occasion? Did the old veteran sail through the tail of the comet, or what did cause such a change in the atmosphere up "among the little stars?"

Beecher's Committee Exonerates Him.

The Sunday Mercury prints the following abstract of the forthcoming report of the Plymouth church committee:

The report of the committee of Plymouth church appointed to investigate the charges made against the pastor, Henry Ward Beecher, by a former member of the church, Mr. Theodore Tilton, will be made next Friday evening in the Plymouth church itself, and all members of the church are invited to be present on the occasion, as it is to be made a monster vindication of the pastor. The report will occupy in the reading about two hours, and will be a complete and searching review of all that has been brought against Henry Ward Beecher, as well as of what has been adduced in his favor. The statement will be separated into two parts. First, a review of the evidence, and secondly, the conclusions to which the committee have come based on the evidence. The report will be a unanimous one and will be signed by every member of the committee; no minority report will therefore be presented. The report begins by stating briefly the rumors that have prevailed for some years against the pastor of the church. The intangible manner in which these charges were made could not be traced to any trustworthy foundation, being denied by all those most concerned. The Congregational council and its action are then spoken of, and thereafter the letters of Rev. Dr. Bacon, which brought about the singular letter of Mr. Theodore Tilton to that gentleman, and in which a letter was inserted purporting to come from the pastor of the church and placing him in an untenable position before the world; then the appointment of the investigating committee by the examining committee of the church, and that meeting to investigate whatever charges should be made against the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher. Then is stated the action of the committee in calling upon Mr. Theodore Tilton to state whatever he had to allege against his former pastor and friend, and the statement from that gentleman which the call of that committee elicited. The main points of the statement of Mr. Tilton are then given, comprising the charges of adultery alleged to have taken place between Mr. Beecher and Mrs. Tilton, and the letters adduced to prove it. Having this sworn statement in hand the committee states that it thereupon called upon Mr. Tilton to submit to cross examination upon the subject matter of his charges, as also upon all the events and circumstances which induced him to come to the conclusion of the adultery of his wife and her former pastor. In this cross-examination it is stated that Mr. Tilton prevaricated to some extent and failed in notable instances to show any proof of the charges made by him—notably in one instance, where Mr. Tilton in his statement says that a scene took place before his eyes, where Mr. Beecher is alleged to have placed his hands upon Mrs. Tilton's ankles. Mr. Tilton being unable to say, within a period of a number of years, when this scene took place, and even whether it took place within a term of time comprised before or after the war, it seemed to the committee that so vital an accusation as this should have been narrowed down to a shorter or more certain period of time.

But this is not all that struck the committee as singular in Mr. Tilton's cross examination. He therein swore, that though cognizant of his wife's guilt for some years he was, personally, a man of unblemished character and of strict morality, never having been unfaithful in his marital relations, nor had he endeavored to be. Only this positive statement on Mr. Tilton's part induced the committee to call as a witness a young woman named Bessie Turner, who had lived in Mr. Tilton's family in the quality of domestic. In her evidence this young person swears that Mr. Tilton, while his wife was away from home, endeavored to accomplish on her person a dastardly outrage, on two separate occasions at night, entering her room and endeavoring to violate her person, succeeding so far as to drag her from her own bed to his own. This statement was so much at variance with Mr. Tilton's sworn statement upon cross-examination that the committee, loth to believe Mr. Tilton guilty, not only of such a crime as that described, but also of open and wilful perjury, endeavored to obtain further evidence on the subject, which was found in the statement of Mrs. Tilton herself, who corroborated to some extent the charges made by Bessie Turner against her husband, more than enough to impel the committee to the conclusion that Mr. Tilton was a perjurer, and that his evidence, upon cross-examination was in detail and substance false. This having been ascertained beyond question, then came the query whether Mr. Tilton's evidence, being manifestly untrue in some particulars, might not be so in toto, in which case his base and unsupported accusations against the pastor must be untrue also, as it is a well known maxim in law that all the testimony of a witness found guilty of prejury in any particular fell to the ground. This disposed of, then came the question of the letters put forth by Mr. Tilton to maintain his charges. The principal of these comprise a letter of contrition, addressed by Henry W. Beecher to Theodore Tilton, but not in that gentleman's handwriting, and bearing evidence of having been obtained in a somewhat singular manner; a supposed confession of guilt written by Mrs. Tilton and thereafter contradicted by her and thereafter again reaffirmed by her under pressure by her husband, and while she was laboring under illness and great excitement of mind; also several letters written by Mrs. Tilton to her husband, and others written by Henry Ward Beecher to Mr. Moulton. The committee felt upon reading these letters, that while their sense was ambiguous, there was in none of them any distinct admission of the charge of adultery—that is to say, the letters, while being extravagant in language and sentiment, and written by Mr. Beecher under a strong feeling of some wrong done by him to Mr. Tilton and his family relations, do not go to prove any specific act of wrong doing, and by one dozen persons would be taken to mean one dozen different things. Had any suppositious wrong been done, these letters might be supposed to refer to it as his one wrong, and so when the charge of adultery was made, any superficial act of these writings might be taken as referring to that. Therefore, after a minute examination the committee could not find that in any way the charge of adultery was substantiated by these letters. Therefore, neither Mr. Tilton's accusations nor the letters he brought forward to substantiate it could be held to prove more than that the pastor had done a wrong not specified to Mr. Theodore Tilton and his family. Having worked thus far in the discharge of this work, it became the duty of the committee to search further for some evidence in the matter, and a general call was made upon all who knew anything of the matter to come forward and give evidence before the committee. To this call several persons answered, among them Mrs. Tilton and the girl Bessie Turner and Mrs. Stanton.

The evidence of Bessie Turner has been already dwelt upon and her allegations reviewed. The testimony of Mrs. Stanton was only hearsay, while that of Mrs. Tilton added further to the burden of proof against Mr. Tilton by an explicit denial of all his more important statements,—a denial of itself entitled to as much weight as the affirmations of Mr. Tilton himself. But the testimony of the wife went further to prove that Mr. Tilton was commonly guilty of not only acts of adultery, but of brutality and shame in his own household. Thus far, then, the testimony was too one-sided to admit of any second conclusion, though the committee was informed that another outside witness demanded to be examined whose evidence, it was generally stated, would convict Mr. Beecher without any doubt of the charges made against him. The committee waited day after day for this witness to come forward, and at length after dallying for almost a week a specific time was set for the witness to come forward and make his statement. Upon the day mentioned the witness made his appearance and addressed to the committee some diffusive remarks embodying no statement or accusation, but conveying some covert hints and threats, and offering to show some letters in his possession. These letters were seen, and went no further to prove what had been alleged than any previously seen. Indeed, they were less to the point and more general than those already shown. While feeling disappointed that a fuller statement had not been made the committee could not take further steps to obtain one, and, therefore, simply went to the trouble of examining the accused person himself.

The statement of Henry Ward Beecher has already been before the public, who know its import. It sets up a general denial, and gives a full history from Mr. Beecher's point of view of all that took place between himself and the Tiltons. In this statement comes to the surface the wrong so much spoken of in the letters previously mentioned, and which briefly, Mr. Beecher says, consisted of some advice given to Mrs. Tilton to leave her husband in consequence of his treatment of her, and also some counsel given to Mr. Bowen of the Union and Independent, to dismiss Mr. Tilton from his position on both of these papers. Mr. Beecher states that afterwards he found that the advice resulted disastrously to Mr. Tilton, and he felt great pain and remorse at the thought. One important expression embodied in this statement struck the committee as worthy of remark, where Mr. Moulton, who was claimed to have such overwhelming testimony against Mr. Beecher, wrote to him that he could stand if the whole case were known to-morrow. If this may be taken as meaning anything it means that Mr. Beecher was guiltless in any serious manner of doing wrong. The relations between Mr. Beecher and Mrs. Tilton are explained, and it is claimed that the relations never exceeded those which might exist between the pastor and a member of the congregation. The singular conduct and the tergiversation of Mr. Tilton is also dwelt upon in a remarkable manner, and the whole affair described circumstantially. The report then goes on to show that after a close examination of the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher he developed no important additional facts, and the evidence in the case was closed.

The report then briefly and tersely gives the conclusions of the committee. It states that, on the one hand, they find, as the accused person, a man of well-known character, against whom during a ministry of twenty-five years, and a life of over sixty years, not a single charge of lack of duty, much less of immorality, has ever been made—a man of great Christian goodnes and a high principle. On the other hand the accuser a man of bad reputation and whom the testimony has shown to be a perjurer and an adulterer. His charges are unsupported by any distinct evidence or corroborating proof. Many of his main statements are flatly contradicted by other persons of better character than the accuser, besides the accused himself. The proof seems almost all on one side. Mr. Tilton fails to prove anything except that a wrong had been practised toward him. Mr. Beecher now fully confesses this wrong and shows by his letters that he bitterly regretted it. The committee therefore comes to the conclusion that Mr. Beecher thoughout this painful inquiry has acted in an open, undeviating manner, while his accuser's course has been subtle and underhanded, and the finding is that the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher is entirely guiltless of the accusations brought against him.

This ends the report as it now is. Some of the members of the committee believe it to be proper to notice Mr. Moulton's statement as bringing further proof to bear upon the matter at issue; but it is not certain that any notice whatever will be taken of a statement which is unimportant in itself, was made in an irregular manner, and after a distinct refusal on Mr. Moulton's part to make any. As before stated, the report will be publicly made on Friday evening next at Plymouth church.

Moulton's Expose.

[Worcester Gazette.]

At last, Mr. Moulton has spoken. The nature of his evidence has been anticipated, yet it startling in its directness and the explicit manner in which it charges upon Mr. Beecher not only the foul crime of which he has been accused, but a cowardly trickery which reduces him to the most contemptible position ever held by a character in real life, or of fiction. It is difficult to believe these accusations against Mr. Beecher. Yet they exist, and they cannot be put out of sight at a word. Mr. Moulton makes against him a most explicit and distinct declaration that he is guilty of the worst sins that a trusted pastor of a Christian church could commit. Mr. Beecher's only hope is to break down the evidence of this witness. This we think he will find a difficult task. Mr. Beecher has again and again put on record his trust in Mr. Moulton and his respect for him. We have from private sources and with considerable directness testimony to Mr. Moulton's entire respectability and his high position in the community in which he lives. To imagine that he is willing to perjure himself in order to destroy Mr. Beecher, it is necessary to make him short-sighted and foolish to an extent impossible in a successful man of business, and entirely incompatible with Mr. Moulton's reputation. Mr. Moulton has made a mistake in not following his own impulses at the first. He took the advice of a lawyer, when he should have consulted only his own judgment and conscience. He might have been spared some sharp criticism if he had thrown off the mask of concealment, when he saw that all future attempts to cover up this dreadful secret would be useless. At the same time, it must be acknowledged that he has gained an excuse for speaking out, if any were needed; for Mr. Beecher, knowing that a public trial in the courts would bring to light all the facts, has attempted the poor makeshift of attacking the man for whom up to the last moment he had been professing such a gushing friendship.

There will be those who will still charge with wild emphasis that Mr. Moulton is a liar and a blackguard. We wish it might be proved so, for it would be better for the world and for humanity not to lose Mr. Beecher. Yet it must be conceded by every sane man that the only object Mr. Moulton could have for slandering, or even blackmailing Mr. Beecher was a friendship for Theodore Tilton. Rich and prosperous business men are not in the habit of perjuring themselves and attacking fondly-loved preachers in such a station as the pastor of Plymouth Church for any such motives. If they lend their poor friend ten dollars, they are inclined to plume themselves on their liberality and good feeling. It is difficult to resist the impression that Moulton, becoming a confidant of both sides by accident, was impressed by Beecher's extravagant remorse and the notion that he might save so great a man to the world, and has gone on sedulously striving to hide the secret and keep this loose-jointed Tilton quiet, until at last he has found no alternative but to speak out.

The clouds which have been so long closing in on Plymouth Church are to-day black and impenetrable. We wish they might be lifted, but we can see,—have seen from the first, no ray of light.

An Opinion.

The New York Nation, which rasps everybody it comes in contact with, says:

Tilton's ill-treatment of his wife, combined with her own religiosity and Mr. Beecher's strong sympathy, led her gradually to contract an affection for the latter, which after a while presented itself to her own conscience as unlawful; and as she was frequently quarrelling with Tilton and then making up, she used a confession of this over-fondness for Mr. Beecher as the means of cementing one of her numerous reconciliations with her worthy husband, and at the same time of giving a little spice to the pietistic gush with which she appears to have been in the habit of deluging him, and of which he was doubtless, as he was a wayward gentleman, getting a little tired. This confession appears to have found Tilton in a bad way. He was losing his professional position, losing his credit with his friends, and his not very strong head was completely bemuddled by the multitude of new and strange doctrines which had risen on his path after his anti-slavery occupation was gone. In these great straits, being desperate and apparently shameless, the idea of turning his wife's relations with Beecher to worldly account seems to have taken possession of him, and for four years he treated it as a vein to be worked the more assiduously the more his fortunes were failing.

Republican Congressional Candidacy.

[Dover Enquirer.]

The Portsmouth CHRONICLE, in an able article last week brings prominently forward Hon. Charles Doe, as a candidate for Congress in this district. There can be no doubt that the selection of Judge Doe would be a very strong and popular nomination in all parts of the District. His removal from the Bench has been one of the greatest blunders of all the blind and foolish acts of the democratic managers. As a man of great intellectual powers, of signal legal acumen and profundity, and as a bold, original and independent jurist, Judge Doe has certainly no superior in this State, and few equals in any other State. His opinions, both at home and throughout the States, are conceded to be second to none of his predecessors in their weight and authority, and our New Hampshire Reports are indeed better known through him than perhaps any of them. The most popular and creditable act Gov. Weston could have done would have been his appointment as Chief Justice of the highest court, in which position Judge Doe would have reflected honor upon, and added to the high reputation of our judiciary.

Mischief in the Air.

We cannot analyze the aerial poisons that produce epidemic and endemic diseases; but the valuable discoveries which have been made in vegetable pharmacy enables us to counteract their malific influence. The most powerful known antidote to every species of malaria is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a pure botanical medicine, in which the finest antiseptics, tonics, alteratives and stimulants of the vegetable kingdom are skillfully and effectively combined. At seasons of the year when the atmosphere is surcharged with miasma, and whenever the specific virus of any infectious disease is supposed to be perseat in the air, this famous corrective should be taken regularly as a protective. All who choose to observe this precaution may bid defiance to intermittent and remittent fevers, and in fact to all disorders generated by foul exhalations of impure water.

More Light!

The Aldermen have voted, and the Street Commissioner has built, a good gravel sidewalk on Miller avenue, from Middle street to Lincoln avenue, partly for the accommodation of Miss Morgan's new school for girls; and this avenue is now one of the handsomest in the city. Numerous lots are being sold and occupied for residences in that vicinity, and we understand that application has been made for gas-pipes to be laid to light the new school,—concerning which there should be neither doubt nor hesitation. The enterprise and public spirit evinced in this section by Messrs. Miller, Webster and others,—not less to the public benefit than their own,—is worthy of all encouragement and furtherance by the city and every public corporation. Probably the two gentlemen named have themselves spent more than $10,000 in the construction of new streets at the West End; and well may the city concur and assist in such public enterprise to extend the town and increase its valuation. Turn on the gas!

The Senatorial Naval Committee

Has finished its examinations of the navy yards, and its members have returned to their homes. It is understood that the drawing up of their report is left to Senator Sargent of California, one of the youngest of their number, but one of the most influential, especially in naval matters, because of his devotion to and study of them,—though, as to that, his record shows that he neglects no question that arises in Congress. Nothing of course can be known as to what the character of their recommendations will be, regarding the abolishing or consolidation of any of the yards; but it would be absurd to suppose that there ever was any real idea of removing this yard, which is acknowledged on all hands to be one of the best located and most eligible in the country. It is another well merited compliment to Commandant Howell, that the visiting committee pronounce this yard to be in the neatest and best condition in all respects.

Laconics.

At the recent annual meeting of the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad, George L. Treadwell was re-elected Treasurer, and his valuable services in that capacity acknowledged in the most decided manner by all.

Yacht Carrie E. and schooner Queen of the Bay, of Newburyport, picked up five thousand feet of lumber, off Boon Island, last week. Evidently some lumberman's deck load is so much out.

The Great Eastern Circus and Menagerie is said to be one of the best institutions of the kind ever exhibited here. The circus is especially excellent, and is not surpassed in the Union for the perfection of its details. Mr. James Robinson, the world's champion bareback rider, and his two sons are of the troup, the announcement of which is of itself sufficient to fill the tent.

J. Rider & Son advertise big bargains in flour, cheese, etc. See their advertisements.

The proprietor of the "Granite House," at Hampton Beach, advertises accommodations for visitors at the very reasonable rate of seven dollars per week, through the month of September. Cheap enough; the man who cannot afford to pay seven dollars for a week's residence at the seaside has no business to look for happiness in this mercenary world.

Hugh de Payen Commandery of Keene will arrive here at 5:45 P. M., to-day, and be received by DeWitt Clinton Commandery of this city. In the evening, there will be a levee at Congress Hall.

State News.

At an adjourned session of the Probate Court in Dover there was quite a spirited contest for the appointment as administrator of the estate of John Brioney, the eccentric Irishman who died some weeks since, and who, as was subsequently ascertained, left property to the amount of several thousand dollars. There were three contestants, each appearing with counsel to advocate his claims, and each making the most strenuous efforts to secure the appointment. As it resulted Mr. Jos. Mann is the lucky man. There are no heirs to the estate in this country, and it is not known that there are any anywhere else. If not, the property will go to the State.

Edward Baldwin, in attempting to climb upon a flat car, loaded with rails, at Canaan, a few days ago, after the train was in motion, pulled one over upon his hand in such a manner that he could not extricate himself, nor climb on to the car. Fortunately his situation was observed and the train stopped. His hand was found to be badly crushed and one finger broken.

It is reported that the rust is seriously affecting potatoes in Franconia, and the adjacent towns.

The Carriage Trade.

[Amesbury Villager.]

The story has gone the rounds of the press that four carriage firms in this village have failed. We have not cared to mention such disasters; their publication does not hinder or make trade any more prosperous. But the parade of this one item seems to be regarded as a strange event. It may be, and in contrast with other business it is, for but one failure among our carriage firms has occurred, previous to this season, since the business was established in our village some twenty years ago. Yet, when it is considered that there have been twenty-two firms engaged in this business, with as many more at West and South Amesbury, we question if any other business interest in the State can show a better record. Many of the firms have lately lost large sums of money, and in the aggregate such losses are estimated as high as $70,000, but with a shortening of the credit system there is every prospect that the trade will continue to flourish. It appears to us to be too firmly established to be thrown down by even the adverse current of trade in Boston. We notice that freight trains continue to run laden with this class of freight, and most of the firms are as busily employed as is customary at this season.

—The war-cry of the races (horse-races) is: "Can you lend me five dollars till I hear from my mother?"

Health Regulations.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH of the City of Portsmouth call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10 of the City Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in the City to aid them in the execution of their duty.

CHAPTER 10.

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low-water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners or occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten day from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low-water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 8. The health officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other things deemed by them, on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said health officers may by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause the said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 19. Ayer's Hair Vigor.

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus beauty, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair re-grows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resumes its original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

Pulmocine Cordial.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

—USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER!

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color.

It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp, by its use, becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties, it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing, nothing has been found so effectual or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

FOR THE WHISKERS.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being in one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color, which will neither rub nor wash off.

Monday, 30th November, 1874.

LAST CHANCE FOR

An Easy Fortune!

A postponement of the Fifth Concert of the Public Library of Kentucky has been so generally anticipated, and is so manifestly in the interest of all concerned, that it must meet the approval of all. The day is now absolutely fixed and there will be no variation from the programme now announced. A sufficient number of tickets have been sold to have enabled us to have had a large drawing on the 31st July, but a short postponement was considered preferable to a partial drawing. Let it be borne in mind that

THE FIFTH GIFT CONCERT

IS THE LAST WHICH WILL EVER BE GIVEN UNDER THIS CHARTER AND BY THE PRESENT MANAGEMENT.

That it will positively and unequivocally take place as announced on

MONDAY, 30TH NOVEMBER, 1874,

that the music will be the best the country affords, and that

IRON IN THE BLOOD.

DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, DROPSY AND HUMORS.

PERUVIAN SYRUP

Makes The Weak Strong.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Peroxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures a thousand ills, simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Rumors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building upon an iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP shown in the glass.

Rockingham Grangers.

[Exeter News-Letter.]

The five Granges in this County, from Portsmouth, Stratham, Exeter, Hampton Falls and Kingston, including the lady members of course, and invited guests—a pleasant and cheerful party, to the number of about two hundred—assembled at Dover Point, on Wednesday, the 12th inst., for a clam-bake and a social time generally; and the meeting was declared a complete success in all respects. The weather being cloudy in the morning, probably kept some away, but Hampton Falls, Exeter and Portsmouth were largely represented. Among the prominent Patrons present were Deputy Charles H. deRochement of Kingston, Masters John D. Lyman of Exeter, Haven L. Scott of Portsmouth, and William G. Brown of Stratham; Messrs. Gilman and Hunnewell of Exeter, Frank W. Miller and C. B. Mason of Portsmouth, F. P. Cram, Prescott and Batchelder of Hampton Falls, Staples of Stratham; also Hon. Warren Brown of Hampton Falls, Woodbury M. Durgin of Northwood, and many others.

Dover Point was declared one of the most charming locations in New England; and mine host, Horace A. Lamos of the Point Cottage, spared no exertions to make all pass happily. The clams et ceteras were done to a turn, and there was a great abundance; and, for the benefit of the uninitiated, we will state that the bill of fare on this occasion consisted of twenty-five bushels of Wells clams (said to be the best in the known world), lobsters, sweet potatoes and green corn, with bread and other accompaniments; also fish chowder for those who are unfortunate enough not to appreciate clams. The railroads afforded every facility, of low fares and arrangements of trains; and, after eating, singing, speeches and socialities to the full, the party separated at early sunset, leaving the following record of their satisfaction with the day's proceedings: Mr. Hunnewell of Exeter, being called to preside, on motion of Mr. Gilman of Exeter, and Mr. Israel Hoyt of Newington, the following resolutions were passed unanimously:

Resolved,—That we tender our most cordial thanks to the Committee of Arrangements and to Horace A. Lamos, Esq., the excellent landlord of Point Cottage, for the arrangements which resulted in one of the most happy and enjoyable of all occasions.

Resolved,—That we believe in such assembling of our citizens, to promote the proper social intercourse and acquaintance among farmers, and all classes engaged in those useful industries which are among the true glories of a free land.

Resolved,—That we hereby tender our thanks to all manufacturers and associations which have made offers to us, promotive of the interests of agriculture.

Resolved,—That our experience as Rockingham Grangers is so hopeful and promising of good results in the future advancement and elevation of agriculture in our community, that we heartily commend it to all as a profession dignified in itself, the success of which is most intimately bound up in the progress and welfare of our State and country.

Resolved,—That we tender our thanks to Manager Hatch of the Eastern, and Superintendent Furber of the Boston & Maine Railroads, for liberal favors in transportation.

The following additional resolution, offered by Hamilton E. Towle of New York, "a Granger when in New Hamshire," was also carried:

Resolved,—That this gathering desires to express its obligation to the ladies by a vote of thanks, for their hearty co-operation, by which this occasion has been made one of unalloyed pleasure.

Daily Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 26, 1874.

The First Congressional District.

The Rochester Courier, referring to the favorable mention of Judge Doe by the CHRONICLE and the Nashua Telegraph says:

From the above it will be seen that two of the leading republican papers of the State are in favor of throwing overboard Mr. Small, and putting Judge Doe in his place. Well, we have all along thought that Mr. Small would be left out in the cold, but think it not improbable that the democrats may name his successor. Judge Doe is an able man, and would make above an average Congressmen, but not one whit smarter than Col. Dan. Hall, and if the republicans reward their leaders for work done, then they should nominate Col. Hall, or some other hard worker. "Honor to whom honor belongs," is our motto.

We are of the number who would like to reward Col. Hall's faithful service, but as his most intimate friends declare he will not be in the field, and Judge Doe has such rare elements of popularity, and his removal comes so opportunely for the assured success of the party in this district, we deem it as much a duty as a pleasure to echo the wishes of the rank and file. We have no fears of the power of the democracy to name Mr. Small's successor, should there be harmony among republicans, but we believe Judge Doe's nomination necessary to secure that harmony. He can to-day carry the district by a round thousand majority over any candidate the democracy may name.

Regarding the claim that Mr. Small may have to a renomination, the Concord People, says:

The Portsmouth CHRONICLE, republican, proposes ex-Judge Charles Doe as the next candidate for Congress from the First district. This makes short-metre of custom in the case of Mr. Small, the present republican representative, and augurs that matters are anything but smooth in the great hatching house of republican majorities in this State.

This leads us to say that Mr. Small has had two nominations at the hands of the republican party and may not desire a third. His defeat in 1871 was certainly no fault of the party, while his election in 1873 showed for him 500 less plurality in the district than Governor Straw obtained. We are not aware that Congressman Small, excellent friend and agreeable acquaintance as he is, has especially endeared himself to the republicans of the district, and so indignant were Portsmouth republicans at his endeavors to prevent the reappointment of Pension Agent Vaughan, we have seen no time since when he could receive one-half the vote here that he did in 1873. Congressman Small went on the breakers of party patronage. The fact exists that a plurality of 378 for Mr. Small in 1873 by no means makes it probable that he would have any in 1875. Rev. James Pike, who was slaughtered without cause in 1871, withdrew from the field for the sake of party success in 1872, after one nomination only. Should party success require the same action on the part of Congressman Small, after two nominations, we see no reason why he and his friends should feel aggrieved.

The Great Scandal.

The Beecher committee lays great stress on the testimony of Bessie Turner, who eagerly stated that Theodore Tilton tried to seduce her. She also testified to seeing Susan B. Anthony sitting in Theodore's lap. Susie now arises in her indignation and according to the Rochester Union denies the whole story, but regards it too absurd to be worthy of notice. She says she never heard that the girl Bessie was anything more than a servant in Tilton's family; that she was half an idiot, and that Mrs. Tilton had repeatedly said she could not instil into the girl the first elements of truth. "Miss Anthony's character is too well established by long years of residence in this community," says the Union, "to admit of the shadow of a doubt in the mind of any person here as to her virtue and veracity."

Referring to Bessie's testimony, the New York Graphic says: "Had she represented Mr. Tilton as carrying on a flirtation with his mother-in-law her testimony might have been considered. But it would sooner be believed that he had caressed Powers' Greek Slave than Miss Anthony."

Henry Ward Beecher has signed the legal papers denying the charges made by Tilton in his legal prosecution, and sworn to the truth of such denial.

Henry C. Bowen will sue the Brooklyn Eagle for libel, damages $50,000, for the publication of an alleged interview with him, the truth of which he denied.

The Chicago Times has a kindly word for Elizabeth R. Tilton. She, it says, who has needed the general pity has had only the general sneer. No matter on which banner the victory of public indorsement may at last perch, she is a conquered, blasted sufferer. If the world shall side with the priest, she is to be recorded as having weakly encouraged her husband to shatter one of the grandest characters of the age. If the verdict comes finally in her husband's favor, she is to be remembered as the woman who blighted an almost ideal home at the beck of a monster clerical impostor. A woman of far more than common culture and sensitiveness, she racks in the horrible knowledge that her name is a flippant byword for a broad hemisphere. Circumstances have tended to so place her in this mammoth scandal that reproach must always be upon her, no matter how the battle may go. And then the Times goes on to plead with chivalric men to stop their contemptible gibes, and with women to refrain from inflicting their gleesome stabs.

State News.

A spaniel dog belonging to Thomas C. Folsom of West Epping accidently got locked in the office of the pine lumber mill of that gentleman a few weeks ago, while the mill was idle. Other duties prevented Mr. Folsom from visiting the office for eighteen days, when, as he opened the door, the dog staggered forth, hardly able to stand, having had neither food nor drink of any kind during the whole time. At first he was unable to take food, but being fed with milk in small quantities, he soon recovered his appetite and his lost flesh.

A day or two ago Rev. Mr. Routabler of Philadelphia nearly met with his death footing it from the Crawford House to the top of Mount Washington. He set out in the early morning in company with Rev. Hilary Bygrave of East Milton and Mr. Eaton, a lawyer of St. Louis. When about a third of the way up the fog was very dense, and it rained in torrents. The bridle path was scarcely discernable, and the reverend gentleman soon gave out. His companions carried him two hours, when he became insensible and thoroughly numb. The other two gentlemen cast lots as to which should go forward for help. The lot fell to Mr. Bygrave, who lost his way, and after wandering two hours struck the Summit House in a fainting condition. A number of men started off for the sufferer and Mr. Eaton. At first the reverend gentleman's life was despaired of, but the efforts to restore him proved successful, and without doubt he will recover in a few days.

The case of South Hampton vs. Richard Fowler, which affected some Beach property, in which the late Nelson Kimball had an interest, has been set aside by the Supreme court and a new trial ordered.

A week ago Saturday night, Sidney Felch of Weare was drowned while fishing in a boat with Ira Harvey, on a pond in Henniker. Suspicions of foul play were entertained, and the selectmen of Henniker have made an application to Coroner Stewart of Concord to hold an inquest.

In West Epping stands a tree which measured three feet above the ground shows a circumference of 16 feet, 1 inch. It stands upon the "Dow Farm," so called, which is now owned by C. P. Blake, and occupied by Enoch Parks. The pedigree of this tree, as given by Mr. Jonathan Swaine is as follows: In 1785, Mr. Nathan Swaine, the father of Jonathan, at the suggestion of a neighbor stuck down a stick which he had used to whip his horse. In due time this stick became a tree, which died of old age years ago. But from this old tree a twig was cut and stuck down by Mr. Josiah Tilton in 1799, which now exists in the size and shape above mentioned.

Mr. Amasa Flanders of West Alton met with a most singular accident last week. While mowing, he suddenly felt a sharp pain in his right leg, below the knee. Under the impression that he had been bitten by a snake, he leaped quickly from the spot, but had gone only two or three steps when he fell to the ground, unable to walk. It was found that both bones were broken below the knee. One of bones had suffered a diagonal fracture, and the ends slipping by each other, a sharp point of bone had pierced the flesh for a considerable distance. It is thought that this fracture was first made, Mr. Flanders being a heavy man and probably throwing his weight upon it in mowing. The puncture of the bone sliver gave him the impression of a snake bite, and in his subsequent hasty movements, the other bone, being unsupported, gave away.

Mrs. Ruth Flanders of West Alton, over 70 years of age, recently took a walk of three miles upon Mt. Major, picked ten quarts of blueberries, and walked home as lively as the younger members of the party.

A lad of fourteen killed a hen-hawk and crow at one shot in North Woods, near Keene, last Saturday. The crow and hawk were fighting.

One of the original anti-slavery leaders of the republican party of New Hampshire, who espoused its principles when they were unpopular, writes us as follows: "I was glad to see your article on Judge Doe. It is expressive of the thoughts in the minds of the people. I think if the State election were to come off now the democracy would be badly beaten, being in a discordant condition. Frink will doubtless be the democratic candidate, for Congressman, being much stronger before the people than Hatch. I base my calculations upon Jones being kept out of the ring by his Eastern load, which must bear very heavily on malt productions."

The Manchester school committee has been unable to select a person out of seventy applicants as a teacher of the high school, without a trial; hence a teacher will be temporarily employed for the next term.

Readables.

James Corey of Newburyport, one of the five soldiers who cut the cable across the Mississippi, in Farragut's expedition against New Orleans, has just received $800 prize-money, for that service. Three of the five were killed at the time and one has died since, leaving Corey the only survivor. To offset his good luck he was recently kicked by a vicious horse, laming both legs and splitting his hand.

It appears probable that the Fish-Polo protocol, touching our relations with Spain, will not end satisfactorily, and that the matter will then become the subject of arbitration.

The following chief engineers have been ordered by the Navy department to assume the duty of inspecting machinery afloat at the places respectively named, in addition to their present duties; Chief Engineer B. F. Garvin at Boston, vice R. M. Bartleman, placed on waiting orders; Stewell at the Philadelphia navy yard, Roble at Norfolk, Henderson at New York, Lawton at Mare Island, Fithian at Washington. Chief Engineers Bailleam, Fletcher, Sewell and Ayres have been detached as inspectors of machinery, to await orders.

Francis Thompson, colored, residing at Ravesend, N. Y., was awakened by burglars. He took a shot-gun and went to the stairs, where he was confronted by a burglar. Without speaking, Thompson levelled his gun and shot him dead. He returned to bed and slept till daylight, and then informed the authorities. The dead body was identified as that of William Williams, a notorious character. Thompson was committed to await trial.

Mischief in the Air.

We cannot analyze the aerial poisons that produce epidemic and endemic diseases; but the valuable discoveries which have been made in vegetable pharmacy enables us to counteract their malific influence. The most powerful known antidote to every species of malaria is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a pure botanical medicine, in which the finest antiseptics, tonics, alteratives and stimulants of the vegetable kingdom are skillfully and effectively combined. At seasons of the year when the atmosphere is surcharged with miasma, and whenever the specific virus of any infectious disease is supposed to be present in the air, this famous corrective should be taken regularly as a prolective. All who choose to observe this precaution may bid defiance to intermittent and remittent fevers, and in fact to all disorders generated by foul exhalations of impure water.

Our Avenues and Park.

Dear Chronicle: In your issue of Friday, after alluding to the various developments and improvements about the city, you close thus:

Now if somebody would only fix up Richards avenue so that it would look halfway decent, and somebody else would only do something toward availing the city of Mr. Elwyn's generous offer of land for a public Mall, what a nice place those young ladies would have to complete their education in.

Perhaps it may be interesting to some readers to be told that the trustees of the Elwyn land for a Mall, are ready, willing and anxious to "avail the city" of the same; but, like the Richards avenue project, there have been many obstacles in the way. The trustees designed, and still desire to throw a handsome rustic foot bridge across the South Pond, from the rear of the Court House to the Mall opposite; but the owner of the land this side rather objected, and other hindrances have delayed us.

The survey made at the time of the gift of land, by Mr. A. H. Hoyt, also included a marginal road around the Pond, from the Universalist Church to Richards avenue, and along the shore to the old ropewalk site, and out by way of Johnson's court to South street, with entrances also at Rogers street and the Court House on this side and at the Park gate and Mt. Vernon street on South street. But a plan made then, showing these suggested improvements, has been borrowed or mislaid by some of the trustees, and a new start of the project now has been delayed for the want of it. If any reader knows of its whereabouts, he will confer a great favor by leaving it with Mr. Henry M. Clark, the treasurer of the trustees.

I have never seen a location more favorable for a small mall or small common or park than the South Pond affords, at a reasonable cost—which the sons and daughters of Portsmouth, at home and abroad, are ready to pay, as many have offered to me from $50 to $1000 or more each for the purpose. The City Councils have voted $2000 to the trustees for this Mall or Park, when a like sum shall have been raised by private contributions, which there will be no trouble in doing in a very short time, in sums of $100 each, when that plan is found or a new one made.

As to Richards avenue, the delay has been partly caused by the difficulty of obtaining the land for widening of the lower part, but speedy progress in the proposed improvements there is now hoped for by the executors in charge of Mrs. Cutts' funds for this purpose. Failing this, the city appropriations will doubtless be used there, as for a chief pleasure avenue of the city it is certainly in a wretched condition, as you intimate.

Much of the business of our good old, but by no means declining city, has changed from the sea to the land; and while I fear there is no immediate prospect of the improvement of our dilapidated water front at the wharves, it would seem well worth our while to add for our own satisfaction and the attraction of summer visitors, good roads in every direction, as we now have in most, and a special pleasure ground if practicable. Concerning which last, perhaps more anon, when the plan shall be found and developed. Yours very truly,

FRANK W. MILLER,
One of the Trustees, etc.

The Coming of The Ebens.

The Eben Simpson S. F. E. Co., No. 2, of Biddeford, will be received upon their arrival here, Sept. 3d in the 11.30 A. M. train, by Dearborn S. F. E. Co., No. 1, Sagamore S. F. E. Co., No. 2, Kearsarge S. F. E. Co., No. 3, (Nos. 1 and 2 acting as escort to No. 3,) the Board of Engineers, the Mayor, the committee on Fire Department from the Aldermen and Council, the Press and other invited guests, (in carriages), and escorted through Elm, North, Prospect, to Dennett, through Dennett to North, Elm, Railroad Avenue to Deer, through Deer, to Bridge, through Bridge and Middle to State street, thence to the Rockingham House, where a banquet will be given them at 2 o'clock, His Honor Mayor Miller delivering the welcoming speech in behalf of the city. Following the banquet will come the customary speech-making, followed by a parade at 3.30 through the following streets: State, Pleasant, Congress, Islington, Union, State, Cabot, Middle, Court, Pleasant, Water, State, Pleasant, Market, Deer, Vaughan, Congress, Pleasant and Court to the engine house of Dearborn S. F. E. Co., No. 1, where a collation will be tendered them by the members of that company. Reforming the procession will march through Court Avenue, through State street, to the Rockingham House, where it will be dismissed. There will be a complimentary open-air concert to the citizens of this city on Market Square at 7 1-2 o'clock by the U. S. Naval Band in charge of the Kearsarge boys. At 9 o'clock the Grand March will commence in Congress Hall, which will be elegantly decorated for the occasion. The merry dance will end among the "wee" sma' hours of the second day. On the morning of the 4th at 8 o'clock the Kearsarge boys will escort their guests to the steamer Appledore, on which they will embark for Kittery Point, where the day will be spent in dancing, boat-racing, sack racing, and different games and amusements, arriving back in this city in season for the Ebens to take the evening train for home.

The Visiting Masons.

DeWitt Clinton Commandery of Knights Templar turned out Tuesday evening to receive Hugh de Payen Commandery of Keene, which organization arrived at 6:30 P. M., accompanied by the Keene band. The Hugh de Payens were escorted to the Rockingham House and afterward attended a levee at Congress Hall.

Shortly after 9 o'clock this morning, Trinity Commandery of Manchester and Mount Horeb Commandery of Concord will arrive in a special train and be escorted to a collation at Masonic Hall. Thence the three visiting organizations will march to Pier wharf and go to the Shoals in steamer Appledore, returning at 4 P. M., when they will be escorted about the city and rendezvous at the Rockingham and Kearsarge Houses. The Naval Band is engaged by the Portsmouth Sir Knights, Brown's full band by those from Concord, and Dignam's from Manchester.

To-morrow (Thursday) morning, they go to Dover in the 10 A. M. train and leave for Alton Bay at 3 P. M., returning home via the Lake and Wolfeboro'.

Laconics.

"Sojourner" writes to the Boston Journal as follows: Next month is Portsmouth's municipal election, as appointed by the late democratic legislature. The city has been cut up into new wards, to see if the republican majorities can't thereby be sliced down and more democratic members returned to the City Government. A good warm fire has already been started under the political cauldron, and things will soon be "boiling." Col. Frank Miller is the present Mayor, an able and energetic official. He has looked sharp after the finances while an advocate of public improvements. With untiring faithfulness he has watched over police, sanitary and street matters. He is a man of decided temperance principles. While popular with the working men, the old financial gray-heads favor his money management. To him, also, Portsmouth is indebted for its latest and finest improvements.

The dwelling house of Mr. Roswell Webber of Cape Neddick was burned with its contents on Monday morning. Loss $500. The insurance had run out.

The house of Miss Olive Gould at Eliot was entered on Monday of last week and a trunk taken therefrom containing $30! The trunk was afterward found in a field and $10 near by, the rogues evidently having been frightened.

Col. Hackett will sell by auction at noon to-day, on Market Square, Dr. Stevens' well and favorably known mare "Minnie." This is a good chance for somebody to get a good animal, young, speedy, sound and kind. See advertisement.

Sam Sharpley's ministrels, with the veritable Sam himself as "end man," will perform at the Temple on Wednesday evening, Sept. 2d. Sharpley has a good troupe, and is himself too well known here as a first-class star in the burnt-cork-operatic firmament to need any introduction.

The First Cavalry Association will reune at Rye Beach, Sept. 8.

A foreigner was arraigned before Judge Page a few days since for drunkenness, and begged to be let off as he had a family in Dover and had been but a day or two in Portsmouth. He was duly fined, however, and Judge Page remarked as he was taken to the House of Correction: "That's the same chap who wanted to be naturalized yesterday. He then said he had been at work for a year at Jones' brewery, and we sent him over to Hodgdon's to have his papers made out." It is by the votes of such fellows as this that the democrats hope to get control of the city government next month.

Judge Clifford, in the United States circuit court in Portland, sustained the decision of Judge Fox in the district court in the case of Mr. John H. Wells of this city who sued the Maine Steamship Company for the value of liquors brought by them from New York, to be sent to him in Portsmouth, which were seized by the sheriff under the Maine law and destroyed. The decision was in favor of the company, and the owner has no recourse.

Persons desirous of attending the camp meeting at Alton Bay can leave this city via the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad at 9 A. M., change cars at Newmarket Junction, leave Dover at 11 o'clock and arrive at Alton Bay at 12. A return train leaves there at 4:10 P. M., and passengers taking that train connect at Newmarket Junction with the C. & P. train arriving here at 6:15.

The Eastern Railroad will continue to run the Sunday trains to Portsmouth, through the month of September.

Manchester's police force to the number of fourteen journeyed to the Shoals in steamer Appledore, Tuesday.

The Portsmouth and Kittery Odd Fellows went to Portland, Tuesday, and had their full share of the clam-bake and other good things. They came back about daylight, this morning, as proud as Lucifer because the Naval Band played them such fine music.

Kittery.

MONDAY, August, 24.

We are having "dogdays" over here. I know, for I have looked in the almanac,—the only way I could have made the discovery. Such dogdays! No panting and sweating, no mosquitoes, no kicking off all the bed-clothes o' nights, no iced soda-water, no linen costumes; instead thereof closed windows and very often bright fires in the evenings, many blankets at night and much woolen clothing in the day-time Overcoats and hot whiskey-punches—burring the moral obliquity of the latter—would seem to be very appropriate to the present style of dogdays.

This sort of weather of course shows its effects on our crops, as it does in other places. The hay crop is large, and most of it secured in good condition so far as curing is concerned; but I am told it is not nearly so sweet and probably not so nutritious as the hay produced in warmer seasons. Potatoes promise to "turn out" heavily, unless the potato rot manages to spoil the prospect, that iniquitous disease having already shown itself to some extent in this town and York. Apples there will be an abundance of; but corn is backward and unless the rest of the season is very favorable the yield will be light. Turnips, cabbages, etc., look as well as in other years, not seeming to care much what the weather is, anyway.

Summer travel in this direction seems about as independent of temperature as the cabbages and turnips are. The Pepperrell House at the Point has been largely patronized, and cottage boarders are not scarce. This is no doubt in part owing to the quietude and quaint beauty of the Point, and the delightful drives to be found in the immediate vicinity. "Braw-boat-harbor road," from the Point to York river, is one long stretch of picturesque loveliness, and there are many enchanting views, naval and marine, to be found almost anywhere about here.

The old Cutts mansion is receiving what it has needed for many years, a thorough repairing; and when completed it will present an appearance not unworthy the beauty of its site and its ancient fame. The proprietor of the stately and beautiful Sparhawk place (a New York gentleman) has long had posted on his gates notices warning all persons not to tresspass on the estate; this I am told is because "summer boarders" used to go there and insist on being taken in, under the impression that the imposing private residence was a hotel! I do not know how much truth there is in this story, but I don't blame any pleasure-seeker for wanting to live there. K. M.

KITTERY POINT, Sunday, Aug 23.

At the morning services in the First Congregational church here, to-day, we were favored with the presence of Rev. Dr. Peabody of Harvard College, accompanied by our good friend and townsman, Rev. Daniel Austin.—Dr. Peabody taking taking part in the exercises; and by special request of our pastor, Rev. Mr. Christie, the good Doctor gave us,—as was only to be expected,—a most excellent and able discourse, in the afternoon, from the text: "My peace I give unto you,"—commanding the complete and earnest attention of an appreciative audience.

Surely, the world moves, and Godwardly, and true and pure Christianity is ever catholic, liberal and progressive. In the primitive ages of Christianity, as well as in all things, there have existed among good men honest differences of opinions and probably ever will, and while from the early ages, as to a great extent now, Bigotry has said, "Stand thou here for I am holier than thou;" and Jews had, and some still have "no dealings with Samaritans;" and though Paul and Peter differed on points of doctrines, and the former reproved the latter because he thought him in error, yet Peter fondly and nobly commends his "beloved brother Paul," and so loving and charitable were those early christians toward each other that paganism, astonished at the magic power of true christian brotherhoood, exclaimed, "Behold how these christians love one another!" God speed the coming of a like era of good feeling and true christian brotherhood; then, though our mere speculative notions run with Paul or Apollos or Cephas or Dr. Peabody, the Great High Priest touched by the feelings of our infirmities, will recognise and accept us all as parts and parcels of his own fold and household, and thus, thank God, we see "His coming." GER.

The Order of Secretary Robeson

Abolishing the office of Executive Officer of the navy yards reads as follows:

The office of Executive Officer of the Navy Yards is hereby abolished. There shall be attached to each Navy Yard an officer not above the rank of Commander, who shall be called Senior Aid to Commandant. He shall act as the principal aid of the Commandant in regard to the business of the Yard. He shall have no direct authority or control of the affairs of the Yard by virtue of his own rank or position, but it shall be his duty to convey to the heads of the departments of the Yard such orders as the Commandant shall desire to transmit verbally; and it shall also be his duty to visit and observe all parts of the Navy Yard and its establishment, and to make such reports as shall enable the Commandant to be fully informed as to the harmonious working of the various parts of the whole station under his command. If necessary, other line officers of inferior rank mak be attached to the yard as subordinate aids to the Commandant, for the purpose of assisting this officer, and for general experience and observation in the duties of their profession, but they, like the Senior Aid, will have no authority, except as aids and assistants to the Commandant, as above set forth. There shall be attached to each Navy Yard a Captain of the Yard, who shall be senior to all the other line officers in the Navy Yard, and shall, in the absence of the Commandant, act in his place as Commandant. He shall have special charge of the police of the Navy Yard, and the enforcement of police regulations; of the fire department and fire bills, and shall keep in good and working order the fire engines, hose and fire apparatus generally; of all the fires and lights in the work-shops, and after working hours in the afternoon, he shall satisfy himself that there is no apparent danger of fire through the night; of keeping the walks and grounds of the Navy Yard clean and in good condition; of the berthing, moving and mooring of vessels, and of the fire and other tugs. He shall exercise no authority and issue no orders by virtue of his rank, over the heads of the other departments, relative to the business or pertaining to the special duty of such departments. Should, however, any matter come under his notice, or that of any other officer, which in his or their judgment may appear to be contrary to the regulations of the Navy, or adverse to the interests of the service, it is the duty of any such officer immediately to communicate the fact to the Commandant, who is, in law and in fact, solely the responsible Commanding Officer. The Captain of the Yard will be, also, the head of the department of Equipment in the Yards, and will discharge the duties of such position, as now understood, in addition to his duties as Captain of the Yard. The Ordnance officer in the various Navy Yards, will be also in charge of the department of Navigation therein, and will discharge the duties of such position, as now understood, in addition to his duties as chief of the department of Ordnance. The consolidation of the office of Captain of the Yard, and that of the Equipment department under the same officer, and the consolidation of the departments of Ordnance and of Navigation, under one officer, will take place at the various Navy Yards on the first day of October next, at which date the office of inspector of machinery afloat at various stations will also be abolished.

That Wild Hog.

An Exeter News-Letter correspondent says: I observe that the latest sensation in your near town of Greenland is a wild hog, and I think with this sensation of the hog there is a tale which may be of interest to our old friend Armor, landlord of the Salem House. It is generally known that last spring, Mr. Armor engaged quite extensively in the hog business, and among his numerous sales he lost a fine shoat which escaped from his pen and showed speed on the road rarely attained by the famous Dexter or Goldsmith Maid. We recollect well that warm afternoon when the trial of speed came off between the famous landlord and the scarcely less famous hog. The track was the old turnpike from Salem to Derry, and a more hotly contested race probably never was engaged in. But the end of the whole matter was piggy came out several lengths ahead and the landlord although severely beaten was not the least discouraged. We think in the wild hog of Greenland we see the sequel to the "hog race," and would call the attention of Mr. Armor to the recovery of his valuable property. The acre and a half of potatoes which he (the hog) has dug up shows that he is still on his muscle and will probably be in fine condition to play the part of "greased pig" at the clam bake this fall.

—Quiz has just been beaten in a lawsuit, and remarks, parenthetically, that the judge is like necessity—he knows no law.

Health Regulations.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH of the City of Portsmouth call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10 of the City Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in the City to aid them in the execution of their duty.

CHAPTER 10.

SEC. 2. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low-water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners or occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten day from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low-water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 8. The health officers may give a written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other things deemed by them, on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said health officers may by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause the said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 19. The owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure shall be liable to pay the expense of the removal or destruction of any such nuisance or other thing, as aforesaid, including fees of the health officers who order or cause the same to be removed; and the same may be recovered by action to be brought in the name of the city.

SEC. 20. No person shall use or occupy any building in the compact part of the city for a slaughter-house, or for trying tallow, or for carrying leather, or for the deposit of green pelts or skins, unless under such restrictions and regulations as the health officers may impose.

SEC. 22. Any person or persons who shall violate any rule or regulation, or commit any act forbidden in any section of this ordinance, to which no special penalty is annexed, shall forfeit and pay a sum not less than one dollar nor more than twenty dollars, to be recovered by complaint before the police court of this city.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick with the Small Pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the Small Pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city. m25 d3m

Ayer's Hair Vigor.

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus lonely, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair re-grows with lively expressiveness; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resumes its original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

Pulmocine Cordial.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, &c.

—USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges. HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN

HAIR RENEWER!

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever. It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp, by its use, becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties, it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness and making the hair grow thick and strong.

At a dressing, nothing has been found so effectual or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

FOR THE WHISKERS.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being in one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color, which will neither rub nor wash off.

LAST CHANCE

FOR

A postponement of the Fifth Concert of the Public Library of Kentucky has been so generally anticipated, and is so manifestly in the interest of all concerned, that it must meet the approval of all. The day is now absolutely fixed and there will be no variation from the programme now announced. A sufficient number of tickets have been sold to have enabled us to have had a large drawing on the 31st July, but a short postponement was considered preferable to a partial drawing. IS THE LAST WHICH WILL EVER BE GIVEN UNDER THIS CHARTER AND BY THE PRESENT MANAGEMENT.

That it will positively and unequivocally take place as announced on

IRON IN THE BLOOD.

DYSPEPSIA DEBILITY DROPSY AND HUMORS.

PERUVIAN SYRUP

Makes The Weak Strong.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an ailment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up Invigorating Good and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damage and waste, scarching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building upon an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

DR. FLINT'S

QUAKER BITTERS.

These celebrated Bitters are composed of choice Roots, Herbs and Barks, among which are Gentian, Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Dandelion, Juniper and other Berries, and are so prepared as to retain all their medicinal qualities. They invariably cure or greatly relieve the following complaints: Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Liver Complaint, Loss of Appetite, Headache, Bilious Attacks, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Ague, Cold Chills, Rheumatism, Summer Complaints, Piles, Kidney Diseases, Female Difficulties, Lassitude, Low Spirits, General Debility, and, in fact, everything caused by an impure state of the Blood or deranged condition of Stomach, Liver, or Kidneys. The aged find in the Quaker Bitters a gentle, soothing stimulant, so desirable in their declining years. No one can remain long unwell (unless afflicted with an incurable disease) after taking a few bottles of the Quaker Bitters.

Why Her Plan Didn't Work.

The Pottsville (Penn.) Meier's Journal is responsible for the following story: A Phœnixville maid, quite old, becoming anxious about her matrimonial chances, recently concocted a plan to deceive a young fellow as to her age. This was the way she tried it: The old family Bible contained a faithful record of all births, marriages and deaths. This volume the maiden took to her chamber, and selecting the birth page, she managed by dint of scratching and writing to change the date of her birth to a period eleven years later than what it had legitimately been recorded. Then the Bible was placed on the sitting-room table in a conspicuous manner. That evening came along the lover. He soon began to finger the Bible pages, and finally reached the record, where and when he discovered, to his surprise, that his Angelina was just one year younger than he. He thought it strange, as she appeared older. He kept his mouth shut and continued to fumble over the pages. Next he began reading the death list, and made the very astonishing discovery that the radiant maiden, according to the Bible, had actually been born ten years after the decease of her father. The young man quietly arose and bid Angelina good-bye, and now swears that "eternal vigilance is indeed the price of liberty."

Taxation That Kills.

[Dr. J. G. Holland in Scribner's for July.]

We have before us the report of Mr. Ruffner, superintendent of the Virginia Board of Public Instruction, for 1873, and we find in it, arrayed in startling figures, a statement of taxation for liquors drank within the State, which fully accounts for the poverty, not only of Virginia, but of all the Southern States, while it also gives the reason for the straitened circumstances of millions in the North. There are 2,856 retail liquor shops in the State. If these shops sell the average amount of liquor sold by the liquor shops of the United States, and there is no reason to suppose they do not, the annual amount consumed is $10,622,888. There are additions to be made to this from wholesale dealers and patent medicines which are bought and consumed for their alcohol, that raise the aggregate to $12,000,000. There is no doubt that the sum total exceeds these terrific figures, which leave out entirely the alcohol used for mechanical and manufacturing purposes. This sum exceeds the total value of all the farm productions, increase in live stock, and value of improvements, of the year 1870, according to the U. S. Census, in the seven best counties of the State, and by just about the same amount, the value of the productions of forty-five smaller counties during the same year. The wheat crop of Virginia, for 1870, was, in round numbers, 8,000,000 bushels. This, at $1.50 per bushel, which is more than was received, makes exactly $12,000,000. In brief Virginia drank up its entire wheat crop to the last gill!

Mr. Ruffner presents other illustrative estimates, but nothing can add to the force of those which we have cited. He then goes on to show that the total taxation for State purposes, including legislation, salaries, courts, institutions for the dumb, blind, and insane, public schools and interest on the public debt only reaches the sum of $3,500,000, while to add to this sum all the local taxation, would not equal the burden which the people voluntarily lay upon themselves. But this is not all. The injury done to public order and to private health is to be taken into account. Mr. Ruffner believes that the time wasted, the injury done to business, and the cost of crime, pauperism, insanity and litigation resulting from intemperance would be more costly than the liquor itself. Then the Superintendent, with figures furnished by the distinguished English actuary, Nelson, in the interests of Life Insurance, shows how much valuable life is thrown away in the State. Between fifteen and twenty years of age the number of deaths of temperate and intemperate persons, is as 10 to 18; between twenty-one and thirty, 10 to 51; between thirty and forty, 10 to 40. At twenty years of age a temperate person's chance for life is 44.2 years—intemperate 15.6; at thirty, the temperate man's chance is for 36.5 years, intemperate, 13.8; at forty years, the proportionate chances are 18.8 to 12.6 years. Thus money, health, morality, industry, good order, and life itself, in enormous sums, go into this bottomless caldron. Is there any return of good for all this expenditure? None. The loss is entire, and irremediable. If the whole had gone over Niagara Falls, something would be picked up, on the shore below, but nothing is left from this waste. A bushel of grain transformed into alcohol, and swallowed as a beverage, is a bushel of grain annihilated. If all that is spent for liquor were put into a furnace and burned, we should have the ashes; but as it is, we have no ashes except such as, with shame and tears, we are obliged to bury.

We have not displayed these figures for the special purpose of reading a lesson to Virginia, for that State is no worse than the rest of the States of the Union; but one of her faithful officers has brought out the statistics, and the country ought to feel very much obliged to him for them. They give us the facts that account for all our public distress. Our taxation for the legitimate purposes of government and the payment of the public debt is a mere bagatelle by the side of taxation to which the people voluntarily subject themselves, for that which harms them. We consume, as a nation, $290,000,000 a year in spirituous liquors, a sum which only needs a very few multiplications to pay the whole public debt of the country. If this tax could be entirely abated, the impetus that would be given, not only to our prosperity, but to our civilization would soon place us in advance of every nation under heaven. Liquor is at the bottom of all our poverty. If the tax of it were limited, there would not need to be a man, woman or child without bread. If it could be lifted from the Southern States alone, it would not take five years to make them not only prosperous but rich. There cannot be a more pitiful or contemptible sight, than a man quarrelling over and bemoaning his taxes, while tickling his palate, and burning up his stomach and his substance with glass after glass of whiskey. Men dread the cholera, the yellow fever and small pox, and take expensive precautions against them, while the ravages of all of them in a year do not produce the mischief that intemperance does in a month. It is worse than a plague, worse than fire, or inundation, or war. Nothing but sickness, death, immorality, crime, pauperism, and a frightful waste of resources comes of it. Nothing noble is born of it. Meantime our public men are timid about it, our churches are half indifferent over it, our ministers talk about the scriptural use of wine, our scientific men dispute about the nutritive properties of alcohol, our politicians utter wise things about personal rights and sumptuary laws, and the people are going to the devil.

Woman Burned To Death.

A story and a half house, located near the Exeter machine works was destroyed by fire Wednesday morning. No insurance. The house was owned and occupied by Andrew J. Glover, whose wife was burned in the flames. A coroner's inquest was held. The fire was the work of an incendiary. At the hearing, Mr. Glover testified that his wife, between one and two o'clock in the morning, while in bed, discovered the light of fire shining in her room through the window of an adjoining room. She aroused him, when he took a pail of water, went outside and threw it on the fire, which was burning through the L near the ground. He sent his boys after more water and got on the roof of the L when he heard the cries of his children who slept in the L chamber. He hastened down and ran into the house to rescue the children. When he reached their room, which was filling with smoke, he saw his wife lying on the floor. He carried out two of the children, and returned for his wife. He took hold of her and dragged her a short distance, when the suffocating smoke nearly took his breath and strength, and with difficulty he saved himself. His son-in-law, one Fogg, was in the house early in the evening, under the influence of liquor, and one of his sons was sent for some cider while Fogg was there, but no evidence was elicited to substantiate the report of a drunken carousal. Fogg left before 10 o'clock, when the family retired.

The Catholic Church of St. Joseph, at Pawtucket, R. I., was broken into on Sunday night, and sacred vessels valued at $150 stolen.

The latest estimates in regard to the extent and effects of the famine in India, show that 8,000,000 of the natives are still dependent on charitable relief.

All the officers and crew of the Nova Scotian barque Evangeline, which arrived at New York quarantine on Sunday, were attacked with yellow fever on the voyage from Cuba, and three of them died.

A sad drowning accident occurred at North Head, Grand Manan, Thursday evening of last week. William Belles of Calais, James Price of Houlton, and John Rubert of St. John, while returning in a sail-boat from the island where they had been engaged in haying, were upset off the head and all three drowned. Their bodies have not yet been recovered.

In announcing his final retirement from political life, Mr. Warmoth of Louisiana drops into prophecy. He takes but a gloomy view of the future. Among other things, he foresees a war of races and a southern democratic third term party.

The report that the Osage tribe of Indians in Kansas had declared war against that State is authoritatively contradicted.

A letter from Montville, Me., states that the body of James Whitten, a town pauper, who has been missing some three months, has been found in Gregory's pasture in that town. The indications were that Whitten had committed suicide by hanging himself from a tree near where his remains, which were very much decayed, were discovered. He was sixty-seven years of age, and when last seen had threatened suicide.

The Savannah News says: "The people of Georgia should remember that there are but two issues in this campaign. One is social equality and the other the payment of the bogus bonds."

Two men were killed, and three fatally wounded on Saturday, by the explosion of a flue on a tow-boat three miles below Bowling Green, Ky., in Green River.

From a letter of an Arkansas correspondent, the Chicago Inter-Ocean gets the following concerning a New York man who went to the former State: He has been in the State eight or nine years. He carried a fortune with him. He has erected storehouses on the Ouachita river, constructed wharves, and built residences at Eldorado, and plants corn and cotton. Of this man, who, in any country, save that of savages, would be regarded as an acquisition to the real wealth of the State, and whose departure would be considered a calamity, a Bourbon says: "We've had enough of that d—d Yankee; if he crooks his finger at one of our boys, we will fix him." "Fixing in Arkansas," says the correspondent, "means double-barrelled shot-guns from an ambush."

A Mrs. Pleasant, of Fort Laramie, has sued a paper for saying that she has murdered three husbands, when the fact is she has murdered but two, the third one getting away with a broken rib. There is nothing like being accurate when dealing with such grave matters.

George Alfred Townsend says "the meanest thing Plymouth church can do for Theodore Tilton is to pray for him," and referring to Beecher's charge of blackmail: "Shearman's defence of Jim Fisk was that Stokes was blackmailing Fisk, whose removal from the grave to assert his full confidence in Mr. Beecher is all that is now needed to make this comedy complete."

Some wags in the Searsport (Me.) Engine Company got up a fire alarm Wednesday evening, for the purpose of turning out their foreman, who had just been married. He was promptly on hand, and, taking in the situation, had the roll called, and assessed fines amounting to $15 on absentees.

In these days, everything seems to gravitate toward tragedy. Even Tom Collins is responsible for a suicide. William Price, a mining boss in Gilroy, New York, was sent on a search for Tom Collins. He was told that the noted myth had accused him of robbery, and the joke was so successful that he carried a revolver ready for shooting when he should meet the defender. The wild goose chase was kept up all day, and at last he was told in a saloon that Collins had just gone into the back yard. At this he became so excited that he unintentionally pulled the trigger and shot himself fatally.

Some of the largest manufacturing firms in England have changed pay-day from Saturday to Monday and are represented as being very well satisfied with the results of the change. The object is to remove from the workingmen the temptations of a "holiday" immediately after they have been paid their weekly wages, and by having work waiting for them on the morning following pay-day. M. Godin, of Guise, France, has improved on this system by dividing his workmen into sections, with different pay-days for each. He relies upon the moral example of their fellows working steadily on to prevent those who have just been paid from wasting their money in dissipation.

A discovery of tin is again claimed, this time almost on the Mexican border. But the trouble is that though we discover tin every few months, none of it will stay discovered. There is nothing in the miners' line that America needs so much as some good tin mines.

That New Orleans duel, now, was a very passable affair. Revolvers at fifteen paces, shooting to continue until some one was done for. Both principals fell dead at the third fire. There is a wholesome air of business about this—not the ridiculous farce of going on to the field, and coming off without accomplishing anything. A few such duels as this would settle the "code" business.

Mrs. Hannah Hawley, nee Rollins, born in Stratham, and now resident in Boston, was 100 years old Aug. 26.

A Sailor's Account of Farragut's Fight.

A correspondent of the Alta Californian, writing of a visit to Mare Island and the old Iroquois, gives the following account of the fight at the passes of the Mississippi from one of Farragut's tars:—

"Well, you see," said he, shifting his quid and sending a deluge of tobacco juice out the starboard gangway, "the Iroquois was in the line that took up the left bank of the river to pass the fort called St. Philip. We weighed at about a quarter-past three and, stripped to the buff above the waist, we stood to our guns. I was first captain of the eleven-inch pivot gun in the waist. The division tubs were filled, tourniquets served out, decks sanded to keep them from getting slippery with blood, hammocks and spare rigging packed below in the wake of the boilers. Ah! it was no child's play we were looking for, and I guess a good many of us who hadn't thought of such a thing for many a day said 'Now I lay me down to sleep.' We jogged along slowly until all of a sudden a launch fired a gun, and a bugle sounded in the fort on our port side, and then we saw lights moving rapidly and heard officers giving orders, and in another minute the enemy was alert and began to fight. Our mortar boats under Admiral Porter hailed the 13 inch shells down on the rebs from aloft, and we began to speak to them with broadside after broadside as we got in range. Mr. Harmony was our first lieutenant, and he carried us close under St. Philip, and what a place it was. The prettiest sight I most ever saw was the first broadside that fort sent out; sixty or seventy guns altogether alike, and then they had 'em in and out as if at general quarters. To say that these forts were not well fought is to say that Farragut's fleet had a soft thing, which it didn't, you know; but on the contrary, it was the hardest thing and the biggest thing that happened during the war. Just there by that ringbolt a shell bursted and killed five of my gun's crew and wounded six others. Poor fellows, they lay bleeding and crushed; but it made no difference, the ship kept on. Above the fort, a cable length or so, lay some crafts quietly tied to the shore; they looked like big white steamboats, and we steamed in to give them a lift, as we had got past the rough place. As we got opposite to them we slowed down, and poured in a broadside. I heard afterward that one steamboat was knocked all into splinters. But here we found what we were not looking for, a big iron-clad raft hid behind the steamboat, and as we ranged up she spit shot and shell into us from rifle and smooth bore until this dear old craft fairly shook from stem to stern. But we were true blue, sir, and we gave him back as good as he sent, and I heard that we killed her captain; but I was precious glad when I got away from the grim, black-looking thing. We were so near together, sir, that the hot smoke from the guns almost suffocated our men. This I call business. After that it was all fun. We hooked to one of their river-rams, but she was nothing; had a mustang captain,—a steamboat-man, I mean,—and a lot of river rowdies as officers and crew; and, as a matter of course, we soon made short work of such as they. I beg to remark that fighting is one sort of thing and steamboating another; and every man should stick to his own trade. Folks not brought up to it may make very good sojers; which is a very easy trade learned, I take it; but it takes years to make a sailor that will fight. You have got to sleep and eat alongside big guns a long time before you get so they won't frighten you. Them fellers in the iron raft were regular built navy officers, bred in the royal purple, as we say, and they stood to their guns."

Good Times Among the Lowly.

[Kingston (N. Y.) Freeman.]

"Why, you're a new-comer, aren't you? haven't seen you before," we remarked to a lad of about twelve years as he was giving us a shine, on Tuesday.

"Yes, sir; ain't bin here before, but took it in this trip—lots of coal here, sir."

"Yes, where are you from?"

"Oh, I'm on my summer trip. I'm from New York—always take a run out o' town in the summer—done it for—Oh, I d'n know how long. Like the country for a while."

"Well, are you having a good time?"

"Havin' a good time? you bet (with a little laugh). Why m' dinner costs 70 cents to-day—had a beefsteak and turmaters an' a rice pudin', an' I got 85 cents yet. Umph! a good time? now you're a shoutin'!"

He was the happiest summer tourist we have seen this season and his cash capital was 35 cents, but who can compute his satisfaction over that "beefsteak, turmaters an' rice pudin'?"

—The Danbury man thus briefly relates his experience on English railways: "The engine consists simply of the boiler, smoke pipe and steam whistle. Sometimes you imagine that it consists entirely of the steam whistle, but that is only when it blows. I always crawl under the seat when I hear it. I can't help it."

Mischief in the Air.

We cannot analyze the aerial poisons that produce epidemic and endemic diseases; but the valuable discoveries which have been made in vegetable pharmacy enables us to counteract their malific influence. The most powerful known antidote to every species of malaria is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a pure botanical medicine, in which the finest antiseptics, tonics, alteratives and stimulants of the vegetable kingdom are skillfully and effectively combined. At seasons of the year when the atmosphere is surcharged with miasma, and whenever the specific virus of any infectious disease is supposed to be present in the air, this famous corrective should be taken regularly as a protective. All who choose to observe this precaution may bid defiance to intermittent and remittent fevers, and in fact to all disorders generated by foul exhalations of impure water.

—A Church of England clergyman knocked his sister down and sat on her. This is all the information that reaches us; but if she had the spirit of a woman, (and say pins) in her bosom, he won't be able to sit on anything else for a goodly period.

—An eastern newspaper is astonished at the statement that grasshoppers chew tobacco. There is a colony of cockroaches in the office of the Louisville Courier Journal that not only eat all the cigars they can find, but devour the very phosphorus on the matches. The most ravenous grasshopper that ever sang in a Minnesota wheat-field would blush to see a Louisville cockroach at his meals.

The Masonic Festivities

Extended over Wednesday, Hugh de Payen Commandery accepting a complimentary invitation from Commodore Howell to visit the navy yard, the ferry-boat "Emerald" being placed at the service of the organization to convey them over, and officers of the Portsmouth Commandery resident at the yard offering every facility for its inspection.

The Naval Band having arrived from Portland, DeWitt Clinton Commandery secured their services and assembled at nine o'clock to receive the Manchester and Concord Commanderies, which came through on a special train which left at 7:15 and running express arrived a half hour or more in advance of the regular train. Trinity Commandery of Manchester brought Dignam's band and Mount Horeb Commandery, of Concord had the Fisherville band. After the preliminary reception, the procession was formed and the visiting organizations were escorted to Masonic Hall where they partook of a bounteous collation, after which the line of march was taken up for steamer Appledore. Steamer Major had gone to the navy yard for the Keene Commandery, which was to go to the Oceanic. The Appledore steamed directly across the river and as the boat neared the Major, one of the bands struck up a lively tune and the Major cast loose. In the narrows, she passed the Appledore, and cheers were exchanged, the bands vieing with each other in musical efforts.

The Keene Commandery remained all night at the Shoals. The Manchester and Concord Commanderies returned at 4.45, and being met at Pier wharf by the Portsmouth Commandery and the Naval Band, the line of march was taken up through State, Pleasant, Washington, Court, Middle, Cabot, Islington, Congress, Fleet, and State streets to the Rockingham House, a pleasing and most creditable feature of the parade being the forming of a cross by the Concord Commandery on Market Square.

In the evening, the levee of the previous day having proved so enjoyable to the Keene members, a second levee was held at Congress Hall, the visitors being escorted thither by the Portsmouth brethren. The Concord Commandery had with them Past Grand Commander Abel Hutchins, Grand Recorder John A. Harris, Grand Prelate Thos. J. Sanborn and various Past Commanders. Among the Sir Knights from Manchester we noticed Governor-Mayor Weston, Ex-Mayor Harrington and the genial treasurer of the New Hampshire Press Association, Mr. Thomas W. Lane. The Concord organization brought no more sterling Knight than Mr. Howard F. Hill, whose connection with the Patriot helped sustain so long the reputation of the good old Isaac Hill stock.

This morning the Keene Commandery will return, and leave for Manchester in the afternoon; the Manchester Commandery will go to Haverhill and Lawrence at 7.55; while the Concord Knights go to Dover, Alton Bay and Wolfeboro', where they remain over night. To-morrow morning they go to Centre Harbor and will dine there. Thence they go to the Wiers and by rail home.

The following are the names of the Sir Knights quartered at the Rockingham:

Mount Horeb Commandery—H. F. Hill, H. A. Taylor, N. G. Carr, Gerry Morgan, A. Warren, S. W. Emerson, E. E. Truesdell, O. B. Truesdell, A. S. Ballantine, E. H. Holt, G. P. Little, E. Dow, S. F. Nash, Snow, came in from a mackereling trip with 340 barrels; on the 25th, schooner Mayor Jones, Nickerson, brought in 350 barrels; and on the 26th, schooner Daniel Marcy, Moore, arrived with 300 barrels of mackerel, remarkably large and fat.

A Declining Lot.

[Exeter News-Letter.]

What can be the meaning of this sudden and alarming preference for "the private station," among the gentleman whom Gov. Weston thinks worthy to be invested with the judicial ermine? There is something so novel and so unusual in a lot of judgeships "going a begging," in this part of the world, that the unaided intellect instinctively looks around for an explanation of the phenomenon.

There are several reasons given for the remarkable occurrence. It is asserted that in the case of one nominee, the Governor was anxious to rid himself of a rival candidate for the Congressional nomination, by shelving his probable competitor on the bench; and that the competitor wouldn't stay shelved. In other cases the Governor has the credit of making nominations "out of compliment," which he knew would not be accepted. And there are not wanting persons who believe that there was a prior understanding in one or more cases that the persons nominated should decline. How much foundation there is for these rumors, or any of them, we know not. But, truth to say, they help to account not unsatisfactorily for some peculiar circumstances about the appointments, and their results.

But whatever other motives may have inclined the retiring nominees to reject their proffered honors, there is one plain and cogent reason which probably had the controlling weight. It was simply their want of faith in the continuance of the democratic party in power, for another year. These gentlemen were too wise to leave their business to drift irrecoverably into other hands, for the mere sake of one year's seat upon the bench. As rats are said to desert a sinking ship, so these keen-eyed members of the legal profession did not feel disposed to entrust their fortunes to the short-lived judicial craft which the democracy of New Hampshire have so inauspiciously launched.

The Ruling Passion of Charles J. Fox.

[Galaxy for September.]

Before he was fourteen his father took him to the continent to show him life. At Paris and Baden they of course visited the gambling houses, and the boy, scarcely entered upon his teens, alarmed even his father by the eagerness with which he entered into the play. At this early age he commenced the habit which became almost the ruling passion of his life; which in spite of the large estates left him by his father and the great emoluments of his various offices, made him a poor man, haunted by bailiffs, and pestered by duns. The sums which he lost were enormous. At one time he is said to have played for two-and-twenty hours, losing five hundred pounds an hour. At another time, after he had lost fearfully, a friend called upon him to offer his condolences. He found Fox quietly reading "Herodotus," and upon expressing some surprise at his philosophy, was asked, "What would you have me do, when I have just lost my last shilling?" At one time he found himself the winner of eight thousand pounds. One of his creditors, hearing of his good luck, presented his note and asked for payment. "Quite impossible," said Fox. "I must pay my debts of honor." "Well, then," said the creditor, throwing the note in the fire, "now mine is a debt of honor;" and as such it was paid. This anecdote is somewhat differently related by Rogers. According to him, it was Fox himself, who, pressed by the creditor, asked for the note, tore it in pieces, and thus satisfied his conscience by paying the amount, which had thus become a debt of honor. It is related, however, that Fox would never touch a card when he was in office, and when late in life his political friends paid his debts, he left off playing entirely.

—A singular case of mistaken identity is recorded by a Philadelphia paper. It seems that two or three months ago the body of a drowned man was found in the Delaware and taken to the Morgue for identification. About that time one Anthony Murphy, who resided in Alaska street, was missing from his home. Some of his relatives visited the Morgue and identified the body there as that of Murphy. The body was removed to the house on Alaska street, and Mrs. Murphy declared that it was her husband. Arrangements were made for the funeral, and the man was buried as Anthony Murphy. Thursday evening while the family were quietly sitting in the house, Anthony Murphy walked in. He was in good health, and was at once recognized by Mrs. Murphy. Explanations ensued, and the general rejoicing can be better imagined than described.

—A popular band with the ladies—Husband.

—The following testimony to the virtues of a patent manure was received by its owner: "Dear Sir—The land composing my farm had hitherto been so poor that a Scotchman could not get a living off it, and so stony that we had to slice our potatoes and plant them edgeways; but hearing of your manure I put some on seven-acre field, surrounded by a rail fence, and in the morning I found that the rocks had entirely disappeared, a neat stone wall encircled the field, and the rails were split into firewood and piled up systematically in my back yard."

—The new eighty-ton gun is progressing at Woolwich, England. When finished, this monster piece of ordnance will be greater than twice the size of the largest gun in existence, and its destructive powers at fighting range proportionate. With a sixteen-inch projectile, weighing 1650 pounds, and its maximum charge of 300 pounds of powder, it will pierce the best iron plates, twenty inches thick, at 500 yards, sixteen inches plates at 5300 yards, and will pitch a sixteen-inch shell into a ship or fortress at a distance of 10,300 yards. The steel block forming the inner tube was the largest ever cast, weighing over twelve tons, while the trunnion piece, about eighteen tons, was the largest forging ever produced at the arsenal. The actual cost of this fearful engine of war will not fall far short of $42,500.

Health Regulations.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH of the City of Portsmouth call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10 of the City Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in the City to aid them in the execution of their duty.

CHAPTER 10.

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low-water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners or occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten day from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low-water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 8. The health officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other things deemed by them, on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said health officers may by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause the said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 19. The owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure shall be liable to pay the expense of the removal or destruction of any such nuisance or other thing, as aforesaid, including fees of the health officers who order or cause the same to be removed; and the same may be recovered by action to be brought in the name of the city.

SEC. 20. No person shall use or occupy any building in the compact part of the city for a slaughter-house, or for trying tallow, or for currying leather, or for the deposit of green pelts or skins, unless under such restrictions and regulations as the health officers may impose.

SEC. 22. Any person or persons who shall violate any rule or regulation, or commit any act forbidden in any section of this ordinance, to which no special penalty is annexed, shall forfeit and pay a sum not less than one dollar nor more than twenty dollars, to be recovered by complaint before the police court of this city.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick with the Small Pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the Small Pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city. m25 d3m

Ayer's Hair Vigor.

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brassy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair re-grows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickened; and faded or gray hair resumes its original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its gratefulness and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

Pulmocine Cordial.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

—USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity for a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"Mr. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER!

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color.

It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp, by its use, becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties, it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing, nothing has been found so effectual or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

FOR THE WHISKERS.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being in one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color, which will neither rub nor wash off.

IRON IN THE BLOOD.

DYSPEPSIA. DEBILITY. DROPSY AND HUMORS

PERUVIAN SYRUP

Makes The Weak Strong.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, and is easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building upon an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry

Drinking Waters.

[Correspondence New York World.]

"Going to the spring before breakfast" is conceived to be the whole duty of man and oke of women by some of the frequenters of Saratoga. There are as many theories about the water as there are springs to form the subjects of such theories. The number of glasses proper to take, the length of time before breakfast, whether or not to take a walk once round the park after drinking, and which is the superior remedial agent, are all questions discussed oftimes with acrimony. The favorite course pursued by the regular water-drinkers is to partake of Harthorn or Congress—sometimes both—before breakfast and the Columbian or Washington spring at the Clarendon before or an hour after dinner and tea. The Clarendon is the night spring, as the two first named are the morning springs. Water drinkers or not, it is worth one's while to visit the springs before breakfast and watch the crowd assembled there.

Saratoga is well worth seeing in the freshness of the morning. When the first rays of the sun are gilding the church spires, when, indeed, it is very near "five o'clock in the morning" you may see the first detachment passing through the streets on its way springwards. You will easily perceive that these are ministering spirits to the health and comfort of others rather than to their own. They belong to the laboring classes, are workmen on their way to begin the day's task, and servants from the private houses, who carry pitchers or cans to be filled with water for those who are too ill or too indolent to take the morning walk, and from 4 to 7 A. M. cans can filled. These gather about the spring and chaff the dipper-boy, chat with each other, and drink a glass or two of water while they hurry the boy to give the supply for which they came. The hotel chambermaids, cooks and waiters, and the watchmen come next. The day clerks, who were about to relieve the watch of the night clerks, may appear soon after to take a cooling draught before the burden and heat of the day has begun. The weary night clerks, with faces wan and tired, next come to seek relief at the fountain after the night which has permitted no thought of rest. The girls going to the stores in which they are employed pause a few moments at the springs to drink, and as they pass on the first relay of health-seekers from the boarding-houses arrives.

And now it is half-past seven, and from this for two hours steadily the dipper-boys are incessantly occupied. There are fat women and thin, broad men and lank, bold faces and defiant ones, modest and amiable, the gentle-mannered and the boisterous. It is remarkable, by the way, how many fat, sturdy-looking people you see drinking these waters for their "health." There are the old and withered and the young and fresh; the invalid who leans on a companion's arm for support while awaiting a glass of the water, and the rosy-cheeked young man who does not seem ever to have been taught by its loss what health means. Here comes a dowager in gros-grain, with open-work polonaise, diamonds sparkling in her ears and on her fingers, and you feel sure a double supply is concealed in a bag about her person. Her hair is dressed for the day, and she covers it by no hat or bonnet, but shades her—well, complexion by a lace-covered parasol. She stands haughtily, as if to say to the dipper boys, "Stand and deliver. I am Mrs. Nabob, and my health is of vast importance to a large circle of admiring friends." She drinks four glasses of Congress and gives one to her dog, then going to her breakfast. The belle and heiress comes next. She doesn't like Congress water, but has heard it clears the complexion, so she takes two glasses, swallowing the water slowly; and pausing after each swallow as if it burned her.

A bottle-nosed gentleman hurries to the counter and puts down a ten cent note and exclaims, "Here boy, give me a glass quick; dash it, I've been up all night with a corpse and I'm confounded dry." He glances, as he speaks, at the people around to see if they swallow his story, while he takes the water at one gulp, and so he misses the wink one dipper boy gives another, and pointing significantly towards the club-house, whispers, "I say, who's dead over there?" A pale-faced gentleman comes up and quickly drinks two or three glasses, and as he takes his handkerchief from his pocket to wipe his mouth several pool tickets fall to the ground. He does not pick them up; they emptied his pocket and will not fill it; they were on losers. A party of gentlemen by the Lake avenue hasten to refresh themselves after their walk. They have been to the track to see the horses exercise, having scruples against seeing them run in the regular races.

Up comes a country merchant in white hat, with closely buttoned coat; yesterday he came in a straw hat and ill-fitting sack coat. He had a streak of luck at English hazard at the club-house two evenings since, but he hasn't a dollar of it in his pocket this morning. He went with three friends to Morrissey's and ordered drinks, and paid for the same with a $5 note, and four one dollar bills were returned him in change. Taking these, he laid one on No. 18 at the English hazard table; the dice were thrown and the money lost; a second dollar and a third followed with like result; and the fourth won $180. This triumph turned the winner's head; he thought he had solved the whole problem of gain and loss. He treated his friends again; he presented each with a certain sum of money, and then sallying forth with the party engaged the services of a brass band and serenaded the railroad depot half the night. Yesterday he bought a white hat and buttoned up his coat. Last evening he tried No. 18 again, with an avowed intention of breaking the bank and was himself broken. He does not look happy now, and he tells his friends that he advanced but did not give them the money to pay their hotel bills.

A young girl in blue silk, which faintly shows color through Paris muslin and Valenciennes lace, wearing a hat of white muslin lined with blue, and having a sweetly pensive air on her pretty face, shows a solitaire diamond on the engagement finger as she raises her glass to her lips. A young man who looks from face to ring and back again, as if with a proprietorship in both, offers his arm as soon as the fair drinker gives up her glass, and the two saunter off to a remote corner of the park. Presently, as you pass, you see him reading to her out of a daintily-bound little volume, which you recognize as one which has created much talk at summer resorts this season, as well for the mystery surrounding its authorship (it is credited to a prominent New York lawyer) as for the beautiful fancies it contains. It is "Beldazzle's Bachelor Studies," and the young man reads verses with which a letter chronicling the scenes of a summer morning may well conclude:

Ask me no more where the sunset rays
O'erflow the boundries of the days,
For the golden flood has touched your hair
And left its warmest colors there.

Ask me no more where melts away
The crimson flush of deepening day,
For the damask of your cheek doth owe
To morning's loss its warmest glow.

A Legal Criticism.

The Albany Law Journal, which is a legal and not a political publication, makes the following just observations upon the change in the judicial system of this State:

"The recent judicial changes in New Hampshire, which resulted in displacing Judges Doe, Sargent and Smith from their positions in the highest court of the State, were, to say the least, of doubtful expediency and propriety. If political reasons governed in making the change, as has been stated, the act is positively disgraceful to the dominant party in New Hampshire. We have always deprecated any attempt at making political qualifications a criterion in the selection of judicial functionaries. And it is especially deplorable in our view to make political considerations alone an excuse for the removal of judges whose ability, learning and integrity are beyond question, and unsurpassed. Without disparagement, it may be said that Judge Doe is one of the most learned and indefatigable jurists who have adorned the bench of this country for many years. His opinions exhibit the utmost research and elaboration, and his work showed him to be wedded to a purely judicial life. His removal is a loss not only to the judiciary of New Hampshire, but to American jurisprudence."

Hard-Money Hand-Claspers.

The democrats of Ohio, in State convention on Wednesday, resolved that "a sound currency is indispensable to the welfare of the country," and that they "are in favor of such increase of the circulating medium as the business interests of the country may from time to time require;" that one-half the customs duties should be paid in legal tender notes; that the national banks should be squelched, and legal tender currency substituted for their notes; and that the government bonds should be paid in legal tender notes and not in coin,—inflation and repudiation, plainly. If anybody likes a contrast, let him procure the resolutions of the last Maine State democratic convention, and read the hard money clause.

Bond-holding Tammany is denounced by Western democratic papers as a hard-money institution which is directly antagonistic to the interests of the western democrats, who want lots more of paper currency and do not want the bonds paid in gold. What is this "democratic currency" of which we have heard so much in the past?

One effect of the Louisiana White Leagues is to drive the negroes into Texas. The New Orleans Picyaune is greatly alarmed at the extent of this exodus of laborers, fearing that the fields in some portions of the State will be left waste for lack of labor. In short, the negro, though undesirable at the ballot box, is regarded as indispensable in the field. The object and threatened mode of action (which has been carried out in not a few instances already) of the White Leagues is shown by the following avowal of the White League organ, the Shreveport (La.) Times: "If a single hostile gun is fired between the whites and blacks in this and surrounding parishes every carpet-bagger and scallawag that can be caught will, in twelve hours therefrom, be dangling from a limb. We do not say this in a spirit of braggadocio; we say it in the interest of peace, and we know what we are talking about. We say again that we fully, cordially approve what the white men of Grant and Rapides did at Colfax; the white man who does not is a creature to base that he shames the worst class of his species. We say again that we are going to carry the elections in the State next fall." A little of that clasp-hands-across-the-bloody-chasm bathos served out so liberally by the democratic press not very long ago would be very nice reading just about this time. The bloody chasm across which the southern democracy now propose to shake hands is the one they hope to make with a bowie knife in their political opponents' throats.

Others Louisiana papers speak as plainly as the Shreveport Times. The Natochitches Vindicator warns the negroes that if they attempt to vote the republican ticket they "must take the consequences," as the democrats intend to carry the State at the next election or have it reduced to "a military territory;" and the Alexandria Democrat says "they will not scruple about the means" employed to carry it!

Sixteen negroes were recently arrested and lodged in jail at Trenton, Tennessee, for alleged riotous and threatening conduct. On the night of Tuesday, August 25, a body of armed and masked men took the sixteen prisoners from the jail, killed four and mortally wounded two on the confines of the town, and rode off with the remaining ten, whom also they are supposed to have murdered, as they have not been heard of since. The published account says "considerable excitement exists among the negroes." What an excitable race they must be!

In Tronsdale, Warren County, Tenn., Julia Hayden was murdered by two men. She taught a colored school, conduct which could not be endured by the two murderers, who were high-pressure "chivalry." The democrats of the South as well as those of New Hampshire recognize the fact that education and partisan democracy are hopelessly antagonistic. It is needless to add that none of these white murderers have been annoyed; they are "unknown;" but it must not be inferred that justice is never meted out in the South, for a negro awaiting a second trial in a Virginia jail was recently taken out and hung by an exquisitely high-toned mob, and one of his counsel (a Yankee) warned to leave or be murdered; the other lawyer, being a Virginian, can remain.

Snakes in the Church.

[Providence Journal.]

We notice among the various items taking the rounds of the newspapers, that a rattlesnake was killed recently close to the pulpit of Ebenezer Meeting House, in Christian county, Kentucky. And the snake had eighteen rattles in consecutive order, and a button in conclusion. It was a protracted meeting at which the reptile made his appearance, and he may have been attracted into the congregation by the lengthened circumvolutions of sermons and exhortations, which seemed to be in his way. But the button at the termination of his folds seemed also to say that he came to put an end to the long talks in Ebenezer, and to conclude the wrestlings of Israel inside of the meeting-house with the sinful Philistines at the doors. It mattered not to faithful believers whether he was the arch-enemy of which Milton speaks, or a missionary sounding notes of peace. He was killed at the foot of the pulpit, and he answered a moral end, for the preacher made a point in his discourse, and enforced his teachings by allusions to the death of the adversary.

And Brother Spurlin made two other points, for under some boards near the meeting-house there was a sort of hiding place, and two more snakes disturbed by the general commotion, wriggled out from their quiet and safe retreats, to witness the immolation of their companion. They were not as fortunate as those serpents of the sea that came up with hissing jaws and speckled tails to the altar of Neptune, and according to the classic story wound their slippery rings around the priest and his pious sons. They were done to death with mortal clubs and stones, and Brother Spurlin was saved from a martyrdom which might have bestowed an uncoveted fame.

Now this summary process of protection under difficulties and dangers may have been hard on the rattlesnakes, but it was comforting to the preacher. If there was nothing to show that the reptiles lurked about the walls of Ebenezer with malice prepense, there was a doubt in the ominous sound of their rattles, and even Christian charity was hardly bound under the circumstances to call for a council of the church or the production of testimony. There was enough in the moral history of snakes down from that serpent that whispered to the ear of Eve, to justify the quick slaughter which was in harmony with religious prejudice and at the same time defended the faith.

There is a moral, it seems to us, connected with this story. Snakes are not confined to the primitive regions of Kentucky. Now and then we hear of their appearance in our cultivated lands on the borders of the Atlantic. They assume different forms, according to the spirit of the times, and often in human shapes or as angels of celestial bearing deceive the credulous eye. They enter the social circle, they lurk about public affairs, they wind and wriggle into the church. Now it might not be best to slay in haste as they did in Ebenezer, but it certainly seems as if the quicker the serpent was despatched—we mean, of course, in a figurative way,—the better would it be for the general safety. When the peace of society is threatened, and the heart of the people is likely to suffer detriment, a quick shrift and a coroner's inquest are better than a long trial and the finding of a jury.

Two Oxen Fight for Eight Days.

[Augusta Journal.]

Mr. Corydon Chadwick and Mr. Sullivan Erskine have a pasture in common at South China, which they use for the pasturage of cattle. They have the present season had several yoke of cattle in the pasture. Mr. Chadwick and Mr. Erskine have each an ox with a lopped or crooked horn, the right horn of one and the left of the other having that peculiar formation. These oxen were turned loose into the common pasture, and it was between them on that spot that the pitched battle of which we are to speak, took place.

For several days these cattle had been missing; when the other cattle came up, these were not among the number. How many days they had been missing before search was instituted is not definitely known, but becoming alarmed the owners went in quest of them. Coming to an opening in the woods, covering an area of about half an acre, Mr. Chadwick, who went in search, came upon a sickening spectacle. The lopped horns of the animals were clasped, and the exhausted animals, united as compactly as any Siamese twins, stood face to face, waiting for death, having apparently given up the struggle. It is supposed that while they were engaged in play their horns became entangled; failing to disconnect themselves, a terrible struggle of several days took place. The open space was literally torn up as though it had been ploughed with a subsoil plough.

When they were turned into the pasture they were large, fat, seven-feet oxen, but now they had become so emaciated and famished that a person could almost clasp them round with his arms. They were perfectly docile when found, but Mr. Chadwick could not untie the knot. The horn of each was sunk into the other's head, and it was only by calling help, and sawing the horns, that a separation could be effected. There were festering sores where the horns went in. Thus a mortal conflict, lasting eight days, had been going on between these oxen, who in that time had not partaken of any sustenance, and perhaps had not been able to lie down. The intense suffering of the poor imprisoned animals no mortal can tell. Their jaws had to be pried open, and gruel administered to them. Their heads had been united so closely that their faces were bare to the bone. It is possible that the animals may live. It is doubtful if another such singular and distressing accident is on record.

To Grow Fat.

If one wishes to grow fleshy, a pint of milk taken before retiring at night will soon cover the scrawniest bones, although nowadays we see a great many lean and lank ones who sigh for the fashionable pleasure of plumpness, and who would be vastly improved in health and appearance could their figures be rounded with good solid flesh. Nothing is more coveted by thin women than a full figure, and nothing will rouse the ire and provoke the scandal of those "clipper builds" like the consciousness of plumpness in a rival. In case of fever and summer complaints milk is now given with excellent results. The idea that milk is "feverish" has exploded, and milk is the physician's great reliance in bringing through typhoid patients or those in too low a state to be nourished by solid food. It is a mistake to scrimp the milk pitcher. Take more milk and buy less meat. Look to your milkman; have a large sized, well-filled milk pitcher on the table each meal, and you will have sound flesh and light doctors' bills.

—John Morrissey is said to rule Saratoga as much as ever Eugenie governed France, while his sway is far more beneficial to the people.

Help Nature to Rally.

After an attack of fever or other acute disease has passed off, and nature is endeavoring to rally the debilitated system, help the effort with the standard vegetable tonic of the age, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Nothing known to the physician or the pharmacopolist expedites convalescence like this vitalizing invigorant. Persons who have been prostrated by long-continued sickness recover their lost flesh, strength and cheerfulness in less than half the time that would be required to recuperate without it. It is the most genial as well as the most harmless of medicated stimulants, and as a remedy for (as well as a preventive of) dyspepsia, bilious attacks, constipation, nervous diseases, &c., has no equal in the world. When all other tonics have failed, this effects a cure.

Honest Boys---Lucky Man.

Tommy Reese, nine years old, on Wednesday found a roll of bills amounting to three hundred dollars in the road near Johnston's store. Master Tommy was accompanied by his brother John, twelve years old, and the twain at once took counsel together as to what was proper to be done in the premises. The result of their deliberations was that they were up bright and early on Thursday morning, intercepted a CHRONICLE carrier, hunted over the advertisements to see if there was any notice given of money lost, found what they wanted and struck a bee line for No. 52 Middle street, where the money was restored to its owner and the finders' conduct suitably acknowledged, verbally and pecuniarily. The boys were happy as clams at high water over their success in restoring the derelict cash to its proprietor, and the latter was happy that his property had fallen into such honest hands, as he had mentally said good bye to it as soon as he missed it, estimating the chances for its restoration at about one in a hundred.—But he will not try any more experiments at leaving his money lying around loose in the road, if he can help it, fearing it might not always be found by individuals who have received and profited by good moral training to the extent the Reese boys have.

Drowning Accident.

The gondola Swampscott, for some time past engaged in transporting sand to the new fort on Jerry's Point, Newcastle, was swamped off Salisbury beach on the night of Wednesday and two of the three men composing her crew were drowned. The two men drowned were John McLeod, who resided on Pray street, and Andrew Johnson, of State street. Charles Benson was saved in an exhausted condition and taken ashore at Salisbury; he will probably recover. No particulars of the disaster are given, but it was probably caused by a heavy load and a rough sea. McLeod was 45 years old and leaves a wife and child; Johnson was 35 years old and leaves a wife but no children. Since the above was in type we learn that the scow was engaged in taking sand from Plum island to the navy yard on account of C. E. Walker & Co., and had made two successful trips previous to the one which resulted so fatally.

Laconics.

Mr. George Laws of this city, a brakeman on the Concord Railroad, while coupling cars at Manchester on the evening of August 26 had one of his hands caught between two buffers and two fingers torn off.

A party of United States engineers, with S. Haagensen as chief, have been engaged for a few weeks past making a survey of the Newmarket river, with a view to the removal of obstructions to navigation in that locality. An improvement of this kind is much needed, as a large amount of traffic is assured by the increasing business of the manufacturing company there.

A writer in the Transcript speaks as follows of one of the most delightful features of the Isle of Shoals: When one sees, on approaching Appledore, a little nautical school for juveniles provided with pigmy boats, shallow salt water shifting with the tides, a spray fountain in the middle of it, and parti-colored boats sails worthy of the greater Mediterranean which they suggest, a glance is enough without waiting to see the scrupulous neatness which prevades the household, or to experience the studious attention to comfort in detail, such as deadening the noise of tea-pins by belting them with rubber; a glance at this naval nursery is enough to assure one that there is a very decided woman in the case, and she no ordinary representative of the womanly graces.

Hugh de Payen Commandery returned to this city from the Shoals on Thursday afternoon, and left in the cars for Manchester; the Manchester Commandery left for Lawrence and Haverhill at 7:55 A. M.; and the Concord Commandery took the forenoon train to Dover, Alton Bay and Wolfeboro'.

The schools in this city will be opened for business on Monday, August 31st. We are requested by the committee to make this statement, so all interested may be assured the information is genuine.

The United States steamer Gettysburg is ordered here.

The supervisors have selected the following places to be used as voting places in the new wards, at the city election on the second Monday of September: Ward One, at the Franklin School House, North street. Ward Two, at the Walker School House, Hill street. Ward Four, at the shop of Chas. H. Gould, corner of State and Cass streets. Ward Five, at the Court House, Court street. Ward Six, at the Ward Room, State street. Ward Seven, at the Ward Room, Elm street.

The depot at Conway Junction (Brock's Crossing) on the P. S. & P. Railroad was burned Wednesday night, probably by a locomotive spark. The building was old and small, and the loss trifling.

Democratic Precept vs. Practice.

[Concord Monitor.]

Democratic newspapers in this State are quoting with commendation this resolution adapted by a Maine county democratic convention:

Resolved, That we believe in local self-government.

It takes some hardihood to do this in the teeth of the repeated violations of this principle by our democratic legislature. Just compare this resolution with the amended charter of the city of Portsmouth! What sort of "local self-government" is that which removes regularly elected officers for no fault whatever, except that they are republicans, and fills their places by mere legislative enactment with others who could not "pass through the ballot-box" for the position of hog-reeve? Oh, shame, where is thy blush!

State News.

Mr. Henry C. Dicker of Manchester was seriously injured on Saturday, Aug. 22, by the remains of a partly-burned building falling upon him.

W. K. Cobb Post No. 29, G. A. R., of Pittsfield, dedicated their new hall at that place Tuesday evening, Aug. 25. A large number of spectators were present.

Twelve of the fifteen sureties of Storrs have come to a settlement by paying $1000 for the honor of having their autographs affixed to his bond as treasurer of the National Savings Bank at Concord. One or two remain still in a state of recalcitration.

The republican State committee met at Concord on Wednesday evening, August 26, for consultation. Senators Cragin and Wadleigh, Congressmen Pike and Small, Hon. Wm. E. Chandler, Hon. E. H. Rollins, Hon. Mason W. Tappan and other distinguished gentlemen were present. Messrs. J. Horace Kent, E. G. Peirce, Jr., and John Pender attended from this city. Hon Daniel Hall of Dover, chairman of the committee, made an admirable address, critically reviewing the work of the late democratic legislature and calling attention to the means necessary to rescue the State from the hands of the democracy; arguing with great force that so long as the spirit of intolerance continues at the South that has been manifested in the recent elections there, the mission of the republican party cannot be considered ended. The committee adjourned at a late hour to the call of the chairman, after which the members spent a few moments in mutual congratulations over the auspicious signs of an old-fashioned republican victory in New Hampshire, at the next election.

The coroner who was called to view the body of Sidney Felch, recently drowned while boating with Ira and Harvey Felch on Henniker pond, found no reason to suspect foul play and did not hold an inquest. The man fell overboard while drunk.

Readables.

A severe earthquake occurred in the island of Porto Rico Wednesday.

Ann Eliza Young has made application to the district court in Salt Lake City for a divorce from Brigham, claiming $20,000 besides $1000 per month as damages. Brigham Young in his answer denies all her allegations, claiming that she is not his legal wife.

A fight is reported between troops and Indians at Fort Sill, during which three whites and many reds were killed. Four citizens were murdered near the fort.

Two prominent merchants of Manchester, England, had a quarrel at their club; one shot the other dead and then suicided. Equal to "the code."

At the annual reunion of the 18th Regt. Mass. Vol., held at Downer's Landing on Wednesday, resolutions were passed asking the President to grant a new trial to Fitz John Porter.

The prize for the best team in the international cricket match at Halifax was presented to the Americans.

The tour of the American base ball players in Great Britian was brought to a close Aug. 25, by games in Dublin, Ireland.

Engineer John Brennan of the the Central Vermont Railroad performed near Hartford the other day the heroic and difficult feat of leaping through the window of the cab of his engine and jumping from the cow-catcher to the track and saving the life of a child. The brakes had been applied and the engine reversed, but the train was going so fast when he jumped from it that fifteen cars passed him before it stopped.

—One of the features of a gorgeous sunset in Columbus is the sight of twenty-eight hogs grouped around the town pump, and each one pensively murmuring. "O-o-of!"

—There is a curious unanimity of opinion among some of the western journals, in looking upon the result of several recent duels in which both combatants were killed, as being entirely satisfactory.

Smart Kentucky Women.

A correspondent of the Courier-Journal says of the Kentucky women: There is nothing they don't know, and what they don't know they divine. A man cannot creep in a little late at night without a disturbance and an explanation, which comes of their training. Even Slyback, who is the smartest of "smart Alecks," has learned also the futility of his best tricks. The sick-friend dodge; the all-night-in-the-country dodge; the late-session-of-the-society-dodge; the meeting-of-council dodge; the coming-home-from-the-market-with-a-brace-of-chickens dodge; all the old shifts and expedients have played out. The other night he slipped in about 1 o'clock, very softly, denuded himself gently, and began rocking the cradle by the bedside, as if he had been awakened out of a sound sleep by infantile cries. He had rocked away for five minutes, when Mary Jane, who had silently observed the whole maneuver, says, "Come to bed, you fool, you! the baby ain't there!"

A Half-Fare Passenger.

An accommodation train between Jamestown and Lake View was the scene of a little incident on Thursday. "You don't think that boy is under ten, hey, and you won't pass him for half fare? Just look at that, will ye?" And from out of the old carpet-bag the old lady, with trembling eagerness, brought the well-worn family Bible, and turning to the page reserved for births and deaths, held it triumphantly up under the conductor's nose, with "Does that look as though I was a liar, young man?" With such testimony before his eyes the conductor could do no less than pass the boy for half fare, amid subdued applause from the passengers, who had been amused spectators of the scene.

—A boy six years old having been much lectured on the babyishness of crying when any calamity happened, cheered the paternal heart one morning by saying: "Henry Bolton cried nearly all day 'cause his father died; but if you should die, pa, I wouldn't cry a bit."

—Monkeys have not been generally supposed to be influenced by the sweet sounds produced by their travelling associates. Yet it is noticed every day after the grinding ceases, that the monkey is carried away with the music.

—Bran De Smash is an aristocratic gentleman practising at the bar.

Health Regulations.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH of the City of Portsmouth call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10 of the City Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in the City to aid them in the execution of their duty.

CHAPTER 10.

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low-water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners or occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten day from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low-water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 8. The health officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other things deemed by them, on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said health officers may by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause the said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 19. The owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure shall be liable to pay the expense of the removal or destruction of any such nuisance or other thing, as aforesaid, including fees of the health officers who order or cause the same to be removed; and the same may be recovered by action to be brought in the name of the city.

SEC. 20. No person shall use or occupy any building in the compact part of the city for a slaughter-house, or for trying tallow, or for currying leather, or for the deposit of green pelts or skins, unless under such restrictions and regulations as the health officers may impose.

SEC. 22. Any person or persons who shall violate any rule or regulation, or commit any act forbidden in any section of this ordinance, to which no special penalty is annexed, shall forfeit and pay a sum not less than one dollar nor more than twenty dollars, to be recovered by complaint before the police court of this city.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick with the Small Pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the Small Pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city. m23 d3m

Pulmocine Cordial.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, &c.

—USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity for a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN

HAIR RENEWER!

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color.

It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp, by its use, becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties, it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing, nothing has been found so effectual or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

FOR THE WHISKERS.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade to brown or black, at election. It is easily applied, being in one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color, which will neither rub nor wash off.

LAST CHANCE

FOR

An Easy Fortune!

A postponement of the Fifth Concert of the Public Library of Kentucky has been so generally anticipated, and is so manifestly in the interest of all concerned, that it must meet the approval of all. The day is now absolutely fixed and there will be no variation from the programme now announced. A sufficient number of tickets have been sold to have enabled us to have had a large drawing on the 31st July, but a short postponement was considered preferable to a partial drawing. Let it be borne in mind that

THE FIFTH GIFT CONCERT

IS THE LAST WHICH WILL EVER BE GIVEN UNDER THIS CHARTER AND BY THE PRESENT MANAGEMENT.

That it will positively and unequivocally take place as announced on

MONDAY, 30TH NOVEMBER, 1874,

An Alligator Story.

[Palatka, (Fla.,) Herald.]

The large alligator that was caught a few days since was kept tied to the trunk of a large tree near the water, just in the rear of Ocklawaha wharf. The Palatka hogs rendezvous at that point for the purpose of feasting upon the refuse of Smith's fish-house. For several days after the 'gator was secured he laid himself out flat on the margin, and to all appearances as dead as Cæsar. Hogs got familiarized with the long black object until they took the liberty of sticking their noses under the sides of the monster and commenced rooting. Quick as a flash the animal brought the force of his prodigious tail around, that sent an old sow sprawling in the water. Making another circle with his head and tail, he gulped down several young pigs. In the affray he broke the end of his chain and would have been free but for the interference of a man with a small boat. This man caught the end of the chain and fastened it to the stern seat, when the alligator commenced gyrating, and at every turn in the water he coiled the chain still tighter around his body. One more circle would have drawn both man and boat under the water, but, fortunately, the man had just time to loose the chain and free himself. In the meantime the alligator made his escape, but the tightness of the chain choked him to death. Next morning he was found dead on the beach.

Time of Sowing Grass Seeds.

[Howard Manual.]

Experience proves, so far as the observation of the writer goes, that August or early in September is the best time to sow grass seeds, or about the same time with sowing turnips. There is usually sufficient rain at that season to cause the seeds to germinate. The young plants will have time to make sufficient root to stand the severest cold of winter. When sown at this time there is a gain of a season, as clover, lucerne and several of the other grasses if sowed without grain in August, will give a cutting in the following spring.

Alton Bay Camp Meeting.

On Thursday, 15,000 people were in attendance on the Advent camp meeting at Alton Bay. The arrangements by the committee of seven in charge are complete in every respect. Mr. John D. Swain of this city, one of the committee, assures us that the duties are by no means easy of accomplishment. Sanitary and police matters are well looked after, and the comfort of the thousands who daily throng the grounds is studiously considered. A large boarding tent accomodates the hungry for eighty-five cents per diem, and a dinner can be had there for fifty cents. The cottages are filled with regular visitors, and when night comes on and the meetings are over, all who choose to avail themselves of the privilege are furnished with a "shake-down" on some friendly floor with plenty of bedclothes for fifteen cents per caput.

The steamer Mount Washington and the Dover and Winnipesaukee trains bring thousands to the camp daily, a miniature steamer makes excursions in the Bay, and there are row boats to be had. Preaching meetings are held three times a day. Then there are social and mission meetings, and children's gatherings where the little ones delightedly sing to a concourse of interested listeners. At four o'clock the daily baptizing comes off, conversions being part of the fruit of the labors of the day.

On Thursday, 6000 people were seated in the two o'clock meeting. Elder Couch of the World's Crisis presided, Hiram Munger made the prayer, Miles Grant besought the assemblage to pay Christ in greenbacks by contributing to the support of poor people who pick black-berries for money to go to camp meeting, and haven't any left for food and shelter. Then Elder Henry Carpenter harangued the multitude, an Elder preliminarily preparing the audience for his coming by the statement that "brother Carpenter would attempt to preach." We were inclined to think the qualifying remark carelessly thrown in, at first, but concluded after trying to listen a half hour that the authoritative Elder spoke advisedly in referring to the coming orator as attempting to preach. The wind sighed softly through the leaves and tree branches; an amorous lover, sitting in front of us, clasped his left arm around his girl's waist and held her left hand in his right; the waters of the Bay glistened in the distance; a baby cried and was well spanked by one of the congregation who seemed to be father to it; choruses of "amens" and other ejaculations rent the air as (what seemed to the assembled brethren) truisms dropped away from the speaker's lips and were pounded into their hearts by violent contact of fist and table; the couple in our front interspersed the performances with mutual inspection of four embrotypes of the hero of the two and his tooth-pick; the shrill whistle of the minute steamer came piping occasionally along; and the singing in the tents and the conversation outside were borne on the breeze to distract attention. At last the voice of the talker came to an end and all arose from their seats for the final hymn and benediction, and a general limb-stretching.

Wending their way to the cars were hundreds, who filled them full and left hundreds more standing outside. This kind of thing lasted nearly an hour, affording the over-grown train-boy an opportunity for turning a penny if he chose and to show favoritism to any individual who had the supreme felicity of a casual acquaintance with the self-exalted being. The Boston & Maine management would do well to look after this chap, who after repeatedly announcing that no one standing on the platforms would be admitted to the locked cars, managed to nearly half fill them with his friends and perhaps those who chose to fee him. A little head-punching may ensue in case some one should lose his temper and forget there are ladies present when this self-sufficient boy undertakes to overawe people who could buy him for ten cents ten thousand times—and a Boston & Maine employee with a head swelled beyond its natural proportions would be a sight beyond endurance.

To-morrow will be a great day at the camp-meeting. A special train over the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad will leave this city at 7:25 A. M., connecting with the train for Alton Bay at Dover; returning will leave Dover at 6 P. M., or on arrival of train from Alton Bay. Fare for the trip $1.40.

State News.

The Rochester Courier wants the liquor law enforced.

Mrs. Lydia M. Henderson has been appointed postmistress at Keene.

Mary Duprez, a French girl employed at the Jackson Company's mills, in Nashua, came very near being poisoned to death, by eating the plums which grow upon dog-wood bushes.

A Milford man has named his neighbor's pig "Maud," because it comes into his garden so often.

The Dover Democrat reports a Beecher-Tilton case at Great Falls. No names are given.

A correspondent of the Haverhill Bulletin says that a portion of the Nashua & Rochester Railroad, some five rods in length, known as the Cranberry meadow road in Sandown, sank several feet under the water. Workmen immediately set about repairing it, but when the repairs were well nigh completed about three rods of the track was again submerged. It is thought that the portion of the road lying in this meadow must be built upon piles in order to keep it secure. Fears are entertained that another Lee Pond affair has been encountered.

Readables.

The Pennsylvania democrats have nominated Warren J. Berks for Governor.

The New Jersey republicans have nominated Hon. George A. Halsey for governor.

Henry C. Bowen appeared before Judge Reynolds in Brooklyn and instituted proceedings for $100,000 damages against the Brooklyn Eagle, for publishing a false report of an interview alleged to have been held by one of its reporters, in which Bowen was represented as in antagonism to Beecher. Bowen also began a suit for $50,000 damages against McDermott, the reporter who wrote the false interview. He was bailed in $2000. In an interview Mr. Bowen says he has been malciously pursued by Kinsella of the Eagle, and will push this case to the extent of his whole fortune. He says when the case comes before the court there will be a greater exposition of fraud and corruption than has yet come to the ears of the public, and it will introduce some new features of the Beecher-Tilton matter.

Deacon Daniel Holman, the well-known hotel keeper at Biddeford Pool, was thrown out of his wagon on Tuesday and considerably injured.

[New York Graphic.]

To the artistic mind there seems never to have been a finer illustration of the poetic imagery whereby winter is made to linger in the lap of spring than the picture called up by Bessie Turner's remarkable yarn about the scene she witnessed between Miss Susan B. Anthony and Mr. Theodore Tilton. There sat the more than passee Diana of woman's suffrage—the chaste and awful goddess—the dream form of an icicle—prettily perched on the knee to which she must have climbed or been lifted, and toying, doubtless, with the golden locks of the Adonis as they fluttered about his ample brow.

—A youthful Pennsylvania granger, about to be chastised by his father the other day, called for his grandfather to protect him from the middleman.

Help Nature to Rally.

After an attack of fever or other acute disease has passed off, and nature is endeavoring to rally the debilitated system, help the effort with the standard vegetable tonic of the age, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Nothing known to the physician or the pharmaceopolist expedites convalescence like this vitalizing invigorant. Persons who have been prostrated by long-continued sickness recover their lost flesh, strength and cheerfulness in less than half the time that would be required to recuperate without it. It is the most genial as well as the most harmless of medicated stimulants, and as a remedy for (as well as a preventive of) dyspepsia, bilious attacks, constipation, nervous diseases, &c., has no equal in the world. When all other tonics have failed, this effects a cure.

For Moth Patches, Freckles and Tan

Ask your Druggist for Perry's Moth and Freckle Lotion, which is harmless and in every case infallible. Or for his Improved COMEDONE and PIMPLE REMEDY, the great SKIN MEDICINE for Pimples, Black Heads or Flesh Worms. Or consult R. C. PERRY, the noted Skin Doctor, 49 Bond St., New York. a 10 D 6m

20,000 cures of PILES have been recorded during the past five years by ANAKESIS, the happiest discovery in medicine ever made. No disease is more painful or vexatious than PILES, and lotions, ointments and quack nostrums alway makes them worse. ANAKESIS is an intaillible, painless, simple permanent cure, acts as a bougee, soothing poultice and medicine. The relief from pain is instantaneous and cure certain. All doctors recommend it.—Price $1.00. Sold by druggists everywhere, and sent free by mail from Principal Depot, 46 Walker street, New York.

Spotted Like Dominoes.

The teeth soon become speckled if every defilement is not removed from them every twenty-four hours. To do this effectually, there is nothing like SOZODONT. It literally renders the enamel imperious and indestructible.

Nature's Diadem.—Is your hair falling out? Is your hair growing dry and lifeless? Is your hair less pliable and glossy than of yore? It wants a good healthful hair dressing to help exhausted nature to recover itself.

Try BEARINE and mark the change. 5

Knightly Comments.

Sir Knight Hill, in furnishing excursion notes for the Concord Monitor, writes as follows;

"The jollity which reigned met with a check at Epping, the morning up train bringing word to our Captain-General, Sir Knight J. W. Hildreth, that his youngest child was not expected to live till the train reached Portsmouth. To the exertions of Sir Knight Hildreth are very largely due the perfection of the arrangements for the trip, and our proficiency in drill, and that at this moment serious illness in his family circle should be the cause of taking him away from us and the anticipated pleasure of the journey was a thought which brought moisture to many an eye. The little one died during the afternoon, despite all the care that parental love or medical skill could suggest. * * DeWitt Clinton Commandery, 'one of the oldest and best in the State,' our circular called it, was prepared to receive us. The jovial face of Sir Knight and Past Grand Master, John R. Holbrook, appeared in the front, at the place where the Eminent Commander should stand. His face was ample guarantee for the good time coming. The Marine Band headed the Portsmouth line and poured forth elegant selections with great taste and unwearying perseverance. Our first proceeding was to discuss a collation provided at the Masonic banquet room. Before doing this, we went up an interminable series of corkscrew stairs till we thought we should bring up on some place like the shears at the navy yard. We were amply paid when we did get there. We were welcomed by Commander Holbrook briefly. * * The visit to Appledore Island was too short, but there was abundant time for dinner. The Laightons maintain their old time standard of excellence and keep the popularity so fairly earned by a good record for years. The parade on returning was round the city, through thronged streets and past windows filled with the fair faces which the seaport city of our State has always produced in such abundance for the credit of itself and satisfaction of our race in general. The comeliness and wit of Portsmouth damsels well deserves to be crystalized into a proverb. The new Rockingham House received the dusty Knights and ensconced them in its hospitable recesses. The house was gay with flags and streamers in honor of its guests. I need not say that the house is well kept, for Frank Jones, whose individuality sticks out all over the city, would not permit it to be badly maintained. In its appointments it is perfect, from the boot blacking stand to the skylights. * * I should not forget that among the "craft universal" in this city are numbers of newspaper men. I have now especially in mind Sir Knights Washington Freeman, Generalissimo of DeWitt Clinton, and editor of the GAZETTE and CHRONICLE, and C. W. Gardner, the Boston Journal correspondent. Their favors were bestowed right and left, and did much to make happy and comfortable the sojourners in their city. Speaking of newspaper men, there is the big-hearted Frank Miller, now Mayor of the city. He makes a very active and practical officer, and has the good of the whole city at heart. He is to be called on a second year to out-do the good record he must shoulder for his first term. I had almost forgot to say that a very elegant levee was given us in Congress Hall, last evening. The good looks of the ladies were supplemented by elegant costumes, and the dance went merrily on till later than one weary Knight cared to sit up."

Sir Knight John M. Shirley of Mount Horeb Commandery of Concord, in responding to a welcoming speech at Dover, Thursday, alluded to the pleasures of the trip thus far, and in a laughable way, characteristic of Shirley's best, remarked that the Dewitt Clinton Brothers of Portsmouth "succeeded by the practical demonstrations of an actual march, in proving to them that Portsmouth was the largest city in this country, if not in the whole world." As the route over which the Mount Horebs marched did not exceed two miles in length, Sir Knight Shirley must have become tired marching up and down the piazza of the Appledore House, where the ladies were congregated.

A Big Haul.

Schooner Mayor Jones, Capt. Nickerson, left Doane's wharf on Wednesday about noon, and was back in the harbor on Thursday evening with two hundred barrels of mackerel. The school enclosed in the seine was estimated at fully five hundred barrels, but a huge sword-fish was enclosed also, and when he thought he had stopped there long enough he went out through the "lint," making a hole through which more than half the mackerel escaped.

Schooner Light of Home, Capt. Kendricks, arrived at Doane's wharf on Thursday with 650 qtls. codfish.

Laconics.

The amendments to the city charter will be found among the laws we issue in a NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE supplement this week. Persons desiring copies can obtain them at this office.

The monument to Captain John Smith, on Star Island, Isles of Shoals, is becoming very much dilapidated. Once it had on the corners of its triangular top three Turks' heads, which, according to tradition, were awarded Smith for a crest, probably in recognition of his experiences as a favorite slave of that unutterable but irresistible Turkish princess for whom the voyager undertook to name Cape Ann, namely, Tragabigzanda. But now a single mutilated marble face remains to rear its turbaned crest above the turbulent crests of ocean.

An aged and eccentric woman named "Mollie Ham" has been lying unconscious at her residence near Straw's Point, for over a week. Since Friday of last week she has been in charge of the selectmen, who have employed medical authorities to determine the truth or falsity of the suspicions aroused. Dr. Nichols, of Boston, has made an examination and is expected to give an opinion in writing. She is over 90 years of age and the oldest woman in town, and not of very temperate habits.

The body of John McCloud, drowned by the wreck of the Swampscott at Salisbury, was sent to this city Friday; and the body of Andrew Johnson, picked up on Salisbury Beach at half-past 3 o'clock Friday afternoon, arrived here during the night.

The Shipwreck and Rescue.

[Newburyport Herald.]

Wednesday evening, at about 11 o'clock, the scow Swampscott, Captain Charles A. Benson, of Portsmouth, a native of Sweden, hauled out into the river near Plum Island lights, with his vessel loaded with sand for the government works at Portsmouth. Two other persons made up the crew of three—one was Andrew Jansen, a native of Norway, and has a family in Portsmouth; the other was John McLeod, a native of Scotland, and has a family in Portsmouth. The scow dragged her anchor, and at about 3 o'clock A. M., struck the North Breaker and capsized. John McLeod was probably killed by the falling of the boom, as he was not seen afterwards. Andrew Jansen was not washed off till 11 1-2 o'clock, Thursday morning. He was holding on to the spar below Capt. Benson, and was consequently often immersed in the water, and the captain thinks he was dead when he lost his hold. The captain climbed up to the top of the mast three times, and during the nine hours of suspense to him, and anxiety to all who saw him, he held on. The mast carried a lateen sail; when it broke from the vessel it took with it a large quantity of iron, and wood enough to float it, the mast lying to the water at about an angle of forty-five degrees.

From Salisbury Beach we could plainly see the men on the mast, and in vain the fishermen were urged to risk their boat in the breakers. Several parties volunteered, and twice got the boat afloat, but they could see no earthly chance to get through the surf. Frank S. Blake, Israel E. Fowler, Abel E. Souther and George Aldrich had volunteered to go through the surf, but it was impossible. Three schooners came into the channel of the Merrimac river and it seemed that one was tacking to get near him; it did not appear to be more than half a mile from the man, who was waving his handkerchief, when about a mile from the shore. All were saddened when they saw the last schooner go into the channel and leave the desolate man.

News of the wreck was sent to this city on Thursday morning by Hiram Littlefield, by Green Davis and Capt. William H. Bayley, who got here at nine o'clock, and pilots Michael Stevens, Joseph R. Thurlow, Benj. Pettingell and Wm. Reed, with Capt. Bayley started in the pilot boat Moll Pitcher. Moses Pettingell, inspector of customs, also started in a whale boat with six men, but found the sea too high on the bar to get out. Mr. Littlefield also sent to Black Rocks and to Plum Island, where Capt. Henry Hunt's two sons attempted to put off, but were unable on account of the heavy sea. The pilot boat sailed with all speed as near the man as possible, for it was now noon and the spar with the man had floated inside the outermost breakers. The Moll Pitcher sent a boat and it seemed they would reach the suffering man. But he was floating on the high waves, and was now in the surf, and saddening was the sight when the boat from the rescuing schooner turned back. Now the man is in the breakers, and now he says he lashed himself tightly to the top of the spar. The iron dragged deep and touched the bottom. Twice the waves broke over him, and the third time the spar and yards broke into three pieces and he was seen afloat on the spar which quickly shot towards the shore.

Five men were in the water with ropes ready to catch him by swimming or otherwise. Then came the suspense, for the tide had begun to ebb, and the spar with the heroic man tied to it was kept back by the eddy and the rescuers could not quite reach it, for swimming was almost impossible by the best swimmers. Now the spar heaves within a few rods and the attempt is made. John A. Dunn, A. D. Dow, Israel Fowler, Chas. Tenney, Lon Forest, A. E. Souther, Geo. Souther, Frank S. Blake and George Aldrich, were at the nearest end of the spar in a moment, and the shout of joy went up from the crowd of spectators that he was reached. The drowning man was quickly cut from the spar on which he had been tossed in the waves for ten minutes, or more, after the spar broke. But he was alive and all hearts beat quick with joy.

Captain Banson is now in goods hands, Mr. Littlefield, of the Seaside House, having had much experience with shipwrecked mariners. He spared no pains nor expense to send for aid in every direction, to rescue the unfortunate man, and he and Mrs. Littlefield and the employes of the house have been unremitting in their attentions since. When we saw Captain Banson, Thursday evening, he was in an exhausted and feverish state, though the physicians pronounced him doing well.

Health Regulations.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH of the City of Portsmouth call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10 of the City Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in the City to aid them in the execution of their duty.

CHAPTER 10.

SEC. 5. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other substance capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low-water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners or occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten day from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low-water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 8. The health officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other things deemed by them, on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—she said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said health officers may by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause the said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 19. The owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure shall be liable to pay the expense of the removal or destruction of any such nuisance or other thing, as aforesaid, including fees of the health officers who order or cause the same to be removed; and the same may be recovered by action to be brought in the name of the city.

SEC. 20. No person shall use or occupy any building in the compact part of the city for a slaughter-house, or for trying tallow, or for currying leather, or for the deposit of green pelts or skins, unless under such restrictions and regulations as the health officers may impose.

SEC. 22. Any person or persons who shall violate any rule or regulation, or commit any act forbidden in any section of this ordinance, to which no special penalty is annexed, shall forfeit and pay a sum not less than one dollar nor more than twenty dollars, to be recovered by complaint before the police court of this city.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick with the Small Pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice to the Health Officers.

SEC. 12. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the Small Pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city. m23 d2m

Pulmocine Cordial.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Spoil Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, &c.

—USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER!

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever. It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp, by its use, becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties, it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing, nothing has been found so effectual or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

FOR THE WHISKERS.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being in one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color, which will neither rub nor wash off.

CHAPTER 10.

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low-water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners or occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten day from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low-water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 8. The health officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other things deemed by them, on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said health officers may by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause the said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 19. The owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure shall be liable to pay the expense of the removal or destruction of any such nuisance or other thing, as aforesaid, including fees of the health officers who order or cause the same to be removed; and the same may be recovered by action to be brought in the name of the city.

SEC. 20. No person shall use or occupy any building in the compact part of the city for a slaughter house, or for trying tallow, or for currying leather, or for the deposit of green pelts or skins, unless under such restrictions and regulations as the health officers may impose.

SEC. 21. Any person or persons who shall violate any rule or regulation, or commit any act forbidden in any section of this ordinance, to which no special penalty is annexed, shall forfeit and pay a sum not less than one dollar nor more than twenty dollars, to be recovered by complaint before the police court of this city.

DEACON JONES' EXPERIENCE.

[Arkansas Conference.]

Yo' right when you lays it down, Parson,
That the flesh is weak and a snare;
And to keep yer plow in the furrow
When yer cattle begins to rare—
Ain't no sure thing. And between us,
The same may be said of Prayer!

Why, I stood the jokes, on the river,
Of the boys, when the critters found
Thet I'd jined the Church, and the snicker
Thet, may be ye mind, went round,
The day I sat down with the mourners,
In the old camp meetin' ground!

I stood all that, and I reckon
I might, at a pinch, stood more—
For the boys, they represents Basil,
And I stands as the Rock of the Law,
And it seemed like a moral scrimmage,
In holdin' agin their jaw.

But thar's crosses a Christian suffers,
As hes'nt got that pretense—
Things with no moral purpose,
Things ez her gal no sense;
Things ez, somehow, no profit
Will cover their first expense.

Es how! I was jist last evenin'
Addressin' the Throne of Grace,
And mother knelt in the corner,
And each of the boys in his place—
When that sneaking pup of Keziah's
To Jonathan's cat giv a chase!

I never let on to mind 'em,
I never let on to hear,
But drove that prayer down the furrow
With the cat hidin' under my chaer,
And Keziah a whispertin' "sic her!"
And mother a saylin' "you dare!"

I asked fer a light for the heathen,
To guide on his narer track,
With that dog and that cat jest waltzin',
And Jonathan's face jest black,
W en the pup made a rush, and the kitten—
Dropped down on the small of my back.

Yet, I think with the Lud's assistance,
I might have continued then,
If gettin' her hot that kitten
Hed'nt dropped her claws in me,—when
It somehow reached the "Old Adam,"
And I jumped to my feet with "Amen."

So, yo'r right when you says it, Parson,
That the flesh is weak and a snare,
And to keep yer plow in the furrow
When yer cattle begins to rare
Ain't no sure thing. And between us,
I says it's jist so with prayer.

[GENERAL NATURE—No. 57.]

AN ACT to authorize the issue of duplicate agricultural land scrip where the original has been lost or destroyed.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the provisions of the act of Congress of the twenty-third day of June, eighteen hundred and sixty, relating to the reissue of land warrants in certain cases, be, and the same are hereby, extended so as to include the reissue of agricultural-college land scrip lost, cancelled or destroyed without the fault of the owner thereof, under such rules and regulations as the Secretary of the Interior may prescribe.

[GENERAL NATURE—No. 58.]

AN ACT making additions to the fifteenth section of the act approved July 2, 1864, entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act to aid in the construction of a railroad and telegraph line from the Missouri River to the Pacific Ocean, and to secure to the Government the use of the same for postal, military, and other purposes,' approved July 1, 1862."

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That there shall be, and is hereby added, to the fifteenth section of the act approved July second, eighteen hundred and sixty-four, entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act to aid in the construction of a railroad and telegraph line from the Missouri River to the Pacific Ocean, and to secure to the Government the use of the same for postal, military and other purposes,' approved July first, eighteen hundred and sixty-two," the following words, namely: "And any officer or agent of the companies authorized to construct the aforesaid roads, or of any company engaged in operating either of said roads, who shall refuse to operate and use the road or telegraph under his control, or which he is engaged in operating for all purposes of communication, travel, and transportation, so far as the public and the Government are concerned as one continuous line, or shall refuse, in such operation and use, to afford and secure to each of said roads equal advantages and facilities as to rates, time, or transportation, without any discrimination of any kind in favor of, or adverse to, the road or business of any or either of said companies, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding one thousand dollars, and may be imprisoned not less than six months. In case of failure or refusal of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, or either of said branches, to comply with the requirements of this act and the acts to which this act is amendatory, the party injured or the company aggrieved may bring an action in the district or circuit court of the United States in the Territory, district, or circuit in which any portion of the road of the defendant may be situated, for damages on account of such failure or refusal; and, upon recovery, the plaintiff shall be entitled to judgment for treble the amount of all excess of freight and fares collected by the defendant, and for treble the amount of damages sustained by the plaintiff by such failure or refusal; and for each and every violation of or failure to comply with the requirements of this act, a new cause of action shall arise; and in case of suit in any such Territory, district, or circuit, process may be served upon any agent of the defendant found in the Territory, district, or circuit in which such suit may be brought, and such service shall be by the court held to be good and sufficient; and it is hereby provided that for all the purposes of said act, and of the acts amendatory thereof, the railway of the Denver Pacific Railway and Telegraph Company shall be deemed and taken to be a part and extension of the road of the Kansas Pacific Railroad, to the point of junction thereof with the road of the Union Pacific Railroad Company at Cheyenne, as provided in the act of March third, eighteen hundred and sixty-nine.

Vermont election to-morrow.

Pierre Blot, the well-known professor of cookery, died in Jersey City, Aug. 25th.

The St. Louis Globe says: "One good reason for not losing heart, and for keeping up our organization and efficiency, will be found in the fact that in Missouri after the first day of January, 1876, every person, in order to become a voter, must be able to read and write. Unless we are gravely in error—which we never are—that will disfranchise about as many democrats as the iron-clad oath did."

"I don't know anything about this 'ere governor business, but I kin raise corn," is what they say Mr. Cusey said when he was nominated for governor of Kansas, by the "reform party." Hon. John Hallartin, of Topeka, who served in the legislature with Cusey, says: "Of the 110,000 voters in Kansas, at least 100,000 of them are superior to Cusey in every respect and better fitted for the office of governor."

Mr. Otto Meyer, Austrian consul at Havana, was the victim of a brutal attack and robbery in New York on Thursday night, and is in a critical condition from the effects of his injuries.

That joke about chromos being offered to new converts to religion is still going the rounds, and a Dexter (Me.,) paper is so exasperated because the Boston Globe located it there that it calls the Globe's hemizer "a conceited ass." The Dexter man would make a capital Plymouth church member.

License is defeated in Ohio by 6286 majority. The majority against the new constitution is 147,284; against minority representation 185,800; against State aid to railroads 251,242.

Patrick Leyden was burned to death in South Boston the evening of the 27th.

The Great Scandal.

Plymouth church was crowded Friday evening to listen to the report of the committee exonerating Beecher. Moulton was present and when Rossiter W. Raymond spoke in favor of the adoption of the report and said Mr. Moulton had tried to poison the minds of men against Mr. Beecher, Mr. Moulton arose in his seat and in stentorian tones exclaimed: "You are a liar." The crowd suggested that he be put out, but Moulton dared them to do it and it was not done. At the close the meeting adopted the report, Moulton alone voting "No." During his passage out he was hustled on every side, and when he reached the hallway a phalanx of ready hands were stretched out to wreak vengeance upon him. Nice set of Christians.

Henry C. Bowen has again sued the Brooklyn Eagle for libel contained in an editorial of Thursday, laying the damages at $100,000. Bowen expresses a determination of pushing his suits to the death.

The conduct of the members of Plymouth Church, in attempting to mob Moulton, is severely commented on by the press and public. It is pronounced the most extraordinary prayer meeting on record and is compared to the proceedings of the Emanuel Chapel as described by Dickens. Secular persons say that such profane expressions as "give him h—l," "God d—n him," "kill the d—n scoundrel," were hissed at Moulton during the excitement by people claiming to be pious, but this is vehemently denied by the pious ones themselves.

Francis D. Moulton publishes a card referring to the proceedings at Plymouth church, and says:

I was not permitted to be heard. During the proceedings, a young man, Mr. Raymond, whom Mr. Beecher had once brought to me, saying that I could confer with him in his (Mr. B's) absence, chose to fling down upon me some false and offensive words to my dishonor, reply to which I felt incumbent on me to characterize him in language appropriate to the provocation and for which I know of no English equivalent. Mr. Raymond vaunted himself as the only member of the congregation who, with the exception of Mr. Beecher's lawyers, knew all the facts of the case. Mr. Raymond will be chagrined to learn that I have a letter from Mr. Beecher, in which the writer says that he (Mr. Raymond) knows nothing whatever of the facts in the case. I will add that the hearing which was last night denied to me, in the place where I had the best right to demand and expect it, I shall ask for from the public in a few days. The only delay in the publication will arise from the preparation of fac simile copies of letters and papers, including Mr. Beecher's written certificate of Mr. Raymond's safe and trustworthy ignorance of the case. I have sought for four years for the sake of the innocent children of two families to shield Mr. Beecher from the exposure of his crime of adultery; but Mr. Beecher, his committee and his church have united to compel me, for my own self-protection, to reveal him to the world, as I shall shortly do, in a still worse light than that in which he now stands.

State News.

Mr. James W. Cheney, Jr., of Newburyport, has been appointed principal of the Hampton Academy. The academy now has eighty-five pupils and two lady assistants.

The Concord People says: "Chief Justice Sargent leaves behind him a most enviable judicial reputation, of which any man might be proud. The enlightened supremacy of law in matters of equity and justice has always had in him a generous and able exponent, and he bears with him to private life the united respect of the bar and of the people at large. Judge Doe's incumbency on the bench has been characterized by untiring industry, and he also retires with an added reputation for marked legal skill." Are these the reasons that such able Judges were turned out by a set of hungry office-seekers?

From North Conway, to Bartlett, by P. & O. railroad, is an observation car which is pushed ahead of the engine to give tourists the benefit of the scenery, an hour's ride, distance 12 miles, fare 75 cents; stage, 25 miles to Crawford's $1.25.

The third annual reunion of the fourteenth regiment of New Hampshire volunteers will take place at Keene, September 22, the anniversary of the battle of Fisher's Hill. The address will be delivered by Rev. S. L. Gerould of Goffstown.

Fooling Around.

[Manchester Union.]

Among those present at the late meeting of the Republican State Committee was Hon. Mason W. Tappan. Mr. Tappan engaged in the Greeley campaign with apparent sincerity, but it was painfully obvious before its close, when its success became doubtful and finally hopeless, that he had kept up a foot-bridge all the while, whereby to retreat to the republican party in case of disaster. He evidently thought his relations with Mr. Greeley would serve him well in case of success, but he preferred to "know not the man," in case of defeat; and Mr. Greeley had a far better support from men who had been life-long enemies than from Mr. Tappan, who had long been his personal and political friend.

Earthquake in Washington Territory.

The Upper Columbia is still the scene of earthquake shocks. A traveller, who has recently visited Lake Chelan, tells a Walla Walla paper of a mountain that is continually sending forth a doleful and ominous noise; of cliffs shaken; of great rents and fissures in the mountains; of tall pine trees sunk where they grew, leaving but a short piece of the top to mark the place; of the throwing up of the lake water 100 and 200 feet; of sulphurous odors that at times impregnate the entire atmosphere for miles around; of the death of all the young Indians and the fright of the old ones. The mountain above referred to is regarded as the centre whence originated the earthquake that passed over the Territory in December, 1872, and which has been in commotion since that time.

The Beecher Business.

[Hartford, (Conn.) Times.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 20, 1874.

* * I was up on the Sound shore, last Sunday. When every other subject was exhausted, my host asked:

"Hasn't there been something or other in the papers lately about Beecher?"

I mused a moment, and then said I thought there had been something of the sort.

"Well, hasn't Beecher published something—a 'vindication,' I think they call it? I heard them talking about it at the store. Hasn't he been accused of something, and proved his innocence?"

"W-a-a-l, y-a-a-s; I believe so," I replied.

"What's the upshot of it; give us the whole in brief."

Thus adjured, I began to condense, as follows:

Mr. Tilton has accused Mr. Beecher of adultery with Mrs. Tilton. To which Mr. Beecher replies in substance as follows:

"That he had inherited from his father and his grandfather a strong tendency to hypochondria; that he had written a 'Life of Christ;' that he owns a farm at Peekskill on which he is accustomed to pass the month of August; and that the last time he saw 'Elizabeth' in bed she looked like Marble—"

"What! Marble of the New York World?" broke in my host.

"Yes, the world of art—she reminded him of some of the recumbent statues of saints he had seen on tombs in the cathedrals abroad. This testimony is very full on this point, and he continues: That he has sometimes feared an attack of apoplexy; that when he walked out of Tilton's house it was under a cloudy sky; there had been a slight snow storm that day, which had passed away; but the wind still whistled through the leafless trees."

"Hold on!" exclaimed my host: "That's enough! He's an innocent man! If anybody doubts it, let 'em go to Brooklyn and Beecher can show 'em those very trees!"

And isn't this about all we've got out of it?

And isn't it about all we are going to get out of it? You bet.

—"What brought you to prison, my colored friend?" said a Yankee to a negro. "Two constables, sah." "Yes, but I mean, had intemperance anything to do with it?" "Yes, sah, dey was bof drunk."

—The war between Chicago, Louisville and Milwaukee continues, as witness the following from the Times of the first-named city: "The Louisville belle bending gracefully on the banks of the Ohio, and the Milwaukee lass leaning on the bridge of its creek, both listening attentively to hear the compliments bestowed upon the other's ears, erect an auricular awning which, meeting midway in the heavens, obscures the sun and gives to Chicago an umbrage grateful to body and soul." The Louisville Courier-Journal delicately returns the compliment paid to her, as follows: "Instead of going to the hydrant, the Louisville cockroach mounts the cooler and drinks ice-water. His boundless impudence is only mitigated by his frank admission that his ancestors came from Chicago." Milwaukee has yet to be heard from.

Help Nature to Rally.

After an attack of fever or other acute disease has passed off, and nature is endeavoring to rally the debilitated system, help the effort with the standard vegetable tonic of the age, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Nothing known to the physician or the pharmacopolist expedites convalescence like this vitalizing invigorant. Persons who have been prostrated by long-continued sickness recover their lost flesh, strength and cheerfulness in less than half the time that would be required to recuperate without it. It is the most genial as well as the most harmless of medicated stimulants, and as a remedy for (as well as a preventive of) dyspepsia, bilious attacks, constipation, nervous diseases, &c., has no equal in the world. When all other tonics have failed, this effects a cure.

For Moth Patches, Freckles and Tan

Ask your Druggist for Perry's Moth and Freckle Lotion, which is harmless and in every case infallible. Or for his improved COMEDONE and PIMPLE REMEDY, the great SKIN MEDICINE for Pimples, Black Heads or Flesh Worms. Or consult B. C. PERRY, the noted Skin Doctor, 49 Bond St., New York. a 19 D 6m

20,000 cures of PILES have been recorded during the past five years by ANAKESIS, the happiest discovery in medicine ever made. No disease is more painful or vexatious than PILES, and lotions, ointments and quack nostrums alway makes them worse. ANAKESIS is an infallible, painless, simple permanent cure, acts as a bougee, soothing poultice and medicine. The relief from pain is instantaneous and cure certain. All doctors recommend it.—Price $1.00. Sold by druggists everywhere, and sent free by mail from Principal Depot, 46 Walker street, New York.

Spotted Like Dominoes.

The teeth soon become speckled if every defilement is not removed from them every twenty-four hours. To do this effectually, there is nothing like SOZODONT. It literally renders the enamel impervious and indestructible.

Nature's Diadem.—Is your hair falling out? Is your hair growing dry and lifeless? Is your hair less pliable and glossy than of yore? It wants a good healthful hair dressing to help exhausted nature to recover itself.

Try BEARINE and mark the change. 5

—A gentleman at Lake George, after waving his handkerchief for half an hour or more at an unknown lady, whom he discovered at a distant point on the shore, was encouraged by a warm response to his signals to approach his charmer. Imagine his feelings, when on drawing nearer, he saw that it was his own dear wife whom he had left at the hotel but a short time before. "Why, how remarkable we should have recognized each other at such a distance," exclaimed both in the same breath; and then they changed the subject.

—A queer sort of an accident occurred recently on a plantation near Opelousas, La., by which two valuable horses were killed. They were at play in a yard where an ordinary harrow had been left, its teeth toward the ground, when one of them, hotly pursued by its companion, rushed by the harrow, one of the handles of which ripped open his side. This terrible shock did not stop him, the momentum he had acquired carrying him a hundred yards off, where he fell. The harrow was turned upon its side with its teeth presented to the pursuing horse, who striking them with full force, mangled and lacerated himself in a terrible manner. Both died in a few hours.

Laconics.

The "Lelaps" and "Columbias" are expected to row again some day this week.

All invited guests to the reception of Eben Simpson S. F. E. Co., No. 2, of Biddeford, Me., Sept. 3rd, are requested to meet at the City rooms upon that day at 10:15 A. M.

The Haverhill Bulletin goes after Mr. Ralph Reinwald in this style: "He is a young man of scarce twenty years, and has already attained such proficiency with the cornet, as gives evidence of the possession of rare talent which if cultivated will soon place him in the front rank of cornet soloists."

Gilman Harrison writes from Rye: Young ladies sit in the shade and read the Beecher scandal with absorbing interest. It is said that one blooming damsel while in bathing accidently got beyond her depth, and while sinking exclaimed, "O, Adolphus, save (bub) me until (bub-bub) I (bub) read Moulton's (bub) statement."

Messrs. Poor of the Oceanic House, Star Island, have decided upon two series of regattas for next season, similar to those just given, the first of which will occur early in July and the other in September, open to a larger range of vessels than the last races.

The following is the programme of the open-air concert to be given on Market Square by the Marine Band next Thursday evening:

1. Overture Bronze Horse.....Auber.
2. Potpourri from Martha.....Flowtow.
3. Cavatina from Torquato Tasso.....Donizetti.
4. Wedding March.....Mendelsohn.
5. Firemen's Polka.....
6. World's Peace Jubilee.....Potpourri.

Mr. Daniel E. Chase, proprietor of The Wentworth, at Newcastle, is to enlarge his house by the addition of a large wing on the Eastern end, as soon as the season is over.

Portsmouth has more good houses in course of erection than at any period in the past twenty-five years.

George E. Hodgdon, Esq., is spoken of as the democratic candidate for Mayor of Portsmouth, the old party leaders being too unpopular to make a decent run.

In an editorial on the municipal election the Journal says: There is no pretence that Portsmouth is not or has not been well and honestly governed; and the only plea for this imposition of an "election" is the meanest partisanship. Not only every republican, but every decent man of every other party, or no party, owes it to the cause of law and order, fair play and good government, that he shall do what he can to defeat so barefaced, shameful and shameless a plot against the people's rights and expressed wishes.

The Eastern Railroad Company has arranged for a series of popular excursions to the principal points of interest on the seacoast and the mountains reached by the road. The tickets are good through September, one of the pleasantest months of the year for travel.

The citizens are invited by the managers having charge of the reception of the visiting firemen on Thursday and Friday of this week, to decorate their dwellings and have an abundance of drinking water on the sidewalks of the streets through which the procession will pass. The Kearsarge boys have made preparations for a grand time, and we trust that citizens will show their appreciation by co-operating in welcoming their guests.

Mr. Hugh S. Farren, of Exeter, some weeks since challenged (through an advertisement in the CHRONICLE) Mr. William Morrissey of this city to row a boat-race, and Mr. Morrissey answered by an item in the Times in which the challenger was requested to "put up or shut up." Mr. Farren does not seem inclined to adopt the latter alternative, so he "puts up" ten dollars as earnest money in the hands of Mr. R. D. Smart, and by an advertisement in another column invites Mr. Morrissey to come on.

The Scranton Pa., Times sas: Sam Sharpley's company is a good one. Novelty is the prevailing feature of their entertainment. Everything done was well done. They had no sticks. From the rising of the curtain to the going down of the same, it was fun! fun! fun! Nobody went away dissatisfied. Everybody was sorry when the curtain fell.

C. H. Mendum & Co., have in this morning's issue an advertisement of Pawtuckaway Mills' goods that will interest the ladies.

Chas. G. Conner, Esq., of Exeter, has been re-appointed clerk of the courts for Rockingham county, a merited recognition of his valuable services.

Mary Ham, whose case of poisoning has caused so much local excitement in Rye, died on Saturday morning at 3 o'clock. Coroner Rider of this city went down Saturday forenoon and ordered an inquest and an autopsy of the body. The coroner's jury consisted of G. H. Jenness of Rye, foreman, Mr. John E. Leavitt (of the Board of Selectmen of Rye) and Capt. William Walker of Concord. The autopsy was performed by Dr. J. W. Odell of Greenland, Dr. Arthur H. Nichols, and Dr. Fitts of Boston. Messrs. Jenness and Leavitt of the coroner's jury were the only other persons present in the room when the autopsy was made. The report of the doctors will be given to the jury to-day at 10 o'clock, and the verdict rendered.

The Winning Yacht.

Yacht Vindex, Commodore Center, the winner of the first prize for first-class yachts in the Oceanic races, came in from Boston via the Shoals on Saturday, and moored in the dock at Rollins' wharf, where she remained over Sunday, attracting the attention and admiration of those who were aware of her presence. The Vindex is built of iron, and is sloop rigged; she is 68 tons, old measurement, 55 feet in length at water line and 63 feet over all, 17 feet 6 inches beam and draws 8 feet 10 inches of water. She is three years old, and has been in commission since June, 1873; and her strength of build is shown by the fact that notwithstanding her great spread of canvas and the way in which she has "carried on" at races and in making passages during that long period, the paint on the seams around the coamings of the hatches and the waterways does not show even a crack.

She carries a sailing-master, mate, steward, cook and four seamen, making with Commodore Center, Archie Smith, Esq., of Philadelphia, and Mr. Ubsdell of New York, a ship's company of eleven men all told. The appointments of course are all as nerr perfection as possible; and the manner in which every inch of room below decks is utilised is admirable. There is a place for everything and everything in its place, the entire arrangements showing that they were planned by some one with an artist's eye to the attractive and a seaman's appreciation of convenience and economy of space. On the cabin table the "Oceanic" punch-bowl and ladle, won in the late race, occupy the position of honor. The credit of the yacht's perfect arrangement below the deck we believe is due one of the gentlemen now on board,—Mr. Smith, who designed the vessel, and who also designed the yacht "Comet," one of the "mosquito fleet," (being only 18 feet 6 inches long,) which has won forty-nine races since she was first put into the water fourteen years ago, and is now—as might be expected—barred out of most races for vessels of her class.

The Vindex is to sail in the race of the Eastern Yacht club at Boston on the 12th of September. She will remain at her moorings at Rollins' wharf until some time this afternoon, but will leave in season to reach the Shoals before night, and ladies visiting her will doubtless be delighted with the management of the Commodore.

A Romance in High Life.

[Galaxy for September.]

At the gaming table the Duke of Richmond incurred a debt of honor to Lord Cadogan, which he was unable to pay, and it was agreed that his son, a lad of fifteen, who bore the title of Earl of March, should marry the still younger daughter of Lord Cadogan. The boy was sent for from school and the girl from the nursery; a clergyman was in attendance, and the children were told that they were to be married upon the spot. The girl had nothing to say; the boy cried out, "They surely are not going to marry me to that dowdy!" But married they were. A post-chaise was at the door; the bridegroom was packed off with his tutor to make the grand tour, and the bride was sent back to her mother. Lord March remained abroad for several years, after which he returned to London, a well-educated, handsome young man, but in no haste to meet his wife, whom he had never seen except upon the occasion of their hasty marriage. So he tarried in London to amuse himself. One night at the opera his attention was attracted to a beautiful young lady in the boxes. "Who is that?" he asked of a gentleman beside him. "You must be a stranger in London," was the reply, "not to know the toast of the town, 'the beautiful Lady March.'" The Earl went straight to the box, announced himself, and claimed his bride. The two fell in love with each other on the spot, and lived long and happily together; and when the husband died she also died of a broken heart within a few months.

— Riches never showed a pair of wings measuring more from tip to tip than in the case of Coal Oil Johnny, the whilom young millionaire of the oil regions, who, after rising from the humble position of ox teamster to the wealth of a prince, has again subsided into agricultural pursuits, and is glad to plough all day to make a dollar or two.

—"What is this for?" asked the colored porter at the —— Hotel, Long Branch, the other day, holding out a twenty-five cent note given him by the gentleman addressed for carrying up his trunk. "That," said the gentleman, taking the note and putting it back in his pocket, "was for your trouble, and this is for your impudence," and he kicked him eleven feet nine inches and a half into the hallway!

—The appointment of Mr. Charles F. Mathias a dog-catcher by Mayor Havemeyer has attracted a degree of attention from the press that has not been pleasant to him. For several days he bore it like a martyr; then, imitating the example of the statesmen who held Credit Mobilier, voted for the salary grab, received checks from railroad companies and bought seats in the Senate, he flung down his commission at the feet of the Mayor with the remark that he "did not accept the appointment with the intention of creating a sensation," but, having discovered that he was "appointed merely to furnish substance for the press," he would immediately retire from public life.

The American Rough.
[Dom Piatt.]

No other country ever produced such an article. He can be distinguished anywhere by the qualities that are enamelled on his scoundrelly countenance. He is so cowardly, cruel, cunning and vicious that one does a great wrong to call him beastly. He is a bully, ever imposing upon and abusing the weak, and shrinking before the resolute and strong. He begins life by robbing his father, if he has one to know, and beating his mother, and ends it as a New York alderman or judge. There is no place where the rough is found in such perfection, if I may use such a word, as in New York. He abounds everywhere in our blessed land of free institutions, especially about our cities, but nowhere such a specimen as in New York. Some years since he was produced upon the stage under the name of Mose, the fireman. But Mose, unfortunately for himself, volunteered in the beginning of the late war, and appeared at the first Bull Run as a zouave. The pensive public was disgusted to learn that its favorite Mose ran away like a poltroon, as he is, at the first fire, and could not be rallied, or stopped, even. He disappeared from human view and human favor.

—"How like its father it is!" exclaimed the nurse, on the occasion of the christening of a baby whose father was over seventy, and had married a young wife. "Very likely," replied a satirical lady; "it hasn't a tooth in its head."

Pulmocine Cordial.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

—USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

LAST CHANCE

FOR

A postponement of the Fifth Concert of the Public Library of Kentucky has been so generally anticipated, and is so manifestly in the interest of all concerned, that it must meet the approval of all. The day is now absolutely fixed and there will be no variation from the programme now announced. A sufficient number of tickets have been sold to have enabled us to have had a large drawing on the 31st July, but a short postponement was considered preferable to a partial drawing. Let it be borne in mind that

THE FIFTH GIFT CONCERT

IS THE LAST WHICH WILL EVER BE GIVEN UNDER THIS CHARTER AND BY THE PRESENT MANAGEMENT.

That it will positively and unequivocally take place as announced on

MONDAY, 30TH NOVEMBER, 1874,

that the music will be the best the country affords, and that

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners or occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten day from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time specified.

SEC. 6. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low-water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 8. The health officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, or any other place or appurtenance or other things deemed by them, on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said officers may be joined by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause the said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 19. The owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure shall be liable to pay the expense of the removal or destruction of any such nuisance or other thing, as aforesaid, including fees of the health officers who order or cause the same to be removed; and the same may be recovered by action to be brought in the name of the city.

How the Early Virginians Got Wives.

The history of the Commonwealth of Virginia, says the Richmond Whig, commences with an auction sale—not, however, in a store but beneath the green trees of Jamestown, where probably the most anxious and interested crowd of auction habitues ever known in the history of the world were gathered. In a letter, still to be seen, dated London, Aug. 21, 1621, and directed to a worthy colonist of that settlement, the writer begins by saying:—

"We send you a shipment, one widow and eleven maids for wives of the people of Virginia. There has been especial care in the choice of them, for there hath not one of them been received but upon good recommendations. In case they cannot be presently married, we desire that they may be put with several householders that have wives until they can be provided with husbands."

But the writer of this epistle had little reason to fear that any of the "maidens faire" would be left over. The archives contain evidence to prove that these first cargoes of young ladies were put up by auction and sold for 120 pounds of tobacco each, and it was ordered that this debt should have precedence of all others. The solitary "one widow" went along with the others, for they could not be particular in those days. The good minister of the colony no doubt had a busy time that day. He did not mention any fees, nor did the bridegrooms think of tendering any. All was joy and gladness; no storms ahead, no inquisitive clerk to stand and say, "Here's the license, fork over that dollar." Nothing of the sort. From some of these couples the first families of Virginia are descended.

Stocking Streams with Trout.

A Wisconsin farmer writes to the Western Farmer as follows, and makes a suggestion worth heeding: A year ago, having more young trout than my pond would accommodate, I put a few thousand into a bar[illegible] stream near by. They were then about one inch long. A few days since I thought I would see what they had do[illegible]ne. I took my rod and a couple of my [illegible]tle boys and went to the branch, and in less than an hour caught thirty, all we wanted, and might have caught [illegible]undreds, as we could see them in scho[illegible]s of fifty or a hundred in a place, for a [illegible]ile up and down the brook. They were about seven inches long, or what would be called a nice catch. As this same thing can be done by every brook of pure water, (either hard or soft,) in the State, I submit if it would not pay the owners of brooks to stock them, if in nothing else, in furnishing one more attraction for the farm. If not for themselves, for the boys, for recreation is as necessary to them as meat and bread, and if they can't find it on the farm they will hunt it in the village. Many of us can recollect how attractive the brook on our father's or neighbor's farm and how its wily denizens taxed and developed our young skill and ingenuity in their capture.

— A new proverb says: "The man who sets out a single shade tree is better than the founder of a base ball club."

—A Milwaukee man stated that he really needed some active, regular exercise. A friend suggested that he mix his own cocktails.

Letter From Scotland.

EDINBURG, Aug. 15.

After two weeks of rest and sight seeing in and around Edinburg, we leave it for an inland trip among the far famed lochs and mountains. Edinburg is a most interesting city, not only for its bold hills and romantic history, but also for the generous spirit of its people. Its buildings also, uniformly of a grand and imposing style, are all made of freestone. The town numbers about 200,000 inhabitants. Its history runs back to A. D. 626, when an old fort occupying the elevated site where now stands Edinburg Castle was captured and rebuilt by Edwin king of Normandy, and named Edwinsburg. Tradition dates its first settlement with the building of Solomon's Temple. The most prominent points of interest in the city are the Castle, Carlton Hill, Holyrood Castle and Arthur's Seat, a mountain on its outskirts. The Castle is a massive and formidable pile of towers overlooking the entire city, and still garrisoned by soldiery. Before the days of bomb shells and rifle cannons, this must have been impregnable. Here queen Mary gave birth to James VI. Here is mounted Mons Meg, a huge piece of artillery, 20 inch bore, made in Mons, Belgium, in 1476. A cannon is fired at the Castle every day at 1 o'clock. Carlton Hill is a precipitous bluff 344 feet above the sea level, and is surmounted by various monuments. Between this and Arthur's Seat, which is 800 feet in height, lies Holyrood Castle. From Holyrood Castle to Edinburg Castle, a distance of a mile, runs one of the oldest streets and very appropriately called High street. In this street lived John Knox the reformer, and here occurred the riot as described by Scott in his Heart of Midlothian. Along the back of this street many of the houses are built seven and eight stories high, and one block is ten stories. This extreme height of the houses, together with their sharp gables and battlemented roofs, placed as they are upon this long and abrupt hill, makes this part of the city as seen from another and parralel range, look like some grand line of complicated battlements. About one mile south of Arthur's Seat lies Crag Millar Castle, also once occupied by queen Mary. Four miles farther south is Hawthornden, "whither Ben Johnson walked all the way from London to see the poet Drummond." Here Bruce is said to have lived in apartments excavated to the depth of forty feet within the heart of a ledge walling the banks of the Esk. Here also is Roslin Castle and Roslin Chapel, founded in 1446, and said to be one of the most highly decorated specimens of Gothic architecture in Scotland. Edinburg has many large and beautiful monuments and public buildings. It has now in process of erection a hospital to cost about a quarter of a million of dollars. This is of course but a hasty and imperfect outline of a city that it would take volumes to adequately describe. Mr. Moody, the evangalist from Chicago, seems to have made a deep impression among the churches which still continues for good. The King of Denmark and his daughter, the Princess of Wales, are for a few days in the city, and attract large crowds wherever they go. N. B. C.

Epping Camp Meeting.

The weather has been good and the attendance large. Rev. A. C. Hardy of Portsmouth gave one discourse Tuesday. Wednesday A. M., Rev. Mr. Chase, who has several times taught Grammar at Teachers' Institutes; P. M., Rev. Mr. Babcock; Thursday, Dr. Steele of Auburndale, Mass., A. M., and Rev. Mr. Chapman of Brookline, N. Y., P. M.; Friday, Rev. Mr. Durell, A. M.; and in the P. M., Rev. Mr. Emery of Haverhill, Mass., a Baptist.

The place of this meeting presented quite a village, there being about 30 society tents and about 120 cottages and other tents. Several familes are there before the meeting, as a place of summer resort; a few remain after the meeting closes, for a time. As a place for enjoyment from the heat of summer, in connection with the meeting, it has many attractions and enjoyments. J. F.

Readables.

A Chicago special says that charges have been preferred against United States Commissioner P. O. Hayne and District Attorney Glover of releasing 500 saloon-keepers and tobacconists from penalty under the revenue laws on payment of insignificant costs.

The Secretary of the Treasury has a telegram from the Marine Hospital Surgeon at Key West, stating that four cases of yellow fever broke out on United States steamer Ticonderoga, that Admiral Mulaney demanded admittance to the Marine Hospital without permit, and in violation of quarantine regulations, and admission being refused, forced it with marines. The Secretary of the Treasury will reply, ordering Collector Park at Key West to use whatever force is necessary to remove the yellow fever cases which endanger the life of all in the Hospital, and to compel the United States steamer to obey quarantine regulations from which it is not exempt. The Admiral has violated a specific statute of the United States.

Augustus Gardner, a Frenchman, while walking on the railroad track near Henryville, Indiana, Saturday night, was attacked by three men, who tied him on the track, over a small culvert, and left him. Gardner succeeded in getting all the fastenings loose except those holding his left foot, when a passenger train ran over his left leg, cutting it off. He fell into the culvert, crawled out, and then lay there until morning, when he was found. He was carried to Jeffersonville and told this story, and then died.

State News.

Rev. J. Marsh of Fremont is now eighty years of age or upwards. But few so old are so active and strong for service. Last week he drove his horse, (one of not great speed,) to New Durham, some 40 miles, to a Quarterly Meeting, preached a discourse, the next day returned home and the day following was at the Camp Meeting in Epping. Many young men seem less active in physical and other services than he.

The Smith tavern and barn, at Belmont, owned by John Pulsifer, were burned Saturday night. Loss, $1000; no insurance.

Col. Cyrus Eastman, of Littleton, has purchased twelve acres of land on Odiorne's Point, upon which he proposes to erect thirty cottages which he will sell or rent to those desiring summer residences.

Two Lancaster men recently caught 602 trout in a single day.

Mr. Arthur A. Miller of South Antrim lost 17 half-grown turkeys a few days since on account of their partaking of some rock salt that he accidentally dropped in his yard. The fowls gobbled it up under the impression that it was white cracked corn, which it closely resembles.

Edward H. Spaulding of Nashua has received his discharge in bankruptcy.

The berry crop in Candia has been immense. Hundreds of bushels have been transported to Manchester.

Extensive arrangements are making for the Strafford County fair, which will be held at Great Falls, for four days, beginning Sept. 15.

The Wolfeborough News says a boy has been found who accounts for the remains of the man found at Hart's Location. Two men who kept the shanty had been drinking together, and passing outside had loud words with a third party; soon three shots were fired and the man was seen to fall. They immediately carried the man—only wounded—in and put him on a bed, pouring kerosene oil over him and on the bed; they then set fire to the bed and left, telling this boy—about 11 years old—if he ever mentioned about it they would serve him in the same way; the boy was employed to carry drills to and from the blacksmith's. Men on the line of the P. & O. Railroad saw the fire, but it had been a notorious drinking den, and they supposed it had been set on fire by their friends.

George A. Law, aged 13 years, son of C. D. Law of East Jaffrey, was accidentally shot while sporting near Contoocook Park on Saturday about noon, and expired about 2 o'clock Sunday morning.

A young Frenchman named John Dumas cut himself badly in the leg with an axe, while chopping in the woods near Henniker. The surgeon who attended him thought that amputation would become necessary.

The recently appointed Judges of the reorganized judiciary held their first meeting for the assignment of trial terms for the full Circuit at Concord, Friday evening and Saturday morning. Beside the assignment they adopted seals for the different courts, a figure of Justice, with drawn sword and scales for the Superior Court, and the head of Justice blindfolded, with scales aloft, for the Circuit.

The Democratic Record.

[Providence Journal.]

The democracy of Ohio, in solemn convention, declare their discontent with republican rule, and especially for its financial mismanagement, its extravagant expenditures, its dishonesty and corruptions, and its bad government of the south. These are pretty heavy charges, and as they are not supported by any proof, they must rest mainly on the character of the accusers. What are the antecedents of the party bringing such grievous indictments against the rule which the people have ordained and continued and sustained? The last financial operation of the democratic party was to borrow money at twelve per cent., which debt they left the republicans to pay, interest and principal, thereby falsifying the prediction of their Secretary of the Treasury, who, by way of facilitating the loan, the money market being rather close, and that remark of the Secretary being, in the judgment of democratic finance, calculated to ease it up a little, said that it would not probably ever be paid. The charming frankness of this utterance put Wall street immediately at ease. There could be no doubt of the good faith of a Secretary who begun in that way. The expenditures of the government, omitting those that grew out of the war as the interest on the debt, pensions, war claims, &c., are less per capita to-day in greenbacks, spite of the great advance in prices, than it was in gold, in the time of Buchanan, the last democratic President. We do not perceive that under these two heads of the indictment, the democrats promise in their antecedents, any essential reform.

As to the charge of dishonesty and corruption, we suppose they will plant themselves on their last administration, when Fowler was Postmaster at New York, when Floyd was Secretary of War, when the Indian bonds were stolen from the vaults of the Interior Department, and when, to save the rebels the trouble of stealing arms and capturing ships and forts, they were politely given to them, almost without asking. Or they may come down later to the developments of the management in New York, under the scarlet mother of the democracy, Tammany, whose chiefs are in prison or fugitives from justice, and their successors are fast restoring her old reputation. Is this the kind of honesty that our democratic brethren of Ohio wish to restore to the administration of the general government?

But the misgovernment in the south. Ah! how well it was governed in the good old time, when men and women were sold at the auction block, and abolitionists lynched, and murdered! And how rapidly is the south, under democratic rule, going back to those blessed times! As soon as the remaining schoolmasters have been expelled, and the few intractible preachers whipped into obedience, we shall have a democratic paradise in that section. Look at Tennessee where the whites "are arming for self-defence" against the poor negroes that are running away from them, for their lives. But democratic civilization can never be thoroughly reestablished in the south till the benign agency of the blood hounds is brought back. There was a softening influence in these ministers of slavery that should not have been permitted to die with the patriarchal institution.

Children's Grand Ball at Long Branch.

[Cor. Chicago Tribune.]

I went on one of the excursions to Long Branch a short time ago, and was just in session to witness the "Children's Grand Ball." Imagine a large, elegant ball-room, lit by innumerable chandeliers, and crowded with "airy, fairy children," to the number of about 800. The admiring and perspiring mammas and bonnes, sitting around were making comments on other people's children; and the children themselves were reenacting the flirtations, affectations and behavior generally of the elder folks. When a lively galop struck up, how the little belles—wee toddlers, many of them—bowed and smirked to their rosebud-in-buttonhole, white-gloved, eight-year-old beaux! How these little pinks of politeness aped the manners and copied the fashions of their elders! How beautifully their little feet flew in the mazy intricacies of the dance! How the little eyes sparkled, and the cheeks flushed. How these four-year and ten-year olds danced and flirted, and ate ices and dainties until the wee sma' hours! I looked in vain for a child simply dressed in plain white, with her hair curled or put back in a round comb. I saw beautiful children unnaturally bright and precociously brilliant, befrilled, beflounced, beruffled, with silk underdresses, and overdresses of Valenciennes, with hair dressed by hair-dressers, and gloves, fans, diamonds and bracelets exactly like a grown-up lady. Little mites of humanity, with all the style and airs of twenty, and a certain dash and bravado that were sad to see in a child. Little misses of ten were deeply engaged in flirtations, with all the rolling up of eyes, turning up of rosy lips and shrugging of shoulders of the well-trained coquette. Boys, blase and nonchalant, were acting in imitation of their sires; the girls found time to criticise each other's dress and hair, and make rude remarks, just as they had heard their mammas do. As the night wore on, the little misses—some of them, at least—took tiny sips of champagne to keep up the excitement; but the eyes were unnaturally bright and the poor little feet tired and dragged heavily. I watched a young, fashionable mother, who was looking with proud and smiling complacence at her only child. She was a golden haired, ethereal little beauty, six years old or thereabout, most exquisitely attired in a dress of pale pink satin, with overdress of finest lace, with pink satin boots that Queen Mab might have worn, dainty three-button gloves, sash and fan, diamond solitaire earrings and necklace with tiny pearl locket, and her lovely hair (tied up with a pink ribbon) crimped and frizzed, and waved by an experienced hair coiffeur. Her French bonne had been sent to watch her, lest she should soil her laces or disarrange her sash; and, when the mamma called her to retire to her bed, her "One more dance—only one, mamma," was heard in successful entreaty.

—The Danbury News man writes of English railway restaurants: "Another thing which makes this English travelling pleasant, is the station restaurant. Commodious, neat and convenient. Where you can get a cup of tea, or a glass of ale, or gin, a sandwich, bun, or something else, for the same price that you pay in the ordinary city restaurant. A tired traveller takes a sandwich, 4 cents; a bun, 2 cents; cup of tea, 4 cents; glass of ale, 4 cents; or the whole for just one cent less than a single cup of coffee costs at the railway restaurant in Stamford, Conn. And yet flour, tea and ale are no cheaper here."

—An ingenious projectile, invented by a Russian officer, is now claiming the attention of military scientists. The sczaroch, as it is called, is an elongated shell, the head of which is completely spherical; a round shell upon the end of an iron cylinder. The two parts are united by a comparatively slight thickness of metal. When fired, the sczaroch leaves the gun like an ordinary shell; but when it bursts, the cylindrical part alone flies in pieces, while the spherical head continues its flight intact and may ricochet for hundreds of yards further. The advantage of such a shell against artillery, for example, is very great. After bursting and scattering its fragments among the guns of the enemy, the head goes on to plunge into the infantry still further back. It is to be used in Russia, however, only for cannon of moderate size.

—This is Danbury Bailey's description of the English papers: They crowd their advertisers into repulsive limits; they mix up their matter without any regard to classification; they publish but a beggarly handful of American news; they report in full the most insignificant of speeches; they don't seem to realize that there is such an attraction as condensed news paragraphs; they issue no Sunday paper, and but one or two have a weekly; they ignore agriculture and science, personals and gossip; they carefully exclude all humor and head-lines, and come to their readers, every week-day, a sombre and mournful spectacle that is most exasperating to behold.

Help Nature to Rally.

After an attack of fever or other acute disease has passed off, and nature is endeavoring to rally the debilitated system, help the effort with the standard vegetable tonic of the age, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Nothing known to the physician or the pharmacopolist expedites convalescence like this vitalizing invigorant. Persons who have been prostrated by long-continued sickness recover their lost flesh, strength and cheerfulness in less than half the time that would be required to recuperate without it. It is the most genial as well as the most harmless of medicated stimulants, and as a remedy for (as well as a preventive of) dyspepsia, bilious attacks, constipation, nervous diseases, &c., has no equal in the world. When all other tonics have failed, this effects a cure.

For Moth Patches, Freckles and Tan

Ask your Druggist for Perry's Moth and Freckle Lotion, which is harmless and in every case infallible. Or for his Improved COMEDONE and PIMPLE REMEDY, the great SKIN MEDICINE for Pimples, Black Heads or Flesh Worms. Or consult B. C. PERRY, the noted Skin Doctor, 49 Bond St., New York. a 19 D 6m

20,000 cures of PILES have been recorded during the past five years by ANAKESIS, the happiest discovery in medicine ever made. No disease is more painful or vexatious than PILES, and lotions, ointments and quack nostrums alway makes them worse. ANAKESIS is an infallible, painless, simple permanent cure, acts as a bougee, soothing poultice and medicine. The relief from pain is instantaneous and cure certain. All doctors recommend it.—Price $1.00. Sold by druggists everywhere, and sent free by mail from Principal Depot, 46 Walker street, New York.

Spotted Like Dominoes.

The teeth soon become speckled if every defilement is not removed from them every twenty-four hours. To do this effectually, there is nothing like SOZODONT. It literally renders the enamel impervious and indestructible.

Nature's Diadem.—Is your hair falling out? Is your hair growing dry and lifeless? Is your hair less pliable and glossy than of yore? It wants a good healthful hair dressing to help exhausted nature to recover itself.

United States Steamer Ticonderoga has sailed for this port, having landed four cases of yellow fever at Key West.

And now the children with smiling faces go to "trouble."

Mr. William Plaisted would like a little more patronage from the public during fair weather that his teams may be continued on their regular trips. During the foul weather of the coming stormy months it will not be quite such pleasant walking as at present.

"It never rains but it pours," says an old adage, and it is likely to be verified this week by a small flood of entertainments, after something of a drought in that line. Programme—Wednesday, first day of the grand shooting tournament of the Sportsman's Club at Rockingham Trotting Park, and Sam Sharpley's Minstrels at the Temple in the evening; Thursday, second and last day of the pigeon-shoot, afternoon and evening performances of the Great Eastern Circus and Menagerie, public reception of Eben Simpson fire company of Biddeford by Kearsarge Company of this city and their friends, and complimentary concert by Marine Band on Market square in the evening; Friday, last day of festivities in honor of Eben Simpsons. Picnics all through the week, as usual.

Col. Peter Shaw, formerly of the Mobile Watchman, has returned to his home in this city.

Dr. N. B. Coleman and wife sailed from Glasgow, homeward bound, on the 29th ult., in steamship "America" of the Anchor Line.

It is many years since a windmill was used for any service in this city or vicinity; but Mr. John H. Hutchinson is erecting a tower for one to pump water for his new and extensive greenhouses on Broad street and Lincoln avenue. The modern windmills are very ornamental as well as useful, being about as much superior to the old fashioned institution of the same name, as a steam-car is to the old stage coach. There are several large manufactories devoted to their make, of which the Batavia of New York and the Eclipse of Wisconsin, are leading patterns; and at the West and South, they are in many places almost as common as farms or houses. Windmills for sea tanks are also very numerous at Cape Cod and elsewhere; and their use here for many purposes, would no doubt be convenient and profitable.

The Great Eastern Circus and Menagerie is advertised to appear in this city next Thursday. The press is enthusiastic in its praises of this company, which is considered one of the very best in the country. We copy the following from an exchange: "Each afternoon and evening hundreds have been unable to find standing room, and during the performance in the ring the menagerie and museum have been crowded. One reason for this immense success is that the Great Eastern has been before the public so long that its merits are well known, and those who have once seen it are certain to go again, knowing that they will see some new curiosity, or witness some feat of daring never beheld before; and in no instance are they disappointed, for the management know what the public require, and spare no money to satisfy them."

Strangers visiting Portsmouth view with astonishment the high and close board fences which still disfigure many parts of the city, more than any other we ever saw. But we are gradually outgrowing the useless, absurd and expensive fashion. The heavy tax for fences that are only a blemish, is coming to be appreciated, both in the city and suburbs.

The Laighton Brothers, proprietors of Appledore island and house, were offered $50,000 last week by a Boston capitalist, for Smutty-Nose Island.

Miller avenue is fast becoming one of the handsomest streets in the city, and is being improved in advance of Richards avenue, over which it has the advantages of a better natural roadbed, and of extending to Rye, while Richards avenue stops short at the cemetery, and is also unfortunately narrow at the upper end, and difigured with irregular and unsightly fences. On the principal that those should be helped who help themselves, the enterprise of the Gas Company in laying pipes down Miller avenue to light the new Girls' School of Miss Morgan, and the action of the Board of Aldermen in voting to accept the street lights on this thoroughfare are commendable. The new school opens on the 24th inst., and its success will be generally hoped for, both as a public benefit and for the sake of its enterprising and accomplished lady principal.

The medical fraternity go to the Shoals to-day.

Work was commenced on the coffer dam, preparatory to active operations in removing the obstructions at the "Gulf," in the Cocheco river at Dover, on Tuesday of last week. About 30 men are at work and good progress is being made. About 500 yards of rock will be removed under this appropriation.

The lady guests of the Atlantic House, Salisbury Beach, raised a purse of $33 for the benefit of the widows of the drowned men, McCloud and Johnson. The sum collected was put in charge of the Morrill Brothers, who placed it in their office, from which it was stolen by some thief. Messrs. Morril replaced the amount stolen, from their own pockets, and forwarded it to Mayor Miller.

A boat race for $25 a side has been arranged between Robert McFarland, a cooper at Eldredge's brewery, and Charles Hines, a cooper at Jones' brewery. The race will come off at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening. The course will be from Portsmouth bridge to the beacon and return.

EDS. CHRON.: The many friends of Capt. Henry Libbey, one of our worthy "merchant ship masters," will be pleased to learn of the success of the ship "Triumphant" under his command, now loading at San Francisco for Liverpool direct, with about 3000 tons wheat at £4 5s. per ton. The "Triumphant" is the second largest tonnage registered in the States and is much admired for her carrying and sailing quality. Her successful voyage reflects great credit on her worthy commander. Brigham's Ann Eliza.

[Providence Journal.]

Here have our sympathies been running to waste, like Pawtuxet water in an ill-regulated kitchen. At a certain period in life it is hard to have one's feelings imposed upon. When Ann Eliza Young, the thirty-fourth of the wives of Brigham, said it was an undesirable position, we inclined to believe her. It seemed exceedingly natural that a young and buxom woman, who had become "sealed" to an old man possessed of a third of a hundred wives and an inordinate love of money, would not have a very pleasant time of it. But Ann Eliza has in a measure justified Brigham. Whether her lecturing tour in the east proved pecuniarily unsatisfactory, or whether the social relations of this part of the country are not to her mind, does not appear; but at any rate she is back in Utah, suing for a divorce. And when she says divorce, she means money. She wants twenty thousand dollars out of hand to begin with for her counsel. Either she has not much idea of the value of money, or she has an extraordinarily appreciative estimate of the worth of lawyers. But not only this. She asks also for twelve thousand dollars a year to live on until the divorce is granted. When you talk turkey in that way, Brigham is around. He answers that there can be no legal divorce because there is only a spiritual marriage, and that, inasmuch as he had thirty-odd wives, and Ann Eliza one husband at the time of this spiritual marriage, the courts have no jurisdiction to decree a divorce. Whether or not the spiritual marriage theory holds, it is pretty clear that Ann Eliza was not legally married, and so cannot be divorced. The idea of an affirmative response to Ann Eliza's petition is perfectly awful. So many wives, and so many thousands for the lawyers, and so much for such women as Ann Eliza, to maintain them in circumstances suitable to their condition, as wills run where the widow is provided for till death or marriage again. Well might Brigham tremble if there were any danger from his discarded spiritual spouse and her lawyers. But there is none, and if, for the future, Ann Eliza lives sumptuously, and dresses in silks of India, it is pretty certain that the means therefor will not be obtained through lecturing, nor from the coffers of Brigham. Brigham is doubtless human, but he is too shrewd for Ann Eliza.

—Probably the largest count at cribbage ever made is reported by a Westport correspondent of the Norwalk (Conn.) Gazette, who says: A few nights since a remarkable game of cribbage was played by Mr. H. R. Treadwell and A. S. Hurlbutt, at the house of the latter. It was six-card cribbage. A regular deal was made by Treadwell, who discarded a six and four spot, and held three fives and the jack of spades for his hand. Hurlbutt discarded a six and four spot, retaining for his hand two fours and two sixes. The trump turned was the five of spades, which gave Treadwell twenty-nine in his hand, the largest number that can be held. Hurlbutt showed twenty-four in his hand, and in the crib was found twenty-four more for Treadwell. In the play ten holes were pegged, making the result of the play of one hand an aggregate of eighty-seven.

Idol Manufacture.

Birmingham, says Iron, until now has engrossed the doubtful honor of supplying with impartial generosity missionaries and Bibles to the more inquiring among the heathen, and idols to those who prefer to walk in the old ways. But from a paragraph in a Sheffield paper we learn that the sharp blades of Hallamshire have likewise been in the habit of thus making the best of both worlds. It appears that the Japanese, finding that the old forms at least, of heathenism do not fit well with the new civilization they are so eagerly adopting, are getting rid of their old gods. The Chinese have been called the English of the East: we may look upon the Japanese as a sort of Oriental Scotch; they are not throwing away their idols, but selling them. These are chiefly of metal, and of the precious metals in many cases, and the Mikado is making almost as good a thing out of his Reformation as Henry the Eighth did of his. It is in this way that we ascertain the birthplace of at least one of these discarded representatives of the gods of Japan, which is advertised for sale in the following terms: "For sale, at Kama-Kura a very fine idol, with six arms. It is fifteen feet high, and was cast in bronze at Sheffield."

—The Scientific American lately contained a letter from a correspondent, pointing out a danger to be found in cans used for preserving fruit. A mixture of lead and tin is sometimes used in the cheap cans, and the corrosive effects of the fruit upon the lead may result in lead poisoning.

Pulmocine Cordial.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE, CORDIAL

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

—USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

LAST CHANCE

FOR

An Easy Fortune!

A postponement of the Fifth Concert of the Public Library of Kentucky has been so generally anticipated, and is so manifestly in the interest of all concerned, that it must meet the approval of all. The day is now absolutely fixed and there will be no variation from the programme now announced. A sufficient number of tickets have been sold to have enabled us to have had a large drawing on the 31st July; but a short postponement was considered preferable to a partial drawing. Let it be borne in mind that

THE FIFTH GIFT CONCERT

IS THE LAST WHICH WILL EVER BE GIVEN UNDER THIS CHARTER AND BY THE PRESENT MANAGEMENT.

That it will positively and unequivocally take place as announced on

MONDAY, 30TH NOVEMBER, 1874,

that the music will be the best the country affords, and that

Health Regulations.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH of the City of Portsmouth call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10 of the City Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in the City to aid them in the execution of their duty.

CHAPTER 10.

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low-water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners or occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any state meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low-water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 8. The health officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other things deemed by them, on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said health officers, by any direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause the said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 19. The owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure shall be liable to pay the expense of the removal or destruction of any such nuisance or other thing, as aforesaid, including fees of the health officers who order or cause the same to be removed; and the same may be recovered by action to be brought in the name of the city.

SEC. 20. No person shall use or occupy any building in the compact part of the city for a slaughter-house, or for trying tallow, or for curing leather, or for the deposit of green pelts or skins, unless under such restrictions and regulations as the health officers may impose.

SEC. 22. Any person or persons who shall violate any rule or regulation, or commit any act forbidden in any section of this ordinance, to which no special penalty is annexed, shall forfeit and pay a sum not less than one dollar nor more than twenty dollars, to be recovered by complaint before the police court of this city.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick with the Small Pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the Small Pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers to the name of the city. m25 d3m

The Late Mary Ham.

G. H. Jenness, Esq., writes feelingly of the wretched life of Mary Ham, who died last week at Rye:

Gifted by Nature with more than ordinary intellect, and the sharpest of wit, she has retained her faculties to a remarkable degree; and up to the very hour of her final unconsciousness, could converse fluently upon events that took place eighty years ago. For many years past she has lived a sort of hermit life, except when visited occasionally by some friend or relative whose stay was not generally prolonged by a hearty welcome.

During her long life that has spanned nearly a century, she has seen its rougher side, and voluntarily shunning society and all social enjoyments, she has lived alone, in wretchedness and misery, and deliberately excluded all the kindly influences that would have ministered to her comfort. She has at times drank to excess, and been alike indifferent to public opinion and the personal comforts of life. The young she has often amused or terrified by "telling their fortunes," and has at times exorcised the demon of toothache. That she has been a poor, friendless, forsaken, and most unhappy woman, no one who has known her will venture to deny. To-day Death has kindly lifted the veil, and revealed the secret of her embittered life.

She was disappointed in love! Among the few personal effects which she left behind, was a package of well-worn love letters written more than sixty years ago. Her wedding outfit had been prepared and the day of her marriage appointed, but, alas! the man to whom she had given her heart proved false. The disappointment nearly crazed her and changed the whole current of her life. She became sullen and morose and lived in apparent enmity with all the world. Her subsequent marriage was not happy, and after her husband's decease she lived alone nearly all the time.

But through all the changing misfortunes of her life, her one great sorrow was never forgotten. It brooded like a shadow over all her subsequent career, and tinged with a darker hue all the finer sensibilities of her nature. She guarded her secret with jealous care, and her most intimate acquaintances of later years knew not of its existence.

Years came and went, but only to intensify the disappointment and grief of her youthful days. How many bitter hours of untold agony that poor woman has endured in her years of seclusion God only knows! I saw the surgeons remove with marvellous skill the brain that had so long racked with blistering thoughts, and saw them search with cunning hands for the hidden mysteries of her death, and thought that death in any form must have been to her a welcome visitor. She had surrounded herself with the mementoes of her disappointed hopes and treasured them until the day of her decease. The tattered quilt that covered her withered and emaciated form, was the same one that her skill had wrought to deck her marriage bed. The table and bureau and other parts of her wedding outfit stood conveniently near as a perpetual reminder of the shattered idol of her affections.

A knowledge of the great sorrow of her life may serve to explain in the minds of many, her peculiarities and strange conduct and cover them with a mantle of charity. Death has at last put an end to the sad romance of her existence and given her a rest in the sleep that knows no waking.

Readables.

The public debt was reduced $1,626,000 in August.

An unnatural marriage has recently taken place in Topsham, according to the Bath Times, the bridegroom being thirty-five years old and the bride eleven! "We are further told," adds the same paper, "that two clergymen refused to perform the marriage ceremony under circumstances so manifestly improper, if not unlawful. A third one was found however, who was less scrupulous in the matter."

Returns from the Vermont election show a republican majority of 20,000 for Judge Page for Governor. Col. Joyce, Ex-Gov. Hendee and Judge Poland, republicans, are elected to Congress.

Mount Ætna is again in eruption.

The Traveller remarks that the opposition to Gen. Butler in the Essex district has not strength enough to make a failure nor life enough to die.

The Attorney-General at Washington is in daily receipt of authentic advices from the South, confirming and emphasizing the political condition of the negroes, and tending to establish the theory of an organized conspiracy to intimidate the negroes for political purposes. A special consultation with the President on the subject has been decided on. What is to be done or what can be done by the government, is a serious question. The federal forces have no authority to enforce obedience to the laws except in a lawful manner. If troops are needed to suppress internal violence they must be called for by the governor of the State, of the President; but in no State has this been done.

The Christian Union of this week has a long editorial upon the Beecher case, which is a resume mainly of his life, character and work, as pitted against what it believes to be false accusations, and says Beecher showed himself in the whole matter lacking in wisdom, resolution and insight, and was a far wiser counsellor in other people's matters than in his own.

Captain C. C. Duncan, late superintendent of Beecher's Sunday school, has written a letter of sympathy to Frank Moulton, indorsing his course, and condemning that of the Beecher committee in their investigations. In conversation with a Brooklyn Union reporter Moulton said he fully realized that if he did not prove his assertions about Beecher he would be overwhelmed with public condemnation, and said he should not fail. He said he did not cease to shield Beecher until the latter called him publicly a deceiver and a false friend.

The Brooklyn Eagle in defending itself against the libel suit of Bowen, will summon Beecher, Victoria Woodhull, Tilton and wife, Moulton and everybody else interested in the most remote degree.

—Speaking of Knott of Kentucky and Phelps of New Jersey, who are likely to be returned to the next Congress, the Brooklyn Eagle thus compares the quality of their humor: "Through Phelps' humor glows the culture of the schools. Knott's is racy of the soil of the Blue Grass region. Phelps can point an epigram which will impale a man as a javelin would. Knott will tell a story against a man which will make him want to crawl into a hole and draw the hole in after him. The Jerseyman will show by something out of a book that his adversary is ineffably ridiculous. The Kentuckian will cite a crossroads instance to illustrate that his antagonist doesn't amount to what he calls a 'remote circumstance.' The razor of sarcasm is what Phelps kills with. The torpedo of anecdote is what Knott blows men to pieces with. Gentlemen both, Phelps and Knott ought to sit at either end of the house and forage, each in his own way, on all the fools and frauds between them."

Laconics.

Sam Sharpley comes to-night. The Watertown, N. Y., Times of June 16th says: "The performance of the inimitable Sam Sharpley was one of rare merit, and one of a class not usually found among the traveling troupes with which the country is at present swarming." The Cincinnati Enquirer says: "The entertainment is a quick succession of music, dancing, burlesque and attractive acts of sundry kinds, presenting a profusely liberal programme at popular prices, and in a style to captivate the million."

There will be a hop at the Sea View House, Rye Beach, Thursday evening.

The tract of land sold at Odiorne's Point embraces the spot where the first settlers in New Hampshire landed in 1623, and where the contemplated monument is to be built. This monument will probably be erected under the direction of a corporation, which will doubtless be chartered for the purpose by some future legislature, and it is to be hoped their receipts from patriotic residents and natives of New Hampshire will be adequate to a suitable commemoration of the early settlement of this memorable spot in the manner contemplated.

The coroner's jury in the case of Mary Ham, at Rye Beach, after a careful hearing of the evidence of the medical experts, rendered a verdict that the deceased came to her death from natural causes.

The democratic Solons having charge of the check-lists have posted them with 2424 names printed and written on. To show the injustice of the gerrymandering scheme we print the numbers of each Ward. Ward 1 check-list has 830 names; Ward 2 315; Ward 3, 547; Ward 4, 152; Ward 5, 417; Ward 6, 367; Ward 7, 296. Wards 1, 2, 5 and 7, having 1358 voters on their lists, are entitled to five of the ten aldermen; while Wards 3, 4 and 6, having but 1066 voters, are entitled to as many. Little Ward 4, with its 35 democratic majority and but 152 voters as registered, has one alderman, while Ward 5, with nearly 250 republican majority, and 417 registered names has but two aldermen. Ward 1, with 830 names, Ward 2 with 315, and Ward 7 with 296, have one alderman each, while Ward 6, with 367, has two aldermen. Ward 6 is the Irish ward.

Schooner M. B. Millen, Capt. Montgomery, which recently sailed from this port for Savannah, Ga., with hay, made the run from land to land in four days. Mr. Wadley, one of the owners, who went home to Savannah by rail as he could not spare the time to sail around, arrived there twelve hours after the schooner. The M. B. Millen was modelled by Mr. George Peirce, formerly of this city and now of Chelsea, Mass., and was built under his personal supervision.

M. T. Betton & Co. will to-day (Wednesday) sell by public auction the farm, stock, farm-tools, etc., of Mr. J. W. Whidden, in Newington. This farm is situated on the banks of the Piscataqua, and is one of the pleasantest places in this vicinity for a gentleman's summer residence; it is also most eligibly located for cutting up into a number of cottage-lots, being near the P. & D. R. R. station, and with good highways and pleasant drives in all directions. See advertisement.

Capt. Bogardus, the champion pigeon shooter, arrived in this city last evening.

Pulmocine Cordial.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE, CORDIAL is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges. LAST CHANCE

CHAPTER 10.

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such place as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low-water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners or occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten day from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low-water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 8. The health officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other things deemed by them, on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said health officers may by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause the said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 19. The owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure shall be liable to pay the expense of the removal or destruction of any such nuisance or other thing, as aforesaid, including fees of the health officers who order or cause the same to be removed; and the same may be recovered by action to be brought in the name of the city.

SEC. 20. No person shall use or occupy any building in the compact part of the city for a slaughter-house, or for trying tallow, or for currying leather, or for the deposit of green pelts or skins, unless under such restrictions and regulations as the health officers may impose.

The Black Hills.

[Boston Globe.]

The Black Hills are outlying portions of the regular Rocky Mountain chain, and lie between two and three hundred miles north of Sherman station, on the Union Pacific Railroad, and include an area of about seventy miles, situated between the forty-third and forty-fifth degrees, north latitude. The mountains seem to be drained by abundant streams, and intersected by valleys whose loveliness surpasses that of the cultivated gardens and parks of the Old World. They are described as wildernesses of flowers of the most gorgeous hues, lilies, roses, violets, geraniums, asters and others almost unknown in the East, of rainbow colored hues and fragrant odor. Wild fruits of every description are found in the greatest profusion; the forests are full of feathered game and streams of fish. In fact, accepting these highly-colored statements as correct, the valleys of the Black Hills might each be classed as a miniature Garden of Eden. Swift on the heels of these descriptions, however, come the declarations of old hunters and explorers who have penetrated the locality during the various seasons of the year, who, while acknowledging the natural beauties of the region, state that their existence is very brief, and that Winter reigns there supreme for at least eight months in the year.

But the most important result of the expedition has been the discovery of gold in deposits of extraordinary richness, the miners of the expedition who conducted the prospecting estimating many of them as capable of yielding $100 per day per miner. Should this statement be substantiated, the exodus of '49 will count as nothing compared with the influx of gold-seekers into the Black Hills country. The Government treaty will prove no bar to it; the savages would present no insuperable obstacle, and even the efforts of the United States government itself would be of little avail in stemming the overwhelming tide. Let the despatches just received from correspondents with the party be authenticated, and within the next twelve months 20,000 miners and adventurers will be encamped in the Black Hills. Should that happen, the future history of that section of the republic may be read in the past history of California.

—A communication to the Paris Academy condemns the use of shot in cleaning bottles, as practised in many households, on the ground that carbonate of lead may be formed in shaking them with water, and that some shot, with their not inconsiderable amount of arsenic, may possibly remain in the bottle.

A New Orleans dispatch says: Details of the atrocious murders in the Red River country give the crime a worse aspect even than was first reported. A messenger was deliberately sent ahead to arrange with the league of Caddo Parish—who have already perpetrated eight or nine known political assassinations within the last fifteen days—to intercept the prisoners. Of six white men slain in cold blood, four were Northern men who had settled here since the war and bought plantations or gone into business. One was the United States deputy marshal and another the United States Commissioner. All were of unexceptionable character, their only offence being their republican politics.

The Senate naval committee will report to Congress in favor of abolishing the navy yards at Washington and New London; the former because it is improperly located at a point difficult to reach, and the latter because, as alleged, it was stated as a political necessity. It is not expected that Congress will adopt the recommendations of the committee.

Barnum has treated his Philadelphia patrons to a first-class accident. In the ladies' flat race Miss Annie Yates, one of the most popular and dashing lady riders, was hurled to the ground through her horse slipping. The three ladies who were competing with her were compelled to jump their horses over her. The horses kicked her severely, and when she fell a number of gentlemen vaulted over into the track, and hurried to her assistance. The lady was carried into her dressing-room, and was thought to have been killed. She is slowly recovering, however.

Panics and their Result.

A correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune, has this to say about last year's panic, and this year's business:

A panic seems to be the natural sequel to several consecutive years of good business. During brisk trade with fair profits, men get into a habit of trusting each other, and soon of reposing confidence in unworthy persons, as the desire to sell and realize overpowers the judgment. Everybody is making money; therefore everybody can pay his debts. Sellers, instead of refusing to sell this customer, charge him "a little more to pay for the extra risk," without considering that "the little more" will ruin the customers and bring the loss home. All kinds of new enterprises are entered into to "salt down" surplus profits. The prospect of great gain brings hoarded money into active use. Credit makes a little money do much work; money, indeed, being used to settle a very small proportion of business transactions. Several men, keeping accounts in banks of discount, may all obtain enough ready money to enable them to carry, for many months, large blocks of merchandise or real estate, for which there is no sale, by accommodating each other with their signatures. A may get B's note discounted, B get C's, C get D's, and D get A's. Each note maturing a week or two later than the preceding, it is only necessary for A, B, C and D to keep enough money among them to meet one of the four notes, for as soon as one is paid, the process begins again.

In good times, bank expansion is very great, and, of course, prices go on advancing until somebody, who has been extremely reckless, finds it impossible to meet his engagements. Then comes a desire to test prices and the foundations of credit. It is soon discovered that there is not money enough to go around. The man who gave his note for $10,000 can scarcely obtain the amount at all, for every one else is trying to hold sufficient funds to meet his own notes. Discounts are only to be had with great difficulty. For borrowed money, securities have to be given for double the amount and those persons who cannot give them must go under. Of course, in a panic, there is always excessive fright, but this soon passes away and then there is a settling to the conviction that credit has enabled business and prices to exceed their proper bounds, and also that economy should be the rule. The natural recovery from a great crisis we believe to be very slow. In 1838, business seemed to have revived; the bank of the United States considered the troubles to be over, and became involved in cotton speculations. In 1839, the price of cotton was 16 cents; but in 1840 was 12 cents; in 1841, 11 cents; in 1842, 9 cents; in 1843, 8 cents. The price did not again reach 12 cents until 1847. The bank failed in October, 1839, and was followed by nearly all the banks in the South and West. The year 1843 was a very gloomy one, and the general revival of business did not happen until 1844.

What shall we say of the probable duration of our dull trade? A good harvest is expected, but the first effect of it must be a decline of prices of breadstuffs, and possible failures of dealers in them. The great English harvests of 1814 and 1815 precipitated a financial revulsion. While all agree that good crops are national blessings, yet their first effects are sometimes disastrous. There, too, is a prevalent idea that banks are rediscounting; that is, are carrying along their customers to enable them to wade out of their difficulties. The whole country is trying to practice economy; but everybody understands the hardness of the task, and that it takes time for a person or a nation to get out of extravagant habits. Of course, economy means future prosperity, but does it not also mean present dullness of trade? While the fall business should be somewhat better than that of the present summer, yet we cannot help feeling that a large business is not to be expected. * Our money is an uncertain standard of value, and there is a well-founded dread of the next Congress and its probable tinkering with the currency. We cannot see far enough into the future to enter upon ventures that take time for maturity. Perhaps we are really tending toward specie payments. If this be so, we should anticipate a further decline of prices, or at least no advance from the present low ones. Until we reach specie payments, or definitely agree that there shall be no attempt to reach them, we may hope for a little improvement in trade, but need not anticipate the volume of business that preceded the panic of '73.

Saratoga Talk.

The Saratoga correspondent of the New York Herald tells three stories. Number one: This morning I watched Commodore Vanderbilt as he walked down the balcony to join a whist party in the elegant private club-room built by the United States Hotel for its guests. The old railway king leans heavily on his cane, and walks as if this was his last summer at Saratoga. His weight goes heavily on one foot, the foot slides forward slowly, the cane feels its way ahead and then the body moves heavily and slowly along. When the octogenarian sits down his silver head leans forward, one hand rests on his cane, and the other falls on his knees. As he thus sits, a great crowd pass with reverential look.

The other day a little three-year old baby toddled up to the venerable Commodore as he sat leaning over, and smoothing her hand cautiously over the old man's silver hair, she said:

"Why, on has dot funny hair." Then, looking up into the Commodore's face, she inquired,

"What makes it so white?"

"Oh, the frosts of many winters turned it white, my little baby," replied the Commodore.

"Didn't it hurt ou?" asked the little thing in childish amazement. It was the first time she had ever noticed gray hair.

Number two:

Yesterday Mr. de Smith brought up some ladies from the Clarendon to attend the concert.

"Now you must expect to meet some villagers, but don't be afraid, you won't have to speak to them," said Mr. de Smith, as he walked out on the balcony. "Yes, there they are," whispered Miss Knickerbocker, looking contemptuously down at a lady and two daughters, "what common looking people they are, too! Dear me! what are these creatures permitted to come in here and mix with the guests for?"

"B—b—because, Miss Knickerbocker—aw, ah! do you mean those three ladies sitting right over there?" pointing them out to be sure.

"Yes, those common looking things by the middle window, Mr. de Smith."

"Yes, ahem! t—t—that's my w—w—wife and two d—d—daughters," stammered the suffering Mr. de Smith.

The elevator boy says the Clarendon ladies found another escort home.

Number three.

They tell a story of a high-stepping, airy member of the "swell" Knickerbocker Club who gets home from Morrissey's about two o'clock every morning. Last night he walked up to the elevator boy with one hand in his pocket and the other holding an English umbrella and asked:

"Aw, I say, boy, have all the idiots gone to bed yet?"

"Why, did you begin to feel lonesome," asked the boy.

Ravages of Predaceous Fishes.

This, Prof. Baird is quite satisfied, is a cause worthy of serious consideration, the principal offender being one blue-fish. No one who spends a season in the coast where this fish abounds can fail to have been struck with its enormous voracity, and the amount of destructiveness which it causes among other kinds of fish. Whenever it appears in large numbers it is sure to produce a marked effect upon the supply of other fishes, either by driving them away from their accustomed haunts or by destroying them in large quantities in any given locality. It is a pelagic or wandering fish, going in immense schools, and characterized by a voracity and blood-thirstiness, which, perhaps, has no parallel in the animal kingdom. The Professor says:

"The fish seems to live only to destroy, and is constantly employed in pursuing and chopping up whatever it can master. As some one has said, it is an animated chopping machine. Sometimes among a school of herring or menhaden thousands of blue-fish will be seen, biting off the tail of one and then another, destroying ten times as many fish as they really need for food, and leaving in their tracks the surface of the water covered with the blood and fragments of the mangled fish. The blue-fish range in size, when two years of age and over, from five to twelve pounds. I ascertained by a careful inquiry into the number shipped by the dealers along the shore that about a million and a quarter could be estimated as the number captured along through Vineyard Sound and on the coast from Monomoy Point through Long Island Sound, and sent to market in 1871. Any one who has seen these fish will judge that not one in a hundred is taken. If, now, we admit the presence of 100,000,000 blue-fish in these waters referred to, we may form some estimate of the number of fish destroyed by them. To estimate twenty per day as the number destroyed, if not devoured, by each blue-fish, is by no means extravagant, if we bear in mind the result of my own examinations and the tertimony of others. We all know that fish spawn and fish in different stages of growth constitute the principal source of food to other fishes in the sea, and that the great proportion of fishes devoured are of tender age. The blue-fish, however, will often attack species but little less than itself, and the 100,000,000 referred to probably destroy fishes of two or three ounces and upward; that is to say, those that have passed the ordinary perils of early life, and have a fair chance to reach maturity. Therefore, if 2,000,000,000 are eaten, the number destroyed off the New England coast in a season of one hundred and twenty to one hundred and fifty days can be easily estimated. No other sea coast than that of the Atlantic border of the United States can show, as far as our information extends, so destructive a scourge as the blue-fish, occurring in such numbers, of so large a size and of so massive a frame; able to cope with and mutilate, if not devour, any other fish of less size. Indeed, I am quite inclined to assign to the blue-fish the very first position among the injurious influences that have affected the supply of fishes on the coast. Yet, with all this destruction by the blue-fish, it is probable that there would not have been so great a decrease of fish as at present, but for the concurrent action of man, as we shall endeavor to show farther on."

Under the head of human agencies for destroying fish we must first consider the pollution of the water by poisonous agencies. These may consist of chemical substances, which exert a directly poisonous influence, or of mechanical objects, such as sawdust, which, it is said, gets into the gills of fishes, and ultimately causes their death, or, falling to the bottom, with edgings, bark, etc., covers up the gravel and destroys the natural spawning beds, and thus prevents the development of the eggs. These causes, however, apply essentially to rivers, and they exercise but little influence in regard to the fishes of the sea.

A Strange Life Ended.

[N. Y. Tribune.]

It has been ascertained from papers found among the effects of the German who committed suicide in West Hoboken, that the name Cuno Grossman, which was reported Saturday was only an assumed one. The letters show that the deceased was Carl Gerlich of Elberfield, Belgium, and that about 20 years ago he belonged to the firm of Gerlich & Greiff, proprietors of an extensive button manufactory, which furnished employment for several hundred persons. The partners quarreled about a lady, and this estrangemegt culminated in a duel which proved fatal to Greiff. Gerlich fled to this country, leaving behind him an estate valued at several hundred thousand dollars. On his arrival in New York he engaged in literary pursuits, and for a time managed to eke out an existence by writing for the German papers; but this seems at last to have failed him, and half a dozen years ago he took up his residence in Hoboken, obtaiuing work as a silk weaver in the factory there. Though his salary was small he remained until the business was suspended last Fall during the panic.

His evenings were spent in his one small room, and he made no friends or acquaintances, neither did he talk with any one except as much as was necessary to procure his supplies of food. His leisure time seems to have been occupied in painting, and though an artist of considerable ability, it appears that he placed no value upon his productions, and never attempted to sell them, but was accustomed to present a picture occasionally to persons whom he knew only slightly. His landlord, employer, and his paper carrier are mentioned among the recipients of these gifts, which were usually accompanied by a very politely written note. Nothing was discovered by which it could be ascertained whether his suicide was the result of destitution or loneliness, or disgust at the manner in which he was compelled to live in order to keep his residence a secret. The county physician, after viewing the body, was satisfied he died by his own hand, and gave a a permit for burial. On Saturday, Coroner Reinhard interred the remains in Potter's Field at Snake Hill.

The Stomach as an Avenger.

For every breach of the laws of health that we commit the stomach inflicts a penalty. Headache, biliousness, nervous tremors, constipation, colic, heartburn, nausea, debility and mental depression are only a few of the punishments which an outraged stomach is capable of imposing upon us. To bring back this vengeful organ to its normal condition—to placate, invigorate and regulate it—there is nothing in the wide world so potent as a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Under the operation of this beneficent vegetable corrective and tonic, the gastric juice becomes a pure and healthy solvent and resumes its natural flow. The effect is the same on the biliary secretion, and in fact on all the fluids of the body, and the final result is the removal of every painful or unpleasant symptom occasioned by the rebellious action of the digestive organs.

Local Matters.

REPUBLICANS—SEE THAT YOUR NAMES ARE ON THE CHECK-LISTS. IT IS AN IMPORTANT DUTY. DO NOT NEGLECT IT.

Democratic Janglings.

The fierce democracy is in a bad way. The tools of the party have gotten up queer looking check-lists on which are the names of persons who never had a shadow of a claim to vote here. Not content with this outrage, they have left off the names of 150 or more republicans about whose right to vote there should be no shadow of doubt. Fifty years' residence in a ward seems not to entitle a native born citizen to vote here, and one man who pays nearly $900 tax is ignored as coolly as if he had never been born. Old citizens who never have done anything in politics except to deposit a vote occasionally for the past twenty-five years, inspect the check-lists in vain to find their names. Students who go to Dartmouth college or some New Hampshire academy to complete their education, find themselves debarred by a law passed by the late democratic legislature from voting where they study, and return home to find that the democratic grog sellers who act as selectmen here keep their names off the lists on the ground that they are non-residents here!

But these infamous proceedings do not make the democratic heart happy. With all their delightful games of gouge, they find an uncompromising majority of 200 to 300 against them. Their only hope of getting control of the city is in carrying four wards—and the gentlemen they name for candidates for Mayor respond with a "No, I thank you," when approached with the offer of a nomination. J. C. Butler they slew boldly last year, Daniel Marcy was wrecked on the P. & D. R. R. rocks, Marcellus Eldredge doesn't care to be a target in a forlorn charge, Samuel W. Moses is too much of a temperance man, Nathaniel D. Miller is too keen to be used and George E. Hodgdon isn't quite the "Barkis" they desire. At the meetings of the committees, ill feeling and jealousy have predominated, charges of selling out have been made boldly and overheard on the streets and at last a sub-committee is found necessary to fix things. Precious band of brothers, united only for contemplated spoils—divided when they reflect that all cannot have a nibble! But they need trouble themselves a few days longer only. The decent men of the party are heartily ashamed, and after election day nothing will be left for the hungry crowd to discuss except the blindness which has thus far led them into more troublous places than they had anticipated.

Eben Simpson S. F. E. Co.,

Of Biddeford, will arrive here this (Thursday) morning in the 11:30 A. M. train, and will be the guests of Kearsarge S. F. E. Co., No. 3, of this city. Dearborn S. F. E. Co., No. 1, and Sagamore S. F. E. Co., No. 2, will do escort duty to the Kearsarges and their guests, the procession forming at 11 o'clock on Court street, right resting on Pleasant street, in the following order:

City Marshal, Detachment of Police, Chief Marshal Ira C. Seymour, U. S. Naval Band, Board of Engineers, Foremen of Companies, Dearborn S. F. E. Co., No. 1, Sagamore S. F. E. Co., No. 2, Kearsarge S. F. E. Co., No. 3, Marshal, Biddeford Cornet Band, Visiting Engineers, etc., Eben Simpson S. F. E. Co., No. 2, City Government, Press and invited Guests in carriages.

The route of the procession will be through Court, Pleasant, Congress and Vaughan streets to the Eastern Railroad depot, where the visitors will be received; thence through Elm, North, Prospect, Dennett, North and Elm streets, Railroad Avenue, Deer, Bridge, Middle, State, Pleasant, Congress, Islington, Union, State, Cabot, Middle, Court, Pleasant, Market, Deer, Vaughan, Congress, Pleasant and State streets to the Rockingham House, where a banquet will come off at 2 o'clock P. M.

At 3:30 there will be another parade, and at 7:30 an open-air concert on Market Square by the Naval Band, the following being the programme:

1. Overture Bronze Horse.....Auber.
2. Potpourri from Martha.....Flowtow.
3. Cavatina from Torquato Tasso.....Donizetti.
4. Wedding March.....Mendelsohn.
5. Firemen's Polka.....
6. World's Peace Jubilee.....Potpourri.

A grand Ball at Congress Hall commences at nine o'clock—music by Harlow's quadrille band.

At eight o'clock to-morrow morning, companies will form on State street, right resting on Pleasant, march to Pier wharf and embark on Steamer Appledore for Kittery Point, where the day will be spent in picnicking, witnessing boat-races, foot-races, and sack-races, and games of foot-ball will be improvised. The companies will return in season to partake of a collation tendered by S. F. Engine Co. No. 1, and take the 8:23 P. M. train for home.

The committee of arrangements, Messrs. Ira C. Seymour, Willard J. Sampson, Geo. E. McIntosh, Charles W. Coleman, Benj. Atwell, and Richard D. Smart, Jr., are doing all in their power to render the affair a memorable one in the annals of the fire laddies, and judging by their strenuous efforts to do so will succeed in their commendable designs.

An Infamous Outrage.

[Nashua Telegraph.]

Among the many partizan acts of the late partisan legislature there was one that was a peculiarly flagrant violation of the principle of local self-government. We refer, of course, to the act by which the local government of Portsmouth was wiped clean out, and the whole machinery of the city placed in democratic hands. At the last election a republican government was elected by the large majority of 350. There was no pretence that it was not efficient and honest, and it was elected for a year. By the high-handed act of the late legislature the term of all the officers was cut short by months, the city was outrageously gerrymandered and a new election ordered to take place on the second Monday of September. Nor was this all or the worst. By the provisions of the new act, the selectmen are not only deprived of their offices before their successors are elected, but their duties are arbitrarily conferred upon a set of men named in the act, and who are given the additional power of appointing moderators and clerks in place of the deposed officials.

One would suppose from reading the provisions of this act that the city of Portsmouth is a private corporation, owned by grantees named in the act, and who are empowered to run it and to use it for the benefit of themselves, their heirs and assigns forever. We have been innocent enough to suppose that the township system of New England meant something more than this. We had supposed the towns to be what De Tocqueville called them, "Little Democracies," with rights, privileges and powers that nothing could overthrow short of revolution. We have thought a city or town to be the beginning of sovereignty, and the County and State and Nation to be but the creatures of the townships. Perhaps we have been living in a delusion, but we still cannot overcome the impression that the sovereignty of a town or a city cannot be constitutionally or rightfully or safely bargained away by all the rest. It was for much less an offence than this that the heroic inhabitants of Old Strawberry Bank joined in the forcible protest against the arbitrary assumptions of George the III. and his obsequious ministry. We don't know what manner of, men live down on Old Strawberry Bank to-day, but we do know that they are unworthy the good repute of their ancestors if they do not indignantly resent by their votes at the coming election the arbitrary, unconstitutional and unwarranted exercise of power by which their local sovereignty was overthrown by the late democratic Legislature, which thus became the betrayer of the principle of Local Self-Government.

Laconics.

The republican caucus for the nomination of a candidate for Mayor will be held at the State street ward room next Tuesday from four to eight o'clock P. M.

On Saturday last, a woman came from Salem, Mass., bringing the dead body of a three months infant in a box in her lap. It was taken to a house in the outskirts of the city and afterward buried without ceremony in the North cemetery. It is rumored that a dose of quieting liquid caused the death of the child. The matter will be investigated.

About dark, Tuesday evening, a man named Jackson, living on Adams street in this city, was run over in Rye while walking towards home, by a team recklessly driven by two unknown persons, and left lying in the road. A physician was sent for and Mr. Jackson was taken into a neighboring house, where it was ascertained that his spine was severely injured. Fears are entertained that he will not recover.

The Great Eastern Circus and Menagerie will exhibit here to-day. There is a menagerie of animals, museum, and circus department. James Robinson and his two sons are the principal features. There is a trapeze performance, and a full troupe of vaulters and acrobats, etc. This establishment is claimed to be worthy of the attention of all circus patrons, and we have no doubt it will be liberally patronized. See advertisement.

The boat-race for $25 a side between Robert McFarland, a cooper in Jones' brewery, and Charles Hines, a cooper in Eldredge's brewery, will come off this evening at 6 o'clock.

—Progression is the watchword of the hour, but in Missouri, mothers haul their disobedient children over the knee, and strike the same old spot that the Romans did 3000 years ago.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

Persuading a Customer.

The following story is indicative of the sentiment of the California merchant on the subject of John Chinaman. The scene is laid in San Francisco. The merchant is calmly waiting for customers to drop in, when there appeared in the street a long column of Ah Sins and Chang Loos. Arriving in front of the store, slowly and with measured tread, they ranged them along the sides of the apartment when the following conversation ensues:

Chang Loo: "Have you got any cotton twinee?"

Merchant: "Yes."

"How muchee chargee?"

"A dollar a pound."

"I givee fifty cent."

"Git out."

And without another word being said on either side they departed as they had come. In about an hour the same performance was exactly re-enacted.

"Have you got any cotton twince?"

"Yes."

"How muchee chargee?"

"A dollar a pound."

"I givee seventee-five cent."

"Get out."

And with charming decorum they immediately got. Now the merchant was used to this sort of thing. The evil was one of long standing but the remedy was simple and easily applied. Sending out to a neighboring butcher shop for the loan of a cleaver, he serenely awaited the appearance of that happy band, for he knew they would come; oh, yes, they would certainly come again. Sure enough, he was not disappointed. But a little while, and all unconscious that they had been in that store before, or had ever in the course of their natural lives set eyes on that merchant, Chang Loo with a winning smile, interrogated.

"Have yon got any twinee?"

"Yes." (With wrath.)

"How muchee chargee?"

(Brandishing the cleaver.) "A dol—"

"I takee fifty pound," and the trade was consummated.

IRON IN THE BLOOD.

DYSPEPSIA. DEBILITY. DROPSY AND HUMORS,

PERUVIAN SYRUP

Makes The Weak Strong.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the ease of the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building upon an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy; from weak, sickly, suffering creatures to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

Pulmocine Cordial.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

—USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. LAST CHANCE

FOR

A postponement of the Fifth Concert of the Public Library of Kentucky has been so generally anticipated, and is so manifestly in the interest of all concerned, that it must meet the approval of all. The day is now absolutely fixed and there will be no variation from the programme now announced. A sufficient number of tickets have been sold to have enabled us to have had a large drawing on the 31st July, but a short postponement was considered preferable to a partial drawing. Let it be borne in mind that

THE FIFTH GIFT CONCERT

That it will positively and unequivocally take place as announced on

MONDAY, 30TH NOVEMBER, 1874,

Health Regulations.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH of the City of Portsmouth call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10 of the City Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in the City to aid them in the execution of their duty.

CHAPTER 10.

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low-water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners or occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten day from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low-water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 8. The health officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other things deemed by them, on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said health officers may by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause the said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 19. The owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure shall be liable to pay the expense of the removal or destruction of any such nuisance or other thing, as aforesaid, including fees of the health officers who order or cause the same to be removed; and the same may be recovered by action to be brought in the name of the city.

SEC. 20. No person shall use or occupy any building in the compact part of the city for a slaughter-house, or for trying tallow, or for carrying leather, or for the deposit of green pelts or skins, unless under such restrictions and regulations as the health officers may impose.

SEC. 22. Any person or persons who shall violate any rule or regulation, or commit any act forbidden in any section of this ordinance, to which no special penalty is annexed, shall forfeit and pay a sum not less than one dollar nor more than twenty dollars, to be recovered by complaint before the police court of this city.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick with the Small Pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the Small Pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall, for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city. m25 d3m

DR. WALKER'S

CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS

No person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond point of repair.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing the merit of being a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs, and in Bilious Diseases.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humor and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Grateful Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

A Long Leap For Life.

(Bangor Whig.)

Thursday morning last, a little red squirrel, having been pestered considerably by the lads about the sawmill of Eben Webster & Co., on Marsh Point, Orono, took refuge for life by running up the large brick chimney near the mill. By clinging to the corner he kept foothold so well that he succeeded in reaching the very top. Here he found himself upon the iron cap, 105 1-4 feet from the ground. As more and more of the waste stuff from the mill was added to the furnace the chimney grew hotter, and his situation became more and more disagreeable. He tried to descend from the side of the chimney, but after getting down a few feet gave it up, turned around and went back. By this time the chimney top had become so hot that he must leave it; so after looking about carefully for a few minutes, he evidently made up his mind that he must leap to save his life; and this he did, spreading out his legs and balancing himself so that he struck the ground about fifty feet from the base uninjured, and immediately scampered off and secreted himself under a pile of boards.

Readables.

The anniversary of the surrender of Sedan was celebrated throughout Germany Sept. 2.

Advices from Spain report additional attacks on Puycerda by the Carlists, who were repulsed with great loss.

The Ohio republican convention was held in Columbus Sept. 2. The present State officers were renominated and a platform adopted.

Goldsmith Maid again beat her own record at Mystic Park, Sept. 2, making a mile in 2:14. In the 2:28 race Lucille Golddust was the winner, and in the 2:38 James Howells. In the former Smuggler made a heat in 2:22. It is estimated that the trotting was witnessed by 12,000 people.

News is received that the British ship White Rose, from Quebec for Liverpool, was injured in a squall, and that two of her crew were killed.

The civil guards over Bazaine, who were arrested at Ste. Marguerite, on the charge of conniving at his escape, have been released.

A collision occurred between an express and an accommodation train on the Shore Line Railroad, near Mount Vernon station, Sept. 2, by which Conductor Franklin, the engineer and fireman and one passenger were seriously, and two other passengers less seriously injured.

There was a meeting of Boston's colored citizens in the North Russell-street church Wednesday evening, held to give expression to their indignation at the recent outrages in the South. Addresses were made by William Wells Brown, George L. Ruffin, J. J. Smith, E. G. Walker, and others, and resolutions were adopted.

Late news from Australia states that July 11, near Bird Island, the American barque Sierra Nevada and the brig George N. Peake came into collision. The latter sank instantly, but the officers and crew were rescued by the officers of the barque.

Ellen Delaney was drowned Sept. 2, at Peckham Beach, about five miles from Newport, while bathing. Her body has been recovered.

The steamer Tuscarora left San Francisco a year ago to survey the line and make soundings for a cable to Japan. The first attempt from Cape Flattery was abandoned on account of the lateness of the season, and she made soundings on and off Cape Flattery to San Diego. From that point she struck out for Honolulu, making soundings as she went. From Honolulu she proceeded to Yokohama by way of Bonin Island. The deepest water found on this line was 3287 fathoms. Two lines were started from the coast of Japan, but were abandoned on account of the great depth of water. The third line was found feasible, and a line was run to Roule Island, one of the Aleutian group; thence run to Gunalaska, and from there to Cape Flattery. The greatest depth found on this line was 5 1-2 miles.

Old Time Chronicles, No. 115.

By Uncle Joseph.

The Pilgrims who settled at Plymouth, Mass., in 1620, formed a compact for civil government on board the "Mayflower" before landing. It is dated Nov. 11, 1620, and signed by forty-one persons. The number that started on the voyage was 101; one died at sea, and probably all the males of age signed the document.

The great mortality that prevailed soon after commencing the settlement, and other reverses, prevented much attention to legislation for a time. The first General Court held commenced Oct. 19, 1630. Besides Plymouth there was Salem, and perhaps one or two other towns. Charlestown had settlers, and Boston was settled that year. Where this body assembled we do not know, but most likely it was at Plymouth. Democracy, strictly speaking, is a government by the whole people; and at this General Court, probably the men generally assembled. One of the enactments was that no one should be made a freeman unless he belonged to some church in the colony, and that freemen alone should have power to elect the Governor and his assistants. Four years later, that is in 1634, emigration had so increased that the freemen were so many that they could not easily assemble and it was arranged that representatives should be chosen to enact the laws. This was the beginning of representation for the enactment of laws. It became general in the land in process of time, and is one of the necessary peculiarities and conveniences of a free government. Under such a government the right of suffrage is a sacred one. Its prostitution and corruption by threats, rings and money bribes is a shame and disgrace.

That Particular Old Deadbeat.

[New York Clipper.]

The "deadbeat" has been so often written about that, were not his manifold peculiarities ever changing like the erratic figures in the kaleidoscope, he would grow wearisome not only in fact, but also in fancy. Endless are the changes that can be rang upon this old tune!

The deadbeat about whom I am impelled to offer a few consolatory observations to myself is the religious deadbeat. He comes in the shape of a special committee from the church or Sunday school, to manage the outside business of an entertainment for the pecuniary benefit of the organization. He is a business man, patronizes to some extent the local press, has run for aldermen (and got defeated,) is a leading member of his church, and is an enthusiastic guardian of the souls of the boys in the Sunday school. He has been selected for his especial mission because he is known to possess more unblushing effrontery and stolid impudence than any other male member of the church.

He sends into the newspaper having the largest and most advantageous circulation a two-stick programme—five black heads: "Just put this in the local." Next week come eight brief locals of from three to eight lines each: "And scatter 'em through the reading matter." While "charging up" these notices (at a reduction of 33 per cent. "because it is for the church,") the deluded publisher cheerfully stows away an ounce of tobacco in his off cheek, and slings 'em a good "local notice" from his own pen.

Day of entertainment comes around. In walks old impudence and shoves out four tickets (admittance, 30 cents,) and carelessly remarks:

"You've nothing against us, have you! I told 'em you wouldn't charge us anything for those little notices, because it's for the Sunday school, and our treasury is pretty low just now."

The local, who is sitting around, engaged in the arduous duty of giving character to the establishment, suggests to his venerated senior that "the programme was published two weeks," etc.

"Oh! well, I know!" says Beatey; "but I don't think we'll make much, anyhow; and our church has always given you a good deal of printing, you know; and next time we'll give all our printing to you." (The bills and tickets for this occasion, by the way, were printed at the only other two offices the little city contains.)

The senior editor, who is a man of deep piety, and whose anxiety for the souls of those dear little Sunday school children is only equalled by his admiration for "leading church-members," looks vexed and subdued, all at once; and after meditating upon the number of business men who are members of this church, whom he will array against him by an adverse decision, reluctantly says:

"Y-es, it's all right; there's nothing on the book." (Mem.—A fib. There is just $5.25 charged for these very notices.)

Then Old Piousty departs congratulating himself upon his "cute" management and the amount he has saved his pet society, and the added length of time he has staved off a contribution from his own pocket.

—A Troy barber has invented a chair which automatically registers every person who sits on it. The keeper of a shop can thus ascertain if his barbers are honest during his absence by comparing the number of times the chairs have been occupied with the receipts of the cash drawer. The nervous man who comes in and tries each of the chairs before deciding where to sit will be less welcome now than ever.

The Stomach as an Avenger.

For every breach of the laws of health that we commit the stomach inflicts a penalty. Headache, biliousness, nervous tremors, constipation, colic, heartburn, nausea, debility and mental depression are only a few of the punishments which an outraged stomach is capable of imposing upon us. To bring back this vengeful organ to its normal condition—to placate, invigorate and regulate it—there is nothing in the wide world so potent as a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Under the operation of this beneficent vegetable corrective and tonic, the gastric juice becomes a pure and healthy solvent and resumes its natural flow. The effect is the same on the biliary secretion, and in fact on all the fluids of the body, and the final result is the removal of every painful or unpleasant symptom occasioned by the rebellious action of the digestive organs.

REPUBLICANS—SEE THAT YOUR NAMES ARE ON THE CHECK-LISTS. IT IS AN IMPORTANT DUTY. DO NOT NEGLECT IT.

Virtuously Indignant.

The Times of Wednesday, referring to the wholesale manufacture at Manchester of democratic voters from foreigners, to take part in the coming municipal election in this city, waxes virtuously indignant because certain republicans whom it playfully designates as "a custom-house pap-feeder, a city policeman, a vote manufactory tool, and a dodger from one party to the other," went up to Manchester to try and prevent the successful carrying out of frauds in naturalization which it was known would be attempted if no opposition was promised. It says they went up "to object to the naturalization of men every way as good citizens as themselves and of a great deal more principle," and calls it "dirty work." As no objections would have a feather's weight in preventing the aforesaid "good citizens" from receiving their naturalization papers if they were really entitled to them, we don't see what the democrats have got to get mad about; and if fraudulent naturalization of aliens was intended, we fail to see how opposing it is "dirty work."

The facts are that the democrats intended naturalizing aliens who had no right to receive citizenship, of which ineligibility the republicans were aware and of which those who went to Manchester carried proof,—the result being that the claims of at least nine of the proposed democratic candidates for citizenship were not presented to the court! We had been promised eighty "new democratic citizens" of foreign birth, but only thirty-one applications were made, thanks to the vigilance of the staunch republicans who ferreted out evidence enough to terrify the democratic fuglers from even attempting the intended fraud. But among those whose claims were put forward were several marines, simply enlisted men, who never had a home in this city and probably never had one anywhere else in the United States, yet who are to vote here at our coming election if their papers are issued. One of these men claims a residence at a grog-shop on Bridge street, while another is domiciled in a Water street public house. As an offset to this generous granting of voting privileges to foreigners, a native of Rye who has lived for fifteen months in Ward Two has had his name kept off the check-list, and a native of Kittery who has lived in Ward One for eleven months is also told he cannot vote,—probably because neither of them has been naturalized, though possibly because both are republicans,—the democratic selectmen asserting that they have no right to vote except in their native towns!

The Manchester Mirror of Thursday says that but ten of the applicants were naturalized, and that the others have got to appear in person before they can pass.

Laconics.

The Great Eastern Menagerie and Circus came to town Thursday forenoon, the street show being somewhat of an opposition attraction to the firemen's parade. The performers were gorgeously dressed, in costumes representing ancient warriors, kings, and other beings with whom we never had any personal acquaintance, and among the processionists on foot were an elephant, a buffalo and two camels. The steam piano sounded like the grandfather of all hand-organs, tho' its music was far from unpleasant. The counter attractions of the pigeon-shooting tournament and the firemen's reception and ball no doubt kept away many who would otherwise have gone to the circus, but it was well attended afternoon and evening, for all that.

Damon Lodge No 5, Knights of Pythias, of this city, has invited King Philip Lodge of East Boston, Squamscot Lodge of Exeter, Olive Branch Lodge of Dover and Mavoshen Lodge of Biddeford to visit this city and have a grand jollification on the 17th of this month. There is no doubt all will accept, and the Damons will put their guests through in good style.

The various attractions offered in this city on Thursday brought in from the country a great number of visitors, and seemed to bring nearly all the resident population on the streets also. There was a big crowd on Market square when the firemen were getting ready to move, the circus procession crossing the square just at that time.

On Thursday, during the passage of the circus through the streets, a lady from a neighboring town had her pocket picked of a pocket book containing a dollar and valuable papers. A boy of nine years, employed by Miss Augusta Head to stow away wood, stole a pocket book and contents, and was endeavoring to elude the police at last accounts.

Sam Sharpley's Minstrels gave a good entertainment to a very good audience, Wednesday evening. The programme was faithfully carried out, and there is considerable fun in it. A pleasing and commendable feature in Sharpley's management is that there are no long stops between the various incidents, the business going right along from the start,—which is "on time"—until the curtain finally falls, allowing the audience to see the whole show and yet get out at a reasonable hour.

M. T. Betton & Co. on the 2d inst. sold at auction, to Mr. B. S. Mathes of this city, the Whidden farm in Newington, the price realized being $4500,—a good bargain, we should say. This property is on the bank of the Piscataqua river and the line of the P. & D. Railroad, the railroad station being within two minutes' walk of the farm house; good fish can be caught in the proper season from the rocks on the river bank, the water being quite deep close in shore in some places; and one of the prettiest spots on the whole river is a heavily shaded cove which makes up into Mr. Mathes' land, and has for many years been a favorite resort for knowing parties of picnickers.

Ned Coffin astonished a crowd imbibing liquids at a hotel bar, Thursday, by walking his colt through the office and up to the bar. When asked what he would have, pony shook his head, remarked neigh, and sloped for a purer atmosphere.

Mr. Samuel Peirce of Kittery Point, employed in the construction department at the navy yard, met with a very serious accident on Thursday forenoon. By the breaking of a plank on which he was walking, he was precipitated a distance of twelve or fifteen feet into the timber dock below, striking with great force upon the timbers sunk there. He was rendered insensible by the fall and would have drowned but for the assistance of a companion, who succeeded in holding his head above water until more help arrived, when he was taken on a stretcher to the Hospital and cared for by the Yard physician. He was still insensible when our informant left the Yard, and the precise extent of his injuries could not then be ascertained.

Mr. Charles E. Berry of this city met with a painful and serious accident at the Trotting Park on Thursday, while acting as a "picket" at the pigeon-shooting tournament. He had fired his gun (a muzzle-loading double-barrel) at pigeons which had escaped the match shooters, and was reloading the second barrel when the first one went off, blowing away three fingers and a portion of the thumb of his right hand, and the tip of one finger of the left. Mr. Berry is not a member of the Sportsman's Club, the rules of which prohibited any one from having a loaded gun inside the Park enclosure, unless actually engaged at the time in a match.

Mr. Joseph W. Bell won the gold badge of the Sportsman's Club at the shooting match, Thursday.

Two marines who were coming from Dover Point to this city in a boat, on the evening of the 2d, were capsized by running into Portsmouth bridge and narrowly escaped drowning, one of them being insensible when picked up.

"Equitably Divided!"

The Times seems to be disgusted with the CHRONICLE for printing the figures of the check lists, as prepared by the democratic patentees of the plan for making two democratic votes superior to three republican ones, and says:

It is conceded by fair minded men of both parties that in the size of territory and number of voters the city has been very equitably divided, more so than was this or any other city of the State under Republican rule.

We thought it pretty rich when the Times printed the platform of the Louisiana democratic convention as proof that the democrats of that section were not attempting (and did not intend to attempt) to deprive the freedmen of their political rights,—the memory of the way in which the democratic legislators of New Hampshire violated every pledge made in the convention platform being still fresh enough to indicate the exact value of democratic pre-election promises; but that talk about "fair-minded men of both parties" and "equitably divided" is richer still. Capt. Marryatt, the English naval writer, once said that the London cock-sparrow had never been equalled for cool "check" until he was surpassed by the British midshipman, who could never be beaten in that line,—which shows that Marryatt was not acquainted with American editors of democratic proclivities. What an "equitable division" that is which is intended to give four-tenths of the voters sixtenths of the representation! which piles a republican majority of 250 into one ward and gives to its 417 registered voters two aldermen, while 152 voters is considered abundance for one alderman in a ward with an estimated democratic majority of thirty-five! and which gives one alderman to a ward having 296 voters, because it is a republican ward, while 367 other voters have two aldermen on account of their ward being considered democratic! The figures which we printed and which so roused the ire of the Times were taken from democratic sources,—the registered vote of each ward from the check-lists prepared by the democratic selectmen, and the number of aldermen to each ward from the gerrymandering act of the democratic legislature. But we don't wonder the Times is angry at our printing them, as no keener argument against the folly of trusting the democratic party in power can be given, than a plain statement of the facts connected with this precious instance of unscrupulous knavery on the part of the tricksters who rule the democratic party in this city.

The Eben Simpson S. F. E. Co.,

No. 2, of Biddeford, arrived here on the 11:30 A. M. train, Thursday, and were met at the depot by Kearsarge S. F. E. Co., No. 3, Dearborn S. F. E. Co., No. 1, the city government in carriages, and other invited guests. The visitors were escorted to the Rockingham House, where a banquet came off at 2.30 P. M. Among the guests of the occasion were Ex-Mayor Wedgewood, City Marshal Costello, officers Donovan and Abbott, Ex-Capt. John R. Pike of the Ebens, Ex-Chief Engineer Brooks, Aldermen Wardwell and Ham, Councilmen Irving Smith and Chas. Smith, of Biddeford; E. H. Piper of the Portland Advertiser, Capt. Newhall of Concord, Capt. C. H. Laighton of Portland and others.

Foreman Ira C. Seymour presided at the banquet and after all present had done justice to the viands he called on Hon. Marcellus Bufford, who welcomed the visitors as follows:

Mr. Foreman and members of Eben Simpson Fire Company:

I regret that the Mayor of Portsmouth, who was expected to address you at this time, is unavoidably absent from the city and that you are debarred from hearing him here. It is a poor compensation to you for the loss of his earnest and inspiring words that I, in consequence I suppose of holding a subordinate municipal office, have been invited to take his place.

And still in my poor way and in behalf of my fellow citizens I extend to you a cordial welcome to our city.

We welcome you as citizens of a neighboring city—a young, vigorous, thriving city,—with whose people we whose home is more quiet and venerable ought to become more intimately acquainted.

We welcome you as the especial guests of our own Fire Companies, whose good services here and abroad demand our respect and esteem; and we want you to understand that whoever the Kearsarge boys invite here are received as the city's guests, and that our good feelings toward them will be extended to their friends.

We welcome you as in a manner old friends; for we remember you were here three years ago, and gave a good account of yourselves at that great and splendid gathering of firemen which was the object of so much interest to us.

We welcome you pre-eminently as Firemen—as members of an organization perhaps the most valuable—certainly the most devoted and self sacrificing of any body of men in our day,—whose time—whose strength—whose lives even are ever ready for a struggle with the dread element, fire.

There is a propriety in thus tendering a civic welcome to a body of Firemen from a neighboring city; for there is no certainty that we may not—indeed there is a constant liability that we may—have occasion to invite you in the hour of our fear at any moment to visit us; and we know that if such an occasion should occur you will be here as soon as the wires can carry to you the message and the iron horse can bring you back.

Mr. Foremen and gentlemen—an old and good saying is, "short talks make long friends." We hope you may find your visit agreeable, and that you may enjoy it so heartily that it will be a pleasant memory to you in time to come.

John E. Rider, Esq., was introduced as toast master and read the following toasts:

1. The President of the United States.

Responded to by U. S. Naval Band with "Hail to the Chief."

2. Biddy Ford—a good old lady who squat on the banks of the Saco. May her life prove long and her children healthy.

Hon. E. W. Wedgewood, Ex-Mayor of Biddeford, responded in a well-considered speech of ten minutes, in which he thanked the Kearsarges and the citizens of Portsmouth for the kindly reception, saying that his first glimpse of New Hampshire scenery was old Chocorua. He became early acquainted with Portsmouth, its harbor and its people, and had come to almost worship "the old town by the sea." It brought tears of pleasure to be present and he wished to add his appreciation of firemen to the testimony already given. Firemen are educators of the public, conservators of property and the lives of men. For this noble reception he desired to thank every one engaged in the demonstration. The memories of such occasions would linger long. He regarded Portsmouth as an extraordinary child in its infancy which had proved fruitful, active, and intelligent. The sunset of life gave him mystical lore and he predicted a continued friendship between the friends so well met to-day. The band then played a lively air.

3. Our City Government; generous to the Protectors of the Common Interest.

Responded to by Alderman Garrett.

4. The marriage of the Kearsarges and the Eben Simpsons, celebrated by a silver tea service. May they never apply to be divorced.

Response by Alderman Ham of Biddeford.

5. Concord Fire Dep't. The pride of our capital. The envy of their neighbors. Their reputation second to none.

Response by Capt. Newhall of Concord, who thought the Ebens were never more lucky than when they fell into the hands of the Kearsarges. He hoped the Biddeford boys would go to the Capital when they again left home. There are not so many odd corners as in Portsmouth, but there is room for a good march.

6. The Broom Trade. Lively when the Ebens are 'round.

Response by Alderman Wardwell, followed by music.

7 The "Modocs" of the East. When danger threatens their lava beds they are as difficult to dislodge as their prototypes of the West.

Responded to by Capt. Leighton of Portland, "chief of the Modocs," who spoke wittily, inviting all to come down as the "Modocs" take no scalps.

8. The twin cities of Maine. The double blank for Reporters.

Response by E. H. Piper of the Portland Advertiser.

9. The Press; ever ready to record and do justice to the acts of Firemen.

Response by Chas. W. Gardner of the Boston Journal, who said:

My duties are those of a reporter, whose business it is to sit quietly in some obscure corner and note what is passing, speaking through the silent medium of the types rather than by the vocal utterances of the lips. A departure from this accustomed sphere is fraught with danger to me as well as to my audience. The peril to me, lies in the fact that having not the gift of extemporizing, I may break down and thereby bring ridicule upon myself, while the danger to my hearers is the production of a nervous feeling that always attends those who sympathize with a speaker through fear that he will make a failure; and I think too that prosy speeches are apt to sit upon one's mind like a hearty dinner upon the stomach of a dyspeptic—bringing distress and its kindred feelings. I cannot however refrain from congratulating those present for this pleasant social occasion, or to compliment our guests for the orderly manner in which they deport themselves and the Kearsarge boys for their discrimination in selecting such guests to entertain. If you will allow me I will close with this sentiment:

The Press; As our Firemen are the bulwark of our safety from the fire-fiend, so may the Press be always true to the right, and thus be the bulwark of our freedom.

The festivities here closed, but Ex-Capt. Pike of the Ebens sprang to his feet and after a feeling speech which we regret we have not room for, presented the Kearsarges with two massive silver trumpets. Capt. Seymour was too much affected to put his feelings in words, and the Ebens interposed "three cheers and a tiger" for the Kearsarges and as many more for the citizens of Portsmouth. Ranks were formed and the procession again took up its line of march. Many houses were decorated with bunting and flowers. The residence of Chief Engineer Marston was elaborately decked in bunting, the handiwork of Mr. D. Webster Barnabee being evident. At the banquet a beautiful floral harp, presented by Mrs. Charles Weaver, attracted general attention.

At 6 o'clock the collation tendered by Dearborn S. F. E. Co., No 1, was served up in the hall of the engine house, the members of the company and numerous handy assistants looking after the comfort and convenience of their many guests. The hall presented a very handsome appearance, the firemen and their lady friends having decorated the walls beautifully with flags, evergreens, pictures and flowers. Two tables were laid the full length of the hall, loaded with a profusion of good things and ornamented with numerous large bouquets of flowers, the general effect of the whole being as pleasing to the eye as the viands were to the palate. The efforts of the Dearborns to add to the pleasures of the visiting firemen were eminently successful, the friendly eagerness shown to do honor to another company's guests being creditable to themselves and the department. Their "collation" was really a splendidly gotten up feast.

The Marine Band gave an open air concert on Market square as previously announced, commencing at about half-past 7 o'clock. A judicious selection of operatic and popular music was performed in the band's best style, and served very agreably to fill up the time between the collation at the engine house and the ball in Congress Hall. The crowd on the square during the concert was very large, as it is pretty sure to be whenever the Marine Band plays.

The ball after the concert was largely attended, and everything passed off in good style. Congress Hall was handsomely ornamented with flags, mottoes, pictures, etc., and with the bright uniforms of the firemen and the many tasteful dresses displayed by the ladies, relieved by the more sombre colors of the "civilian's" costume, made a very pleasing scene. Harlow's quadrille band furnished the music,—good, of course,—and dancing was kept up until about 3 o'clock Friday morning, when the party broke up to make ready for the day's programme of fun.

This morning the firemen take steamer Appledore for Kittery Point, where the day will be spent in picnicking, witnessing boat and foot-races, playing foot-ball, etc., the party returning in season for the visitors to leave for home at 8:23 P. M.

IRON IN THE BLOOD.

DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, DROPSY AND HUMORS

PERUVIAN SYRUP

Makes The Weak Strong.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protoxide of Iron, in combined as to save the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to save the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building upon an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

Ayer's Hair Vigor.

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

Ayer's Hair Vigor, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy action, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair re-grows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resumes its original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the Vigor is prized for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and value, for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

AYER' SARSAPARILLA,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia and Mandrake with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which severy prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. Ayer's Sarsaparilla expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Obstructions of the Liver, Stomach, Kidney, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism and Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa Arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure, health returns.

Pulmocine Cordial.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE, CORDIAL

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,

Relieve Your Lungs.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Disease. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of Pulmocine Cordial gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

—USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents."

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges.

LAST CHANCE

FOR

A postponement of the Fifth Concert of the Public Library of Kentucky has been so generally anticipated, and is so manifestly in the interest of all concerned, that it must meet the approval of all. The day is now absolutely fixed and there will be no variation from the programme now announced. A sufficient number of tickets have been sold to have enabled us to have had a large drawing on the 31st July, but a short postponement was considered preferable to a partial drawing. Let it be borne in mind that

THE FIFTH GIFT CONCERT

That it will positively and unequivocally take place as announced on

MONDAY, 30TH NOVEMBER, 1874,

Health Regulations.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH of the City of Portsmouth call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10 of the City Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in the City to aid them in the execution of their duty.

CHAPTER 10.

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low-water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners or occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten day from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low-water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 8. The health officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other things deemed by them, on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said health officers may by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause the said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 19. The owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure shall be liable to pay the expense of the removal or destruction of any such nuisance or other thing, as aforesaid, including fees of the health officers who order or cause the same to be removed; and the same may be recovered by action to be brought in the name of the city.

SEC. 20. No person shall use or occupy any building in the compact part of the city for a slaughter-house, or for trying tallow, or for currying leather, or for the deposit of green pelts or skins, unless under such restrictions and regulations as the health officers may impose.

SEC. 22. Any person or persons who shall violate any rule or regulation, or commit any act forbidden in any section of this ordinance, to which no special penalty is annexed, shall forfeit and pay a sum not less than one dollar nor more than twenty dollars, to be recovered by complaint before the police court of this city.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick with the Small Pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the Small Pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city. m25 d3m

Navigating With a Kite.

The experiment of using a kite as the power for drawing a boat across the Sound, was attempted at Bridgeport, Conn., on Tuesday morning, by Mr. John F. Tracy in the presence of a large number of people. A cord, attached to a large kite which he constructed for the purpose, was fastened around his leg, and then he and another gentleman, seating themselves in a small rowboat, prepared to go kiting over the water. The wind was almost directly from the north, and therefore favorable for the experiment. The kite soared majestically aloft, and pulled the boat after it at such a rate of speed that a sailboat which was along to keep them company was soon outstripped. When about a mile from Seaside Park, the starting point, Mr. Tracy, finding the cord around his leg becoming painful, unfastened it to attach it to some part of the boat, an arrangement which he should have made at the outset, and in spite of his exertions it pulled from his grasp, and the aerial monster dropped into the water. He then returned to the city, procured a large ten-foot kite which has been made by Mr. W. W. Harrall, who is now sojourning at the White Mountains, and made a new start for the journey across the Sound. His departure was watched with eager interest; but toward night the wind lulled, and it is more than likely the feat was not successful. On the return of Mr. Harrall his plan will be adopted, and the novel scheme carried out.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 1874.

The Brooklyn Celebrities.

[N. Y. Herald.]

It is altogether a gallery of remarkable people that the scandal drama makes known to us—an uncommonly queer lot. Romances and novels are tame by comparison in their displays of this sort, for here nearly every one sketches his own picture in, and sketches it with unconscious fidelity. Beecher, Tilton and Moulton are not the worst products of our civilization, and, indeed, the famous pulpit orator seems to carry himself in the whole transaction with more decency and dignity and with more of all the good qualities of humanity than some of the innocent ones whose sensibilities are outraged at his offence. His attempt to strike down Moulton at the last is in the passion of the story; for it is a fight for life and he must perish or ruin that witness. And if he is guilty, if he has yielded to temptation as Grandfather Adam did, it was a natural temptation, and though to fall in that way be unpreacher-like, it is not inhuman; while some in the story who are not on trial must fall as Satan did, never to rise again, because their sin is that they nursed and encouraged in their hearts a fiendish malignity. How innocent, relieved by such a vice, is the mind of this poor erring woman, who chatters with so little restraint about her "love babe!"

Not the least remarkable of the figures in the story are Messrs. Bowen and Storrr, whom we class together not because there is any natural resemblance between them, but because they equally deprecated exposure and equally seem animated by an interest that may perhaps not unfairly be described as malevolent. Beecher gives the portrait of Mr. Storrs. He calls him "hollow and faithless"—a man who makes "tactical" expressions of affection; but who has a "game," which is to force Tilton and Beecher into conflict that they may destroy one another, while all the time he seems actively eager to prevent the conflict. He will use Tilton as a flail to strike at Beecher. Do they have these kind of men and hold them in high honor in the churches? Storrs, it seems, knew this whole story through and through—knew all the secret, and was the rival preacher of a rival church; and he is evidently contemplated by Beecher as a man who was resolved not to lose so grand an opportunity to remove from the field a man by whose transcending genius for the pulpit he was himself overshadowed and nullified. Here is a figure that gives the story one of the elements of the Grecian tragedy. But this lofty hate, if it exists, should not gloat in its triumph too obviously; for other offences are denounced in the Decalogue as well as adultery.

If Beecher was in any manner whatever in Storrs' way, and if Storrs has any reason to feel satisfied with the general results of the exposure, this can not be true of Bowen; for though we may, in the light of all the facts, conceive him as well satisfied that Beecher's reputation should be damaged, because Beecher's talents as a writer and the eclat of his name made other men's papers prosperous, we cannot suppose that he can be pleased to have had the story go so far as to show his own proportions in it. Not Mrs. Tilton, not even Shearman, has less reason to be satisfied with the figure they cut than this man Bowen. If you have had a quarrel with a distinguished writer, in which he accuses you of endeavoring to wrong him in your accounts, and thenceforth refuses to contribute the articles that made your paper salable—if, in the bitterness of resentment at his accusations and the impending ruin of your paper, you accuse him savagely of immoral practices, and then, when brought face to face, sneak away with infinite cowardice, or try to lick the hand that spurns you, whoever you may be you may surely count that thenceforward all men and women who love uprightness, boldness and generosity will turn away from your very name with loathing.

Woodhull, the profane priestess of an unclean doctrine, is one of those who appear in the story as eager only to profit by the possession of the secret. With her it is a traffic. She has wares to sell, and she wants the indorsement of a man whose name is well known to the effect that the wares are good and serviceable to his certain knowledge. She is regarded askance by the decent world, and how shall she overcome that? Ah, if she can get this Beecher, this man whose name is a tower of strength in all the moralities, who can darken the common sense counsel of the popular mind with the brilliancy of peculiar knowledge, to come on the same platform and introduce her, commend her, vouch for her, her point will be gained, her doctrine will be examined on fair terms, her wares will have a ready market, and with this purpose in view she uses her knowledge of this secret to force the preacher to her level. If he comes down she will hold her tongue; if he does not come down she will blurt it all out. These are the terms, clear and simple. But he was the stronger; for he could see that to come to her level was just as bad as to have it all out, while when it did come out her platform was a very bad vantage ground from which to fight the consequences of such a story. But she caught the feeble Tilton. He had the common aversion, too; but upon personal acquaintance she impressed and conquered him. How this points with fresh circumstance the old moral that we "first endure, then pity, then embrace!"

Then there is the spasmodic Sam. Wilkeson, who pops up with a grand remedy, which includes Jay Cook and the Northern Pacific Railroad, of course. Tilton is annihilated as a writer for the religious press, but he shall take the platform. A national debt may be a national blessing or it may not; but if Tilton goes on the platform and lectures on the glories of the Northern Pacific Railroad and is paid both by the public and by Jay Cooke, his time is coming and a "good time." How the blue fire burns in his fancy with pink edges!

There is the mother-in-law of the case in characteristic outline—less outraged, apparently, at the ruin wrought by the fall from virtue than at the miseries traced to the conduct of the husband. Her daughter is not crushed to her, and she has no heroic fury to fulminate against the seducer; but her daughter is in want and the husband is to blame. How picturesque is the contrast with the general tone of the story of this woman's querulous complaint that her daughter has been left without servants, "for the last three weeks with one indifferent girl." Yet with what unconscious pathos and force she turns suddenly from her homely querulousness to the main point in these words to Beecher: "Do you know when I hear of your cracking your jokes from Sunday to Sunday, and think of the misery you have brought upon us, I think with the Psalmist, there is no God?" How this touches the chord of the common thought! And even here the touch is characteristic. It is not the offense that overcomes her patience, but the fact that the offender has the heart to laugh after it; and with all this, "I thought the least you could do was to put your name to a paper to help reinstate my brother," who, it seems, had been turned out of the Custom House. That service will go a great ways as balm to her wounds; and, in giving this poor woman's letter, a malicious pleasure seems to have been felt in retaining her slips in orthography, as if the only notice it was worth while to take of her was to say that she could not spell correctly. If those who spell better had thought and felt as well—as near to the line of homely everyday duties—how many pangs would have been spared!

Then there are two other Beechers, Mrs. Isabella Beecher-Hooker and Mr. Thomas K. Beecher, and the husband of the former. The invalid husband is afraid the world will not like his wife's letting him go abroad alone, and is concerned to put the subject in a good light and tells how it may be done, and the wife believes that the most important thing in the world is for her brother Henry to declare for free love if he believes in it, and she has a plan by which that may be done, and so they move all through, each with his own impulse.

But the strongest figure in the whole gallery is this "Dear Tom," who told them twenty years ago they were all wrong, and who protests "against the whole batch and all its belongings." Here is a man who has preserved the Puritan downright honesty:—"In my judgment Henry is following his slippery doctrines of expediency, and, in his cry of progress and the nobleness of human nature, has sacrificed clear, exact, ideal integrity." And this man, who abhors the doctrines of Woodhull, prefers her to his brother, as a hero to a coward, because she preaches what she practices and he does not. In his view hypocrisy is the one great sin, and sincerity and out spoken honesty the noblest virtues of life; and this we take it is pretty good gospel.

Readables.

As the result of the recent conference between the Attorney-General and the President, in regard to the southern outrages, an order has been issued to United States marshals and attorneys in the turbulent districts to proceed to the detection and punishment of the offenders, for which purpose the services of United States troops are to be made use of when necessary. Governor Kellogg of Louisiana offers by proclamation a reward of $5000 a head on all the persons implicated in the Coushatta butchery, and makes a statement of the facts of the outrage, which throws the whole responsibility on the white league.

The Louisville Courier-Journal cries out: "We give it up. There was a chance that the next House of Representatives would not be radical. That chance is gone. The outbreaks in Kentucky and the massacre in Tennessee settle that much. No people, no party could stand under such a load as the people of the South and the democratic party of the North are forced to carry."

State News.

Referring to camp meeting Sunday at Alton Bay, the Rochester Courier says: "Five or six thousand people listened to the 'preached word,' while fifteen or twenty thousand other people didn't serve God much, but wandered from place to place; some were on the placid waters of the Winnepesaukee, others lounged around the depot and wharf, while 'the woods were full of 'em' who had come to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season. If one-third of the people served God, and the other two-thirds served the devil, whose day was it? That's what we want to know."

George N. Kimball of Exeter, seaman on board of the brig David Owen, on the 28th of December last, on the passage from Philadelphia to France, fell from aloft during a storm and was instantly killed. His age was 30.

The saw and shingle mill belonging to Mr. Clay, in the north part of Candia, was burned on the 22d ult, about half past nine o'clock. It is thought that a young Irishman, who had been arrested for stealing a watch and escaped from the officers to the woods, set fire to the mill in order to draw away the crowd that was in search for him.

At Hopkinton a few days ago William Spofford, seven years old, was so badly injured during a playful squabble with two other boys that his life is despaired of. The injury is located in his spine.

A few days since William Leighton of Dummer went out for blueberries on the mountains in the rear of Starkwater station, and brought home three bear skins. The bears, mother and two cubs, were shot with a revolver.

The Stomach as an Avenger.

For every breach of the laws of health that we commit the stomach inflicts a penalty. Headache, biliousness, nervous tremors, constipation, colic, heartburn, nausea, debility and mental depression are only a few of the punishments which an outraged stomach is capable of imposing upon us. To bring back this vengeful organ to its normal condition—to placate, invigorate and regulate it—there is nothing in the wide world so potent as a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Under the operation of this beneficent vegetable corrective and tonic, the gastric juice becomes a pure and healthy solvent and resumes its natural flow. The effect is the same on the biliary secretion, and in fact on all the fluids of the body, and the final result is the removal of every painful or unpleasant symptom occasioned by the rebellious action of the digestive organs.

REPUBLICANS—SEE THAT YOUR NAMES ARE ON THE CHECK-LISTS. IT IS AN IMPORTANT DUTY. DO NOT NEGLECT IT.

Democratic Juggling.

We have referred to the attempts made by democratic tools to ensure a democratic victory at the coming election, and this morning commence the publication of a few facts gleaned from the republican executive committee. The most glaring outrages have been perpetrated in the first and sixth wards. The check-list of the first ward was prepared by Samuel Spinney, a fact that needs no comment. The list in that ward shows an attempt to disfranchise some of the oldest residents of the ward, and very singularly all the disfranchised persons are republicans. We ask candid men of both parties to inspect the list and judge for themselves. The following are the names stricken from the list:

Frank Amee, 21 years old, and has resided in the Ward for ten years past.

Frank A. Colley, 22 years old, 15 years in the Ward, in the same house.

Alex. H. Dennett, born in the Ward and never moved out of it.

Manning Emery, son of James W., resided four or five years past in the Ward continuously.

Albert W. Ham, with exception of a few years resided forty years in the Ward, for five years past continuously.

William F. Ham, 2d, son of Albert W., was a legal voter at the last election and had home with his father.

Clinton D. Hayes, son of Daniel, 23 years of age, home always been with his father, although away at work.

Willie England, became of age in season to vote last March, has made his home with his uncle on North road for eight or ten years.

Fred and George Hoyt, sons of Phineas, both of age and living in their father's house on Woodbury street.

Howard Frisbee, resides in house with Daniel J. Ayers, in the Ward eighteen months.

M. Henry Magraw, of firm of Wilson & Magraw, resided in Ward more than six months.

James Magraw, resided six years in the Ward.

Henry P. Rogers, son of George, resided continuously in the Ward with his father for ten years past.

Benjamin Powell, resided a year past in the Ward.

Emery Grindell, North Street, resided there for the past year.

George and John Turner, resided in Ward eight years and one year respectively, on Islington road and Creek street. Both voted there last Spring.

Joseph Waine, resided for the past twenty years in the Ward.

John Warburton, resided in the Ward for the past twenty-five years.

Mark H. Wentworth, has claimed Ward One as home since the city was incorporated and voted there.

Joseph Drew, ten years past in the Ward.

William Stringer, ditto.

William Shannon, old homestead farm, Gravelly Ridge, has been a voter in Ward One where he was born, ever since Portsmouth became a city.

The following names of foreigners were put on the list before they were naturalized:

John Mayers, John Woods.

The following names are on twice:

Chas. Emery, Geo. A. Emery.

The following named persons on the list are not legal voters in the Ward:

Warren Holmes, has family in Lawrence.

Charles J. Hines, has resided in the Ward but four months.

Harry J. Freeman, resides on Cass street, Ward 4.

John A. Tucker, resides in Ward 4, Peverly Hill Road.

Frank P. Banks, resides in Hanover street, Ward 7.

Edmund Beane, a legal voter in Newington.

Samuel Dennett, ditto.

Albert P. Pickering, resides in High street, Ward 7.

Ephraim Pickering, resides in Ward 4, Peverly Hill road.

Ed. P. Sherburne, has resided out of the city the past year.

Wesley W. Tucker, not six months in the Ward.

Frank Upton, not six months in the Ward.

Jere. Dacey, has family in Maine.

Henry S. Murch, has family in Ward 5, Cabot street.

Edward Randall, not been in the State six months.

* Patrick Shields, but two months in the State.

* William Hughes, moved here from Boston three months ago.

Gustavus V. Fox, Ex-Asst. Secretary of the Navy. Resides in Washington.

* Edward and * James Fitzpatrick, reside in Ward 2 with Robert Laden on Cabot street.

John Fitzgerald, resides in Sudbury street, Ward 2.

William Cartledge, resides in Deer street, Ward 2.

There are a dozen names of others on the list unknown to any of the old residents of the Ward, and also unknown to a majority of the Selectmen.

In Ward 5, the following republicans have been left off the list:

Joseph A. Maloon, Cabot street.

Thomas and Richard May, have resided on Church street since the Penhallow street fire.

James and Edward Hickey, Union street.

Grosvener Dunn, six months in the Ward.

Charles Palmer, ditto.

William Davis, son of John M.

George and Francis Hersey, Union street.

Daniel Righton, Chas. P. Eldridge, John Edwards, legal voters in the Ward.

John Yeaton, son of Moses, nearly two years in the Ward.

Richard Tompson, Jacob Tilley, legal voters in the Ward.

Chas. O. Tiffany, residence at Rockingham House with father.

Dr. James D. Spalding, John and Onsville E. Pray, William Pray, Frank F. Gerrish, John H. Miller, Albert C. Lynn, John E. Johnston, temporarily absent and paying tax here.

James H. Hurd, Union street.

Albert C. Plummer, Church street.

James Wingate, Fleet street.

There are two analogous cases in this ward—those of Frank Rundlett, democrat, and Frank F. Gerrish, republican, both temporarily absent. Rundlett's name is kept on the check-list, Gerrish's name is left off.

Ward 6 vies with Ward 1 in rascality. We have not been furnished with a descriptive list of republicans who are left off, but give the names as given us. As posted, the check-list has 49 names of persons who have no legal right to vote, having moved out of town, are under 21 years of age, or have not been naturalized. Thirty-eight well known republicans, who have a legal right to vote, are left off the list—one being the secretary of the republican ward committee and another one of the heaviest tax-payers of the city. Here is the list:

Jonathan M. Tredick, tax this year $863.

A. E. Watson, residence State street.

Stephen Rand, Jr., residence with Pay Director Watson.

George E. Wingate, State street.

Oliver Hanscom, Sheafe street.

Hall Varrell, house burned and temporarily absent from Ward.

James R. Connell, Sheafe street.

Lucius M. Hardy, absent at college, legal voter in the Ward.

Plumer D. Norton, legal voter in Ward for three years or more.

Frank Philbrook, Thos. Hough, Geo. W. Randall, Chas. W. Randall, George F. Randall, Francis Drann, Daniel Earing, Dennis Flynn, Albert Goodwin, Jeremiah Long, Daniel Sheehan, Benj. F. Marden, John Marden, John T. Mortimer, Joseph Taylor, Thos. Worth, Edward E. Vaughan, Abram Johnson, Edgar Morse, Edward Weeks, Chas. L. Glines, Ammi Knowlton, Haskell Brown, Michael Murphy, Benning Moore, George Barrell, Chas. A. Benson.

The persons acting as Selectmen will not have a very easy time of it on election day if they do not give more evidence of fair play than circumstances thus far indicate. Republicans believe that the names of old residents have been omitted from the lists for the purpose of expending the time appointed by the Selectmen for their correction, in placing on the names we have recorded, thereby preventing the erasure of scores of names of persons already placed there illegally, who have not a shadow of a right to vote. We hope every republican whose name is omitted will be at the first meeting of the selectmen and not only demand that justice be done, but enforce that demand in the most convincing way possible. Were the election to be held with the check-lists in their present condition no sane man could expect the day to pass peaceably. We warn the democratic leaders that their tools are going a little too far in their illegal work, and such mischief is brewing as will tend to make the day of reckoning one long to be remembered.

* These are brewers' coopers.

Ye Anonymous Scribbler.

Messrs. Editors; If the democratic bummer who employs his time in flooding the city and county with anonymous scribblings, thinks for one moment that he is unknown he is much mistaken, for his writings contain passages peculiar to himself only. His diction and orthography are as well known as the red rudder-shaped nose he wears on his ugly face. My advice to him is to attend to hammering granite, and to be careful of his future conduct or he may be obliged to pursue his avocation for the benefit of the State. A RECIPIENT.

Minstrel Entertainment.

Duprez & Benedict's New Orleans Minstrels will perform at the Temple, Monday evening, Sept. 14th; with such popular and artistic Ethiopian stars as Lew Benedict and a regiment of others, the entertainment cannot fail to be one of the rarest merit. It is proverbial that Duprez and Benedict never fail to draw crowded houses. They introduce a new system for selling secured seats. Their popular prices of admission are fifty and thirty-five cents. No extra charge for reserved seats is made if bought before the day the concert is to take place. Reserved seat tickets sold ten days in advance at 50 cts. each. For sale at Preston's. On the day and evening of the entertainment reserved seat tickets will be 25 cts. extra. Secure your reserved seat tickets and avoid the extra charge.

Laconics.

Elder E. A. Stockman will preach tomorrow in the Advent chapel on Hanover Street. The public is cordially invited.

Two promising colts belonging to Mayor Miller have been missing for several days and it is surmised that they have been stolen by gypsies. A liberal reward is offered for their recovery.

A change is to take place in the management of the Rockingham House. Mr. James S. Peirce, who has been proprietor and manager since the house was opened after being rebuilt, has sold his interest in the furniture, etc., to Hon. Frank Jones. It is not yet known who will succeed Mr. Peirce.

That Great Eastern Circus wouldn't fare very well should it return to Portsmouth. The evening performance was less than forty minutes in length and wasn't worth two and three-quarters cents.

On Friday, the Kearsarges and Eben Simpsons with the Naval and Dirigo Bands, and invited guests, took passage in steamer Appledore for Kittery Point, where they had a grand picnic and a day of jollity. Various games were improvised and sailing and rowing parties, bathing, ballplay, races and music made the time pass quickly away. Late in the afternoon, the picnickers returned, greatly pleased with the fun they had enjoyed. Dearborn S. F. E. Co. No. 1 took them in charge and gave them a collation, and after a short parade, the 8.23 train took to Biddeford as delighted a company of firemen as ever set foot on Strawberry Bank. At the picnic, a burlesque boat-race came off, Capt. Hooper of the Ebens winning the first prize, a tin trumpet of huge proportions. The second prize, a pumpkin, was awarded to Engineer Heady. A common earthen pitcher was given to John Ashe, as the third prize.

A writer in the Chicago Tribune says of the Appledore proprietors: "Cedric and Oscar keep all the friends who once learn their sterling virtues and homelike hospitalities, and add yearly many more."

"The boys" are in for a day of sport on Thursday next, to take place at Hampton Beach. A clam bake and horse trot are the principal features. Our old friend Dumas still holds out at Boar's Head and has done more business this summer than for any previous season. The cooking at his establishment is not excelled on the coast, and with reduced prices and the excellent attention to the comfort of guests it is not at all surprising that this famous resort is so well patronized. We know of no better way to spend a day than to ride to Boar's Head and devote ten hours to the amusements offered there. One can never tire of the scenery, and nowhere can fried clams be so daintily prepared.

The First New Hampshire Cavalry will hold its fifth annual reunion at the Sea View House, Rye Beach, Tuesday next. A large attendance is anticipated; and mine host, Lougee, will provide for the wants of the inner man in his accustomed generous and hospitable style.

At the ladies' fair at Little Boar's Head, to raise funds for the building of a union chapel for worship at that place, over $300 was netted, which increases the fund for the purpose to upwards of $400.

City Council.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, sidewalks were granted G. W. Shackley, William Conn and Justin V. Hanscom, to be laid by them under direction of the street commissioner and committee.

The State street ward room was granted to the Knights of Pythias for Sept. 17th.

Leave was granted John Stokell to encumber Market street for building purposes.

Sidewalk was granted to Joseph W. Neal and relay was granted to Frances Neal, on Daniel street.

A few days since Otis Perham, of Lyndeborough, fell backward from a cart in which he was trying to lift up a stone, and badly injured himself besides breaking one of his ribs.

Cyrus Clough killed a rattlesnake in Weare one day last week.

As a horse and wagon were descending Mill Hill in Wilton the girt broke, letting the wagon against the horse. The animal ran down the hill, and the wagon came in contact with the flagman's house at the crossing, and the seven children in the wagon were thrown out, one of whom had a collar-bone broken. The rest escaped unhurt.

A Milford man has sold from his farm the present year one thousand five hundred and seventy-two quarts of blueberries, realizing therefrom $167.61.

Mr. Geo. Bradford was fined $10 and costs, for fighting a Mr. Furbush of East Rochester, nor is the trouble likely to stop here, as Mr. F. claims that he had two ribs fractured or injured and will commence an action for damages.

REPUBLICANS—See that your names are on the check-lists. It is an important duty. Do not neglect it.

IRON IN THE BLOOD.

DYSPEPSIA. DEBILITY. DROPSY AND RUMORS

PERUVIAN SYRUP

Makes The Weak Strong.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, in so combined as to have the character of an ailment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. Increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, imparting strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building upon an iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

Ayer's Hair Vigor.

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strong; thinned, lost hair re-grows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resumes its original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

AYER' SARSAPARILLA,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia and Mandrake with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism and Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure, health returns.

Pulmocine Cordial.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the presing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

—USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All inventors, for a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges.

Health Regulations.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH of the City of Portsmouth call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10 of the City Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in the City to aid them in the execution of their duty.

CHAPTER 10.

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low-water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the ground. And the owners or occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten day from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted so throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low-water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 8. The health officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other things deemed by them, on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said health officers may by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause the said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 19. The owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, shall be liable to pay the expense of the removal or destruction of any such nuisance or other thing, as aforesaid, including fees of the health officers who order or cause the same to be removed; and the same may be recovered by action to be brought in the name of the city.

SEC. 20. No person shall use or occupy any building in the compact part of the city for a slaughter-house, or for trying tallow, or for carrying leather, or for the deposit of green pelts or skins, unless under such restrictions and regulations as the health officers may impose.

SEC. 22. Any person or persons who shall violate any rule or regulation, or commit any act forbidden in any section of this ordinance, to which no special penalty is annexed, shall forfeit and pay a sum not less than one dollar nor more than twenty dollars, to be recovered by complaint before the police court of this city.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person with his family is taken sick with the Small Pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the Small Pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

— San Franciscans are indignant because highway robbers nineteen years of age and upward are sent by the courts to the industrial school for boys, and are thus given an opportunity to contaminate the minds of the young men who have been placed there for killing Chinamen and other boyish offences.

— H. G. Struve, Secretary of Washington Territory, enlisted in New York in 1853 as a private soldier for the term of five years, and deserted from the service in California. He is now holding high office, though of course liable at any moment to be returned to a military guard house as a deserter from the regular army.

—As a very pretty girl asked a young man on a Maine railroad on a recent morning, if the vacant seat by his side was engaged, after saying "No, miss," he highly appreciating her beauty, unconsciously said, "Are you?" She so pleasantly and promptly replied, "No, sir," that the agreeable conversation which followed for ten miles leads him to hope for a better acquaintance before his season ticket expires.

—A New York writer is sharp on Newport. There, he says, "the love of nature has dwindled into the love of yachting; the swelling of the soul in the presence of ocean's majesty has degenerated into swelling along Bellevue Avenue. Along a narrow street in midsummer days, fast horses, showy equipages and richly-dressed women daily abuse those hours of leisure which should be given to the majesty of the ocean and out-door exercise of the muscles."

The British marquis of Ripon not long since resigned the office of Grand Master of Masons in England, and now it is said he has turned Catholic.

The French barque Coromandel went ashore at Bagdad, Mexico, in a gale on the 4th, broke up in two hours, and eleven men perished.

A large school of blackfish, some of them weighing two tons or more each, were driven ashore at Truro, Cape Cod, on the 3d, by the people. There were about thirty of the fish.

On Saturday a drunken physician, belonging in New London, Conn., emptied his revolver among the passengers of a steamer running from New York to Port Jefferson, badly wounding one man. That was the drunkard's idea of fun.

The chief of police of Hazelton, Pa., was murdered by a drunken German on Friday night.

The Indianapolis News wonders that the negroes, who are always the ones to suffer in every case of collision with the white "chivalry" of the South, should always be the aggressors. It says: It is a queer feature of all these collisions that we always hear of the arrest of the "leaders of the negroes," never of those of the whites. Another queer feature is the fact that the negroes always begin the difficulty somewhere. If there is but one darkey among fifty white pistols he is sure to begin the row, and then he is killed. A squad of two or three negroes have repeatedly provoked bloody conflicts with whites enough to riddle them like a cullender. But the whites never do such a thing. They are always peaceable, prudent, patient, and bear a great deal of "nigger sass" before they draw their insulted weapons and go to shooting in the name of pure blood and white man's honor. This is the way the story always comes from the South. We suppose it is true, but we may suggest that it is queer the negroes should be so quarrelsome and bloodthirsty, and the whites so long-suffering and humble. What is the explanation?

A despatch from Baltimore says that nearly every vessel arriving there recently from the West Indies has had yellow fever on board, and the experience of some crews has been terrible. The brig H. E. Wheeler left Sagua, Cuba, with all hands except the captain and cook sick. On the voyage they too were stricken and the vessel left to drift at the mercy of the winds and waves with the helm lashed, until two men recovered sufficiently to navigate her. During the voyage the mate, Daniel Westcott of Portland, and seaman John Patterson of New York, died. The brig Castalia, from Havana for Baltimore, is reported in Hampton Roads, with all hands down, several having died on the voyage. While at Havana, previous to August 16, the fever carried off every man on board but the captain. A second crew was shipped, who have met nearly the same fate. A very strict quarantine exists at Baltimore.

Advices from Spain report another ministerial crisis. Marshal Zabala's cabinet has resigned, and Senor Sagasta will form a new ministry. The Carlists have abandoned the siege of Puycerda. Reenforcements are to be sent to Cuba soon.

The War department is active in its preparations to carry out the President's instructions in regard to the employment of troops to maintain order in the South. The destination of the troops is to be left to the department commander. The President is said to be very much in earnest in the employment of the military arm of the government for this work.

Adam Kajanski has commenced a suit against the Brooklyn Eagle, with damages at $5000 for libel, and it is stated that Bowen is projecting another $100,000 suit for a libel in Friday's edition of the same paper.

"Brother Tom" Beecher has explained his letter in which the suspicious passage occurs about "Henry's doctrines." He has not had two hours' talk with his brother for twenty years, and does not remember ever talking with him on marriage, divorce, the relation of the sexes or female suffrage. Their divergence of views consisted in his brother's disposition to believe in human nature and making haste to go with every popular movement. He assumed that he was going with the "movement" which "Isabella" favored, solely on her representations, which he accepted to avoid a controversy and for the purpose of dissuading her from a foolish act. He has no doubt of his brother's truth, purity, honor and piety, and never had.

Gen. Sheridan has sent the following order to Gen. Terry, who is stationed at St. Paul, Minn.: "Should the companies now organizing at Sioux City and Yankton trespass on the Sioux Indian reservation you are hereby directed to use the force at your command to burn the wagon-trains, destroy the outfits, and arrest the leaders, confining them at the nearest military post in the Indian country. Should they succeed in reaching the interior you are directed to send such force of cavalry in pursuit as will accomplish the purpose above named. Should Congress open up the country for settlement, by extinguishing the treaty-rights of the Indians, the undersigned will give cordial support to the settlement of Black Hills. A duplicate copy of these instructions will be sent to the general commanding the department of the Platte."

Members of the Austrian polar expedition, for whose fate grave fears were felt, have been heard from. They were shipwrecked and took to sleighs, in which they succeeded, after a long journey, in reaching the Norwegian island of Wardoe. After abandoning their ship the party travelled 700 miles in sledges and two winters were passed on the ice. The highest point reached was in latitude 80. A large tract of land was discovered to the northward of Nova Zembla. The expedition arrived at Wardoe on a Russian boat. Only one death occurred during the entire voyage.

A bear weighing 475 pounds was shot on Israel's Mountain, near Sandwich Center. He had been depredating upon the sheep in that neighborhood for some days.

The town of Epping has purchased a hand fire engine for $800, from the town of Medford, Mass.

The house of the pastor of the Unitarian Church at Dover was entered while the family were away enjoying a vacation and a few articles stolen. The valuables were deposited in a place of safety, and the thieves got but little for their pains.

A terrific hailstorm passed over Woodstock on the 30th ult. The hail fell for about an hour, and covered the ground to a depth of four inches, in one place to a depth of fifteen inches, the hailstones being very large. Fields of corn were completely husked.

The village of Grafton has sent out three murderers within twelve months. The first is Thomas Cahill, now on his way from Ireland to this country, accused of the murder of Bridget Landregan; Cahill was in the employ of a farmer at Grafton and bore a good reputation. McKeasley, who helped a son to murder his own father in Providence, a few weeks since, was formerly a painter there; and William McLaughlin, who murdered Craig at Keene, was recently employed in the currier's shop of A. & A. Bigelow.

The coroner's jury in the case of Mrs. Abby A. Glover, who was burned to death, August 26, when her house at Exeter was burned, has returned a verdict of "death by misfortune."

The grand jury reported for Hillsboro County forty-nine indictments; eleven cases of larceny, eleven of adultery and fornication, and no liquor cases.

The barn and L of the house of Wm. H. Darrah of Bennington were destroyed by fire Thursday evening at about 7 1-2 o'clock. Loss $1500; partially insured.

The Stomach as an Avenger.

For every breach of the laws of health that we commit the stomach inflicts a penalty. Headache, biliousness, nervous tremors, constipation, colic, heartburn, nausea, debility and mental depression are only a few of the punishments which an outraged stomach is capable of imposing upon us. To bring back this vengeful organ to its normal condition—to placate, invigorate and regulate it—there is nothing in the wide world so potent as a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Under the operation of this beneficent vegetable corrective and tonic, the gastric juice becomes a pure and healthy solvent and resumes its natural flow. The effect is the same on the biliary secretion, and in fact on all the fluids of the body, and the final result is the removal of every painful or unpleasant symptom occasioned by the rebellious action of the digestive organs.

REPUBLICANS—SEE THAT YOUR NAMES ARE ON THE CHECK-LISTS. IT IS AN IMPORTANT DUTY. DO NOT NEGLECT IT.

That Pigeon Shoot.

So much reproach has been cast upon the S. P. C. A. for not putting a stop to the late "pigeon shoot," that a few words of explanation are necessary. It is not true that the society were indifferent to the matter. On the first report that such a meeting was to be held, one of the officers went to Boston, to consult with the agent there upon the subject, and learned that both in Massachusetts and New York it had been found impossible to make the law take cognizance of the matter. That this should be so, or that men usually humane should declare themselves unable to see the cruelty of this "noble" sport, seems unaccountable, when we have the testimony of eyewitnesses to such facts as this,—that after a similar shooting match, from 50 to 100 birds, all more or less mutilated, were found huddled together on a barn in the neighborhood. Under the circumstances it was thought necessary to abandon the idea of taking legal measures, and the society was forced to confine itself to sending an agent to the ground, to watch that no bird was left wounded and suffering there. A large number of our most prominent citizens signed a protest against this demoralizing amusement, which (the daily papers being unable to publish it) was printed and posted up in the public places. This protest served at least to show the feeling of the better part of the community, though its effect was necessarily only a moral one. Although in this case, as in many others, the society has been unable to do all that was desirable, yet the public do not know how large an amount of work has really been accomplished; nor can outsiders easily imagine how much difficulty and opposition the officers have to encounter. Let us then be pardoned if we ask for a little more sympathy and a little less captious criticism, from those who watch our proceedings without putting their own shoulders to the wheel. A MEMBER OF THE S. P. C. A.

That "Equitable Division."

We have already briefly commented on the remarkable statement of the Times that "it is conceded by fair minded men of both parties" that the this city is "very equitably divided" by the democratic gerrymander,—"more so than was this or any other city of the State under republican rule;" but we think that text will stand to be sermonized upon a little more. "Under republican rule" the number of wards in this city was never altered, and the boundaries were changed but once (and then very slightly) from the original democratic laying out, the boundary line between two wards being straightened. Three wards was the number,—two of them republican and one democratic. At the last election the governor vote in these wards was as follows:

Ward One—total, 840; republican, 532; democratic, 291; scattering, 17; republican majority, 224.

Ward Three—total, 453; republican, 194; democratic, 249; scattering, 10; democratic majority, 45.

From the above showing we fail to see where there was any injustice—at least to the democracy—in the old division of the city. That the republican majority in two wards amounted to 415, while the democratic majority in the third ward was only 45, does not savor very strongly of injustice to the democrats in the city's division; and when it is considered how very easy it would have been for the republicans to have swamped the democrats of Sebastopol by throwing a hundred or more of the surplus republican majority of the other wards into Ward Three by a trifling gerrymander, the ludicrous mendacity of the Times' assertion is apparent. What the democrats would have done had they had the power as long as the republicans did, —how much "equity" they would have dealt out to the republicans,—is well indicated by what they have recently done and are still trying to do.

The same figures give a good answer to the democratic charge that the republicans did not allow them a fair share of the representation, for Wards One and Two, with a total vote of 1675 and a republican majority of 415, sent eight representatives to the legislature, while Ward Three, with a total vote of 453 and a democratic majority of 45, sent two. The two republican wards sent eight-tenths of the representatives, and lacked just 137 of throwing eight-tenths of the total vote of the city. In municipal representation the democratic ward has had much more than a fair show; for while Ward One, with 840 voters, and Ward Two, with 835, had each but three aldermen and four councilmen, Ward Three, with but 453 voters, had two aldermen and three councilmen. If there was any injustice anywhere it must have been in Ward Three; and of that ward the democratic "equitable dividers" have not disturbed the boundaries!

Celia Thaxter.

Truest, because most loving of all the poets of the Isles, is Celia Thaxter, the child of the sea, the gray rocks' own nursling, cradled almost among the billows, and hearing ever resounding in her ears the ceaseless lullaby of ocean. How as a child of five years she went, with her father and mother, and brother, to the lonely isle, and lived and loved its every rock, and flower, and bird, and insect, and watched every cloud and shadow on sea, and sail, and cliff, and day by day yearned and longed, and durst not venture to utter in words the wonderful thoughts which stirred within her soul, she herself has given us glimpses in her delightful book, "Among the Isles of Shoals," and in her poems. It is marvelous, the minute, painstaking affection with which the lovely girl studied and watched the scanty, as most of us would call it, life—vegetable, and animal, and human—around her; how each bit of moss, the little sand-piper on the beach, the floating spar, became to her a rich store house of visions and phantasms; and also how she noted every peculiarity of crag, and coast, and fish, and bird, and beast, —cultivating a power of faithful observation such as many of the most book-and-society-taught students lack and would give much to possess. It interests me much now to recall my first sight of Celia Thaxter, before she had become known to fame, and while she still lived comparatively unknown at Appledore. We were spending a week—a party of merry young people, cousins and friends—at the Appledore House, then kept by Mrs. Thaxter's father, Mr. Laighton,—now by her two brothers.

The father's history was interesting, and the subject of much speculation to the loungers about the hotel-verandas and halls. He, it seems, was a disappointed politician, and, disgusted with the thanklessness of the dear people, had fled the world, and tried to live in solitude in these wilderness wastes. But somehow, though he would not go to the mainland, the mainland had come to him, and, will or nill,—nobody knew which,—he had found himself the centre of a throng of summer-visitors. "We girls," however, cared not so much about the politician father's mental struggles as for the romance of his only daughter,—the very young woman, with the babies, whom we saw tilting about in fearless fashion, in her little boat, among the breakers; or weeding her garden, and picking vegetables, and doing homely household-duties, at the cottage above the hotel. "Only to think of it!" exclaimed dainty Miss Aristocrat, of Beacon street, Boston. "Mr. Thaxter, her husband, is a Harvard graduate, and, they say, is 'cultivated' and polished, and might have married in his own or the first circles. But he is so dreadfully eccentric; and he came down here, and fell in love with that rough girl, and I dare say he'll be as coarse as she is some day." And we all shook our heads, and sighed at the perversities and eccentricities of Harvard students, and went on with our embroiderings, and crochetings, and gossipings, until our week's pleasure-trip was over. Then we went back to our various "circles" of society, such as our respective modicums of money, blood, or culture, had made them, and Celia Thaxter went her way, and "milked the little dun-cow" as of old, in the matchless summer-mornings, and gathered unto her heart the peace of morning and evening, and the strength of noon, and the grandeur of the sea and sky, and the tenderness of sympathy with all living things, and reverent faith in the All-Father; and ever, as she says, she longed to speak these things that made life so sweet,—to speak the wind, the cloud, the bird's flight, the sea's murmur,— "until it was impossible to be silent any longer, and I was fain to mingle my voice with her myriad voices, only aspring to be in accord with the infinite harmony, however feeble and broken my notes might be."

This afternoon, just before we took our leave of Appledore, I paid a visit to the cottage of Celia Thaxter again. The door of the parlor stood ajar, and a gentleman sitting there invited me to enter and wait for Mrs. Thaxter's return from a walk. I had but a few moments to spare, and could only glance around. The room, though plain and simple as to the furniture proper, was a very bower of beauty and delight with its store of treasures and gems of Art and Nature. I cannot tell what it was that gave such an air of warmth and luxuriousness to the rustic, even perhaps awkwardly-constructed furniture unless it was the extraordinary beauty and richness of the colors of the flowers which were lavished everywhere. The peculiar quality and mysterious virtue of the Shoals soil to produce rare brilliancy of hue in flowers, Mrs. Thaxter mentions in her sketches. One shell I remember particularly, hanging over the centre table of books, and filled with nasturtiums, pansies, and some blue flower, all "very common" flowers, quite old-fashioned and out of date in greenhouses and gardens of good society, but dearly loved by the poet woman of Appledore. I noticed also a painting of violets under the mantel, and vines hanging over it; a writing-desk in one corner, also with flowers on it; and a bead or bust, life-size, garlanded with a running vine,—a morning-glory, I think. While I was looking and trying to get something definite out of the general impression, the mistress of the house—the genius loci—came in, a bright, breezy, cordial, self-sustained woman, of apparently 35 years or thereabouts, with possibly a dash of brusqueness in her manner, or at least a refreshing absence of the lackadaisical or sentimental. "Let me pick you some pansies," were the quick, impulsive words of genuine hospitality as I hasted to apologize for and make brief my unintroduced call. As I watched her lithe and graceful form bending over the bed of blooms, I thought of the "rough girl," and the eccentric Harvard student, and my aristocratic acquaintance, of the years gone. I do not know her history, but it is to be presumed she has heard of Celia Thaxter, and would be proud to receive her into the "first circles" of Beacon street.

Laconics.

The alarm of fire at half-past 5 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, was occasioned by the partial burning of the roof of the engine house at Mason's planing mill. The damage was slight.

Judge Page did a good business in his official line, Saturday, his remarks to the gentlemen who attended his levee pleasing them so much that they contributed $70.-44 to the treasury. Four marines and two sailors, and one Pat. Quinlan, made up the purse; another fellow going to Brentwood for sixty days, as a common drunkard.

The Times hints that if the republicans should dare make any fuss about old citizens being debarred from voting, while aliens and non-residents are allowed to vote (provided only they vote the straight democratic ticket), the State troops will be called in. This is a different programme from what was some time ago intimated to us had been arranged, viz: the importation from Manchester of three hundred Irishmen as special deputy sheriffs, for securing a "pure and free ballot." We think the deputy sheriff scheme the best; for those imported patriots could utilize themselves by voting on the names of any absent democrats, and could also save a good many republicans the trouble of going to the polls by voting the democratic ticket on their names.

A large number of excursionists came down from Dover in a special train, Sunday morning, and took steamboat for Newburyport, returning in the afternoon.

At the reunion of the 3d N. H. Regt. of Volunters, at the Boar's Head House, Hampton Beach, on the 3d, Adj. Alfred J. Hill of this city was reelected President for the ensuing year. The Association will meet again at the same place, August 18th of next year.

The Mechanics' Fire Society had their annual supper at the Franklin House on Friday evening, Col. Wm. S. Hadley being the host of the evening.

The Methodist churches of Kittery Foreside and Spruce Creek, and the Christian church of the Foreside, had a union picnic at Dover Point on Friday, going up in the morning train from this city over the P. & D. Railroad.

George F. Cardiff, who escaped from the House of Correction August 26, was recaptured in Portland.

The boy who stole a pocket-book from Miss Augusta Head on Thursday, while engaged in stowing away wood for that lady, was captured by the police on Friday and recognized by Miss Head. The pilferer's mother is a hard-working Irish woman, who sends the boy to school —about all the attention she has time to bestow on him; and as his only previous offence, so far as is known, was an abortive attempt to confiscate a bottle of pop beer from a beer-wagon, he will probably get off more easily this time than he will if again caught.

Burke's Tableaux of Erin will be given at the Temple on Friday and Saturday evenings, and on Saturday afternoon at half-past 2 o'clock. John M. Burke, the original "Irish Dan," Miss Annie F. Irish and the Hibernian Comedy Company will appear with new songs, new music, new dances and new scenes. See advertisement.

The Scandal, Over The Water.

Le Journal de Marseilles gives the latest news from the other side of the Atlantic of the Beecher-Tilton scandal. It is an excellent illustration of the Russian game at which nine persons sit around a table. The first tells in whispers a tale to his next neighbor, who it his turn repeats it to the man or maiden who sits next upon his right. The circulation finally brings it again to the original narrator, who in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred is never able to recognize the identity of the incidents or arguments of his story. But to return to Le Journal. It says, in effect, that terrible troubles have broken out betweeen the American preachers, Beecher, Stilton and Moulton, because love-letters written by Stilton to Madame Beecher Stowe have been found in the possession of Mr. Moulton. Stilton on his part has instituted an action at law against Mr. Beecher for the seduction of his youngest daughter, Middle. Florence, Stilton claiming fifty thousand dollar damages. Madame Beecher Stowe, adds Le Journal, is the mother of the celebrated Uncle Tom, the blind pianist who a few years ago created so great a furore all over France. Verily we live and learn, but for an education in current events we can scarcely recommend the newspaper offices of Marseilles.

IRON IN THE BLOOD.

DYSPEPSIA. DEBILITY. DROPSY AND HUMORS.

PERUVIAN SYRUP

Makes The Weak Strong.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an ailment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the Blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building upon an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

Ayer's Hair Vigor.

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color when faded or gray. It eliminates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and imparts vigor with the hair and its beauty. Thus brittle, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair re-grows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; faded or gray hair resumes its original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp healthy, clean and soft—under which conditions diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

AYER' SARSAPARILLA,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia and Mandrake with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose actions they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidney, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism and Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leuchorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure, health returns.

Pulmocine Cordial.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE, CORDIAL

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Spoll Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

—USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH of the City of Portsmouth call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10 of the City Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in the City to aid them in the execution of their duty.

CHAPTER 10.

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or stock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low-water-mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners or occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten day from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time specified.

SEC. 6. No render of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low-water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 8. The health officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to cause any nuisance or destroy any nuisance or other things deemed by them, on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein, and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said health officers may by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause the said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 10. The owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure shall be liable to pay the expense of the removal or destruction of any such nuisance or other thing, as aforesaid, including fees of the health officers who order or cause the same to be removed; and the same may be recovered by action to be brought in the name of the city.

SEC. 22. Any person or persons who shall violate any rule or regulation, or commit any act forbidden in any section of this ordinance, to which no special penalty is annexed, shall forfeit and pay a sum not less than one dollar nor more than twenty dollars, to be recovered by complaint before the police court of the city.

ON

Monday, 30th November, 1874.

LAST CHANCE

FOR

An Easy Fortune!

A postponement of the Fifth Concert of the Public Library of Kentucky has been so generally anticipated, and is so manifestly in the interest of all concerned, that it must meet the approval of all. The day is now absolutely fixed and there will be no variation from the programme now announced. A sufficient number of tickets have been sold to have enabled us to have had a large drawing on the 31st July, but a short postponement was considered preferable to a partial drawing. Let it be borne in mind that

THE FIFTH GIFT CONCERT

IS THE LAST WHICH WILL EVER BE GIVEN UNDER THIS CHARTER AND BY THE PRESENT MANAGEMENT.

That it will positively and unequivocally take place as announced on

MONDAY, 30TH NOVEMBER, 1874,

that the music will be the best the country affords, and that

20,000 Cash Gifts

AGGREGATING

Triumphant Trunk.

[Detroit Free Press.]

Saturday morning there came over the Great Western road, on its way West, a trunk which made the hair of the baggage smashers stand right up. It was thirty-four inches long, three feet wide, and was made of solid boiler iron, an eighth of an inch thick. The handles were of iron, riveted on with great bolts, and the lid was fastened down with an immense padlock. On one end of the trunk was painted the words: "She can stand it!" and on the other, "More coming!" The railroad men groaned aloud as they walked around "them trunk" and viewed it from every angle, and two omnibus men, who thought the owner was going to stop over, made tracks out of the depot.

—Snooks' boy heard Snooks say that there was money in hens, and he proceeded to investigate the old man's poultry-yard. He had gone through a dozen fine specimens when the old man descended upon him, and the boy now wonders if there's a balm in Gilead.

—Devout mother to young lady, who is burning up love letters on Sunday: "What are you doing there my dear? are you burning incense?" Young lady, "Oh, no, ma; I am only burning nonsense."

Daily Chronicle.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1874.

Letter from South Seabrook.

SOUTH SEABROOK, Sept. 5.

Dear Chronicle: This is a working community. There is some farming but more shoemaking. People are busy. "Rat! Tap!" you hear from one building; from the door of another you see a man looking out, with a shoe in his hand; at the window of a third sits a woman, the traditional "Hannah," busily "binding" away. Everybody works. We found the minister of the place setting a vigorous example, stoning a well he had dug. Isn't that a fitting work for a minister, eminently Biblical? Did not Abraham, Isaac and Jacob distinguish themselves by digging wells? Not only the people here work, but visitors must expect to take hold. The minister hailed our advent as a "well-spring of joy," and soon we were imitating Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. Everybody works.

THE BAND.

Quite an institution here is the "Atlantic Cornet Band," now about four years old. It numbers eighteen pieces. From the stand opposite the house where we are writing, it favors the people with occasional open-air concerts. It certainly has gained itself large credit by its success. It was one of the bands honored by having a place in your great celebration last year. May the "Atlantic Cornet Band" long flourish.

THE BELL.

Another musical institution here is the new bell, swinging daily from the belfry of the Congregational Church. It weighs a thousand pounds, and its cost was three hundred and fifty dollars. It is good to hear it, as from its high perch like one of the muezzin of Eastern lands, it calls the people to prayer. It is a great convenience to the busy workers on the wide marshes or off on the fields, as it is rung every morning, noon and night.

A ROAD TO THE BEACH.

What South Seabrook greatly needs is a road to the Beach. Just beyond us, only a mile away, is the eastern section of Salisbury Beach. One and a half miles of this magnificent stretch of white surf and gray sand fronts South Seabrook, and a road across the marshes would give easy access to the beach. A bridge must be built over Seabrook River, but it is thought that there is only a stretch of fifty feet of water that needs covering. It is a pity this object can't be accomplished. We have felt for years that South Seabrook had a future as a watering-place, that it only needs enterprise to make a connection with the Beach, and then the whole of Salisbury Beach with its length of five or six miles is thrown open to the public from this quarter and people would come here to rusticate. Who can forget the history of Rye? If we remember correctly, Mr. Towle Walker, the postmaster of Rye told us that at one time this summer there were a thousand visitors there, and yet the time was when "Ma'am Philbrick" was the only one converting ocean-air and country-poultry into cash. A good deal could be done here with enterprise to go ahead and open the way. We wish the County Commissioners would come over this way and look at those marshes, for the construction of a road would certainly be a benefit to the county.

MORALS.

Law here is well executed. There is no "rum-seller" here in South Seabrook. Some of the people may go over to Portsmouth and get astray, but the "nuisance" can't be sold here. It is an opinion we can't help expressing that a little of the South Seabrook energy in executing the law would do your people good. You have had lately in Portsmouth an unnecessary slaughter of pigeons in a so-called "shooting match" where "crack shots" have distinguished themselves. We doubt if that opportunity for "glory" could have been enjoyed here. We notice the posters of the "Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals" are put up in South Seabrook, and there is law back of it all. These pigeon-shooting matches only prop up the old brutal programme of turkey-matches on Thanksgiving days, and should be given up.

PORTSMOUTH POLITICS.

The dust in your ward rooms, we suppose, will soon be stirred up at your municipal election. We send a hearty wish for the success of the republican party, and especially for the re-election of Mayor Miller. He merits a handsome majority at the polls. We wish the ladies voted. With what an enthusiastic demonstration Col. Miller would go to the Mayor's chair again.

TRAVELLER.

Readables.

The eruption of Mount Etna has ceased.

The balloon Buffalo ascended from Cleveland Saturday morning and made a safe landing about midnight, twelve miles from Port Huron, Mich.

A very successful balloon ascension was made from Philadelphia Saturday afternoon, by Professor Wise, accompanied by six ladies. The balloon took a northwesterly direction.

The difficulty between China and Japan in regard to Formosa has been settled.

The Secretary of War has promulgated an official order announcing the transfer of the headquarters of the army to St. Louis.

A movement has been set on foot for a convention of southern republicans, to meet in Atlanta, Ga., to promote the cause of reconstruction.

The mammoth steamship City of Peking, of the Pacific Mail Company's fleet, left New York Saturday noon and anchored in Massachusetts Bay Sunday evening. From the time of leaving port until 2:30 Sunday afternoon, when she slowed down on account of fog, the City of Peking averaged 14 1-2 knots an hour, soon catching up with and fairly running away from the British steamers Queen, Greece, and Utopia, which left before her, and leaving steamers City of Richmond, Republic and China, which sailed immediately after her, entirely out of sight before night. The City of Peking will remain in Boston a day or two.

Steamer Columbus, at New York from Havana, is in quarantine with yellow fever on board. Ship William Wilcox is in quarantine at Doboy Sound, Ga., the captain and mate having died at sea of yellow fever, and twelve men being sick when she came to an anchor. One seaman has since died, but the others are recovering.

The town of Mokelumne Hill, California, was totally destroyed by fire Friday afternoon. The place was originally settled by Judge George Campbell, a former Boston journalist, and others from New England. The total loss is estimated at $173,000.

The United States consul at Rotterdam says that the general confidence in the solidity of the United States bonds makes them a permanent investment in Europe and keeps them almost entirely out of speculative transactions. Even the catastrophe of the United States railroad shares and securities has not produced any important influence on United States bonds.

Ezekiel Clark and Alexander Lewis are under arrest at Jeffersonville, Ind., on suspicion of being two of the men who recently robbed a Frenchman named Gardner and then bound him to the railroad track to be killed. The evidence against Clark is strong.

Dram selling must be profitable in Cincinnati. Patrick Hogan, a saloon keeper of that city, laid $2500 in bills on his counter, forgot all about it for some hours and then couldn't find it. Next morning he found the missing money in a slop-pail.

Saturday was the centennial of the assembling of the first Continental Congress.

A German, enthused with lager beer and a desire to do honor to a christening party, in New York on Sunday, rushed out of a beer saloon and saluted the party with shots from a revolver. He was careless enough to kill the child which was to have been christened and its mother, both with one bullet.

Charles Krancher has been arrested in New York for selling poison to Henry Herbold, which the latter took and died in half an hour. Krancher is a drug clerk, and was begged by Herbold's daughter not to sell the poison to her father.

At Lowell, Mass., on Sunday, a party of young roughs entered a boarding house and made a disturbance, ending with a savage assault on the proprietor and his wife, in which the former was beaten with a revolver, and his wife half-choked. The roughs fired three revolver-shots, but hit no one. One of them was arrested and the others are known.

The orders for the movements of troops to maintain order in the South have been completed, and arrests of guilty parties will begin as soon as they reach their stations. The President's letter proves to have been a spontaneous utterance made without consultation and not intended originally for publication. News is received of an attempt to lynch a negro prisoner in Jessamine county, Kentucky, and a collision between the lynchers and the negroes guarding the prisoner, in which one white person was shot dead. The lynching party then fled. On the same day in Louisville, a negro who had committed an outrage was taken from the sheriff by a mob and hanged. Prominent citizens of Shreveport, La., have sent a message to the President claiming that the condition of affairs in that section has been misrepresented, and calling for an investigation.

Charlie Ross, the boy stolen from Philadelphia, has turned up in the family of David H. Haight, a millionaire of Goshen, Orange county, New York. He was placed there by Father Kenney, a Catholic priest, who brought him from Cuba, where he rescued him from the custody of a brutal woman without knowing who he was. That is the story, and a queer one it is, too. Later—this Charlie Ross isn't Charlie Ross at all.

General Davidson, with four companies of U. S. cavalry, has had a hard fight with Indians near the Wichita station, and had ten men killed. Fourteen Indians are known to have been killed, and a large number wounded.

The Carlists lost 700 men by a republican attack while the former were retreating from Puycerda. Three Carlist assaults on Castro Urdiales have been repulsed with heavy loss to the attacking party. Advices from Spain, through Carlist channels, state that desperate fighting was going on in Catalonia, in which the republicans suffered very heavy losses. The German men-of-war have returned to Santander. They were fired upon at Gueteria, and replieb by throwing 24 shells into the town.

About 750 members of the New England Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers visited Martha's Vineyard on Sunday. The engineers attended divine service in the afternoon. The Boston Advertiser's dispatch says: "Everybody was pleased with the visit of the excursionists. Their uniform gentlemanly bearing was in direct variance to the noisy roughs who infested the grounds last Sunday.

Wm. Lloyd Garrison writes to the Boston Journal a powerful letter concerning the recent revival of the Ku-Klux under the new name of "White Leagues," from which we take the following: One of our Boston dailies says: "The reports of outrages in the Southern States have a suspicious look. Is it not a little queer that these reports of outrages always come a little before the Autumn elections?" It is just because of these elections that the whites "begin to form themselves into bands to persecute and intimidate the negroes," so that they may take forcible and absolute possession of the polls. This is the citadel they are bound to capture, and having done so, they will become masters of the situation. Union men and colored freemen, except protected by the presence of United States troops, will find themselves driven to the wall, and the ballots in their hands to be thrown at the peril of their lives!

A later account of the Austrian polar expedition states that the explorers penetrated to the eighty-third degree of latitude.

—A lady does not know how to speak of a gentleman's coat. "Dress coat" is indefinite; "swallow tail" won't do, and her tongue stumbles about amid "spike tails," "steel pens," "claw hammers," "fish tails," "party coat," and generally compromises on "That coat, you know, George, you look so elegantly in." Somebody should give a respectable name to the swallow tail and plug hat.

REPUBLICANS—SEE THAT YOUR NAMES ARE ON THE CHECK-LISTS. IT IS AN IMPORTANT DUTY. DO NOT NEGLECT IT.

Republican Mayoralty Caucus.

The Republican Mayoralty caucus will be held this day, Tuesday, Sept. 8th, at the State street Ward Room, from 4 o'clock P. M. until 8. A full expression of the wishes of the party is desired.

PER ORDER CITY COMMITTEE.

A Protest.

The Times comments in its usual flowery and high-toned style upon our expose of the manner in which the democratic tools—willing ones, undoubtedly—have made out the check-lists in some of the wards and says:

The character of one of the selectmen of Ward One is assailed—a gentleman who has long resided in this city and undoubtedly is possessed of the best qualifications for the position assigned him by legislative enactment. We allude to Samuel Spinney, Esq., who has held both in our town and city organizations some of the highest and most responsible offices in the gift of our citizens.

We "assailed the character" of "Samuel Spinney, Esq.," only by saying: "the check-list of the first ward was prepared by Samuel Spinney, a fact that needs no comment;" but perhaps the Times considers our showing up of the manner in which he made out the check-list,—putting the names of unnaturalized foreigners on it and leaving off the names of republicans who were born and have always lived in the ward,—to be an assault on his character. Now we don't care a snap about being blown up by the Times, or for the volleys of pet names which it seems to have always on hand in large variety and to be willing enough to serve out; but we cannot allow to go out to the world at large, without protest, the injurious impression that we would say or do anything with intent to injure the reputation of Sam. Spinney, Esq. Not that there is any danger of his reputation being really injured by anything anybody may say or do,—he is far too well known in this city for that; and we heartily agree with the Times that he "is possessed of the best qualifications for the position assigned him by legislative enactment,"—in fact, the able manner in which he made out the check-list according to the plans and specifications of the pot-house junta proves it. If there is any man in the ward better fitted or more willing to do the work he was appointed to do "by legislative enactment," we don't know him. Most men would shrink from the unpleasant duties of "the position assigned him," but he won't; he is just the man to do the work he was set to do, heedless of any idle talk about dishonorable and illegal trickery.

By the way, it may interest the public to know that since Mr. Spinney was appointed to elect ward-clerk and moderator, to judiciously manipulate the check-list and act as general dictator in Ward One, his taxes have been paid,—the first time such a phenomenon has occurred for years.

How Others See Us.

"Clew Garnet," writing from this city to Wilkes' Spirit of the Times, discourses as follows:

On my way to the Isles of Shoals to see the great regatta, I dropped down upon old Portsmouth. I find The Spirit is the authority in this section, and spoken very highly of. The Mayor of this city, Mr. Frank W. Miller, I might say is the only enterprising sportsman here; he dozes on The Spirit. He can appreciate the greatness of it, as he was formerly the editor of the Portsmouth CHRONICLE, and now, unlike many editors, having secured a competence, he devotes his time to leisure and politics. The antiquated Rockingham House, revivified by Frank Jones, has become under the management of J. Pierce quite an institution. This city is so easy of access that it becomes cosmopolite in every sense; here are found people from all quarters of the globe. Sea captains flourish here, old salts that have weathered many a gale, and who now have settled down in port to enjoy the comforts of life. The literati from all parts of the world congregate here. Talk about Brighton in England, your Greenwich, and your white bait, your river Thames, green swarded and green lined with its English turf, it all fades into nothingness when compared with the glories of old Portsmouth. Here is old ocean in all its mighty grandeur, here are green swarded banks, stony crags, loviest of wooded peaks, sweet flower, embowered cottages, hearty bronzed seamen, whose jovial faces light up with a smile as they glance seaward and note the white-capped waves dancing in the sunlight. At any time can be seen, darting here and there, various clean-built yachts, whose sides glisten as they careen to the fresh sea breeze. Ladies and gentlemen rusticate here and breathe in a new lease of life, as their blooming cheeks gather the pink hue of buoyant health. There are also a number of well-known poets and their families residing here. There is no more fitting place to catch fresh inspirations than listening to the subdued moanings of the ocean, as it laves the freshly-moistened shore. Speaking of Old Ocean, I would say that it is in no pleasant mood generally when it comes tumbling into this harbor. Pressed on with the rising tide, it sweeps with a whirling crush of waters, and is well-nigh irresistable. There is a flourishing sportsmen's club here, whose members seem like earnest fellows. The love of a spirited race has not yet reached the hearts of the citizens of this locality. True there are some who would travel miles to witness one, but they are the exception. The leaven is working, however, and it will be but a short time before Portsmouth will have its well-appointed track, and will vie with the "Hub" in making it lively for Down-Easters. There are a number of fine horses here, some of which are right speedy. My letter is about long enough, but I felt I ought to write something, as a number of the good old fathers asked me to say a good word for Portsmouth.

Raising Ned.

Mr. Chronicle: That was a very neat notice you made of Ed Coffin's pretty buckskin colt a few days ago, and whoever loves him must love his colt; but it suggests for me to ask, when you say that the little equine pet said neigh to tobacco and rum, and left the bar-room for a purer atmosphere,—how can any decent man, who has ever one-half of a republican, and had the great honor of nominations and elections to office in this glorious party, afterwards bring himself or be brought so low as to consort with the dirty and unscrupulous Opposition, under whatever name? Horses, you know, cannot vomit, though it is said they can laugh; but such fellowship as that alluded to above, would have caused Balaam's ass to cry out in protest, as also

Yours Truly,
HORSE MARE E'EN.

The Late George W. DeRochemont.

At the regular meeting of Portsmouth Grange, P. of H., No. 22, next after the death of their Bro. G. W. DeRochemont, a committee was appointed, who subsequently reported the following resolutions, which were adopted:—

Resolved, That by the death of Brother George W. DeRochemont, the world loses a good man, the town an estimable citizen, this Grange a valuable member, and each of us a friend.

Resolved, That our deceased brother, by precept and example, throughout his long life, well illustrated the principles to advance and protect which our Order was instituted; and all should emulate his happy life, as that of an honest man.

Resolved, That this hall be draped in mourning for thirty days, and that a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the family of the deceased, with the assurance that while we join in their grief,—to us, as to them, the memory of the just is blessed.

Laconics.

City Election next Monday. Caucus to nominate Mayor this (Tuesday) afternoon—for which see notice at head of local column.

The Journal of Sept. 5th says: "One week from next Monday! Are you ready for the question, whether Portsmouth shall be governed in Concord or at home? Have you seen to it that your own name and that of all other republican voters within your knowledge are on the check-lists? Do you know in which ward you live, and where your voting place is? And are you willing to have outlaw saloon-keepers and aliens as judges of your election and custodians of your votes, if not of your government. If there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things."

On Monday morning Benjamin B. Nickerson, a young man employed on board the schooner Ida Holmes, belonging to and laying at the wharf of Mr. Valentine Doane, at Newcastle, while practising with a pistol accidentally shot himself through the hand. The ball went between the fore finger and thumb, lodging just under the skin, and was extracted by Dr. Whittier

The Times says one of the lady visitors at Star Island was sitting recently at the top of the bluff, watching the waves as they occasionally reached the fatal spot where Miss Underhill sat when she was washed away some years ago. While thus sitting, one of those monstrous billows which surprised that unfortunate school teacher came sweeping in, and before the lady was conscious of her danger, she found herself deluged and completely covered by it. All that saved her from the sad fate of Miss Underhill was, that she chanced to be sitting with her feet firmly braced against the rock.

The following singular inscription was taken from a headstone standing in the cemetery in York; Resurrection to Immortality in spotless, with all other Bodily Perfections after the fashion of Christ's Glorious Body is expected for the subjacent Dust of Lucy Moody who was born and died July 6, 1705. Thus Birth, Spousals to Christ, Death, Coronation, all in one Day may have their celebration.

The Stomach as an Avenger.

For every breach of the laws of health that we commit the stomach inflicts a penalty. Headache, biliousness, nervous tremors, constipation, colic, heartburn, nausea, debility and mental depression are only a few of the punishments which an outraged stomach is capable of imposing upon us. To bring back this vengeful organ to its normal condition—to placate, invigorate and regulate it—there is nothing in the wide world so potent as a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Under the operation of this beneficent vegetable corrective and tonic, the gastric juice becomes a pure and healthy solvent and resumes its natural flow. The effect is the same on the biliary secretion, and in fact on all the fluids of the body, and the final result is the removal of every painful or unpleasant symptom occasioned by the rebellious action of the digestive organs.

IRON IN THE BLOOD.

PERUVIAN SYRUP

Makes The Weak Strong.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an ailment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building upon an iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

Ayer's Hair Vigor.

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color when faded or gray. It invigorates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brushy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair re-grows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resumes its original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean, and soft—under which conditions diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

AYER' SARSAPARILLA,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia and Mandrake with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidney, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism and Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure, health returns.

Pulmocine Cordial.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE, CORDIAL

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," no does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

—USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

Health Regulations.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH of the City of Portsmouth call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10 of the City Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in the City to aid them in the execution of their duty.

CHAPTER 10.

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low-water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners or occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten day from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time specified.

SEC. 6. No render of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind out their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low-water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 8. The health officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other things deemed by them, on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said health officers may by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause the said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 19. The owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure shall be liable to pay the expense of the removal or destruction of any such nuisance or other thing, as aforesaid, including fees of the health officers who order or cause the same to be removed; and the same may be recovered by action to be brought in the name of the city.

SEC. 20. No person shall use or occupy any building in the compact part of the city for a slaughter-house, or for trying tallow, or for currying leather, or for the deposit of green pelts or skins, unless under such restrictions and regulations as the health officers may impose.

SEC. 22. Any person or persons who shall violate any rule or regulation, or commit any act forbidden in any section of this ordinance, to which no special penalty is annexed, shall forfeit and pay a sum not less than one dollar nor more than twenty dollars, to be recovered by complaint before the police court of this city.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick with the Small Pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the Small Pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city. ap25 d3m

PUBLIC LIBRARY OF KENTUCKY.

DAY FIXED

—AND A—

FULL DRAWING ASSURED

ON

Monday, 30th November, 1874.

LAST CHANCE

FOR

An Easy Fortune!

A postponement of the Fifth Concert of the Public Library of Kentucky has been so generally anticipated, and is so manifestly in the interest of all concerned, that it must meet the approval of all. The day is now absolutely fixed and there will be no variation from the programme now announced. A sufficient number of tickets have been sold to have enabled us to have had a large drawing on the 31st July, but a short postponement was considered preferable to a partial drawing. Let it be borne in mind that

THE FIFTH GIFT CONCERT

IS THE LAST WHICH WILL EVER BE GIVEN UNDER THIS CHARTER AND BY THE PRESENT MANAGEMENT.

That it will positively and unequivocally take place as announced on

MONDAY, 30TH NOVEMBER, 1874,

that the music will be the best the country affords, and that will be distributed by lot among the ticket holders.

20,000 Cash Gifts

AGGREGATING

$2,500,000

Daily Chronicle.

—There is no rose without its thorn. A correspondent of the Tribune writes that in the newly-discovered Eden among the Black Hills, "the whole Devonian period, with its coral, fern and ganoid chronicles, is missing." This is melancholy news. It is evident that this so-called Eden is a geological fizzle.

—A number of grass widowers and bachelors of Austin, Texas, have formed a bean association, and weekly festivals are held at the residences of the various members. The last festival was held at the house of a gentleman whose better half is absent in California. At the conclusion of the festival a tea-kettle lay on the bed in the best bedroom, the pot in which the beans were cooked lay on its side on the parlor carpet, the knives, forks, and spoons were distributed among the spittoons in the sitting-room, the baby's crib was covered with dirty tin plates, and the sewing machine was disfigured with chunks of dough, splashes of bean soup, and the skins of Chili peppers. Since the organization of the society there has been an effort to elect a dishwasher, but each gentleman nominated has declined the honor on the plea of other and more important business. The organization is known as the Free and Independent Grass Widowers' Bean-Eating League.

Readables.

Mike Sullivan and two other young fellows went into Policeman Longa's garden in Manchester, and commenced to gather what fruit was there. The officer went for them, upon which they ran away, but Sullivan stopped when the officer sent a bullet past his ear. The pilferer made a poor speculation, for he had to pay $8 for the six green apples he stole.

Mr. Frank D. Moulton's "statement" which is to finish up the Beecher-Tilton business is not yet given to the public, being withheld through a hope of yet "saving Beecher." The wondrous forbearance of the "mutual friend" and his legal advisers is astonishing, for Beecher, in his "statement," certainly did not spare any one, not even Moulton; on the contrary, he put Moulton's "friendship" in a most damaging light, and challenged—even urged—everybody to tell all they knew of the matter and produce all the documents in their possession. If Moulton really has possession of such crushing proof of Beecher's criminality as has been claimed, no reasonable person will credit the yarn that he hesitates to make it public through friendship for Beecher. Many persons who at one time believed in—or feared—Beecher's guilt, now wonder if his assailants do not feel that they have carried matters just a little too far for their own good, and that the lion at bay is a dangerous plaything. Tilton's suit against Beecher drags its slow length along, another step in the formal preliminaries having been taken by the service of Beecher's reply upon Tilton's counsel.

Tilton has got his new "statement" finished. It covers 400 pages of foolscap—very appropriate paper for him to write on.

Henry Ward Beecher is announced to preach in Plymouth church October 4th.

Clarence Skillings, of Bolton's Mills, Me., on Saturday saw a muskrat he wished to shoot, and to do it hurriedly drew a gun by its muzzle from a wagon where it was lying, when it went off and shot him through the heart, killing him instantly.

Two sons of Frederick Teztmeier at New Haven, Conn., perished in a burning barn Monday.

The recent death of General Foster leaves General Doubleday the only survivor of the officers of Fort Sumpter at the time the flag was first assailed by the cannon of treason.

The anniversary of Lafayette's birthday was celebrated by French residents in New York Monday.

Colonel Whiteley, chief of the secret service division of the Treasury, has tendered his resignation, which has been accepted.

The Portuguese minister of the interior has issued a notice that the Arabian ports on the Red Sea are infected with a plague.

Philadelphia is suffering from a water famine, no rain having fallen there since August 9.

Mario, the famous tenor, has been arrested in Venice for violation of the press law.

The New Haven, Conn., Wheel Company's works were totally destroyed by fire Monday night; loss nearly $500,000; insurance, $100,000. The Boston and Albany freight house at East Albany was totally consumed Monday night; loss $50,000. A disastrous fire is reported to have occurred in Russellville, Ky. Serious forest fires are raging in the vicinity of Egg Harbor and Hampton, N. J. News is received of the destruction of half the German town of Meinengen by fire.

The Hamilton (Ohio) Telegraph goes for one of the democratic nominees in that State after this cheerful fashion: The nomination of Judge Gilmore to the Supreme Bench was an outrageous thing for the democratic State Convention to do. It would be hard to find in all Ohio a lawyer or "Judge" less qualified in every way for so responsible a position. He is unlettered, ignorant even in his chosen position, and the slave of his appetite. The Sheriff of Butler County has been compelled to adjourn court from day to day while Judge Gilmore was indulging in one of his frequent and protracted sprees. The Butler County Bar, not long since, sent him a petition, asking him to exchange and so let another judge hold court in Butler. Only a short time ago he was arraigned before the Mayor of his own village and fined for drunkenness. When Lindley was on trial for embezzlement, Gilmore changed the court record and so set Lindley free; and this judicial act was openly denounced by a prominent member of the Butler County Bar as infamous.

State News.

Messrs. Priest and Home, of Mount Washington Railway, were coming down from the summit on sliding boards on the railway, when they came near running over Mr. N. H. Allen and Mrs. C. N. Allen, who were walking on the track. The lady fell and was quite badly hurt, so she was taken on one of the boards and slid down to the base safely—the first lady who ever performed the feat.

Rev. P. W. Perry of Lonville, N. Y., has accepted a call from the Free Baptist church at Great Falls and entered on his duties.

A block was taken recently from the gold mines at Lisbon which yielded over $400 in gold.

One member of the junior class of Dartmouth College is a clergyman, about 50 years old. He is married, preaches and has gray hairs.

Mr. George Parsons of Colebrook has erected a large and fine hotel at Dixville Notch, on a beautiful spot just in the rear of the location of the old house that was burned two years ago. It will be called the Dix House, in honor partly of the original owner of the land grant, and partly in honor of Governor Dix of New York, his brother. The house will be formally opened next June.

Jack Chamberlain of Bethlehem, while "fooling" with the chained bear at the Twin Mountain House, was severely bitten in the arm by the exasperated animal.

On Friday Sheriff Hadlock arrested at East Washington, J. R. Powers, who assaulted Mrs. Merrill at Amherst, on the 31st ultimo. He was taken to Manchester jail.

Wm. Gould, of Suncook, has been sent to jail in default of $1500 bonds for attempted rape upon a little girl in Hooksett on the 1st inst.

Miss Lizzie R. Smith, who has been a teacher in the High School at Nashua, has taken a position in the High School at Gloucester, Mass.

There was quite a fire in the north part of Hudson, Thursday evening, Richard Greeley of that town having about fifty cords of wood burned, besides other damage to his property.

John Brugger, the hosiery manufacturer in Manchester, has bought of the Goffstown Manufacturing Co., their land and mill privilege on the 'Squog river at Goffstown West Village, and will build there.

Henry Thompson, of Hooksett, was thrown from a buggy a few days ago, by his horse running away, while he was at Hopkinton baiting pigeons. Two bones of one leg and one bone of the other were broken.

A painter at Newport, named William G. Baker, eloped with Minnie Barnard, a young lady of hitherto good name and family, residing at Acworth. Baker had been employed at Acworth of late, and while there had in some way infatuated the young lady, so that while at Newport, Tuesday, at the races, he easily obtained her consent to the elopement. William G. Baker is a lame man, walking by the aid of a crutch and cane, and has a wife and two children living at Newport. Baker can be easily identified by reason of his infirmities, and it is thought will be speedily found and made to answer for the wrong, as every effort is being made to this end. Public feeling manifests itself strongly in Newport and vicinity and should Baker fall into the hands of the girl's friends, it would go hard with him.

—Recently a swimming match was arranged to take place at Eastbourne, England, between a fisherman and a mastiff, but there was no race after all, for the dog, once in the water with the man, supposed his duty there was to save the latter's life, and persisted in his endeavors to keep the man afloat by thrusting his head under his opponent's chin.

—A good story is told of a New York reporter who, fearful that he might not get the address which was to be delivered at the funeral of a prominent citizen, knelt beside the preacher while he was praying, abstracted the manuscript from the latter's rear pocket, and forthwith carried it off. The clergyman, thinking his paper had been lost, delivered himself extemporaneously, but the next morning discovered his error, his written address being printed in full in the ——— newspaper.

The Stomach as an Avenger.

For every breach of the laws of health that we commit the stomach inflicts a penalty. Headache, biliousness, nervous tremors, constipation, colic, heartburn, nausea, debility and mental depression are only a few of the punishments which an outraged stomach is capable of imposing upon us. To bring back this vengeful organ to its normal condition—to placate, invigorate and regulate it—there is nothing in the wide world so potent as a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Under the operation of this beneficent vegetable corrective and tonic, the gastric juice becomes a pure and healthy solvent and resumes its natural flow. The effect is the same on the biliary secretion, and in fact all the fluids of the body, and the final result is the removal of every painful or unpleasant symptom occasioned by the rebellious action of the digestive organs.

Local Matters.

The Republican Caucus

For nominating a candidate for Mayor to be supported (and elected) at the polls on Monday next, was held at the State street ward room on Tuesday, the new check-lists of the several wards being used and the polls being open from 4 o'clock P. M. until 8. The result was as follows.

Necessary to a choice	209
Scattering	4
William H. Sise had	115
Frank W. Miller had	297

And Hon. FRANK W. MILLER was declared the nominee of the republican party for Mayor of Portsmouth for the ensuing term.

Hon. Marcellus Bufford was chairman of the meeting, and John H. Locke, Edwin H. Leslie and John E. Colcord secretaries.

On Monday Next, Sept. 14,

The plan invented by the democratic wire-pullers and saloon-keepers of this city and endorsed by the democratic non-interference-with-local-government legislature, to make a democratic minority superior to a republican majority, is to have a practical trial to see how it will work. The republicans labor under every disadvantage, the democratic legislature having thrown every possible obstacle in the way of a fair election. The check-lists are entirely in the hands of strongly-partisan democrats,—some few of whom are respectable men, who no doubt will act as fairly as their prejudices will allow, but the majority of whom are as unscrupulous as "the positions to which they have been appointed by legislative enactment" require them to be. The moderators and ward clerks are but the creatures of the democratic fuglers, and owe their positions to their supposed willingness to do the bidding of the fuglers. The representation is so arranged that a presumed democratic ward with 150 voters has as many members in the city government as a presumed republican ward with 300, and half as many as a presumed republican ward which has over 400 names registered.

It is thus evident that the full strength of the republican party at the polls, and the keenest scrutiny of the doings of the democratic election officers "appointed by legislative enactment"—not by votes, for very few of them could ever have secured an election even from the democratic party, at the polls,—are needed to prevent the shameless trickery of the democracy from securing its intended end, the subjugation of the will of the majority to the caprice of the minority. And a primary duty with every republican is to see that his name is on the check-list in his ward, and the names of all other republicans also, so far as his knowledge extends. The partial lists we have already published, of the republican names left off the lists in three wards, should be enough to make every republican voter scrutinize the list in his ward to make sure that he is not disfranchised; and if he does not find his name there, he should be at the first meeting of the selectmen, on Saturday next, to insist upon its being placed there. No doubt many voters are uncertain as to which ward they are in, but a perusal of the advertisement headed "Voters, Attention," in another column, will dispel any doubt on this point; and the check-list notices give the needed information as to where the selectmen of each ward will meet, and at what hours on Saturday they will attend to the revision of the check-lists. Without the personal attention of the republican voters to this matter it is almost certain that men who have an unquestioned right to vote will find themselves prevented by the absence of their names from the check-lists on election day, for the names left off in the six new wards are numerous, the democratic selectmen will not trouble themselves much to hunt up republican names to put on, and it is impossible that the republican ward committees should know every member of the party in their respective wards. Republican voters—look each after his own name, and if you detect the wrongful absence of any other republican's name inform the chairman of your ward committee at once.

Edward D. Coffin to Peter Emery, land and buildings on Union street for $1700.

Frank Jones to Nathan Jones, land and buildings No. 12 School street for $2500.

James L. Glentworth to Nathan Jones, land and buildings on Islington street for $3800.

Joshua J. Norton to Patrick Lynch, land and buildings for $300.

Albert H. Warner to Ann E. Warner, land for $200.

Vandalism.

A reward of one hundred dollars is offered by H. Eldredge & Son for evidence to convict whoever mutilated the fence around their premises. We don't know whether the fence was cut or broken, or defaced with obscene caricatures or quack-medicine advertisements, — and one is about as bad as the other; but we opine that "Col." would have been willing to have given more than a hundred to have caught the perpetrators in the act, whatever it was,—and we wish he had.

In this connection we wish to commend the action of the Portsmouth Bridge Co. in obliterating the quack-medicine advertisements which have for years been thickly painted on the railings and trestles of the bridge (to the disgust of every decent passenger) and prohibiting any further outrages in that line upon their property. The Noble's Island bridge we believe is a part of the Portsmouth Bridge Co.'s property,—we hope so, at all events, for it has always been a disgrace to the city and an insult to the public, with its innumerable puffs of quack nostrums; but the old daubed-over rails have been replaced by new and clean ones, and we may now hope the Bridge Co. (or somebody else) will continue the good work so well begun on the larger bridge. In addition to being new-railed, the Noble's Island bridge has been replanked and otherwise put in thorough repair.

This wayside advertising should not be profitable, though possibly it may be. Sick persons (unless idiotic or insane) should know that the surest way to get help is to apply to some resident physician of good standing, and that if they can't get help that way there is little use in looking for it from "clergymen whose sands of life have nearly run out," etc.; and intending purchasers of goods should have sense enough to know that a man too mean to pay for an advertisement in his local paper, and so regardless of his neighbor's rights as to illegally deface his property, will not be likely to have any very serious qualms of conscience about overreaching a customer in trade if he can thereby make a dollar. But it is not only quack-nostrum-vendors and store-keepers who outrage the public with roadside inscriptions, for we have seen warning texts of scripture painted on rocks and fences in this vicinity,—no doubt pu there by pious people, with the best of intentions. Possibly these stone-wall and rail-fence sermons may do some good in occasionally awakening the unregenerate to a sense of their sad condition; but they are none the less a blemish on the scenery, and we know of at least one man who always feels more like swearing than praying when a brush-full of white paint—disfiguring a picturesque rock or moss-grown wall —warns him to "Prepare to meet thy God," or asks such embarrassing conundrums as "Are you a Christian?"

The Fifth Annual Reunion

Of the First N. H. Cavalry took place at the Sea View House, Rye Beach, Sept. 8th. About thirty members were present, and the business meeting was held in the hotel parlor, Capt. B. F. Rackley presiding. The following officers were elected:

President, Maj. J. A. Cummings; Vice Presidents, Capt. O. C. Wyatt, Capt. Geo. W. Estabrook, David Wilson; Sec. and Treas., Capt. F. P. Cram; Ex. Com., Geo. W. Corey, O. C. Wyatt, Geo. H. Estabrook, Edward Liddell, N. S. Foster.

It was voted that the next annual meeting be held at Concord on the second Tuesday in September of next year, and the meeting then adjourned to meet at the banquet at 2:30 P. M.

At the close of the banquet the President read some very interesting statistics, some of the items of which we give. The number of men enlisted and in service during the war was 2,315,951; killed in battle, 44,238; died from wounds, 33,993; died from effects of imprisonment in the South, 36,401; died from incidental diseases, accidents, etc., 216, 022; total, 294,416.

Capt. G. T. Cram of St. Louis, Capt. F. P. Cram, Capt. Palmer, Capt. O. C. Wyatt and others made impromptu speeches, after which the veterans took boats for the Shoals and other points of interest, returning to the Sea View to remain until Wednesday forenoon.

Humors of the Election.

The fact that the citizens of Portsmouth are obliged to be at the great expense and trouble of holding a municipal election next Monday, while it is no joke, yet has its humorous side, and would be altogether ridiculous,—were it not so serious a matter. To turn the joke upon the hunkers completely, and beat them at their own game, should be the desire and determination of every republican and well-meaning citizen,—by getting out voters enough to overcome them at the polls, we mean, not by copying their examples of fraud and knavery. An old correspondent sends us the following squibs:

"Who is the straightest man mentioned in the Bible? Joseph, because Pharaoh made a ruler of him. And that's why he remained stationary in Egypt." Yes, and that's why we should keep our present city rulers stationary in place,—because they are straight men.

"A man advertises in a New York paper for a bar-keeper, 'who must be recommended by his pastor.'" We wonder if the numerous bar-keepers who are appointed to rule over us in the matter of elections, can be thus recommended?

Sam Spinney claims the credit (?) of arranging the gerrymander of the city. Are you all ready to endorse Sam's action?

S. O. R.

On Its Way.

The press dispatches make sad work of the two new telegraph cables across the Atlantic. The steamship Great Eastern on the 6th was close to the Skelligs, off the coast of Ireland, preparing to make the final splice in the fifth cable laid by the Anglo-American Company, having paid out 1696 nautical miles of cable. The steamer Faraday on the same day sent ashore a message to the effect that after laying 330 miles of the Direct Ocean Cable Company's wire, the cable broke while being taken in to find a defect,—but had been recovered, the insulation proved perfect, and the Faraday was again on her way across the Atlantic. These two reports are mixed up muchly, one paper saying that "favorable news regarding the progress in laying the new Anglo-American cable is received from the Faraday," while an Anglo-American dispatch says "the steamer Faraday, with the direct United States cable, has not yet started on her mission," and probably will not until August of next year.

Laconics.

John Gardner, Esq., the celebrated fiddler, has arrived at the Appledore House, Isles of Shoals, and will remain for a few days. The Appledore is a noted place for musical celebrities, who go there to rest from the fatigues of their profession. Eichberg has summered there.

Frederick Ayers, 14 years old, broke his wrist on Tuesday while jumping a post on Daniel street, near the High School.

The Portsmouth correspondent of Foster's Democrat says of Naval Constructor Wilson that "he is a man of superior intelligence and knows how to manage and get along with his men, who respect him and at the same time entertain the closest friendly feelings. Not a man has yet had a hard word to say against him, which is something exceedingly unusual for this latitude."

On Tuesday morning Young America Hook & Ladder Co., No. 1, of Newburyport, accompanied by the Amesbury Cornet Band, passed through this city en route for Portland. Their unique uniform, and the music of the band while the train stopped at the depot, attracted considerable attention.

David Lowd was fined $19.04 for an assault on a boy named John White, and John Langdon was fined $11.04 for assaulting Edward Stover, by the police court on Monday. Langdon appealed and was bound over. On Tuesday Langdon made two complaints against Stover for assault, but could not sustain either of them.

The two colts belonging to Mayor Miller, which have been missing for more than a week, have turned up in a pasture in Eliot, where one of them was kept a short time last year. They must have run their toll in the night, when the gate is open.

The democratic city committee, after travailing a long while, have brought forth a notice to the party that the voters will be allowed to meet at the State street ward room and "ratify" the nomination of the mayoralty candidate picked out for them,—for that's just what the call for a meeting of democratic voters to nominate a candidate for Mayor means.

Foster's Democrat says Fred Sawyer, the assistant clerk of the Sea View House, who was shot by the careless handling of a gun by one of the bell boys, has lost the use of one of his eyes. Mr. Dorr of Boston, whose son owned the gun, and who contributed $500 at the time of the accident toward young Sawyer's aid, has, since he left the hospital, started him in the commission business in company with another young man in Dubuque, Iowa. Mr. Dorr and a gentleman of Chicago, who was there at the time of the accident, together furnished the capital required. This act reflects credit on the gentlemen, and it may be that the result will be the ten-fold return of the bread cast on the waters.

Lieut. Charles H. Rockwell and Surgeon Frederick E. Potter are ordered from the navy yard to to the U. S. S. Plymouth, now at this station fitting out and soon to go into commission.

Commodore J. C. Howell will turn over the command of this naval station to Commodore Andrew Bryson on the 20th, Com. Howell assuming the duties of Chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks at that date.

The Cincinnati Times says: "Wagner is in the Maine State prison awaiting to be hung. He deserves to be executed for writing that atrocious Lohengrin; but as any musician will tell you, it's mighty hard to execute Wagner properly."

The Leonard Scott Publishing Company's reprint of the London Quarterly Review for July contains as follows: The Isle of Wight; Primitive Man; The Countess of Nithsdale; English Vers de Société; John of Barneveld and Sixteenth Century Diplomacy; The Labour Movement at Home and Abroad; Japan as it Was and is; and Victor Amadeus—a Reversal of History.

The contents of Blackwood's Magazine for August, issued by the Leonard Scott Publishing Co., 41 Barclay Street, New York, are as follows: The Abode of the Snow; The Story of Valentine and his Brother, Part VIII; New Books; Alice Lorraine, Part VI; Seven Village Songs; The Civil War in America; Montero's Flight; and The Agricultural Strike.

The White Leagues.

[Jersey City Journal.]

That some of the white men at the South who are organizing war on their colored fellow-citizens mean business, and are not over scrupulous as to the means of warfare is evident. The so-called White League of Louisiana among its resolutions adopted the following:

"That we regard it the sacred and political duty of every member of this club to discountenance and socially proscribe all white men who unite themselves with the radical party, and to supplant every political opponent in all his vocations by the employment and support of those who ally themselves with the white man's party; and we pledge ourselves to exert our energies and use our means to the consummation of this end."

These people are evidently adepts in the unprofitable business of breeding scabs on their own noses. Any class of voters in any community in this country that undertakes to enforce a social or business proscription, on account of political choices, is entering on a very troublesome and dangerous path. If these half-crazy whites at the South actually do as they resolve we shall have there, not only a war of races, but a civil war in short order.

—A Mississippi doctor gave a Memphis man a box of anti-bilious pills, with directions written on the box to "take one pill five times a day." A very economical pill.

—A Detroit young woman tried to be aristocratic, and did not look at the money that she gave the horse-car conductor, but he meekly gave her back the lozenge on which was written, "I'll never cease to love thee," and said that he was an orphan with five little brothers to support, and must be excused.

AYER' SARSAPARILLA,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia and Mandrake with the iodides of Potassium and Iron makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system that undermine health and excite into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidney, Lungs, Erysipelas and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism and Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leuchorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure, health returns.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER!

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever. It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp, by its use, becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties, it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing, nothing has been found so effectual or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

FOR THE WHISKERS.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being in one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color, which will neither rub nor wash off.

Pulmocine Cordial.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE, CORDIAL

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For life terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

—USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

CHAPTER 10.

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall carry them or throw them into the river below low-water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners or occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time specified.

SEC. 6. No owner of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or stores overnight, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any seller of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low-water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 8. The health officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other things deemed by them, on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said health officers may by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause the said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 10. The owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure shall be liable to pay the expense of the removal or destruction of any such nuisance or other thing, as aforesaid, including fees of the health officers who order or cause the same to be removed; and the same may be recovered by action to be brought in the name of the city.

SEC. 20. No person shall use or occupy any building in the compact part of the city for a slaughter-house, or for trying tallow, or for currying leather, or for the deposit of green pelts or skins, unless under such restrictions and regulations as the health officers may impose.

SEC. 22. Any person or persons who shall violate any rule or regulation, or commit any act forbidden in any section of this ordinance, to which no special penalty is annexed, shall forfeit and pay a sum not less than one dollar nor more than twenty dollars, to be recovered by complaint before the police court of this city.

A Matrimonial Advertisement.

[N. Y. Ledger.]

A good thing—if it can be so called—happened not long since very near to the staid city of Boston. A gentleman of that city—a widower, with something of a family, and a goodly bank account—advertised for a wife over a fictitious signature. Several answers were received, among which was one that particularly pleased him. The chirography was delicate and graceful, the language chaste, and the signature, as his own had been, evidently fictitious. After a brief and mutually agreeable correspondence a time and place were agreed upon for a meeting. At the appointed hour the gentleman was waiting in a private parlor of the —— House, and shortly afterward a lady entered, thickly veiled. She came in tremblingly, and did not venture to look up until the voice of the gentleman, in respectful greeting, fell upon her ear, at which she started convulsively, raised her eyes to the face of her swain, and then uttered a suppressed cry—a cry the tone of which struck upon the gentleman's ear with a sound not unfamiliar. He moved forward and lifted her veil, and looked upon the scared face of his own daughter, whom he had supposed industriously pursuing her studies at the Normal School.

The result, after all, did not prove an unpleasant one. The young lady having declared that she would rather devote the remainder of her minority to the learning of house-keeping than to the conjugation of French verbs, her father has established her at the head of his household, and will not again advertise for a wife until this daughter is married. In fact, his confidence in matrimonial advertisements is shaken; and, moreover, he has found his first essay in that direction rather costly, as he happened to leak out among friends who are not averse to drinking wine at his expense.

— The hardest thing to deal with—An old pack of cards.

—The Chicago Inter-Ocean says: "It is proposed to start a daily morning paper in the heart of the Black Hills. It will be called the Scalp, and it is confidently expected that all the Indians, without regard to party, will take it.

A Western Tragedy.

The St. Louis Globe has a communication from Saquache, Colorado, which states that the bodies of five men were found Aug. 13th, near the Lake fork of the Gunnison river, in San Louis Park. These bodies proved to be the remains of a body of miners who started last November from Southern Utah, across the mountains to the San Juan mines in Colorado, and were reported last March by one of their companions named Packer to have undergone terrible hardships in the mountains, and finally becoming nearly crazy from hunger chose cuts to see who would be shot to furnish food for the remainder. This story was published at the time in the territorial and other papers. It now proves that Packer murdered these men by chopping their heads off with a hatchet, robbed them of their money and other property, and then told a story of cannibalism to hide the crime. He has been arrested, however, and is now in jail. The names of those murdered are Roel Swan, from Missouri, George Moore, from California, Shannon W. Bell, supposed to be from Ohio, James Humphrey, supposed to be from Philadelphia, and Frank Miller, a German.

Miss Ellen Wolber, a teacher in Christ Church Sunday-school, left her home, in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., recently and went to Coldspring to visit her uncle. The day following she left her uncle's in company with a gentleman. Facts which have come to the knowledge of the Poughkeepsie police lead to the belief that Miss Wolber was taken out on the river in a boat, thrown overboard and drowned. The police are endeavoring to find the man who was seen with her when last seen. He has left for parts unknown and has thus far evaded the vigilance of the officers. Miss Wolber was the daughter of a well known merchant in Poughkeepsie. The young lady's father has offered a large reward for the arrest of the murderer.

They have something new in the line of Congressional candidates in Georgia, as the Atlanta Herald gives the following touching description of what must be considered as a phenomenal politician, saying he is "well formed and highly impregnated with nervous ganglia; he has a mysterious sunset sombre about his face; his eyes have a dreamy sparkliness that enchants like amulets; and his entire organization consists of a delicate telegraphic network, that transmits the nervous fluid like lightning throughout his whole system."

The Condition of the South.

[Providence Journal.]

The Democratic papers, especially those of the "Liberal" branch of the party, have represented the reports of southern outrages as the invention of the republicans for political effect. The frequency and atrocity of the late crimes have so disturbed that theory that it has been nearly abandoned. Some mild suggestions have been made that the republicans have themselves perpetrated the crimes of which they made complaint, their purpose being to charge them on the innocent democrats. But this theory was found as little acceptable as the other, and the plain fact, whether admitted or not, stands out for everybody to see, that these outrages are perpetrated with the purpose of driving from the south the white republicans who can go, and of frightening from the polls the negroes who have not the means of leaving. These crimes have no better apology than political expediency. They are deliberate murders, perpetrated to keep people from exercising the right of voting; they are done to keep one man from being Governor and to elect another, to keep one man out of Congress and to put another man in. So much crime for such cold blooded purposes was never before committed under representative institutions.

If the negroes are unfit to share in the political power, what shall we say of the men who preserve political power by such means, who offer such illustration of their fitness to govern the country? What sort of society will prevail in the south, if these men are permitted to have their own way, if, in the words of the old rebellion, they are "let alone?" And how this illustration of their ideas of government vindicates the interposition of Congress for the protection of those whom the result of the rebellion had emancipated. What sort of a rule would exist there, if there was not restraint upon these men? And there can be no restraint except by the power of the general government. They are the governing class at home, they have the material power and they have public opinion. Or rather they overawe what there is of civilized public opinion, just as the same class of men did in the beginning of the rebellion. It is the same thing over again. Not a State in the union, not even South Carolina, would have passed an ordinance of secession, if the people could have been left free to vote as they pleased. But they were not allowed to do so. They were overawed by violence, as they are overawed now. The Ku-Klux, the masked murderers, who burn a negro and hang a carpet bagger to-day, will have precisely the same method for a native southerner to-morrow if he dares to vote the republican ticket. If, then, the negroes are unfit to govern in the south, who is fit to govern? Are ignorant men, who will do as well as they can, less fit then intelligent men who go out with masks on their faces and revolvers in their hands to shoot their political opponents? Or are those men fit to govern who, through weakness or cowardice or inability, yield unresistingly to such proceedings? Is it a fit rule where crime goes unpunished and unquestioned, where the nominal law is powerless before organized ruffianism? It is much easier to say what shall not be done than to say what shall be done, and how to do it. But this the men who are attempting to wade to power through blood, to administer law with the bowie knife and the revolver, may as well understand,—that they will not be permitted to defy the laws of Congress and the authority of the federal government. The people of this country did not fight the battles of the Union for the fun of it. They intended a practical result, and they do not mean to have a Ku Klux government in any part of it; they mean that the people of any State shall go into any other State, to remain there peaceably, shall vote for whom they please, and enjoy all the rights and privileges which the Constitution and the law give them. They mean that the perpetrators of these crimes shall be brought to justice. They mean that a man who commits murder shall be hanged for it, although the victim be a negro or a carpet-bagger. They mean that law and order and justice shall prevail from the Potomac to the Rio Grande. Just how they will accomplish this it is not possible to say, but that they mean to do it and that they will do it, is quite as certain as that Lee surrendered at Appomattox and that Jeff. Davis ran away in woman's clothes.

—An Alton (Ill.) Sunday school superintendent recently requested all of his pupils who intended visiting the soul-destroying and mind-corrupting circus to stand up, and in a moment they were all on their feet with the exception of a lame girl and a half-witted boy.

Winged Riches.

[Boston Transcript.]

Another and a singular exemplification of the various methods by which riches may "make to themselves wings," as holy writ literally hath it, was experienced by a Boston commercial traveller, whose name it is something like the star-spangled banner, and long may it wave, while travelling up over the new and picturesque Portsmouth & Dover Railroad, a few days since. This "runner," having had a pretty good run of trade and luck, had collected a considerable amount of money at Portsmouth—which that same old city is generally considered by the sample salesmen as one of the best for collections—and having at the start of the train from Portsmouth hastily thrust a considerable wad of bank bills into his pocket, "improved" the occasion of his ride to Dover to smooth out the same and count his pile. So he laid the bills down on his knee, among them one $50, and the others of various denominations; when the conductor opening the car door quite near him, caused a sudden current of air across his seat, and whiff went his paper currency with it, flying all about the car seats and floor—all but one, which that same, evidently believing in the largest inflation, just popped out of a window!

Our un-Flagg-ing hero hastily gathers up what bills he can find, rushes after "the conductor," and informs him of his loss, but can't give the denomination of the free-circulating bill, until looking over all the rest, he finds that it is or was that $50! Here's a go, and he must go for it. But all this takes time; and after hunting in the car again, and being told by passengers that they saw a bill fly round the hind end of the train, by the time the train is stopped they are a mile or two away from the spot where happened the loss; and the collector jumps off and walks back and hunts till he is tired of it, and then walks on for a mile or so to the Dover point hotel, doubtless a sadder if not a wiser man. And this is one of many reasons why it is never advisable to count or show much money in a car or other public places.

To which we add, that this little story is not only true, but the conductor is True also, though he is not little.

No Ear for Music.

[Max Adeler.]

Our neighbor, Chubb, had not much of an ear for music, but he spent a considerable sum in having his daughter learn to hammer the piano, and he is proud of her accomplishments. He was talking with us over the fence, the other day, when a series of dreadful sounds came from the piano through the open window. Presently Chubb remarked: "D'you hear that, Adeler? Just listen to that, will you? That's what I call music."

Then there were a few additional bangs on the instrument, a flourish or two, and then more discordant thumping.

"Splendid, isn't it," said Chubb. "Mary Jane's bustin' the music right out of that machine, you observe. Them's the Strauss waltzes, I believe, she's raslin' with now. Just listen."

We remarked that from the energy displayed Mary Jane seemed really in earnest. But whether she was treating Mr, Strauss exactly right was an open question.

"I don't know nothin' about music, Adeler," observed Chubb," but I can tell the real thing when I hear it, and I can sit and hear Mary Jane play them waltzes and the 'Maiden's Prayer,' until it makes me cry like a child."

We asserted that if she played these compositions as she was doing now, it would make anybody cry. A deaf mute would shed tears.

"Listen to that now, will you?" exclaimed Chubb, as a wild tumult of sound came from the parlor, "Isn't it nice? If I didn't know it was Mary Jane a tearing around among them waltzes, I'd think it was one of those fellows who played at the concert. Let's go over and hear her."

We entered the house and sought the parlor. Mary Jane was nowhere to be found, but, to the infinite disgust of Chubb, there was a red-haired man, with fists as big as a loaf of bread, tuning the piano!

The Stomach as an Avenger.

For every breach of the laws of health that we commit the stomach inflicts a penalty. Headache, biliousness, nervous tremors, constipation, colic, heartburn, nausea, debility and mental depression are only a few of the punishments which an outraged stomach is capable of imposing upon us. To bring back this vengeful organ to its normal condition—to placate, invigorate and regulate it—there is nothing in the wide world so potent as a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Under the operation of this beneficent vegetable corrective and tonic, the gastric juice becomes a pure and healthy solvent and resumes its natural flow. The effect is the same on the biliary secretion, and in fact on all the fluids of the body, and the final result is the removal of every painful or unpleasant symptom occasioned by the rebellious action of the digestive organs.

REPUBLICANS—SEE THAT YOUR NAMES ARE ON THE CHECK-LISTS. IT IS AN IMPORTANT DUTY. DO NOT NEGLECT IT.

Not So.

The Times of Tuesday evening apologizes for the errors in the check-lists on the ground that no man or set of men could make them out under the present chaotic conditions with absolute correctness, which no one will dispute. It also says no one is justified in stigmatizing such mistakes as "glaring outrages," nor "in holding the democratic selectmen alone responsible for them," as "the republicans were given a representative upon the board, in every one of the new wards, and they have assisted in the work and are alike responsible for the manner in which the check-lists have been arranged."

No one can deny that there is one republican selectman in each ward, but the statement that they have each "assisted in the work" of making out the checklists is incorrect. The democratic majority on the boards of some of the new wards may have invited the republican members to assist; but we do not know of any such case, while we do know that the republican selectman of ward one knew nothing about the check-list of that ward until it was printed and about to be posted,—and we are informed on good authority that neither Mr. Furber nor Mr. Hanscom were consulted in regard to its making up, Samuel Spinney arranging it to suit himself, having it printed, and then—a few hours only before the necessary hour for posting it—inviting the other members of the board to view it! And as to Spinney's leaving off the names of so many old republicans, and crowding on the names of so many democrats whose names had no right there, being a mistake on his part,—we don't believe a word of it. There are only about 350 voters in the ward, all told, and Dictator Spinney knows nearly every man; and if he chose he could have made out a list that would have been nearly correct.

The Times further says the democratic selectmen will deal justly and honestly, and that we are to have a fair election. A fair election we certainly cannot have under the shameless gerrymander act of the "reform" legislature, for a fair election is just what the democratic wire-pullers in this city do not want and just what their supple legislative tools carefully guarded against. Possibly the democratic selectmen may allow us as fair an election as is possible under the infamous provisions of the most outrageous piece of political scoundrelism ever perpetrated or attempted by any political party with regard to this city, and we hope their generous forbearance will be so great that they will allow some of the old citizens whose names they have kept off the checklists, to vote; but so far their conduct does not enable us to very strongly endorse the Times' panegyric of their overwhelming sense of justice and their immaculate political honor.

Laconics.

"Beach Day," at Salisbury, will occur on Thursday, the 17th inst. The crowd is expected to be larger this year than ever before. The Messrs. Morrill, at the Atlantic House, will receive all friends from this vicinity with every courtesy,—and from anywhere else, too.

At the republican caucus in York, Monday evening, G. W. S. Putnam, Esq., was nominated as candidate for town representative on the 7th ballot, he having 95 votes, Ed. C. Moody 21 and Josiah D. Bragdon 65. The 1st ballot stood—Putnam 79, Moody 62, Bragdon 31.

The republicans and respectable democrats of Ward One no doubt enjoy themselves greatly in inspecting the check-lists in that ward, they are so judiciously posted up in two rum-shops,—Frank Ayers' and William Alton's. In Ward Four one list is posted in Jones' brewery (how charmingly appropriate!) and another at the Plains school-house. In Ward Six one list is posted in John Conlon's "grocery" on Penhallow street, but another is put up in the City Rooms, so the decent citizens of that ward are not insulted by being obliged to visit a groggery to see if their names are on the list.

The democratic city caucus on Wednesday evening of course duly ratified the nomination of Mr. Moses H. Goodrich as the democratic candidate for Mayor, according to the programme laid down for them by their city committee. The democracy deserve credit for one action in this—on their part—disreputable campaign, and we hasten to give them the benefit of it. Tricky, dishonest and recklessly unscrupulous as they have shown themselves in politics, it is to their praise that they have nominated a respectable man as their candidate for Mayor, especially when we remember what a superabundance of rascals they have in their ranks whom they might have nominated.

Mr. Marcellus Eldredge has recently completed a line of telegraph from his brewery to his house and from thence to his office on Bow street, by which he can greatly facilitate the transaction of his business and save much travel.

As election day draws near, our neighbor the Times developes a little of its ancient inclination to "call names" and throw mud. We don't wonder any at this, for "what's bred in the bone will come out in the flesh,"—and we give the Times credit for the respectable manner in which it has conducted itself for a good while past, in great and pleasing contrast to the habits of its early life. As soon as the election is over we may hope it will again be a respectable paper.

Republican caucuses in Wards Three and Six this evening at 7:30. See advertisement.

The Times tells its readers that the Federal government's evil inclinations are as strong as ever, but then the government was so much demoralized by the action of the last New Hampshire legislature that no fear of the navy yard need be felt. We knew the action of the legislature demoralized the democratic party terribly, but didn't knew it scared Grant and the Federal government. The Times further says that "the President and his advisers know very well that if disregarded it [the legislative resolution concerning Federal interference in elections] will be likely to be followed by more decisive action!" O, Heavens!

"Have you seen Sam?"

The Grand Temperance Rally

At Old Orchard, Me., commenced on Tuesday, Sept. 8. At a few minutes before 3 o'clock, P. M., Mr. J. Horace Kent of this city, President of the Reformed Men's Association of New England, stepped to the speaker's stand, and formally opened the meeting. He gave an account of the origin of the camp-meeting, for which he said the association were indebted to Mr. Francis Murphy. We are assembled here, he said, for a week's interchange of thought on the subject of temperance, and to give, if possible, an increased energy and new impetus to the great cause in which so many throughout the country are now engaged. He then called upon Rev. Mr. Luce to open the meeting with prayer. The prayer was followed by singing of the Doxology.

Mr. Kent then spoke a few words as to the intent of the gathering as he understood it. It was solely in the interests of temperance, regardless of any political phase whatever, a reunion of persons and thoughts in behalf of the good cause, and for the utter overthrow and demolition of intemperance. The nation has made great progress within the last fifty years in this respect. Let us continue to but array ourselves against the pernicious habits, and use no intoxicating liquors in any form, and success will eventually perch upon our banners. I now have the pleasure of introducing to you an able and veteran soldier in the war against intemperance, an advocate whose labors are not confined to his voice but have the added advantages of his pen and his purse,—Hon. Nelson Dingley, Governor of Maine.

Gov. Dingley made an earnest and impressive address, and was followed by Mr. J. K. Osgood of Gardiner, Me., the pioneer of the reform club movement in that State, "Camp-meeting John" Allen, Mr. Francis Murphy of Portland, Ex-Gov. Perham and others. The afternoon exercises closed with a prayer-meeting. A large number of prominent temperance workers from all parts of the Union are in attendance on the meeting.

— Dean Stanley preached to the volunteers at Wimbledon, England, his subject being David's fight with the giant. In the course of his sermon the reverend gentleman remarked that what gave such a charm to the Biblical incident from which he took his text was the fact that David, "a young volunteer, sneered at by the regular army, redeemed the honor of his country."

—The magician who astonished his audience by changing a canary bird into a rabbit, has a formidable rival in the man who turned a bushel of potatoes into a barrel.

Nellie Grant's Husband.

A gossiping but irreverent newspaper correspondent writes from Green Bay, Wis., concerning Mr. Sartoris, as follows:

We can easily imagine, after getting a description of Sartoris, why Nellie Grant should have elected him her choice. He was the antipodes of American young men. A stout, good-sized, broad-shouldered man, with muscles like whip-cord, covered with clean flesh, just saved from fat; fair, round, Saxon face, white by nature, red by education; innocent blue eyes, with baby-like wonder in their serene depths; flaxen hair, parted exactly in the middle and brushed flat down, the ends bobbed into little duck-tail curls; solid, elephantine limbs, and tremendous hands and feet, the first of which were forever in the way, while the nether appendages spread out over all creation. And then his clothes! Never had such a vision dawned upon the belledom of Green Bay! Wide, baggy trowsers of white duck or brown velveteen, or lemon-colored corduroy; coats with swallow-tails, and coats with no tails at all, making him look like an overgrown school boy; costumes of pure white, with flaming neckties. Apropos of his trowsers, they tell this story of him: He made a call on a young lady, one of the F. F.'s of Green Bay, but had scarcely seated himself when the fire-bell rang. He seized his hat and made a rush for the door, the young lady following. She closed the door after him, and had been some moments resseated in the parlor when she heard his characteristic ring, and opened the door herself. "Aw, thwank yaw, Miss Idia; I had to come all the way back, my trowsers were caught in the dooah! Excuse me; aw!" and he made his final bow.

A Down-East Romance.

[Calais (Me.) Advertiser.]

A few years before the late war a certain Dr. Dow came to Calais and boarded at the Calais House, then kept by George Wilder. After a while he removed to Princeton, where he practiced medicine, and in the course of time married Miss Spooner, a very respectable young lady of that town. The marriage occurred just before the war began, and soon afterward Mr. Dow enlisted. While in the army a daughter was born to him, and for a time he regularly sent letters and money to his wife. But after a while he ceased to do so and nothing was heard of him until some time after the close of the war, when his wife learned that he had married the only daughter of a rich man in another State, and was living with her. She went to see him, and saw his other wife, who said the doctor told her his first wife and their child were dead. She then returned home and procured a divorce.

Some time after this she went West to work, and falling sick, and finding herself unable to support her child, she wrote to her ex-husband, asking him to contribute toward the support of his daughter. He replied in a penitent letter expressing a desire to see her and talk over matters. By agreement they met in Boston, and he provided amply for his daughter's support. A correspondence ensued between the divorced parties, which finally resulted in his offering to leave his second wife and remarry his first one. She agreed, and about two weeks ago the wedding ceremony was done over again, and the twice-married couple have gone off to seek their fortune. What has become of the other wife we have been unable to learn. This is a strange story, but it is vouched for by friends and acquaintances of the parties, both in this city and in Princeton, and if we had the slightest doubt of its truthfulness we should not venture upon its publication.

AYER' SARSAPARILLA,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia and Mandrake with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulceration of the Liver, Stomach, Kidney, Lungs; Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism and Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure, health returns.

Palmocine Cordial.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE, CORDIAL

do no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the choice of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

—USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low-water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners or occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as aforesaid, shall cause them to be emptied within ten day from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low-water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the Health officers.

SEC. 8. The health officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other things deemed by them, on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said health officers may by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause the said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 19. The owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure shall be liable to pay the expense of the removal or destruction of any such nuisance or other thing, as aforesaid, including fees of the health officers who order or cause the same to be removed; and the same may be recovered by action to be brought in the name of the city.

SEC. 20. No person shall use or occupy any building in the compact part of the city for a slaughter-house, or for trying tallow, or for currying leather, or for the deposit of green pelts or skins, unless under such restrictions and regulations as the health officers may impose.

SEC. 22. Any person or persons who shall violate any rule or regulation, or commit any act forbidden in any section of this ordinance, to which no special penalty is annexed, shall forfeit and pay a sum not less than one dollar nor more than twenty dollars, to be recovered by complaint before the police court of this city.

Newspaper Success.

[Washington Capital.]

The troubles of a financial sort attending the establishment of Theodore Tilton's Golden Age contain in them an important lesson for people engaged in starting a new paper. It is generally believed that an able editor, or a staff of able editors, is the one thing requisite after a goodly lump of money. This is a grave mistake. Observation and experience have taught us that the successful journal originates in the counting-room and the able editor is a subsequent consideration. Let any one appeal to his own recollection in this and we will be well sustained. It is the practical business man, and not the brilliant pen-driver, who builds up a valuable property in a great journal. Sometime, but rarely, the two are united in one man; and we can account for the many failures and the value of a success in the fact that for one able business man, suited to this work, we will find fifty superb pen-drivers. Bowen, for example, of the Independent, looked at from an intellectual point of view, is—well, we regret doing injustice to an honest, useful animal, but Bowen is—an ass; but his business instincts for the pursuit in which he is engaged are perfect. Tilton, on the contrary, is one of the most fascinating journalists in the country. Under Bowen in the Independent he strengthened the circulation. When Theodore set up for himself and tried the counting-room he was simply idiotic, and achieved a failure.

Perhaps the most remarkable illustration of our fact came out in John Russell Young. As a journalist, at the head of the editorial department of the Tribune, this mere boy was a miracle. In selecting a corps of editors, in feeling the public pulse and catering to the public taste, he was simply amazing in his success. But when he intrigued himself out of that position and undertook to create the Standard, his failure was a conspicuous warning to gods and men.

Moral—We wish it generally understood that we have nothing whatever to do with the business of the Capital. Everything in that line, especially the bills must be presented to Major J. M. Brown, business manager.

Democracy vs. Education.

Very few are aware, probably, of the action taken by the democracy in regard to education, at the last session of our legislature. In the first place they repealed the law allowing students to vote in the towns where they were obtaining their education, and judging from the course adopted by managers of the check-lists in this city, from voting anywhere, for in one instance at least one student who voted here last spring, and whose only home is here, is rejected from the list because he is getting an education in another town. But, to use the language of Hon. Joseph Kidder, a prominent member of their own party, "They have emasculated our whole school law."

Let us see what they have done. They have abolished the State Board of Education, and we stand before the country in an attitude such as is presented by no other State or Territory in the Union—a State without a centre or head to its educational interests, to which neither other States nor the National Bureau of Education can address itself. They have abolished Teachers' Institutes, which were doing more to awaken an interest in our schools and fitting teachers for their work, but were also doing a very much needed work in attracting the attention, and awakening an interest on the part of parents and school committees to the condition and needs of our schools. The universal testimony from all parties has been in their favor where they have been properly conducted. The legislature did make an appropriation for the State Normal School; but it was done mainly through the exertions of Mr. Burrows, who resides in Plymouth, and was moved by strong local bias. There are nearly 4000 teachers employed in the State, —3823, in 1873; now of this number there is an average of only about fifty in attendance at the Normal School at Plymouth, the only place recognized by the State where anything is being done for the improvement of our schools.

They have abolished all the power and influence that was invested in the office of superintendent of public instruction, and nearly all his duties, simply retaining the office and salary. The superintendent now is only required to see that the public printer keeps a sufficient number of school registers for the State printed, and to make an annual report. Onerous labors, which might employ six weeks of his valuable time! and for which this economical administration pays him the scanty pittance of twelve hundred dollars, or about two hundred dollars per week!

Never in the history of our country has there been a time when the subject of common school education was receiving such general interest and fostering care as now. Especially was this true in our own State until a recent date. The State Board, through its agencies,—the Superintendent's office, Teachers' Institutes, county conventions, teachers' and school committee conventions,—were arousing the people out of their apathy in regard to these great interests, and our schools and school systems were taking a front rank. Now the whole work is stayed, and we must wait shamefaced before our sister States—till this accidental administration, that loves the uneducated allen more than the cultivated son of our own beloved State, has been consigned to the pit from which it was digged. By their fruits we know them.

Readables.

An attempt was made at a meeting of the police commissioners of Hartford, Conn., to restore to the position of chief of police Walter P. Chamberlain, who was expelled from the office, two years ago, for grossly immoral practices. The vote was a tie, and Mayor Sprague, who presided, dodged the responsibility of deciding the matter by making the suggestion that the question be postponed till next evening.

Mr. Dixon was killed and Ace Elliott mortally wounded in Hickory county, Missouri, on the 1st instant, by Daniel Mofiziger and a man named Shannon. Shannon was attempting to move his property from the county, and an attachment against the property was placed in the hands of Dixon and Elliott, and while they were executing it they were assaulted by Shannon and Mofiziger with the above result.

The democratic State convention of Massachusetts resolved that "The speedy resumption of specie payments is alike demanded by honor and recognized by all the civilized nations of the world as the only sound and healthy basis of currency." What will the western democrats say to this flat contradiction of their financial programme?

Lord John Manners, long noted in British politics, is dead.

The steamship City of Peking ran 18 miles in one hour and three minutes, on her return trip to New York from Boston.

On Tuesday evening, the 18th, off Cape Porpoise, Kennebunkport, Skipper John Turner lost his son John in his boat May Belle, the father and another son being in a dory with the trawls. Fragments of the wrecked boat were found near Timber Island with no traces of the body.

The story about the assassination of one of the U. S. S. Juniata's midshipmen at Havana turns out to be a canard.

Judge Poland of Vermont withdraws from the Congressional contest in the second district of that State.

The French steamer Ville de Paris has arrived at New York, with her upper works torn to pieces by a cyclone and heavy sea. One sailor was washed away, the captain badly hurt, and the second captain's arm broken.

State News.

The annual meeting of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of New Hampshire will be held at Concord, Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 29 and 30.

Alonzo Nute's shoe factory in Farmington was burned on Thursday. Loss about $70,000; insured $40,000.

The State Police.

[Providence Journal.]

Whatever may be the ultimate results of the prohibitory and constabulary acts, it cannot be denied that up this time their working has been rather salutary. There may be as much liquor drank in private club rooms and other out-of-the-way places as formerly, but if it is so the dealers are clearly taking pains to keep their workmanship out of sight. There has not been for years such an exemption from the indecencies of intoxication in our streets and the highways of our villages as we have enjoyed for the last two months. Possibly, the greatest benefit to be derived from these laws may be the immunity from outward and rampant disorder. But even this is a boon to be thankful for. It is pleasant to observe that thus far the good wishes of the public go with the State authorities.

—There was a man in Murray county, Wis., who got mad when he found that grasshoppers had called for his wheat. So he got a big roller, and crushed wheat and grasshoppers together into the ground. It killed the insects, and a succession of showers revived the wheat, so that it was as good as new. It pays to get mad now and then.

—A writer in a Boston paper says: "The changes in woman's gait are more mysterious than the transformations in her garments. One year she walks a queen, stately and graceful; the next, she frisks along playfully like a Spring lamb or a playful kitten. Now she bends forward, lets her limp hands drop from the wrists, and wriggles as if she wished to advertise the fact that her boots are tight, a thing which is totally unnecessary; again, as at present she throws her shoulders back, and goes bravely forward with long steps. The next change must almost inevitably tend to show languishing movements. No other style of locomotion will be possible with the narrow skirts which are to be worn."

The Stomach as an Avenger.

For every breach of the laws of health that we commit the stomach inflicts a penalty. Headache, biliousness, nervous tremors, constipation, colic, heartburn nausea, debility and mental depression are only a few of the punishments which an outraged stomach is capable of imposing upon us. To bring back this vengeful organ to its normal condition—to placate, invigorate and regulate it—there is nothing in the wide world so potent as a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Under the operation of this beneficent vegetable corrective and tonic, the gastric juice becomes a pure and healthy solvent and resumes its natural flow. The effect is the same on the biliary secretion, and in fact on all the fluids of the body, and the final result is the removal of every painful or unpleasant symptom occasioned by the rebellious action of the digestive organs.

REPUBLICANS—SEE THAT YOUR NAMES ARE ON THE CHECK-LISTS. IT IS AN IMPORTANT DUTY. DO NOT NEGLECT IT.

Beer vs. Books.

In another column we give some facts which show that the democratic party of this State is in earnest in opposing education, and that the democratic legislature fully recognized the antagonism of popular enlightenment to democratic supremacy. Beer, not books,—liquor, not learning, are what the democratic leaders depend on and which they feel they must foster, if they would secure a continuance of beneficent and pure democratic rule in this State. So, while every possible obstacle must be thrown in the way of a young man's getting an education, every obstacle in the way of his getting his beer must be removed. If he comes into the State to get an education, he cannot gain a residence no matter how many years he lives here; and if a native of the State he cannot vote where he is studying, because the democratic legislature voted that a student should not gain a residence, and he cannot vote in his native place because he resides where he is studying! at least so the democratic selectmen "appointed by legislative enactment" to run things in this city have decided. But if a man comes into this State to work in a brewery, though he be alien born and have no proof of having ever been naturalized, two months' residence is long enough to entitle him to have his name put on the check-list! Hurrah for beer, and down with the enlightenment which would destroy democratic supremacy!

Yarmouth Bloaters.

[Concord Monitor.

One evening last week an accident to a train, which might have resulted seriously had it occurred a few minutes earlier, but which, happening at a point where trains are always "slowed-up," occasioned only a vexatious delay, made us a guest for the night at the Rockingham House in Portsmouth. A supper fit for a king reconciled us to the delay, and rendered a second ascent to the sky-parlor—from which an admirable view of neighboring chimney-tops was afforded—much less fatiguing. Indeed, that supper is one of our pleasantest memories. Such delicious steak, magnificent rolls, and delectable coffee! And the colored waiter, all bows and attention, but anxious to get away in season to attend a minstrel show with his Dinah. But it was not of the supper we took our pencil to descant. The incident which suggested the above caption took place at the early breakfast next morning. We chanced to be seated at a table along with a number of jolly disciples of Esculapius—at least, we judged them to be medical men from the fact that they addressed each other as "doctor"—when some one began reading aloud from the bill of fare. Coming to the phrase, "Yarmouth bloaters," every one consulted his own bill of fare to make sure he had heard aright. "Yarmouth bloaters!" exclaimed the good-natured doctor at our right elbow; "what are they?" No one of the gentlemen present knew. Various were the surmises, and some of them funny ones, which followed. The well-trained waiters heard, smiled at each other, but kept silent. At last, to put the matter beyond conjecture, a doctor opposite, with a slight impediment in his speech, said he would have some of the b-bloaters. The waiter hurried away. Every one was on the qui vive for his return. Meantime many were the jokes cracked at the expense of the brother who was thus earnest in the pursuit of knowledge. Presently the waiter came back and with a smile that was childlike and bland, deposited a plate on which were several black looking objects before the astonished doctor, and in reply to the latter's incredulous look, said, "Bloaters, sah," and stepped quickly away. One disgusted look did the doctor give, one sniff, and then exclaimed—"Herrin, b-b-b-by the Lord Harry!" The guffaw that followed this announcement might have been heard a block away. We question whether that doctor will ever forget the incident. His comrades, judging from frequent subsequent reference on the cars, will be likely to refresh his memory whenever opportunity occurs.

What it Means.

Commenting on the high handed course of the democratic officials in this city—made possible by the usurping act of the Legislature by which the selectmen duly and legally elected for a year were deposed from office and democratic partisans appointed as their successors—the Nashua Telegraph says:

"Bold and startling as these frauds are, they should astonish no one. They are a part of the systematic scheme, steadily adhered to throughout the session of the Legislature, to keep this State in democratic hands by fair means or foul. This is no holiday or fair-weather purpose, but it is a settled plot, backed by legislation that has made a naturalization mill of every police court in the State, outrageously and unconstitutionally gerrymandered the Councillor and Senatorial districts and nearly every city, and so pandered to the liquor interest that it can count on its vote almost to a man. Said a democratic politician in our hearing at Concord during the late session, and who has since been appointed a Police Judge: 'If I am appointed I will make the office worth at least a thousand votes to us.' He exaggerated the number of course, but the remark shows that he meant business, and will mean it until the second Tuesday of March next."

The Telegraph reviews the disgraceful record of partisan legislation and usurpation, and violation of every pledge contained in the party platform, made by the democratic legislature, and speaks of that party as follows:

"It had a golden opportunity to have wielded its accidental power wisely, moderately and reformatively, but it utterly failed at every point. Precluded by its record from appealing to the higher and better sentiment of the State, it must now rely, as it does in Portsmouth, on barefaced fraud to maintain itself in power."

Laconics.

The republican caucuses for the nomination of candidates to be supported at the polls on Monday take place in five wards this evening, at half-past 7 o'clock, at the following places: Ward One, Franklin schoolhouse; Ward Two, Hanover street schoolhouse, Hill street entrance; Ward Four, State street ward room; Ward Five, court house; Ward Seven, Elm street ward room.

"Swedish Help" has supplied many hundred New England families with satisfactory service. Mr. Berglund, whose card appears in our paper to-day, leaves for Sweden soon to secure this desirable class of help.

Jerome C. Butler, Esq., when he was the democratic candidate for Mayor two years ago, largely failed to receive the full support of his party at the polls; and when we expressed our surprise that so enterprising a citizen and respectable a man should have been so betrayed after having received a nomination unsought, a democratic exchange informed us that Mr. Butler's war record (he was a war-democrat) was "enough to kill any candidate—even the Chronicle's 'right down good man'—with the democracy of Portsmouth." But no such objection can be brought against the democratic candidate for Mayor this year, Mr. Goodrich's political principles during the war having been anti-union and anti-abolition enough to have satisfied Bob Toombs or Wade Hampton; and though he has not been prominent in politics for some years, we understand that he is a Bourbon among the Bourbons still, in his political faith.

The New York Herald says the Boston Traveller is one of the most accurate and sagacious journals in New England, and compliments the "clear-minded editor." Good for you, Brother Crook.

The great difference existing between twedledum and twedledee is illustrated by the democratic selectmen's judicious discrimination in making out the check-lists. For instance: there are two young men whose cases are analogous, both being natives of this city and claiming a residence here, while both are married and with their wives live in cities in Massachusetts, boarding, not keeping house. The democratic selectmen decide that one of these young men (who votes democratic) has a right to vote here, and have put his name on the check-list; but they decide that the other one (who votes republican) has no right to vote here, so his name is excluded from the list. There is absolutely no difference in the circumstances of the two cases but the difference in politics,—excepting that the republican (whose name is excluded from the list) pays tax here, and the democrat (whose name is placed on the list) does not!

At the Ward Six republican caucus, Thursday evening, the following candidates were nominated: for Aldermen, Thomas E. Call, Thomas Murphy; Councilmen, Plumer D. Norton, C. Morris Tredick, Josiah T. Brown, Alfred J. Hill; Assessor, Samuel S. Green; Overseer of the Poor, John Knowlton; School Committee, James P. Bartlett, A. C. Hardy; Moderator, Thomas E. O. Marvin; Selectmen, Daniel L. Randall, Samuel H. Kingsbury, Nathan F. Mathes; Clerk, Frank Philbrick.

Foster's Democrat of the 8th says: "The Rollins family, which is very large, residing in Rollinsford, Dover and Portsmouth mostly, but having members scattered abroad in various other places; the Pickering family, numerous in Newington, Greenland and Portsmouth, and connected with the Rollins family; the Hackett family, residing in Portsmouth, Gilmanton and other places, also related to the Rollins and Pickering families,—all these together will hold a grand family picnic on Friday at the big elm on the old Rollins and Pickering estate in Newington, on line of P. & D. Railroad. It is expected that all or nearly all the Rollinses, the Pickerings and the Hacketts, with their wives and sons and daughters, will be present to enjoy one of the best and happiest family festivals ever known in this section of country. It will be a general reunion of fraternal friends and relatives such as will do anybody good to see."

A letter received in this city, dated Callao, Peru, Aug. 14, announces the accidental death of Capt. David Lester of this city as occurring on Sunday, Aug. 9, in that town. During the progress of a race, which took place on that day, the captain, who was a spectator, was riding horseback, and when near a railroad his horse took fright and threw him off directly under a passing train, the wheels completely severing both legs from the body, the loss of blood causing almost instant death. His funeral took place on the 14th, and was largely attended. A few days previous to the accident, the Government of Peru paid Capt. Lester the sum of $7000 for a coal mine which he discovered there, running, by actual measurement, a distance of forty-five miles through the mountains, the first discovery of the kind in that country.

Mr. Geo. W. Rand, formerly of this city, now of the popular "St. Cloud," New York, has been elected Lieutenant in the famous New York Seventh Regiment. This is a deserved compliment to a son whose brothers have ever been prominent (ever to the sacrifice of life,) in the military affairs of the country. The N. Y. Commercial Advertiser says: "Lieutenant George W. Rand is well and favorably known as one of the proprietors of the St. Cloud Hotel, and has been singularly fortunate in his rapid promotion, having passed through all the grades during his four years' connection with the regiment."

Isn't it a little singular that both the Eastern and Concord railroads, which were built mainly by republican money and influence and most of whose directors are republicans, should allow the managers here always to use all the influence of the roads in favor of the "anti-railroad" democratic party? The breweries and the railroads are all on the hunker side, and the way in which the railroads are run in the interests of the democratic party may well divert some of the public attention from the cry of "navy yard!"

The Lawrence American says the "life-like representations and first-class personations" of Burke's Tableaux of Erin in that city pleased "Americans and Irish alike," and that the first entertainment was such as to ensure a full house for the second. It says: "The lecture given is instructive, the paintings rich, the acting pleasing, the tableaux beautiful and the singing by Miss Irish not without merit. The utterance of many patriotic and loyal sentiments and quotations by Mr. Murray, lecturer, cannot but inspire a noble and better feeling in the hearts of both Erin's children and the community in general." The Tableaux will be presented at the Temple this (Friday) and to-morrow evenings, and to-morrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. See advertisement.

All republicans should study the advertisements which we publish daily, giving the ward lines and voting places, so that they may not only know where they live themselves, but be able to inform inquiring friends. Do not let any republican votes be lost from lack of attention to this matter.

A correspondent of the Dover Democrat, writing from this city, gives the following items from the census-takers: "A youthful great grandmother is that in a happy home here, where of four generations of females the oldest is but fifty-six. We know a grandfather and a grandmother here who were each but thirty-six a few years ago, but who keep growing older if not wiser, every day. The smallest authentic weight of a living baby here is one and one-half pounds, the largest seventeen and a half, at birth—both now living. The largest family on record from one couple, twenty-two children; the smallest, and, alas, now most fashionable, none."

Let every republican do his duty next Monday and success is sure. But the opposition are sparing no means, fair or foul, to win; and whatever they are allowed to gain will be sounded over the State to help their cause next Spring. So don't allow them to gain a hold, and above all things "be not deceived."

The Will of the People.

The democratic State convention of Massachusetts embodied in its platform a demand for "A proper respect for the will of the people as expressed through their representatives, as opposed to executive interference and arbitrary power." How nicely that reads! Isn't that too lovely for anything? How nobly the democrats can talk about the "rights of the people"—what elevated sentiments they can profess—when their party is not in power! The New Hampshire democrats for the best part of twenty years annually expressed just that same "opposition to executive interference and arbitrary power" in local elections; and how honest they were in their high-sounding professions is shown by their legislating out of office the representatives put in office in this city by "the will of the people," and putting in their places extreme democratic partisans "by legislative enactment," for the avowed purpose of nullifying "the will of the people" and giving political supremacy to the party which not even Hatch or Marcy pretended was entitled to it by numerical superiority. It will be some time before democratic twaddle about "interference with local elections," and democratic buncombe about "respecting the will of the people," will again have much influence in Portsmouth; their outrageous exercise of "arbitrary power" to nullify "the will of the people" and put the most unscrupulous democratic wire-pullers and pot-house politicians to rule over what are acknowledged to be strongly republican wards, show too clearly what such democratic professions are worth.

Anecdote of Judah Toure.

[New Orleans Picayune.]

It happened once that a wandering Oriental missionary visited our city with a view of obtaining subscriptions to erect a Christian chapel in Jerusalem. The subscription paper contained an appeal to all good Christians, setting forth the persecutions of the Christians by the Jews, and making serious charges against the latter.

This paper was presented to a very prominent and liberal bank president of this city, who was also an elder or deacon in one of our Christian churches. This gentleman, on reading the preamble of the paper, remarked that Mr. Judah Toure was the most liberal and philanthropic rich man in the city, and that the missionary had better take the paper to him first, and he would promise to contribute half as much as Mr. Toure would subscribe.

Now, Mr. Toure was a very earnest Israelite, who was not likely to be much pleased with the charges against his own faith and people contained in the paper to which he was invited to affix his signature.

Accordingly, when it was presented to him, the good old man read carefully this no doubt exaggerated picture of the misconduct of his own brethren, and then inquired in his mild way of the Christian: "Who sent you to me for this purpose?" "It was Mr. P.; he said you were the most charitable gentleman in the city, and that he could only promise to subscribe half as much as you."

"He made that promise, did he?"

"Yes, sir!" most emphatically.

Then the old Israelite without guile took down his check-book and slowly and deliberately filled up a check for fifteen hundred dollars, which he gave to the missionary on condition his name should not appear on the subscription paper, and that he would repair immediately to his friend P. and exact of him the fulfillment of his promise to subscribe half that sum. We believe that the missionary faithfully performed his engagement, and the facetious Christian elder was thus compelled to make the largest contribution he ever made for a Christian mission.

This was another example of "the Jew's revenge," and the only manifestation ever given, through his long life, of the existence of this passion in the breast of the noblest of New Orleans philanthropists.

—An ingenious letter-writer, who has been over the Pacific railroads, remarks, with some astonishment, that "new as the country is, the refreshment rooms differ from, and are superior to those on Eastern railroads." There is a little tautology here. It is impossible for a railroad restaurant to "differ from those on Eastern railroads" without "being superior to them." In this statement, any one who has ever gulped a wash-leather pie, a reversible gutta-percha steak, five slices of sodden potatoes clammy with cold grease, and a cup of good dish water, spoiled by putting burnt peas into the same, receiving in change for a two-dollar greenback a counterfeit dollar and a crumbling quarter, will concur.

— A Pennsylvania seven-year-old lass was reproved lately for playing out-of-doors with boys; she was too big for that now. But with all imaginable innocence she replied, "Why, grandma, the bigger we grow the better we like them." Grandma took time to think.

—Performances of Miss Gray of Independence, Mo., when they tried to marry her against her will: 1. She knocked the minister's hat off. 2. She knocked the young man down. 3. She rode off on a mule with one foot on each side of him.

AYER' SARSAPARILLA,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia and Mandrake with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidney, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism and Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure, health returns.

Pulmocine Cordial.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE, CORDIAL

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

—USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

Health Regulations.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH of the City of Portsmouth call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10 of the City Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in the City to aid them in the execution of their duty.

CHAPTER 10.

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other nuisance capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low-water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners or occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten day from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low-water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 8. The health officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other things deemed by them, on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said health officers may by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause the said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 10. The owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure shall be liable to pay the expense of the removal or destruction of any such nuisance or other thing, as aforesaid, including fees of the health officers who order or cause the same to be removed; and the same may be recovered by action to be brought in the name of the city.

SEC. 20. No person shall use or occupy any building in the compact part of the city for a slaughter-house, or for trying tallow, or for currying leather, or for the deposit of green pelts or skins, unless under such restrictions and regulations as the health officers may impose.

SEC. 22. Any person or persons who shall violate any rule or regulation, or commit any act forbidden in any section of this ordinance, to which no special penalty is annexed, shall forfeit and pay a sum not less than one dollar nor more than twenty dollars, to be recovered by complaint before the police court of this city.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick with the Small Pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the Small Pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city. [ap26 d3m
